For President,
ZACHARY TAYLOR,
OF LOUISIANA,
Subject to the decision of the Whig National Convention.
H. J. DRAYTON, ESQ.
We copy from the Paris Correspondence of the Boston Atlas the following notice of the progress made by Mr. H. J. Drayton, formerly of this city, in the study of vocalization at the French Conservatoire. The French Musical Journal announces that not the slightest foreign accent was distinguishable in his enunciation of the French language.

"At the expiration of the first two hours, however, I had become nearly surfeited by the most incredible and eccentric flights of the human voice that ever pitched upon my imagination—evolutions that seemed to take in impossibilities as nothing, completely upsetting all manner of bounds to astonishment, and really spreading such wild and general consternation among the loose crochets that my enthusiasm already began to settle down into a kind of ethereal indifference to anything that might feel disposed to follow. From this state of "oyster-like ecstasy," I was suddenly aroused by one of those clear full bursts of vocal power, which, for the moment, can never fail to thrill the stoutest audience to a mute inaction. The pupil now upon the scene was none other than Mr. H. J. Drayton, of Philadelphia, of whom the American press has so often spoken in high terms of praise, and though I was no less surprised than proud at his success, it was with difficulty I could realize that so brief a space as some few months back could have accomplished that degree of proficiency which marked his success. The piece selected for his execution was, however, too tame in character to admit of exhibiting any great tours of vocal force, in which Mr. D. (whom I have heard since in private), particularly excels; and, for the deep, rich volumes of melody that continued to pour out, from the mellowest to the full, proud vibrations of his most wonderful basso cantante, filling the theatre until its course was broken by a ringing round of "bravos," I could almost have smiled at the boldness with which he had taken so formidable a stand amongst contentions whose strength had been the result of years of unremitting study. Added to this natural confidence, the fine stature and person of Mr. Drayton, and above all his spirited conception and appreciation of the part he is performing, are such as would render his talents as an artist of a most high and valuable order."

Old Zach and the Illinois Democracy. The Morgan, Illinois, Journal assures us that a caucus of the Democratic members of the late Illinois Constitution Convention decided to nominate the old Hero for the Presidency, that they were of opinion that any opposition to him in Illinois would be disastrous to itself.—Huzza for old Rough and Ready!

Gen. Taylor has received four State nominations for the Presidency—Iowa, Illinois, Maryland, and Georgia:

The Albany Atlas, now that Mr. Wright is out of the way, advocates the selection by the Democratic party of Mr. Benton for the Presidency. He will do as well as any other man to be displaced by old Buena Vista.

YUCATAN. We have dates from this doomed peninsula to the 17th of August. The war of the races was not at an end. It raged in all its violence. The Indians only needed arms and ammunition to exterminate the whites.

The Yellow Fever killed 576 persons in New Orleans the week ending the 5th instant, 9 A. M. This is worse than any of our battles with the Mexicans, and yet the people of New Orleans deny the contagiousness of this fell disease!

The Charleston Courier publishes a list of all the graduates of the South Carolina College from its foundation to the present year. It occupies nearly three columns of closely printed matter. Great names are among them. The first graduate is Judge Crenshaw, whose death is announced in another paragraph.

Mr. Marcy has asked Captain Little, of Alton, Illinois, to come on with his mounted company, but it is too late. They are disbanded, though the captain is trying to get them together again.

Mr. Dallas had a very cool reception in Pitts. bvg. The people remembered his desertion of Pennsylvania laboring interests. He may as well go home, for the Pennsylvanians will never again believe in Polk, Dallas, and Buchanan.

The Democrats of Union county, Pa., have declared in favor of old Zach for President.—Good—if they stick to it!

On the opening of the criminal court in N. Orleans on the 3d instant, informations were filed against fifty-six persons for assault and battery, and nineteen for larceny. High times, ho-se, in the midst of the epidemic!

An orphan girl aged 16 years, ran away on the 2d inst. in N. O. from the house of her grand-mother, because the latter wished to marry a man she didn't like. The girl was right.

Our opponents say, we have no principles. In principles in their vocabulary are synonymous with offices, they are right!

The New Orleans Delta says that the plan of the war has changed, that Gen. Taylor is to be left upon his camp stool, and his troops are to open the road from Vera Cruz to Mexico.

TWENTY-FIVE DAYS LATER FROM SANTA FE.

Later from Chihuahua.—Murder of Mr. James Full—Robbery—Col. Willcock's Battalion—Progress of the U. S. Dragoons under Lieut. Love, the Battalion of Infantry under Col. Easton, the Missouri Mounted Men, and the Regiment of Illinois Infantry.

The steamer J. J. Hardin arrived last night, about ten o'clock, says the St. Louis Republican of the 6th instant, from the Missouri river. From our correspondent at Independence, we have received a letter, giving pretty full details of all the news brought by Mr. Aubry, who had just returned from Santa Fe. It will be seen, that he brings intelligence of the murder of one of the best citizens of our State. We annex his letter:

INDEPENDENCE, Sept. 1, 1847.
The arrival of Mr. Aubry, direct from Santa Fe, puts into my hands some news that will be interesting to your readers, and which I hasten to communicate. Mr. Aubry left Santa Fe on the 28th of July, accompanied by Mr. Barnum, of Baltimore, (direct from Chihuahua,) Capt. McKinnay's company of volunteers from Monroe county, and a train of fifty five United States wagons, under the charge of Mr. King.

Through Mr. Barnum, Mr. Aubry has news from Chihuahua to the 3d of July. On the 23d of June, Mr. James Aull, the partner of the late Colonel S. C. Owens, in an extensive mercantile business, was killed by two Mexicans. They entered his store at Chihuahua, killed him, and took away $5,000. The authorities of the city, and the friends of the deceased, immediately had three of the murderers arrested, and put in prison, to await their trial. Mr. Aull's death was not occasioned by any rising of the mob, but chiefly for plunder. Mr. Aull is a gentleman well known in this community, and highly respected. His death has spread gloom and consternation over every one, and more particularly at this crisis, in the midst of large commercial transactions, and so soon after the death of Colonel Owens.

The persons and property of American citizens generally, were respected at Chihuahua, though none were permitted to leave the city, except neutrals, who could bring away their means by paying a duty of 6 per cent. Mr. Barnum obtained his passport by pretending to be an Irishman.

Gov. Armiijo, on his way to Albuquerque, to visit his family, was arrested at Chihuahua, and kept within the limits of that city. He is said to have expressed great satisfaction at the result of the battle of Sacramento.

No merchandise of any description was suffered to come into New Mexico by the southern route.

In New Mexico, the territorial election was to have taken place on the 1st or 2d Monday of August. Consul Alvarez, Capt. Angney, and Mr. Kirkland, of St. Louis, were candidates for the Legislature.

The murderers of Brown and others, were on trial, and seven of them would certainly be convicted.

Colonel Willcock's battalion of volunteers, their time having expired, were ordered to leave Taos and return to Santa Fe. Twenty-five citizens remained, and were determined to erect fortifications for their defence. A large number of the women of Taos had determined to follow our army, and not to return to their homes until their husbands would consent to become friendly to the United States.

An inscription had, a short time previous, commenced, but it was nipped in the bud, and the leaders, terrified at the numbers sent out in opposition to them, fled precipitately to the mountains.

Mr. Aubry has kindly permitted me to extract the following from his memoranda, on the way in:

August 1st.—Met at the Wagon Mount, a company of U. S. dragoons, under charge of Lieut. Love, with a large sum of money for the payment of the troops, and a train of Government wagons, in care of Fagan, of Platte City. Messrs. Fitzpatrick, Wetherhead, Turley, Wally, and Lieut. Dewitt, were also accompanying them.

August 8th.—At McKneis' Creek, met Col. Easton, of St. Louis, with his five companies of Missouri volunteers, under Captains Paul, Cunningham, Barnes, Shepherd, Wöckner. They had in charge a train of Government wagons. The traders along were Messrs. Stevenson, Coons, McIntosh, Cuniff, McGill, Drace, Williams, Estis, Carr, Rohman, and Kearny, with forty wagons filled with dry goods and provisions.

August 10th.—Met, at Cold Spring, a company of mounted Missouri volunteers, under charge of Captain Jones, who had two pieces of artillery along. Emanuel Armiijo is in company, with nine wagons.

August 12th.—Above Middle Spring, I saw Messrs. Murphy and Post, Wm. McKnight, Owens and Woods, with twenty wagons.

August 20th.—Met at Cotton Wood, Symington and Renning's train of Government wagons. At Council Grove, St. Vrain's (Delisle and Bauvais, of St. Louis,) with twenty wagons.

August 30th.—At creek 142, Mr. St. Vrain and Barclay, with six wagons of provision. At Soldier's Creek, met Messrs. Noland, Harrison, Herald, and Oldham, of Independence, with twelve wagons of provisions. At Bridge Creek, Mr. Colter and lady, of St. Louis, and Smith of the firm of Colburn and Smith. At Willow Spring, Mr. Hays, Indian Trader. At Hickory point, Messrs. White and Simpson, Sutters to Rall's Regiment, and trader to Santa Fe.

MR. REYBOLD'S FIRST SALE OF OXFORDSHIRE SHEEP.
Mr. Clayton Reybold's sale of Oxfordshire sheep came off (says the Wilmington Chicken of the 9th instant) as advertised on Wednesday afternoon, September 1, at 2 o'clock, on the English plan of sales, which we think will prove highly satisfactory to breeders, as well as purchasers of stock. About one hundred strangers and prominent farmers of our State were present. Before the sale commenced, the company partook of a handsome dinner, marked with the substantiality of the farm and fruits of the season. The head of the table was well filled by the "old Baron," Major Reybold; near him were seated Mr. Peter, the British Consul of Philadelphia; Mr. Bolling, of Virginia; Major Peter, of Maryland; Mr. Holt, of N. Carolina; Dr. Thomson, of this city; two Mr. Kings of Cincinnati, grandsons of the late Rufus King; Mr. Brown, of Md.; Mr. Mordecai, of Richmond; Mr. Griscom, of New Jersey; Mr. Carroll, of Md.; Major Andrews and Bryan Jackson, Messrs. Rodney, Maxwell, and others, of New Castle county, and a host of strangers unknown to us, or whose names are forgotten.

The sale took place in the lawn near the house. The lot advertised was 12 sheering bucks, the produce of the two imported animals, which were also present with wreaths of flowers around their necks, looking more like downy country oxen, than sheep. The animals were all numbered with red paint, from 1 to 12—promiscuously caught, and not indicating superiority in this way one over the other.—Mr. Wolf, auctioneer.

They were knocked off in the following order, and go to different sections of the Union:

No. 1	$61	Major Peter, Maryland.
2	44	Mr. Carroll, Maryland.
3	40	Mr. Gray, Philadelphia.
4	43	Mr. Griscom, New Jersey.
5	100	Mr. Griscom, New Jersey.
6	40	Mr. Hickman, Pennsylvania.
7	63	Mr. Bolling, Virginia.
8	41	Mr. Brown, Maryland.
9	45	Mr. Brown, Baltimore.
10	41	Mr. Jessup, Baltimore.
11	40	Mr. Peyton, Tennessee.
12	40	Mr. Hall, Sussex, Delaware.

Mr. Reybold was then called upon to put up some of his fine Leicester Ewes, eight of which were sold to the following persons:

Lot No. 1, 2 Ewes, $28 per head, Mr. Holt, North Carolina.
Lot No. 2, 2 Ewes, Major Peter, Maryland, $14 per head.
Lot No. 3, 2 Ewes, $13 per head, Maj. Peter, Maryland.
Lot No. 4, 2 Ewes, $11 per head, Mr. Jessup, of Baltimore.

Thus closed the first sale of the finest young sheep ever sold in our country—likely creditable to Mr. Clayton Reybold and the State of Delaware. We are pleased to hear that Mr. R. intends visiting Saratoga at the period of the great State Cattle Show of New York, with the two imported mammoth sheep—not so much for their health, as for the gratification of assembled thousands of American farmers expected there.

The Maine election is to come off to day with the following candidates:

9th dis. Sandford Kingaby	James S Wiley

The Charleston Mercury is conjuring up phantoms to disturb its imagination. It publishes a letter from Boston by a Carolinian, who declares that the whole of the people in the non-slave-holding States are abolitionists. How happens it, if this be so, that the abolition vote is so insignificant? But surely, South Carolina has nothing to fear from abolition. It united with South Carolina in the last Presidential election, and made the man President whom Mr. Calhoun, Mr. Pickens, and Mr. Elmore endorsed!

Mrs. Henry Clay was born near Hillsboro', North Carolina, and removed thence to Hagerstown, Md., where she resided till she grew to womanhood. From Hagerstown she went to Kentucky, and was united to Mr. Clay.

There were over 200 Americans in Paris last month.

Gratitude. A tradesman of Paris, whose rise in the world was owing to Mr. Teste's aiding him, came forward the other day and paid half the fine imposed upon him, viz: 94,000 francs!

The Hartford Courant said that Yale conferred the degree of L. L. M. upon Mr. Ben-ton. The North American translates the degree thus, Lucæ, Laenæ, Mactilæ, "Sacrificed by the glitter of a soldier's coat." Capital!

George H. Proffit, of Tyler Graft memory, died in Louisville, Ky., on the 7th inst.

Another husband in New Orleans tried a few days ago to kill his wife and all his children, but fortunately his fiendish arm was stayed.

Col. B. F. Dawkins died at Greenville, South Carolina, on the 6th inst.

KILLED. Mrs. Lord, of Manchester, N. H., by a railroad car running over her. Mr. Howe, of Branford, Ct., by the accidental discharge of his own gun. Mr. Crane, of Oswego, N. York, by jumping from a carriage while the horses were in full run.

The piety of New Orleans is now seen. It maketh itself known in good deeds!
Laporte, la, Medical College has just turned out 19 M. D's.

MORE ABOUT THE OUTRAGE.
The following letter, which we received yesterday from St. Peters, says the St. Louis Republican, of the 6th inst., confirms, in every important particular, the statement made by us in relation to a recent British outrage on the north-western frontier:

St. Peters, 29th August, 1847.
Messrs. Editor.—In your paper of the 12th inst. is an editorial paragraph, noticing the recent gross violation of our soil by a British armed party from the Red river settlement, who proceeded to apprehend two deserters, who had taken refuge at one of the trading posts about three miles within the American territory. The statement made by you was essentially correct in its details, with a single exception. The capture was not by a portion of the regular force, but by an armed detachment of the Hudson Bay Company's police! The gentlemen in charge of the trading post is well known, of high and honorable character. He was asked by the party whether he would resist them in their attempt to take the deserters, and he replied that they had no right, under any pretence, to come upon American soil, but that he would not resist them, neither could he expect him to afford them any aid. The soldiers were thereupon seized, and conducted to Fort Gary, tried by court martial, and sentenced to receive one hundred, and one hundred and fifty lashes respectively, which punishment was forthwith inflicted. This is but one of a series of high handed measures taken by the Hudson Bay Company, which, if not checked by our government, and that speedily, will result in serious difficulties with our citizens, who are not a temper to submit to the illegal encroachments of any foreign monopoly, however formidable. This Company claim for themselves a right, under a grant from the British government, to trade for furs as high as the Grand Forks of Red river, some forty or fifty miles within our boundary, while they do not hesitate, to inflict summary punishment upon any American, who purchase skins of any kind within their territorial limits. It is for an alleged offence of this kind that the American citizen referred to in your paper as having been held to bail, is still in a bond of $3000 standing to make his appearance before the Hudson Bay Company's court in November next. Should he be treated with harshness or severity in the prosecution of his case, measures will be taken to bring the whole subject before Congress, with a view to ascertain whether or not American citizens are to be protected in the pursuit of a lawful vocation, from the arbitrary and insulting interference of a foreign corporation.

The Sioux Indians in this vicinity are suffering dreadfully from sickness, brought on, in a great measure, by a want of proper food. The government ordered their annuities to be stopped, because a few of their number were engaged in the late Winnabago massacre, and no provisions having been issued to these poor creatures, they have been obliged to subsist on roots and green corn. The consequence is, that cholera morbus has carried off sixty or seventy within a month past, and many more are still sick "unto death." How magnanimous in the rulers of this great nation, to visit upon the whole bands of Indians such punishments, simply because a few young men have been guilty of crimes! What a striking illustration of the wisdom and beautiful workings of our present system of Indian government! If a proper person held the office of Commissioner of Indian Affairs in lieu of the present incumbent, who is, at best, but a brawling politician, and utterly ignorant of the duties of his office, think you that such a fearful amount of suffering would have been heaped upon innocent heads? I trust not. More anon. CIMON.

Correction. Mr. Crittenden authorizes the Cincinnati Atlas to say, that General Taylor never declared to him in any letter "that he (the General) was opposed to the extension of slavery into territory that was already free?"—that General Taylor never, in any form, expressed to him (Mr. Crittenden) any opinion on the subject.

Wheelbarrows with springs are now in use.

Li. Tanneyhill, wounded in the Huejutla expedition, died on the 25th of July, a prisoner of war. He was well treated by the "barbarians."

Gen. Scott.—When Gen. Scott was in this city on his way to the seat of war, he was, says the New Orleans Delta of the 5th instant, frequently interrogated by curious persons, as to his plans and designs. But the old General was generally as close as an oyster. There was, however, one purpose of his which he made no effort to conceal, and that was, his determination to be in the Capitol by the 1st of September. "I shall dictate peace to them in their capital, on the 1st of September, 1847." The old General is certainly shaving it very close, but we believe that he will redeem his promise.

The Next News.—We think, says the N. Orleans Delta of the 5th instant, we may expect further news from Gen. Scott's army on Tuesday and Wednesday next. The Mary Kingsland did not get to Vera Cruz until the 28th ult. Allowing her two days to remain there, and six to return to this port, would bring it to Tuesday or Wednesday. But even then, we fear, unless a special courier has been sent down, that the information will be little less vague and indefinite than that brought by the Fashion. The English courier, the only safe and reliable means of information, would not leave the City of Mexico until the 29th of August.

The Mormons.—A passenger in the Lake of the Woods, from the Upper Missouri, informs us, says the St. Louis Republican of the 5th instant, that the Mormons are in a flourishing condition, in their new location on the fine lands of the Pottawatomie purchase, on both sides of the river, above Council Bluffs. They have planted immense fields of corn—to the extent, it is estimated, of 30,000 acres—and other grain, and produce. They have built, also, a town, called "Winter Quarters," which already contains a population of some seven thousand souls. This town is entirely picketed in. It is represented, that the Mormons are on friendly terms with the Indians, and rarely molest them, although they are accused of occasionally stealing cattle.

Immense herds of Buffalo were seen on the plains, and crossing the Missouri, at the mouth of a stream called Stillwater.

The Union of Saturday night admits that the "No Mexican Territory" is not Whig policy, is not the policy of the Whig party. This is all we care about.

The Native American National Convention that met in Philadelphia last Friday, recommended General Taylor to the people of the United States as a fit candidate for the next Presidency, and General Dearborn of Mass., as Vice President. So we go. Parties caring in one by one.

Pray, can the New York Tribune tell us whether the Democratic Whig Young Men's Committee intend to abide the decision of the Whig National Convention in relation to a candidate for the Presidency? We ask the question, because, in the recent nomination of Mr. Clay by the "old man in specs," no allusion is made to a Convention.

The Baltimore Patriot of Saturday had a rumor from Richmond that Gen. Scott had been elected President of Mexico until the 18th of January 1848!!!

CITY AFFAIRS.
Careless Driving. We have often recorded instances in which persons have barely escaped from being run over by the carelessness of driving various vehicles. This morning, as a lady was passing along on the stone walk at Gadsby's corner, she came within an ace of being run over by the carelessness of the driver of a milk cart. The lady would undoubtedly have been much injured had not a gentleman rescued her. Certainly something ought to be done to these "careless drivers."

ATTENTION AUTHORITIES. We have thought that it is a violation of law, to build frame or wood tenements within twenty feet of any brick building. Now if we have thought right we have several complaints to make. We have been told that, near the corner of 43 st., and Pa. avenue, in the rear of Delany's Drug Store, is an old rickety wooden stable, recently built, the loft of which is filled with hay; also, there are several old concerns, which, were they to take fire, would be the cause of the loss of much valuable property, being within ten feet of brick buildings. The alley in this vicinity is also much complained of, their being stench enough arising therefrom to give persons the yellow fever. We do hope that our authorities will look to the health of our citizens, and the safety of their property.

"The man that hath no music in his soul, Is fit for treason, stratagem, and spoils."
THE EUTEPEANS.—We are happy to announce that the Eutepeans will honor their own city with several concerts, commencing this evening. Previous to their late tour in the East, they had become favorably known to quite a number of good judges in this place. During their recent visits to Baltimore and Philadelphia, they have been gratified with the most flattering testimonials to their distinguished merits. Their performances must have been very excellent, indeed, to have succeeded in eliciting the high encomiums bestowed upon them wherever they have exhibited themselves. It is said that each member can perform admirably on every instrument used by the band, which consists of five members. Such entertainments should receive full encouragement, because they not only afford positive and rich enjoyment besides inciting to further efforts of genius in a noble art, but also serve strongly to allure from the innumerable haunts of vice and bestiality, cursing all cities. Amusements human nature will have. Then let us, by sustaining the innocent and pure, destroy the false and wicked, masked as they ever are with glittering exteriors. The concerts come off at the Odd Fellows' Saloon. See their advertisement.

GEORGETOWN ADVERTISEMENTS.—We call the attention of our readers in Georgetown to the advertisements of Messrs. Bronaugh and Richardson: go to Bronaugh and draw a prize, then to Richardson and purchase a clock—cold weather will soon be here—a word to the wise, etc.

NOTICE.
As it appears to be the current report that I have stopped business in order to remove to the west, this notice is to inform my friends and the public that I have abandoned the idea of doing so, and am still pursuing my occupation at the plastering business, of which I do all kinds of work in my line at the shortest notice—such as plain plastering, ornamental imitation of the various stone and cementing, ceilings, hearths, &c. My residence is on Capitol Hill, east of Col. W. Brent's. All orders can be left there or at Mr. Bailey's store, corner of 6th and H streets, west.
