

DAILY RECORD-UNION

SATURDAY, JANUARY 14, 1888

The RECORD-UNION is the only paper on the coast, outside of San Francisco, that receives the full Associated Press dispatches from all parts of the world.

SAFETY DEVICES. The paper is for sale at the following places: At E. Fisher, Room 21, Merchants Exchange, who is also Sole Advertising Agent for San Francisco, Oakland and Suisun. Also, for sale at all Train Leasing and coming into Sacramento.

TO-DAY'S LEADING NEWS TOPICS.

Reports of a terrible loss of life come from the blizzard-stricken railroad. The only through railroad, north or south, that is open is the Northern Pacific. There has been a heavy loss of life and property in the blizzard-stricken railroad. Arguments in the California railroad tax case were concluded yesterday.

KENNAN'S REVELATIONS OF RUSSIAN CRUELTY.

Russia has forbidden the circulation in the empire of the articles of George Kennan in the Century Magazine on "Prison Life of the Russian Revolutionists." The order is in keeping with the uniform policy of Russia. It is possibly wrong to blame her, since it is unquestionable that concerning the treatment of political prisoners in Russia, and the tortures, cruelties and outrages visited upon "suspects." Were they intrude, the Russian censors need to entertain no fear of the circulation of the papers in Russia, where their untruth would be laid bare by the people.

Mr. Kennan's statements are the result of long observation, visitation to the penal colonies, fortresses, prisons, castles and the mines of Siberia, and of a vast amount of testimony taken at various periods in widely separated places, and under circumstances precluding the possibility of collusion between the many witnesses. These evidences are largely fortified by citations from official documents and statements by officials themselves. We have failed to discover any evidence of passion in his papers. The statements in cold English are enough to stir the blood to a white heat, and rouse indignation to the highest pitch.

BREAKERS FOR RAISIN MEN.

It seems incredible that the Secretary of State should have written to Congress, what the dispatches credit him with, concerning the tariff upon Malaga raisins. The Spanish raisin merchants have presented to Minister Cuyler a memorial to the United States Government, asking it to protect them by adjustment of its tariff schedule against Grecian currant-growers. That is to say, one foreign production market asks that the United States interpose to protect it against the competition of another foreign producing market, and the Secretary of State, without apparently stopping to consider the question in all its aspects, advises Congress to that effect.

MR. WELLS IN THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY.

Mr. Wells, in the Popular Science Monthly, holds that the decline in price since 1873 has been due to over-production. In a sense this is true. Where production advances out of proportion to the growth of the consuming element, a decline in prices follows. But Mr. Wells charges that the rule applies to wheat, and that the production of that cereal here and in Europe has not nearly kept pace with population—that is, it is greatly less now in proportion than it was in 1877, for instance. In some parts of the world wheat-growing has advanced out of proportion, but those parts have not entered into any serious competition with other wheat-growing districts, and, as compared to the whole wheat-growing region, constitute but a mere fraction of it.

THE SHOTGUN POLICY IS PLAYED OUT IN JACKSON, MISS.

The really interesting question is whether the Democratic party will appoint Sam Randall from its body of renegades. The shotgun policy is played out in Jackson, Miss. They just pass resolutions that they will not vote for May and so it is, and the shotgun is hung up.—(Albany N. Y. Journal.)

THE DECISION OF JUDGE WALLACE IN THE CASE OF MISS KENNEDY.

The decision of Judge Wallace in the case of Miss Kennedy, formerly Principal of the North Central Grammar School of San Francisco, is important to teachers because it settles the rule that they cannot be removed from their situations without just cause. It is a landmark in the history of the profession, and a great relief to the mind of every teacher who has been degraded from a superior to an inferior position under the color of a transfer for the good of the Department. The fact is the decision is very far-reaching in its scope, and seems to promise limitations on the power of transfer which may lead to a great deal of litigation.—(Oakland Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO AND VICINITY.

Dr. John L. Meares, the Health Officer, died at his home yesterday. Assistant Superintendent Pratt, of the Southern Pacific, says that person that he seriously injured by the late accident near Summit.

respecting intelligences. Such, for instance, are those whom the profession admits, to use an inelegant expression, with "big-head"—no other phrase is quite so apt to the point. It is one thing to "see humanity in all its varied aspects," and another very different one to improve the advantage for good. The disclosure of hollow and insincerity may result either in cynicism or in enlargement of the benevolent instinct. Dr. Adler's premises are sound; his conclusion is not so justified as to be invulnerable.

ERNEST PASSART, A DISTINGUISHED GERMAN TRAGEDIAN.

Ernest Passart, a distinguished German tragedian, and a Professor in the Royal Academy of Arts in Munich, was married the other day in New York for the third time, but to the same woman. His is an experience not many divorced men can equal. The couple, after ten years' married life, were divorced upon the application of the wife, who was jealous of admiration of her husband by other women. After two years of separation Anna Deinet Passart became reconciled to Ernest, who had never ceased to love, and when they were again married in 1874. Ten years more they lived happily, when, for reasons they keep to themselves, they were divorced again, and Madame Passart and her daughter came to New York to reside with her brother. Recently the tragedian, who had never ceased to love Anna, came to America to fill an important engagement. To show him fair courtesy the wife and daughter called upon him. The result was that on the last day of 1887 the divorced couple were married for the third time. These two were at once more sensible and more silly than most married folks who quarrel and separate. They have demonstrated that love may outlive the divorce Court, that constancy may survive the law, and that silly quarrels may separate hearts that should be united. The circumstances of their separations and reunions illustrate the ease with which degrees of divorce may be procured in both America and Europe. They both agree that there was really never any sufficient cause—anger and folly being put aside—for their separations. If, now, the laws of the several countries where the knot was cut, prohibited re-marriage by divorced people, at least by the alleged offender, it is unlikely that Herr Passart and his wife, both being highly cultivated and affectionate, would have ever been separated. Indeed, it is not concealed that the hope of reunion was secretly entertained by each, and was never lost, and really smoothed the path to divorcement that ought to be rough and uninviting. This in itself is a sad commentary upon the systems of law regarding the domestic relations. Limit the opportunity for separation, and when it is granted attend the penalty of celibacy, and there will be fewer prayers for decrees of divorce.

that Mr. Powderly was unable to prevent the strike, notwithstanding the efforts in that direction. As the Times well intimates an order dealing with public questions and seeking to control the public by not long exist after it ceases to exercise respect and obedience to its constituted authority.

THE WOOL-GROWERS OF UTAH HAVE JUST HELD A CONVENTION.

The wool-growers of Utah have just held a Convention, and while the Democracy in Congress is trying to capture the Territory to Louisiana, they are at the same time into the Union, polygamist-blighted or otherwise, the sheep-raisers of that benighted section are sitting up nights to cause the free-trade measure of the Democratic President. At the Convention they adopted resolutions strongly condemning the proposed reduction of the tariff on wool, or any other article of American production that requires protective duty to secure the interest of American labor, and the capital upon which their labor is dependent.

THE "POWERS" OF EUROPE—PARADISE OF THE INCONSCIENT.

The "Powers" of Europe—paradise of the inconscient, the term—would, on the whole, look as if he was going to want something, just simply ask him what "His Most Imperial Highness" desires, and he will grant it at once, whatever it may be. It would save much frequent expense to each of the "Powers" in the way of intricate diplomatic protests and "preparations for war," and a deal of finally getting down on the sidewalk in the early frosty air. Nor do we believe that if Sacramento had to do battle with such an epidemic, that nurses or physicians from the pest-house would be allowed to come daily upon the public streets, and mingle freely with the people. Nor would it be at all likely that from a quarantined house an inmate would be allowed to escape and appear before the Health Board and argue a claim for damages, and not even be returned to his quarters. Yet all these things have occurred in San Francisco, and though the press has protested it does not seem to have effected a complete reform of management.

A Splendid Shoe.

People will not leave tried and favorite brands of SHOES for new ones unless there are strong reasons for so doing. Hence a new make of SHOES that at once springs into favor, crowding out old brands, MUST OF NECESSITY possess strong points of superiority. Such is the history of the B. & H. $4 SHOE. Although a new production, it has already had a large sale, and is probably just what its makers intended it to be--the BEST Shoe of its kind in the market. It comes in all sizes and several styles.
