

PACIFIC COAST.

THE YAQUI INDIANS AGAIN ON THE WARPATH.

Fire at Fort Jones—The Placerville Railroad—Fatal Accident—Sudden Death—Etc.

AN ENRAGED TOURIST.

A Sight of Sacramento Oranges Takes Away an Easterner's Breath.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 23.—Several large bunches of oranges were placed in position to go to the ponderous stand which bears up so many of the Sacramento county's exhibit at the State Board of Trade rooms under the Grand Hotel.

"Magnificent," "splendid," "just from break Wisconsin, as he stood enraptured before the beautiful golden clusters. "Certainly," he continued, "California is a veritable paradise, and the life of these in the middle of December!"

"Oh, why is this nothing to what we can do when we go to the mountains? The Napa man was wonderfully impartial for over an hour, closely examining each country exhibit and commenting on them.

The Sacramento oranges had dazzled the visitor, but he was fairly staggered by the reality of the exhibition, and was really obvious from his many exclamations of wonder and surprise.

Fifteen letters were received by this morning's post at the State Board office from various parts of the country, asking for information regarding the Yaqui Indians in California. One of these from Oriska, D. T., states that a large colony is forming at that place to settle in this State next year.

ON THE WAR-PATH.

The Yaqui Indians Fight Mexican Troops. NOGALES, December 23.—General Guera, commander of the Federal forces in Sonora, has received information from the recently established military post at Nogales, Sonora, that a detachment of Federal troops, in command of Captain Eniso, attacked a band of Yaqui Indians, preparing to make a raid at a point called Laguna de Puerto, early on Sunday morning.

After a fight of several hours, the troops succeeded in driving them from the rocks, behind which they had hidden after the first volley. One Indian was killed and another wounded. The Yaquis were captured and sent to Bonacilla.

CAJEME'S SUCCESSOR. Chico Venadero (Little Poisoner), the ablest warrior of the Yaqui nation, was shot in the shooting of Cajeme, was at the head of the band, and after being forced to retire from the rocks, covered his retreat with consummate skill. He was followed by the Yaqui Indians for several miles, and were ambushed three times, and would have been destroyed had not the Yaqui Indians taken advantage of the situation.

Chico Venadero, it is thought, will be charged with the murder of the Yaqui chief, his hatred for the Mexicans has been intensified by over three years' continual warfare against them. He is a brave, a chief, a long and bloody war is certain.

THE TROOPS OUT-GENERATED. Tuesday night Captain Eniso and Lieutenant Olguin, with twenty-five infantry, were engaged in a battle with the Yaqui Indians in the foothills near Boracito, and came up with them in a rugged country about 8 o'clock. The Yaqui Indians were led by a chief named Eniso, and had a large number of men in parties of two and three. They spread out with the intention of concentrating in a circle about the Yaqui chief, and the Yaqui Indians were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

EARLY IN THE MORNING he set out with a large force to take up the trail from the battlefield. Arriving there he found that his command had taken a route behind a ledge of granite, Captain Eniso charged, but was forced to retire. He then ordered his men to take up the trail, and they were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

THE TROOPS OUT-GENERATED. Tuesday night Captain Eniso and Lieutenant Olguin, with twenty-five infantry, were engaged in a battle with the Yaqui Indians in the foothills near Boracito, and came up with them in a rugged country about 8 o'clock. The Yaqui Indians were led by a chief named Eniso, and had a large number of men in parties of two and three. They spread out with the intention of concentrating in a circle about the Yaqui chief, and the Yaqui Indians were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

EARLY IN THE MORNING he set out with a large force to take up the trail from the battlefield. Arriving there he found that his command had taken a route behind a ledge of granite, Captain Eniso charged, but was forced to retire. He then ordered his men to take up the trail, and they were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

THE TROOPS OUT-GENERATED. Tuesday night Captain Eniso and Lieutenant Olguin, with twenty-five infantry, were engaged in a battle with the Yaqui Indians in the foothills near Boracito, and came up with them in a rugged country about 8 o'clock. The Yaqui Indians were led by a chief named Eniso, and had a large number of men in parties of two and three. They spread out with the intention of concentrating in a circle about the Yaqui chief, and the Yaqui Indians were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

EARLY IN THE MORNING he set out with a large force to take up the trail from the battlefield. Arriving there he found that his command had taken a route behind a ledge of granite, Captain Eniso charged, but was forced to retire. He then ordered his men to take up the trail, and they were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

THE TROOPS OUT-GENERATED. Tuesday night Captain Eniso and Lieutenant Olguin, with twenty-five infantry, were engaged in a battle with the Yaqui Indians in the foothills near Boracito, and came up with them in a rugged country about 8 o'clock. The Yaqui Indians were led by a chief named Eniso, and had a large number of men in parties of two and three. They spread out with the intention of concentrating in a circle about the Yaqui chief, and the Yaqui Indians were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

EARLY IN THE MORNING he set out with a large force to take up the trail from the battlefield. Arriving there he found that his command had taken a route behind a ledge of granite, Captain Eniso charged, but was forced to retire. He then ordered his men to take up the trail, and they were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

THE TROOPS OUT-GENERATED. Tuesday night Captain Eniso and Lieutenant Olguin, with twenty-five infantry, were engaged in a battle with the Yaqui Indians in the foothills near Boracito, and came up with them in a rugged country about 8 o'clock. The Yaqui Indians were led by a chief named Eniso, and had a large number of men in parties of two and three. They spread out with the intention of concentrating in a circle about the Yaqui chief, and the Yaqui Indians were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

EARLY IN THE MORNING he set out with a large force to take up the trail from the battlefield. Arriving there he found that his command had taken a route behind a ledge of granite, Captain Eniso charged, but was forced to retire. He then ordered his men to take up the trail, and they were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

THE TROOPS OUT-GENERATED. Tuesday night Captain Eniso and Lieutenant Olguin, with twenty-five infantry, were engaged in a battle with the Yaqui Indians in the foothills near Boracito, and came up with them in a rugged country about 8 o'clock. The Yaqui Indians were led by a chief named Eniso, and had a large number of men in parties of two and three. They spread out with the intention of concentrating in a circle about the Yaqui chief, and the Yaqui Indians were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

EARLY IN THE MORNING he set out with a large force to take up the trail from the battlefield. Arriving there he found that his command had taken a route behind a ledge of granite, Captain Eniso charged, but was forced to retire. He then ordered his men to take up the trail, and they were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

THE TROOPS OUT-GENERATED. Tuesday night Captain Eniso and Lieutenant Olguin, with twenty-five infantry, were engaged in a battle with the Yaqui Indians in the foothills near Boracito, and came up with them in a rugged country about 8 o'clock. The Yaqui Indians were led by a chief named Eniso, and had a large number of men in parties of two and three. They spread out with the intention of concentrating in a circle about the Yaqui chief, and the Yaqui Indians were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

EARLY IN THE MORNING he set out with a large force to take up the trail from the battlefield. Arriving there he found that his command had taken a route behind a ledge of granite, Captain Eniso charged, but was forced to retire. He then ordered his men to take up the trail, and they were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

THE TROOPS OUT-GENERATED. Tuesday night Captain Eniso and Lieutenant Olguin, with twenty-five infantry, were engaged in a battle with the Yaqui Indians in the foothills near Boracito, and came up with them in a rugged country about 8 o'clock. The Yaqui Indians were led by a chief named Eniso, and had a large number of men in parties of two and three. They spread out with the intention of concentrating in a circle about the Yaqui chief, and the Yaqui Indians were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

EARLY IN THE MORNING he set out with a large force to take up the trail from the battlefield. Arriving there he found that his command had taken a route behind a ledge of granite, Captain Eniso charged, but was forced to retire. He then ordered his men to take up the trail, and they were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

THE TROOPS OUT-GENERATED. Tuesday night Captain Eniso and Lieutenant Olguin, with twenty-five infantry, were engaged in a battle with the Yaqui Indians in the foothills near Boracito, and came up with them in a rugged country about 8 o'clock. The Yaqui Indians were led by a chief named Eniso, and had a large number of men in parties of two and three. They spread out with the intention of concentrating in a circle about the Yaqui chief, and the Yaqui Indians were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

EARLY IN THE MORNING he set out with a large force to take up the trail from the battlefield. Arriving there he found that his command had taken a route behind a ledge of granite, Captain Eniso charged, but was forced to retire. He then ordered his men to take up the trail, and they were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

THE TROOPS OUT-GENERATED. Tuesday night Captain Eniso and Lieutenant Olguin, with twenty-five infantry, were engaged in a battle with the Yaqui Indians in the foothills near Boracito, and came up with them in a rugged country about 8 o'clock. The Yaqui Indians were led by a chief named Eniso, and had a large number of men in parties of two and three. They spread out with the intention of concentrating in a circle about the Yaqui chief, and the Yaqui Indians were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

EARLY IN THE MORNING he set out with a large force to take up the trail from the battlefield. Arriving there he found that his command had taken a route behind a ledge of granite, Captain Eniso charged, but was forced to retire. He then ordered his men to take up the trail, and they were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

THE TROOPS OUT-GENERATED. Tuesday night Captain Eniso and Lieutenant Olguin, with twenty-five infantry, were engaged in a battle with the Yaqui Indians in the foothills near Boracito, and came up with them in a rugged country about 8 o'clock. The Yaqui Indians were led by a chief named Eniso, and had a large number of men in parties of two and three. They spread out with the intention of concentrating in a circle about the Yaqui chief, and the Yaqui Indians were in a desperate struggle, but the Yaqui chief, Captain Eniso, abandoned the pursuit and returned to Boracito.

THE CAPITAL.

EXPORTS INCREASING AND IMPORTS DECREASING.

Carlisle's Ways and Means Committee—The Postal Telegraph—Sherman and the Tariff.

PRETTY SOLID.

Carlisle Selects a Cut-and-Dried Ways and Means Committee.

WASHINGTON, December 23.—Speaker Carlisle has decided upon the membership of the Ways and Means Committee. The Democratic members will be Mills of Texas, Chairman; Cox of New York, Ranking Member; Breckinridge of Arkansas, Turner of Georgia, and Ryman of Indiana, the Republican members will be Kelley of Pennsylvania, Brown of Indiana, Reed of Maine, McKinley of Ohio, and Sherman of New York. Fuller was one of the Republicans who voted in the last Congress for the consideration of the McKinley bill. The committee now stands there is not a Protectionist among the majority, while one Free-trader has been assigned to the minority.

PROSPECT OF THE SENATE COMMITTEE REPORTING IN ITS FAVOR. WASHINGTON, December 23.—Senator Sawyer, Chairman of the Finance Committee, says he will bring the subject of a postal telegraph before the committee very early in the next session. The members of the present committee were members of the Forty-ninth Congress, which reported a postal telegraph bill, but did not report the bill. The bill was introduced by its predecessors. Senator Sawyer is non-committal respecting his own report on the subject. He says he will report by the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congress, which looked to the establishment of a postal telegraph system, and the co-operation of private corporations.

A GOOD SHOWING. AN INCREASE OF $25,000,000 IN EXPORTS OVER THOSE OF LAST YEAR. WASHINGTON, December 23.—The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics, in his statement of the imports and exports of the United States, reports that the total value of the merchandise for the five, eleven and twelve months ending November 30, 1887, as compared with similar reports for the corresponding periods of the preceding years, was as follows: For the five months, $28,225,000, same period in 1886, $27,961,475; for the eleven months, $250,708,816 in 1886, $247,411,907; for the twelve months, $250,919,911 in 1886, $248,920,927. Exports, for the five months, $11,053,247; in 1886, $10,373,823; for the eleven months, $94,243,311; in 1886, $92,749,207; for the twelve months, $94,243,311; in 1886, $92,749,207.

THE COLLECTOR OVERTAKEN. WASHINGTON, December 23.—In the special case of W. F. Lury, from the decision of the Collector of Customs at San Francisco, assessing the duty at the rate of 20 per cent, ad valorem on certain leather imported from the United States, the Collector of Customs at San Francisco, assessing the duty at the rate of 10 per cent, the Secretary of the Treasury has ordered the Collector to take the necessary steps for refunding the excessive duty.

THE CHIEF OF THE TRIAL TRIP. WASHINGTON, December 23.—The Secretary of the Navy has received the official report concerning the recent trial trip of the United States steamer Chicago. The steamer, under the command of Commander J. B. Swasey, made the trip in 151 knots, and the maximum speed for an hour was 15.35 knots. The steamer made the trip in 151 knots, and the maximum speed for an hour was 15.35 knots. The machinery worked smoothly for the entire run, and throughout the trip the machinery worked smoothly for the entire run, and throughout the trip the machinery worked smoothly for the entire run.

California Penitentiaries. WASHINGTON, December 23.—California Penitentiaries are following the lead of the United States Penitentiaries, and are building new penitentiaries. The new penitentiaries are being built in various parts of the State, and are being built in various parts of the State, and are being built in various parts of the State.

What May Be Seen in the Foothills. Sacramento, December 23.—A more delightful trip could hardly be made than to take the foothills of Placer county. At Rocklin are the first orange trees in full bearing, having been set out by Dana Perkins at the depot some years ago; and from there to Colfax, every few miles on each side of the road, can be seen the orange trees, in many instances laden heavily with the golden fruit, which with their green foliage and the red blossoms, are a beautiful sight. The orange trees are a beautiful sight, and are a beautiful sight, and are a beautiful sight.

After Burglars. SACRAMENTO, December 23.—United States Detective Bohlen is here after Bennett Valley burglars.

NEW POSTAL REGULATIONS.—By a decision of the Attorney-General at Washington, articles containing the name of the sender, and the name of the recipient, must not contain any writing or printing on the outside wrapper or tag except the address of the party for whom the package is intended, together with the name and address and business of the sender, and the number or names of the articles contained therein. This decision prohibits the sender advertising his goods on the wrapper or tag, or also it prohibits the patentee of a tag or box from putting his name and address on the wrapper or tag, and also it prohibits the sender from putting his name and address on the wrapper or tag, and also it prohibits the sender from putting his name and address on the wrapper or tag.

Another Charge of Burglary Against the Los Angeles Policeman. LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

LOS ANGELES, December 23.—This afternoon a carriage containing Mrs. Hester and a companion drove to the residence of Mrs. Hester, and a man in a dark coat, who was identified as a policeman, entered the carriage and took possession of the money in the carriage. The man was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman, and was identified as a policeman.

HOME AFFAIRS.

MASSACHUSETTS HAS A LITTLE EARTHQUAKE.

Conflicting Reports of the Western Blizzard—Runaway Train in Colorado—Railroad Dividend.

A MAMMOTH STRIKE.

Forty Thousand Men in the Coal Region on the Eve of a Strike.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The large number of strikers are turning their attention to agricultural and horticultural development of the country. And they are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company on their lines running from Westville to the Port Deposit, Pa., are striking. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand. The strikers are being heard of on every hand.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.—Over one thousand men employed by the Philadelphia and