

RAGING ELEMENTS.

The Storm Renuws With Increased Vindictiveness.

SNOW, HAIL AND RAIN-STORMS.

Several Persons Crushed by a Terrible Snow-Slide at Sierra City--Etc.

(SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.)

CRUSHED BY THE SNOW.

Seven Lives Lost and Homes Destroyed at Sierra City.

SIERRA CITY, January 3d.--A terrible and fatal snow slide occurred here at 2 o'clock this afternoon, resulting in seven deaths.

Three or four houses were also completely demolished, not a trace of them being left.

The force was so great that large oak trees were swept away as if made of paper.

The residence of I. T. Mooney caught fire and his wife and daughter were burnt to a crisp.

The names of the dead, so far as known, are:

Mrs. Rich, daughter and son.

Miss Ryan of Downville.

Mr. L. T. Mooney and daughter.

Miss Elford Langdon.

The end is not known, and great apprehension is felt for a portion of the town.

It has been snowing steadily for forty-eight hours. The mail and express were obliged to return to-day.

Nothing equal to this storm has been seen here for years, and should rain follow the damage to the lower country will be incalculable.

In places the snow has drifted from twenty to thirty feet.

Communication with Truckee via Sierra valley has been cut off, and travel in all directions is suspended except on snow-shoes.

IONE DRENCHED.

The Town Flooded by the Worst Storm of the Season.

IONE, January 3d.--The heaviest rain-storm of the season here occurred yesterday between 4 and 5 o'clock p. m., flooding yards and cellars, and creating considerable commotion among women and children, who were out shopping or returning from school.

For a while many feared a repetition of the flood of the 11th of January, 1882, when one house was washed away and several persons drowned in Sutter Creek, which runs through the town.

The storm, however, was of short duration and did not cause an overflow of the creek.

Three inches of snow fell twelve miles above here.

Stages from all parts of the county still connect with the Amador Branch Railroad.

MORE TROUBLE SOUTH.

Washouts Again Delay the Trains, and Worse is Feared.

SAN BERNARDINO, January 3d.--Rain commenced here this morning, and has been falling in fits and starts all day.

Fears are entertained of more damage to the railroads. Cajon Pass is in bad condition.

Several washouts are reported from the rains in the mountains.

The overland going East was tied up here all afternoon, and will not leave before to-morrow. The overland going West is tied up at Barstow.

The new piling for the Lytle creek bridge, west of here, on the Santa Fe road, is washed out, and a washout is reported between Los Angeles and Pasadena. The chances are that no trains will run to-morrow. The first San Francisco mail for ten days arrived at Colton this morning. The Postoffice officials were busy all day distributing it.

The outlook is very gloomy, as another heavy rain will do great damage.

SEATTLE FROZEN.

Steamers Tied Up and Rivers Rendered Unavailable.

SEATTLE (Wash.) January 3d.--The cold snap and general gloom which presently exists is the worst known here for eight years.

The rivers are emptying into Puget Sound in frozen lumps. They are closed to navigation.

Hood's Canal is also frozen.

Many steamers are tied up owing to the fact that they cannot get through at Seattle.

Other Sound ports, as the water pipes are all frozen up. They will not use salt water, as it rusts the boilers.

The steamer City of Seattle arrived at 11 o'clock to-day, and reports a strong gale, accompanied by a blinding snow-storm, during her passage. The Pueblo was six hours behind her schedule.

The Heaviest in Years.

NEVADA CITY, January 3d.--Sixteen inches of snow has fallen in this city in twenty-four hours. Telegraphic communication with the lower country was interrupted all day, but a line is open to-night.

The stage roads to Downville and Washington are closed. It is the heaviest storm experienced in this country.

Hatt an Inch Deep at Merced.

MERCED, January 3d.--The heaviest rains have fallen here this afternoon for many years. It was accompanied by thunder, lightning, and hail, the latter lying upon the pavements and roofs in houses one inch deep. An overflow throughout the valley must necessarily result. The rain continues to fall heavily up to this hour.

BAKERSFIELD.

BAKERSFIELD, January 3d.--Rain has fallen all day, the heaviest of the season, amounting to .39 of an inch, and making a total of 4.52 inches. Up to the same date it had rained to-day from the south since December 24th, owing to the delays caused by the washout in the southern part of the State.

Down South.

HOLLISTER, January 3d.--During the past twenty-four hours 11 inches of rain has fallen, making 14 inches for the season at Hollister. At other places in San Benito county as high as 25 inches has fallen. Snow covers the surrounding mountains a foot in depth. The weather is warm but threatening.

Rain, Snow and Hail.

SANTA ROSA, January 3d.--Late night about 10 o'clock snow fell for fifteen minutes. To-day it snowed and rained heavily for some time. The foothills are covered with snow, and the weather is very cold. It continues to rain to-night. The total rainfall for the season is 27 inches.

Visalia's Mud.

VISALIA, January 3d.--There was a rain last night and an inch fell, making 8.55 inches for the season. The mud is worse than ever. Buses, drays and delivery wagons are double-tracked now. Wood has advanced in price.

Still Snowing at Placerville.

PLACERVILLE, January 3d.--The storm is unabated. Eight or ten inches of snow has fallen, but nearly all melted. It is still snowing. We have had 38 inches of rain for the season. Business is nearly suspended.

Wind-Storm at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, January 3d.--This city was visited to-day by a heavy wind-storm. All trains have been withdrawn from the Santa Fe on account of the storm.

Rain and Hail at Marysville.

MARYSVILLE, January 3d.--Rain fell heavily this afternoon, mingled with hail which melted as it fell. The total rain for the season to date is 20.27 inches.

Napa Valley.

NAPA, January 3d.--It rained heavily all morning, but it is now clear. Snow may be seen on the mountains surrounding the valley. The rainfall for twenty-four hours was .05 of an inch, and for the season, 22.38 inches.

Snow and Hail in Sonoma.

SONOMA, January 3d.--A heavy hail-storm visited this place about 1 o'clock this afternoon, and snow fell on the hills one mile from town.

No Signs of Abating.

WOODLAND, January 3d.--The storm still continues. Some snow fell here to-day.

"OUR MARY."

Wouldn't Discuss Matrimony but Tells a Funny Story.

NEW YORK, January 3d.--A special from Nice says: Mary Anderson was interviewed by your correspondent at the Hotel Mediterranean to-day on the subject of her reported engagement to young Navarro, of New York.

She blushing said: "I am aware that reports of my engagement have been published in New York, but I must decline to discuss the subject at present. Apropos of this, let me relate a recent incident: Another Miss Anderson, who lived in the same terrace as the married man in London, had her bridal presents regularly brought to me. No. 2, getting angry, brought her intended to me and said: 'You had better take him to me.'"

After this Miss Anderson showed so much reluctance that the reporter sought Navarro and asked him whether he would verify the reported engagement.

"I must decline to discuss the matter," said the gentleman, but he said it with such an evident air of satisfaction, that he gave good reason to believe that the engagement is a well-founded fact.

Later Miss Anderson was met on a promenade and asked either to deny or confirm the report, but she graciously declined to discuss the matter. Then she was asked whether the statements made by Abby's agent that she would appear at the opening of the Broadway Theater, in New York, on the 23d next, were true.

Miss Anderson replied she should not re-appear in public for an indefinite period, and that she had no engagement to appear in New York or elsewhere with any man.

Miss Anderson put an unconscious though dignified emphasis on the word "manager."

"Our Mary" never looked better than she did to-day.
