MISCELLANEOUS.

PERSONAL.

Have tested its virtues personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw. Have tried forty other medicines before me, but none gave me more relief than this. It is not a temporary relief, but the Regular is not only relieved but cured. —Telegraph, May 16, 1887.

BAD BREATH.

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common as Bad Breath, and in nearly every case it comes from the Stomach, and can be so easily corrected if you will take Simmons' Liver Regulator. Do not neglect to secure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your appetite, complexion and general health.

TIED AND DEPRESSED.

For some time my Liver had been out of order, and I felt generally good for nothing. I was induced to try Simmons' Liver Regulator. Its action was quick and thorough, and it imparted a brisk and vigorous feeling. It is an excellent remedy. —E. H. SAND, Monroe, Iowa.

HOW THE LITTLE ONES DO IMITATE US.

Very true. Keep your house clean with Sapolo, and when they get old they will do the same.

SAPOLO

And they will always be neat. Try a cake of it in your next household cleaning.

DIED AT LAST.

Justice Woods Gives Up a Hard Battle.

WASHINGTON, May 15th.—Justice William B. Woods, of the Supreme Court of the United States, died at his residence in this city at 12:30 p. m. He was seventy-one years of age, and had resided in California for a month ago, but improved enough to enable him to come home.

His illness was a result of a stroke of apoplexy which he suffered in Newark, N. J., after receiving his primary education and went to Yale College, where he graduated in 1847. Subsequently he studied law and began the practice of his profession in 1847. Entering the political arena as a Democrat, he was elected in 1857 to the office of Lieutenant-Governor of New York, and was re-elected to the same body two years thereafter. After the breaking out of the war in 1861 he went into the military service as Lieutenant-Colonel of the Sixteenth Infantry, serving as such until the war closed, when he was brevetted Major-General. He was engaged in Alabama, where he remained, returning to his legal duties and political life. He was United States Chancellor for six years after serving in this position for two years was appointed by President Grant Circuit Judge of the District of Columbia, and in 1874 he was appointed to the office of Chief Justice of the District of Columbia, which office he held while residing in Mobile for a number of years. His political views were in favor of the Union, and he took part in the 1880 election.

Speculations Concerning the U. S. Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, May 15th.—[Special.]—The Justices of the Supreme Court are taking a lively interest in the appointment of a successor to Associate Justice Professor B. H. Johnson, who is expected to resign. It is hoped that the appointment will be made as soon as it can be done after the adjournment of the Court in the latter part of the month.

THE EASTERN TOUR.

Another of the Great Races Won by a "Dark" Horse.

New York, May 15th.—The great Brooklyn Handicap was run to-day, and the knowing ones were disappointed. The race was a close one, and the favorite, the 900-yarder, was defeated by a dark horse.

THE PAN-ELECTRIC TELEPHONE SCANDAL.

WASHINGTON, May 15th.—The Pan-Electric Telephone scandal was too noxious a dose to be swallowed complacently by the members of the Court.

It is taken for granted that a Southern man will get the office, and the appointment of Senator Morgan, of Alabama, to the position of Chief Justice of the United States, is a case in point.

Another gentleman favorably spoken of for the appointment is Representative Hammond, of Georgia, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the 49th Congress. Hammond is 54 years of age, and a fine lawyer. Other candidates for the place are mentioned are Justice Lindsey, of the Kentucky Supreme Bench; Chief Justice Sims, of the Mississippi Supreme Court; Secretary Lamar, of the State of Georgia; and Representative J. Randolph Tucker, of Virginia, and Senator Vicks, of Alabama.

General impression is that the President will appoint a Democrat from the South to the office—a man not far beyond the prime of life, of good talents and capacity for a great deal of hard work.

IN THE VICINITY OF WELDON, N. C., AND IN THE COUNTIES OF SOUTHAMPTON, IRE.

WASHINGTON, May 15th.—Commercial Agent Smith reports from Mayener that the phylloxera, which is a pest as rapacious as the phylloxera, has made its appearance in the vineyards of Germany, and is threatening to accomplish on the Moselle what it has accomplished on the Rhine.

The cause of the pest is not known, but it is believed to have been introduced by a young lady at an evening party given at Berlin in the month of August, 1885.
