

CHANGED DAILY FOR C. H. GILMAN—JULY 18, 1887.

TO-DAY we continue the sale of GLASSWARE and CUPS and SAUCERS. Parties wishing these goods should come in this week, as the assortment will soon be broken.

One of the best "Drives" we have had to offer will place on sale THIS MORNING: One Hundred Dozen Children's and Misses' Hose. These goods are of a superior quality, full-finished, unbleached, French ribbed, regular sizes. 35 cents would be the usual price—we will sell sizes 5 to 7 1-2 for 15 cents per pair; sizes 7 1-2 to 8 1-2 for 20 cents per pair.

Among a lot of goods received is Twenty-five Patent Folding Cots, with wire spring head-rest. We will mark them at prices to close, $1 75.

Fifty Rolls Plain White and Fancy Contract Matting—an extra-heavy quality for the prices—15, 19 and 20 cents.

Every nook and corner in the DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT is filled with splendid values. Our shelves are loaded; counters piled full. We have to crowd our customers a little, and pile different lines in the center of the store. Never before have we had so good a variety, and at such low prices. Fifty Bolts of Wool Suitings, that formerly sold for 50 cents, now 25 cents; Stylish Wool Suitings, in fashionable shades, six yards for $1 (always sold for 25 cents); Buntings are almost given away; Canvas Suitings, Lawns, Batiste Cloth, Lattice Checks, Linons, and many other lines, all now selling for one-half the regular value.

FOUND IN THE BAY.

The Remains of the Missing Jack Seymour Recovered.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17th.—[Special.]—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Jack Seymour, a well-known sportsman and one of the managers of the California Athletic Club, was dispelled today by the finding of his body in the bay by two fishermen. The remains were much decomposed, and were only recognizable by the garments. When the body was removed to the Morgue numbers of his friends visited it and expressed great surprise. It had been generally supposed that he had gone to Australia. Seymour's widow had been led to believe so, and that he had departed suddenly because of a shortage in his accounts with the club. She is now stopping at 251 Stevenson street, and it was thought best not to apprize her of the death of her husband at once, as she is afflicted with heart disease, and so much afflicted with the announcement of the result of the search that she fainted away and did not recover consciousness for several days. Seymour's suicide seems to have been the result of sensitiveness about being so behind. The money belonged to him, and there seems to have been no reason for despondency on his part.

Seymour was a native of Australia, aged about 37 years. He came to San Francisco five years ago, and became identified with the sporting fraternity of the city. For some time he was the manager of Harry Hayward's sporting house, and during his residence here he acted as referee in several pugilistic encounters of note, and was always prominently connected with the leading sporting events of the day.

THE SPINNETT'S VICTIM.

Count Valensin's Efforts to Recover His Money.

STOCKTON, July 16th.—Count Valensin and his friend, who proved to be detective A. B. Lawson, of San Francisco, left here this morning without a cent, after the foot-racer, Valensin arrived here last night without certain letters and telegrams which were wanted by the District Attorney to throw more light on what the Count calls a conspiracy. On his statement made to the District Attorney and Sheriff Cunningham last night, he told he could not get a warrant, and he now wants more evidence. It is the general opinion of the court here that Valensin cannot recover a cent of his money. The Count charges McComb with inducing him to lend him $500 to bet on the race on the representation that it was a sure thing. As evidence of good faith McComb sent him $1,000 with a check, and made a purse of $5,000, which the local contractor pocketed for the sports who took down with them. McComb left the city for a few days, presumably for San Jose, and perhaps to borrow $5,000 to repay the Count, as he had promised to do. McComb returned to Stockton on the 11th, and having the contest decided, knowing that he had no chance to lose. The affair is the talk of the city, and the general opinion is that Valensin will never make a successful move to recover his money or punish his friend McComb.

DESTRUCTION OF A LARGE LUMBER MILL NEAR FLAGSTAFF.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

A CAR DRIVER'S SHOCKING DEATH.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17th.—[Special.]—John H. Wallis was run over and killed by a Howard street car about 10 o'clock. He was the driver of the car, and had just started from the terminus on the down track, and was driving one of the cars, and in endeavoring to regain it, he ran into the dashboard and fell with his head on the track. Both wheels passed over it, crushing him in the chest. He was killed instantly. Deceased was a single man, a native of Maine, and aged 24 years. Going to a Modern Land Sale.

ENJOY LIFE.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, beauty of valleys, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do we find ourselves in a state of ill health, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain relief by taking Green's Sarsaparilla. It will make them free from disease when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the most common ailments, and are cured by this medicine. It is a blood purifier, and is the best of all medicines. WIFE TO THE AMOUNT OF ABOUT $2,800.

THE MOST DESTRUCTIVE STORM THAT EVER VISITED THIS PART OF THE STATE SWEEP OVER BERKSHIRE COUNTY TO-DAY.

The large Lizzie Wallace arrived on Friday night in a house in the valley some distance from any other habitation. He is a German minister and oftentimes occupies the pulpit and preaches to those of his own nationality. Thursday he was away from home, and left his wife and an eighteen-month-old baby together at the house. The boy began playing with a tin can, and soon found a small copper rivet, which he slipped to play with. As is usual with children, he was very busy with the rivet, and soon found it was a tin can. The rivet was in the infant's hand when she was taken to the hospital, and she died.
