east coast of South America and must go around Cape Horn. The Adams is undergoing repairs at the Mare Island Navy Yard and ten days or two weeks will serve to complete her repairs and after a few days necessary to take stores and coal, she may sail on the voyage which will take about twenty days. The Pacific is expected to be ready to sail on the 10th inst., and in all probability will be sent to relieve the Richmond.

THE OLD RICHMOND. The old Richmond is by far the largest of the vessels that will go to Apia. She was built at Norfolk in 1858, and is of 2,700 tons. She is now under the command of Captain O. V. Reed, with Lieutenant-Commander Louis B. Hooper as Executive Officer. F. H. Crosby, J. M. Robinson and J. O. Nicholson. Her complement is 29 officers and 201 men. She is armed with twelve nine-inch smooth bore, one eight-inch muzzle-loader rifle, one twenty-pound breech-loading and some smaller secondary guns.

THE ALERT. The Alert is a 1,000-ton vessel, built by John Roach in 1876. She carries twenty-two 12-inch guns, one 10-inch gun, one 6-inch gun and four small guns in secondary battery. Her officers are Commander James G. Walker, to be Secretary of the Alert, T. E. Green, C. M. Moore, J. P. Piker, C. D. Bostwick and William G. Hannum.

THE ADAMS. The Adams is rated at 1,375 tons. She was built in 1876 at Boston by Donald McKay. She is now under the command of Captain Edwin H. Terrill, to be Minister to Mexico. She carries a battery of four nine-inch guns, one eight-inch muzzle-loader rifle, one six-inch gun, one 4-inch gun, and five guns in the secondary battery. Her detail of officers is not yet been made.
