

CHANGED DAILY FOR C. H. GILMAN—MAY 28, 1888.

TO-DAY!

Extra Special Drive, in which Swiss Embroidery Flouncing, 38 inches, will be closed for 35 cents per yard. 100 pieces Figured Lawns at 3 1/2 cents per yard. French Batiste Cloths cut from 25 to 12 1/2 cents.

CLOTHING!

The demand for warm weather Suits has been rather light, owing to the cold weather; but the change indicates a strong demand for these goods. We think our styles this year are superior to any we have kept before.

- Summer Coats, in Calico, Wash Poplin and Seersuckers.....25 cents to $1
Seersucker Coats and Vests, good qualities.....$1 25 to $2 50
Fine Mohair Coats and Vests, light and dark brown.....$4 to $5
Handsome Mohair Check Coats and Vests.....$4
Pongee Silk Coats and Vests.....$4
Silk Mohairs, extra fine, in drab and slate colors.....$6
Boys' heavy Seersucker Norfolk Coats.....$1 40
Boys' Seersucker Coats and Vests.....$1 25
Men's Flannel Coats and Vests.....$2 50 to $6
Men's Dusters.....75 cents, $1, $1 45
Men's fine Mohair, extra quality.....$3 to $5
Men's Alpaca Coats.....$1 50 to $4
Men's Spring Overcoats.....$5 to $18
Men's Spring Suits.....$3 50 to 2
Boys' Suits.....$4 50 to $10
Youths' Suits, dark and light shades.....$5 to $15
No better variety of Men's Pants to be found in the city. We have all grades and styles, from the low-priced working Pants, 75 cents, to the best qualities.

SHERIDAN.

THE GALLANT SOLDIER ENTERING THE DARK VALLEY.

His Death Liable to Occur at Any Moment—He is Ready for the Dread Summons.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE RECORD-UNION.)

(Copyright, 1888, by the California Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—General Sheridan is still alive. All day long there have been callers at his house. The colored man at the door has taken all cards, and Colonel Blunt and Colonel Kellogg, of Sheridan's staff, have been constantly on duty at the General's house to meet visitors and inform them of the General's condition. These officers, the physicians and members of the family have ceased to attempt to conceal the dangerous condition of the patient, and this fact is argued to be one of the worst features of the case. As long as it was possible, the officers immediately surrounding the General endeavored to conceal the grave character of his affliction, and to prevent heart disease, of which he is suffering, the miserable subtlety of nervous prostration. The staff officers who have given out these misleading reports perhaps should not be too severely blamed.

In the event of General Sheridan's death his brother Mike would be assigned to duty as Major at some other less desirable post than Washington. Lieutenant Colonel Kellogg is Captain in California, and is to be assigned to duty in Indian Territory. Lieutenant Colonel Blunt is Captain of Ordnance, and is liable to be assigned to duty with the corps, should he be detached from Sheridan's staff.

YESTERDAY'S BULLETINS.

Last night was a trying one for the General. His room was surrounded by physicians who intently watched his every breath. At 8 o'clock this morning his physicians issued the following bulletin:
Consultation at 8 A. M. by Drs. O'Reilly, Byrne, Yarrow and Matthews: General Sheridan has been in bed since the evening of the 25th, and has taken a sufficient quantity of medicine. There is no fever, but the symptoms reported last night were not relieved until this morning. The patient expresses himself as feeling comfortable.

At 5:15 to-night another bulletin was issued by the doctors, saying that the General was sleeping quietly and that there had been no change in the dangerous symptoms of yesterday afternoon.

A COMPLICATION OF MALADIES.
"The General may live ten months, or he may not live ten minutes," said one of his medical friends, who was visiting the house this afternoon. "He has fatty degeneration of the heart and dropsy. He is full of courage, and may overcome his malady. On the other hand, he may die instantly. It is perfectly ridiculous to pretend that he is not in serious danger. I would not be surprised to hear of his death at any moment."

General Sheridan has been engaged in the preparation of a history of the cavalry operations of the Union army during the war, which was intended as a companion volume to Grant's "Memoirs." His health is so poor that he cannot write, and his pen is left to another—who will prove of incalculable loss to the military history of the Government.

ADMINISTERING OXYGEN.

While your correspondent was at Sheridan's residence a cab brought Dr. Yarrow, who had been to secure a can of oxygen. This pure air the doctors are using to assist the action of the lungs, since the action of the heart has become so feeble that it fails to suck in fresh blood, and the lungs, with bad blood, and it is exceedingly difficult for the patient to breathe. The General is given this oxygen in the form of ether as administered to dentists' patients.

When Mr. Moxley, the man of whom this oxygen was obtained, came out, he was questioned about the condition of the patient. He said when he entered the room General Sheridan was lying on his back, his eyes open, looking vacantly in front of him. He moved his hand slightly, and said, "I will be well in a moment." He made a motion as though to remove the imaginary cigar, and told the General it was his right, which seemed to quiet him. He then returned to the room.

Mr. Moxley said further that there was no denying the fact that the patient's condition was almost comatose. It was only at brief intervals that he was conscious. Between his last attack and the second one was thirty-two hours. At 1 o'clock another attack came on, and he lay in a coma. The other physicians are on the alert for another attack, which, it is more than likely, will be the last.

THE LATEST READY FOR DEATH.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—About 1 o'clock he desired to be lifted up higher, and two attendants, assisted by Mrs. Sheridan, endeavored to raise him. He was so heavy that they had some difficulty, and the general noticed this, said, jokingly, "I am pretty heavy, but I haven't got any paralysis." (Referring to a newspaper statement giving that as his ailment.)

DEATH LIABLE AT ANY MOMENT.

One physician in attendance said this evening, "General Sheridan has great vitality, but I do not think he will be alive thirty hours from now, unless there is a great change. He has no pain, and he will sink away easily. A recurrence of the heart trouble may come. The heart will cease to beat, and all will be at an end."

At the General's house all is quiet, and conversation is carried on in subdued whispers, as not to disturb him. In the least should he be able to sleep. There was a steady stream of callers at the residence during the day, and many telegrams were received asking for information as to his condition.

HE IS CONDITION CRITICAL.

The last bulletin given out is alarming. It says:
The repeated attacks of partial failure of the heart and its continued feeble action have produced a condition of the lungs which has rendered the proper action of the lungs. His condition is therefore very serious, and it is to be feared that there is such a tendency to recurrence as to justify the most serious apprehensions. It is critical. He is free from pain and distress, and so expresses himself.

ALL HOPE ABANDONED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—10:30 P. M.—All hope has been abandoned, and it is not believed that General Sheridan can live another twenty-four hours.

THE CHILDREN ARE RETIRED.

The children have retired, but Mrs. Sheridan refuses to leave her husband's bedside, except at short intervals, when she is forced from exhaustion to lie down on a lounge close to the General's bed.

HOME AFFAIRS.

A CAUCUS PLAYS HOOP WITH THE MILLS TARIFF BILL.

Forest Fire in Vermont—Missouri's Great Storm—Refrigerator in a Church—Etc.

(SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.)

(Copyright, 1888, by the California Associated Press.)

SLEEPING THIS MORNING.
Sheridan is sleeping quietly, and no immediate danger is apprehended. The only pain he feels is in the chest, and is relieved by the other physicians and Mrs. Sheridan has also been persuaded to take a short rest. The General has had one or two slight attacks of coughing.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 28th.—A. M.—Colonel Blunt was seen again at half-past 10 o'clock. He said that there would be no change for the worse within the next twenty-four hours, but he would say, which was tantamount to admitting that death was now momentarily expected.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

OFF FOR ST. LOUIS.

The Delegates to the National Democratic Convention, which meets at St. Louis on the 5th of June, passed through this city yesterday afternoon. The train was due at 11:55 A. M., but did not reach here until 1:15 P. M.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

HOME AFFAIRS.

A CAUCUS PLAYS HOOP WITH THE MILLS TARIFF BILL.

Forest Fire in Vermont—Missouri's Great Storm—Refrigerator in a Church—Etc.

(SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.)

(Copyright, 1888, by the California Associated Press.)

SLEEPING THIS MORNING.
Sheridan is sleeping quietly, and no immediate danger is apprehended. The only pain he feels is in the chest, and is relieved by the other physicians and Mrs. Sheridan has also been persuaded to take a short rest. The General has had one or two slight attacks of coughing.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 28th.—A. M.—Colonel Blunt was seen again at half-past 10 o'clock. He said that there would be no change for the worse within the next twenty-four hours, but he would say, which was tantamount to admitting that death was now momentarily expected.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

OFF FOR ST. LOUIS.

The Delegates to the National Democratic Convention, which meets at St. Louis on the 5th of June, passed through this city yesterday afternoon. The train was due at 11:55 A. M., but did not reach here until 1:15 P. M.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

HOME AFFAIRS.

A CAUCUS PLAYS HOOP WITH THE MILLS TARIFF BILL.

Forest Fire in Vermont—Missouri's Great Storm—Refrigerator in a Church—Etc.

(SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.)

(Copyright, 1888, by the California Associated Press.)

SLEEPING THIS MORNING.
Sheridan is sleeping quietly, and no immediate danger is apprehended. The only pain he feels is in the chest, and is relieved by the other physicians and Mrs. Sheridan has also been persuaded to take a short rest. The General has had one or two slight attacks of coughing.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 28th.—A. M.—Colonel Blunt was seen again at half-past 10 o'clock. He said that there would be no change for the worse within the next twenty-four hours, but he would say, which was tantamount to admitting that death was now momentarily expected.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

OFF FOR ST. LOUIS.

The Delegates to the National Democratic Convention, which meets at St. Louis on the 5th of June, passed through this city yesterday afternoon. The train was due at 11:55 A. M., but did not reach here until 1:15 P. M.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

DEATH MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 27th.—A bill will probably be reported to the Senate tomorrow by the Military Committee giving Sheridan the title of General of the Army.

PACIFIC COAST.

EXCITING TRIP THROUGH THE COLUMBIA RAPIDS.

Wreck of a Vessel in an Alaskan Bay—Memorial Services—Ball Games—Etc.

(SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.)

(Copyright, 1888, by the California Associated Press.)

A STEAMER GOES TO LIGHTING SPEED THROUGH THE COLUMBIA RAPIDS.
Portland, May 27th.—The steamer Haszlo made the descent of the Cascade rapids yesterday most successfully in the presence of 2,500 people, who assembled from Portland and intermediate points to witness the exciting event. The Cascades of the Columbia river are six miles long. The river runs this distance at the rate of twenty miles an hour. The first fall is sixteen feet in 2,000, and the water boils, seethes and forms over sunken rocks and reefs, and falls all the way down the channel is a mass of flying foam and breakers, where cars currents meet.

SHOOTING THE CASCADES.

At 3:30 o'clock the Haszlo swung out from her landing to make the perilous descent. Captain James W. Wroupe, port captain of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, who has made the descent several times, was at the wheel. The only passengers to witness the shooting were Wm. H. Johnson, Jr., and wife, George L. Shattuck and wife, who had arrived in a private car; John D. Wilson, proprietor of the Daily News, H. A. Moss, M. A. Moody and W. Wright.

THE BREAKING-TAKING SHOOT.

When the Haszlo struck the full force of the current she shot like an arrow down the channel, and in a few minutes she was under the fall. The water flew over the upper deck. Three sharp, distinct shocks were felt and were thought she had struck. The steamer pitched and rolled, and the force of the breakers striking her. The steamer passed safely through the boiling water without scratch. From the head of the rapids to the lower cascades, a distance of six miles, the run was made in ten minutes, at the rate of a mile in one hour and two-thirds minutes. The trip was a complete success and the Haszlo is the first boat to come through without injury.

HEAVY BATTING.

The Pioneers Have a Regular Picnic With the Slough City.
Stockton, May 27th.—The game to-day between the Stocktons and Pioneers was exciting and there was a large attendance. The Pioneers pitched for the Stocktons. It made no difference where he put the ball, the Pioneers were ready to catch it. The pitcher was batters and singles without number. The Pioneers began their slugging in the fourth inning, when they made three runs. They kept Stockton chasing leather for the rest of the game. The Pioneers made a total of nineteen base-hits off Flynn, including seven three-baggers and two doubles. Creanor pitched a fine game and was ably supported. Following is the score by Stockton:
Stockton.....10 0 0 0 2 2-22
Pioneers.....0 1 0 3 5 1 7-22

A ONE-SIDED AFFAIR.

SAN JUAN SOUTH, May 27th.—The Central California and Pioneers played a game to-day between the Johnson & Browns, of Salinas and the Old Missions, of San Juan. The game was pitched for the Central and Salinas. The game was exciting and there was a large attendance. The Johnson & Browns pitched for the Old Missions. It made no difference where he put the ball, the Johnson & Browns were ready to catch it. The pitcher was batters and singles without number. The Johnson & Browns began their slugging in the fourth inning, when they made three runs. They kept Old Missions chasing leather for the rest of the game. The Johnson & Browns made a total of nineteen base-hits off Flynn, including seven three-baggers and two doubles. Creanor pitched a fine game and was ably supported. Following is the score by Stockton:
Stockton.....10 0 0 2 2-22
Pioneers.....0 1 0 3 5 1 7-22

A FORTUNATE YOUNG LADY.

Miss Jennie Martin, 170 North St. Paul street, Rochester, N. Y., says: I suffered long from kidney complaints—home physicians and their medicines were of no avail to me. A friend induced me to try Dr. David Kennedy's Savorio Kidney made at Boston, N. Y., price $1. In one time I had taken two bottles I was completely cured and have had no trouble since. Write for a booklet of others who may be suffering as I did. Address: W. A. agents.

NEW REGISTRATIONS.

Continuation of Names Entered Upon the New Great Register.
The following additional names have been entered upon the city list of the new Great Register, under the letter O:
Oatman, John W., California, 1206 G street.
O'Brien, W. J., New Hampshire, 300 F street.
O'Brien, G. H., California, 67 Thirtieth at.
O'Brien, W. L., California, Arco Building.
O'Connor, John, Switzerland, 728 K street.
O'Connor, Neal, Ireland, 1000 F street.
O'Donnell, John, Ireland, 827 J street.
O'Donnell, John, Ireland, 1000 F street.
O'Donnell, George, Ireland, 385 F street.
O'Dell, H. M., California, 250 Twelfth street.
O'Neil, W. M., Canada, 1215 P street.
O'Neil, W. M., California, 250 Twelfth street.
O'Neil, W. M., California, 250 Twelfth street.
O'Neil, W. M., California, 250 Twelfth street.

WRECKED IN ALASKA.

Portland, May 27th.—News was just received from the north of the total loss of the American bark Julia Ford, in Karik Ray, Alaska. The vessel was wrecked April 25th, but the first intelligence was received to-day. The Julia Ford was commanded by Captain Traud, and came from Orono, Maine, with a cargo of salmon canning machinery for the Karik Cannery. On her arrival the anchor was dropped and preparations made to discharge cargo. A heavy storm from the northeast came up, and it appeared that unless the vessel could be saved, she would be lost. The anchor chain was hoisted and the vessel was towed to the shore. The anchor chain was hoisted and the vessel was towed to the shore. The anchor chain was hoisted and the vessel was towed to the shore.

IS STANLEY ALIVE?

St. Joseph, Mo., the Center of a Deluging Downpour.
St. Joseph, May 27th.—The hardest rainstorm that has visited this vicinity for many years fell here yesterday. It began in the morning at 8 in the evening, in a strip of country within a radius of fifty miles from the city. The rain was so heavy that it was impossible to travel. The water was so high that it was impossible to travel. The water was so high that it was impossible to travel.

FEARS THAT THE GREAT AFRICAN EXPLORER HAS MET A SAD FATE.

New York, May 27th.—A cable dispatch from London says: "There is little hope for Stanley's safety, or even that the explorer is alive. It is thought that the projectors of the Stanley expedition are purposely resuming in the tone of their expression for publication, but their private opinion regarding the safety of the hero explorer is quite the opposite."
At Waleale the expedition was met by large bands of hostile Arabs and natives, with which Stanley's forces were unable to cope. It is thought that Stanley is in any disease, or if his supply of ammunition was short, as was probably the case, he is so long since he replenished his stores.

THE NEW YORK "WORLD" SAYS BLAINE WILL NOT RUN.

New York, May 27th.—Under the caption "After Blaine," the World editorially says to-day: "We have private information of the most trustworthy character confirming our frequently expressed opinion that Mr. Blaine will not be a candidate for the Presidency. Blaine will not be a candidate, because he really does not wish to be. He is a man of high character and high ability, but he is not a politician. He is a man of high character and high ability, but he is not a politician. He is a man of high character and high ability, but he is not