LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

OUR FIRE DEPARTMENT.

A Prospective Result of the "Sick-Bedroom" Meeting.

The open and defiant efforts to turn the City Fire Department into a double-decked, high-pressure political machine, with the Commissioners and entire force to take orders and refreshments direct from the headquarters of said machine, is beginning to bear fruit which the property-holders of Sacramento will not ignore.

Mention has already been made in the RECORD-UNION of the fact that fire insurance policy holders were in imminent danger of trouble from the interests of the "bosses" with the Fire Department, in the determination to subject it completely to their ends.

The following scores were yesterday made at the Twelfth-street 200-yard range by members of the local military companies:

Table with columns for name, score, and company. Includes Capt. H. A. ... and other military members.

In the Examiner's sensational prison article reference was made to poor Tommy Brown, the stage robber, who was in solitary confinement for an attempt to escape.

Grim-visaged justice continued the charges against Cooper and Elkus for violating Ordinance No. 17 till Tuesday. Ed. Jenkins was charged with carrying a pistol, and C. F. Barrett a drunk, were discharged. Fifteen minutes sufficed to do this business, and then the Court, the City Attorney and Colonel Larkin entered into an animated discussion of grandlarceny, dross and other intrinsics peculiar to the national game.

THE FINEST HORSE.—R. J. Merkle enjoys the distinction of having for many years been the first among horse culturists in the State to each year put up a bale of new hope. VICTORIO'S HAVERLYS.

The Atlas Get Another Black Eye on Their Own Ground.

During the past week the game to be played between the Atlas and Haverly Clubs was a leading topic of conversation on the streets and in the hotel lobbies. Numerous were the conjectures as to which would have the largest net of goose eggs when the score was made up. All agreed, however, that the contest would be one for blood. The "clinging game" of last Sunday, in which the Pioneers participated, had disgusted many, and it was a subject of wonder whether the management would permit a second "clinging game." The night shows one of the very best games, in which each nine did some excellent playing. The management will find it a popular resort, the cheering mood that uses indecent language will have to be relegated to the precincts of the "back-room."

ALIAS.—Meagher was first to bat, hit to first base, but was caught stealing second. Caveney was thrown out at first by Donahue, and Muller fanned.

Haverly.—Bennett went out at first on a high ball. Haverly made a third base on a grounder to Gregan, an error of Caveney. Donahue and Hanly both went out on the Pioneers' slow ball to center.

ALIAS.—In this inning each side succeeded in adding a goose egg to its score. Anderson managed to make first base, but was caught stealing second. The night shows one of the very best games, in which each nine did some excellent playing.

ALIAS.—Newbert hit a three-bagger to center field, and made the first tally on Flint's grounder to right. Robinson flew to left. Meagher hit to left by Haverly, and was thrown out at second on Caveney's slow ball to Donahue.

ALIAS.—Stein was thrown out at first by Newbert. Lawton was safe on first. Bennett flew to center field, and was thrown out at second on Caveney's slow ball to Donahue.

ALIAS.—The Sacramento boys now seemed the entire taking, and the contest was encouraged. Muller flew to left by Haverly, and was caught stealing second. The night shows one of the very best games, in which each nine did some excellent playing.

ALIAS.—Powers flew to left by Haverly, and was thrown out at first. Stein was safe on first. Bennett flew to center field, and was thrown out at second on Caveney's slow ball to Donahue.

ALIAS.—McLaughlin flew to left by Haverly, and was thrown out at first. Stein was safe on first. Bennett flew to center field, and was thrown out at second on Caveney's slow ball to Donahue.

ALIAS.—Although it was necessary now for the Atlas to do something, they only added another pitcher. Meagher flew to left by Haverly, and was thrown out at first. Stein was safe on first. Bennett flew to center field, and was thrown out at second on Caveney's slow ball to Donahue.

ALIAS.—The Atlas had lost all confidence now, and went to the bat merely as a matter of form. McLaughlin fouled out to center. Powers hit to first. Stein was thrown out at first. Bennett flew to center field, and was thrown out at second on Caveney's slow ball to Donahue.
