

THE EVENING CRITIC. ESTABLISHED AUGUST, 1868.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Jo" at the National.

Last evening the Burnett dramatization of "Bleak House" was presented at the National Theatre...

"Booms for Rent."

At Ford's Opera House, last evening, was played an excellent house and an enthusiastic audience...

The Comique.

The Theatre Comique last evening drew the largest house, and the bill presented was as fine as usual in a general sense...

Driver's Summer Garden.

Driver's summer nights' concert are still in the full tide of success. First appearance to-night of the fine balladist, Miss Scilla Reed...

The Christy Case.

In the Christy divorce case yesterday the taking of testimony was resumed before Examiner Lovejoy...

The National Fair.

The managers of the National Fair Association have decided not to charge exhibitors for space...

National Hotel Arrivals.

L. Nissen, N. Y.; B. H. Barnard, Jacksonville, Fla.; J. P. Burnett and wife, N. Y.; T. R. Green, N. Y.; Sam. C. Wetherill, N. Y.; Thos. Jones, N. Y.; S. Knopf, N. Y.; J. H. Sturton, N. Y.; E. G. Lee, London; J. A. Howell, London; J. H. Coffrode, Philadelphia; J. D. Chamberlin, Rochester; Jeff. G. H. Bonner, Baltimore; W. E. M. Cox, Lexington, Ky.; C. T. Clagett, Md.; N. Lehman, Baltimore; M. R. MacPherson, N. Y.; W. A. Lathrop, N. Y.

The Summer Tree Gone.

The beautiful spreading beech tree in the East Capitol Park, known as the Summer tree, was cut down yesterday...

Renovating the White House.

The work of renovating the White House is quite well advanced. Carpets have been taken up, gas fixtures have been removed from many of the rooms...

Dr. Rhodes' Transfusing Battery.

Advertised in another column, is an article of real merit and of worth its weight in gold. It will positively do what is claimed for it. Money cheerfully refunded to all using it a reasonable length of time if they are not satisfied...

Relief for Michigan.

The members of the Michigan State Association and all Michigan people in Washington, are requested to meet at Commission-er of Public Works' room to-morrow at 3 o'clock to take action for the relief of the sufferers by the late fire. There will be no doubt a full attendance.

"Alderman's Dairy Wagon."

Fresh Alderman's butter, churned every morning and delivered in 1-lb. "Ward" prints at 35c. per lb. Also, cottage cheese, 5c. per lb.; buttermilk, 5c. per quart; and sweet milk, 5c. per quart.

Sonsa Exonerated?

To the Editor of the Evening Critic: I am sure it would be of public interest to know how and by whom Sousa was exonerated.

The board who were appointed to investigate the charges, I assert, was composed of Sousa's friends, one of whom (Capt. Bartlett) had formed and expressed a decided opinion as to the innocence of Sousa the day before it convened...

I have said, and now repeat, that the person called by Sousa to exonerate him were not sworn nor did they affirm or enter into any obligation whatever to tell the truth.

Almost a Centenarian.

Mrs. Sarah Davis, more familiarly known as Aunt Sally Davis, died yesterday at 1009 I street southeast, aged 94 years. She was the widow of John Davis of Abel, and the mother of the late Dr. Charles Davis, who served on General Wool's staff in the Mexican war...

The Connabial Aristocrat.

Gen. B. A. Morton, alias Thomas Darwin, the money-married man and forger, whose last victim was a Richmond, Virginia, lady, and who is now incarcerated in this city, has written the following letter to Postmaster-General James:

Cracklings for the Critic.

As it looks now THE CRITIC is the greatest foe to the success of Star routes. "Liberty and Union? It's impossible," said a recently married man, subduedly.

Is a child born in the District of Columbia eligible to the Presidency of the United States? Yes, when his ears are long enough.

Abraun Linkhorn, come right in, I say; you an' Skyler Coldfist an' Lassy Grant an' Charley Summer, I've been tryin' to bring you up all right, haint I? Spectable, haint I? An' now use a playen in dat mud, wid the white trash.

Swampoodle demands her rights.

She is as much entitled to a post-office as Capitol Hill. Swampoodle to the rescue. Eternal liberty is the price of vigilance.

The Heretic's Church.

The People's Church, Chicago, under the ministrations of Rev. Dr. Thomas, was crowded Sunday in expectation of a sermon from that gentleman, and there was almost general disappointment when he contented himself with a brief address.

Mason's Shot at Guiteneau.

Warden Crocker, in conversation with a Critic representative to-day, said that too much importance was attached to the shooting at Guiteneau by Mason. General Crocker said that even had Guiteneau been at the window of his cell at the time, Mason's bullet would not have struck him, as the shot was fired at an angle, and unless Guiteneau had placed his head purposely close to the corner of his window he could not have been hurt.

Wardens' Shot at Guiteneau.

In response to the inquiry as to whether he proposed to institute proceedings against Mason, Warden Crocker said that he had no such intention. The shot was fired from without the walls of the jail, and it was none of his affair to prosecute.

Notable Sayings of Notable Men.

"I should smile."—Schuyler Colfax. "I am a liar!"—The Herald correspondent on the boat race. "I am too sweet to live."—Six-Hundred-Dollar Billy Cook.

"I'll take better aim the next time I fire."—Patrolman Jones.

"I am a tragedian, sir, not a comedian."—John Bernard Miller.

"In hoc signo vinces."—George F. Timms, when he put up his big sign.

"I'll kill the doctors before they do to me, and I don't you forget it."—J. A. G.

"We would scorn to interfere with our neighbors in business."—James L. Barbour.

"There is a better land—but far, far away—as far off as Sing Sing."—A. M. Gibson.

"Blank blank that boy 'o' Longfellow's that said: 'H'Excelsior!'"—Col. Tinton.

"Thank Heaven! I have not been supposed for Wednesday."—Too numerous to mention.

"This fight in Virginia is our funeral, and outsiders should keep their hands off."—Alec Hunter.

"Every bullet has its billet, but mine was unfortunately lying down at the time."—Sergeant Mason.

"A red-bird is a most toothsome morsel, especially if enclosed and wasted in a sweet potato."—R. J. Meigs, Jr.

"We have issued the usual order for the cleaning of the streets, and you will clean 'em."—Major Morgan and Commissioner.

"After protracted hot weather inevitably come tornadoes. I am a kind of weather prophet as well as a tricyclist."—Belva A. Lockwood.

"Did you go down on the Excelsior last Sunday? No, not last Sunday, but the Sunday before, and I got left, too."—P. B. Otterback.

"I have great respect for THE CRITIC. It is a splendid paper, although its editorials do not always suit my politics."—Justice Helmick.

"I never get intoxicated, but I sometimes suffer from malarial fever."—Adolph Levy, after paying $1 to a doctor for feeling his pulse.

"He is better—he is worse—that is to say, he is better than he ain't, and he is worse than that is to say if he recovers he will recover. Official bulletin."—The doctors chorus.

A CARD.

We desire, in few and plain-spoken words, to communicate the position of our already established house. We have for the past three years been doing business at the southeast corner of Seventh and D streets (Wash. B. Williams' Building). We particularly wish to impress our patrons and the public with the fact that the undersigned have, since the very opening of the above location, been sole owners and proprietors, but known and conducted under a different name. Now, what we wish to say is this: That every dollar's worth of clothing sold during that time has been of our own manufacture, and we shall continue keeping the same class of goods in our new establishment. We do not say they are the best-made garments to be found anywhere, and that we sell cheaper than anyone else, but we do assert that there are none to excel in style and workmanship, and no one able to sell lower.

We never exaggerate, giving invariably to each customer the value of his purchase, and in every instance return money where goods are not satisfactory.

Our One-Price System, which we so strictly enforce, will be one of the principal features in conducting our business.

We occupy the entire building. Every floor, fully one hundred feet deep, stocked with an attractive and varied line of good goods only, in order to maintain our excellent reputation as sole manufacturers of high grade Clothing for Men's, Youths', Boys' and Children's wear.

In our Tailoring Department we constantly keep foreign and domestic productions. Thinking you most kindly for past patronage, and anticipating a share in the future, we are, very respectfully,
