

WASHINGTON: SATURDAY AFTERNOON, JUNE 5, 1882. Communications, advertisements, and orders of all kinds intended for this paper, may be left here at our office at the following places: Office of Publication, Pennsylvania avenue, between 4th and 5th streets. J. L. Smith's Law Office, 8th street, near the market.

Bright Prospects in Massachusetts! We learn from the North Adams Transcript that on Tuesday the Hon. H. L. Dawes, of that village, was chosen a delegate to the Whig National Convention at Baltimore on the 10th inst., and the Hon. Charles H. Plunkett, of Hinsdale, substitute; and that it is understood that Mr. Dawes is a Scott man.

Some gentlemen member of the fraternity of burglars last night, with a false key, entered the talloring establishment of Mr. P. J. Steer, on 8th street, lighted a sperm candle he had carried with him, selected a coat, vest, and pantaloons from several different parcels—evidently paying special regard to the fitness of things, as the most costly articles were not preferred!

The Nominee of the Democrats. General Pierce, we understand, is about forty-eight years old, and an accomplished gentleman, educated to the legal profession. His military experience is but limited, a fall from his horse at Chautepuce having partially disabled him for subsequent service.

The Cost of a Convention. The New York Tribune says that one million dollars would be a very low estimate for the cost of a journey to and from Baltimore in view of this Convention, with necessary expenses attending it; and that another very large amount will have been expended in entertainments, festivities, and creature-comforts of one sort or another.

Our thanks are due Mr. E. S. Smith, the polite and gentlemanly agent of Adams & Co.'s Express, for late California papers.

At the elections of the vestrymen in St. Michael's Church, Trenton, and Trinity Church, Princeton, N. J., last week, women were allowed to vote.

Avoid Quackery, and take Medicines prepared by a regular physician. After thirty-five years' practice in the city of Philadelphia, among all classes, and continuing against all dissent, the public now have offered to them a class of medicines called Dr. J. S. Rose's Family Medicines.

A Free Invitation to All Classes to test the efficacy of Rowley's Ready Relief. All who suffer with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sick Headache, Diarrhoea, or Chills Fever, call upon the agent of Rowley's Ready Relief for their town; and whatever your complaint may be, we guarantee that, in less than five minutes after using it, you will be free from pain.

It is a melancholy fact that the words of some editors cannot be relied on. The Cincinnati Sun tells us that John Smith was tried at the late term of the Greenup circuit court for robbing an old lady on Tygart creek, last summer, and sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary; and, in the same column, that he has started for Mobile as a witness in the Christ murder case.

The reader who desires a pleasing miscellany of news cannot have much reliance for our paper this week; but we admonish him that we shall next week stave for the sins and usurpations of our political and municipal friends.

We are compelled, by necessity, to adopt the role of some of our contemporaries, and subject every communication to advertising terms. By pursuing the opposite course, our columns have been overwhelmed with articles which possess no interest to the general reader.

A Temperance Sermon.—We are requested to state that, in compliance with the expressed wishes of a number of the advocates of temperance in this city, the Rev. J. C. Smith will preach a sermon on the subject of temperance, at the Fourth Presbyterian Church, 9th street, to-morrow afternoon. Service to commence at 4 o'clock.

Trinity Church, Georgetown.—To-morrow, Trinity Sunday, will be celebrated in this church by solemn religious services, and a grand Mass will be performed, with a full and efficient choir. Services at 11 o'clock. Vespers and sermon at 4 o'clock p. m.

Congregational.—Rev. Jas. Nourse will preach at the Congregational Church, on the 6th of June, to-morrow, at 11 o'clock a. m. The public are invited to attend.

Religious Notice.—The Rev. T. C. Teasdale will preach in the First Baptist Church to-morrow morning, at 10 o'clock a. m. The subject will be "The Christian Religion," and at night: "The Atonement of the Christian." The ordinance of baptism will be administered in the baptistry of the church at the close of the morning service. June 5.

Methodist Episcopal Church South, on Eighth street, between H and I.—Preaching to-morrow, at 11 o'clock a. m., and at 8 o'clock p. m. June 5.

Attention, Washington German Yeagers.—You are hereby notified that the government is now in possession of a well-charged steel weapon, and then taken possession of in a passive state. Excellent!

A delightful day this, in Washington—glorious. An ardent sun, cool breezes, beautiful women on the promenades, and everything pleasant around.

Lola Montez is soon to appear in Washington again.

New Jersey is all Right. The Whig State Committee met at Trenton, on Thursday. John T. Nixon, of Cumberland, was elected President.

We find our account of its proceedings in the Trenton True American, a Democratic paper. It says that "when the Fillmore men attempted to applaud a trifling success, they were instantly choked off and hissed down by the Scottites."

This was ugly behaviour in the majority. Messrs. Dayton and King were elected Senators, delegates, and Messrs. Browning and Duer, their alternates.

The other delegates are as follows: 1st. T. H. Whitney, delegate; T. H. Dudley, alternate.

2d. P. Vredenburg, delegate; R. C. Bellville, alternate.

3d. J. Stuart, delegate; J. Vanlyke, alternate.

4th. W. N. Wood, delegate; J. J. Brown, alternate.

5th. T. T. Frelinghuysen, delegate; J. M. Quimby, alternate.

Resolutions were adopted by acclamation in favor of protection, internal improvements, economy, accountability in public disbursements; that the Whigs have never and will never falter in devotion to the federal constitution and obedience to the laws; that they will support the nominee of the Whig National Convention; expressing approbation of the present administration, and the course of Whig representatives, confidence in their wisdom, and commendation; of their fidelity and patriotism; sympathizing with the Whigs of the Union in their profound grief at the declining health of HENRY CLAY, &c.

Our Democratic ally says: "Mr. J. G. King declared himself in favor of the candidate who could command success; he avowed himself 'therefore in favor of General Scott.'"

"At this there was a great shout on one hand, and a scowling grimace on the other. The Fillmore men were evidently 'under cow,' but looked daggers. He then passed a compliment upon Webster, and said that he lacked nothing but popularity, and intimated that if he could get votes enough he could get elected."

He passed over Mr. Fillmore in a rapid, non-committal manner, and wound up by giving a brief history of Gen. Sept. 7.

Mr. Frelinghuysen was called for, and made a speech very much in the same vein.

A Reasonable Thief. Some gentlemanly member of the fraternity of burglars last night, with a false key, entered the talloring establishment of Mr. P. J. Steer, on 8th street, lighted a sperm candle he had carried with him, selected a coat, vest, and pantaloons from several different parcels—evidently paying special regard to the fitness of things, as the most costly articles were not preferred!

He then departed, extinguishing his light, and carefully locking the door after him. Mr. Steer feels under many obligations to the discrimination of his visitor.

The Nominee of the Democrats. General Pierce, we understand, is about forty-eight years old, and an accomplished gentleman, educated to the legal profession. His military experience is but limited, a fall from his horse at Chautepuce having partially disabled him for subsequent service.

Washington Markets. Good things were abundant this morning, but very dear; strawberries had raised from 12 and 18c. to 20 and 25c.; peas from 25 to 35c.; beef from 12 to 15c., &c.

We have our doubts about two-dollar musket revolutions in Hungary.—N. Y. Star.

It would be a thorough revolution if the muskets were to discharge at the breach, as it might happen.

Our thanks are due Mr. E. S. Smith, the polite and gentlemanly agent of Adams & Co.'s Express, for late California papers.

At the elections of the vestrymen in St. Michael's Church, Trenton, and Trinity Church, Princeton, N. J., last week, women were allowed to vote.

Avoid Quackery, and take Medicines prepared by a regular physician. After thirty-five years' practice in the city of Philadelphia, among all classes, and continuing against all dissent, the public now have offered to them a class of medicines called Dr. J. S. Rose's Family Medicines.

A Free Invitation to All Classes to test the efficacy of Rowley's Ready Relief. All who suffer with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sick Headache, Diarrhoea, or Chills Fever, call upon the agent of Rowley's Ready Relief for their town; and whatever your complaint may be, we guarantee that, in less than five minutes after using it, you will be free from pain.

It is a melancholy fact that the words of some editors cannot be relied on. The Cincinnati Sun tells us that John Smith was tried at the late term of the Greenup circuit court for robbing an old lady on Tygart creek, last summer, and sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary; and, in the same column, that he has started for Mobile as a witness in the Christ murder case.

The reader who desires a pleasing miscellany of news cannot have much reliance for our paper this week; but we admonish him that we shall next week stave for the sins and usurpations of our political and municipal friends.

We are compelled, by necessity, to adopt the role of some of our contemporaries, and subject every communication to advertising terms. By pursuing the opposite course, our columns have been overwhelmed with articles which possess no interest to the general reader.

A Temperance Sermon.—We are requested to state that, in compliance with the expressed wishes of a number of the advocates of temperance in this city, the Rev. J. C. Smith will preach a sermon on the subject of temperance, at the Fourth Presbyterian Church, 9th street, to-morrow afternoon. Service to commence at 4 o'clock.

Trinity Church, Georgetown.—To-morrow, Trinity Sunday, will be celebrated in this church by solemn religious services, and a grand Mass will be performed, with a full and efficient choir. Services at 11 o'clock. Vespers and sermon at 4 o'clock p. m.

Congregational.—Rev. Jas. Nourse will preach at the Congregational Church, on the 6th of June, to-morrow, at 11 o'clock a. m. The public are invited to attend.

Religious Notice.—The Rev. T. C. Teasdale will preach in the First Baptist Church to-morrow morning, at 10 o'clock a. m. The subject will be "The Christian Religion," and at night: "The Atonement of the Christian." The ordinance of baptism will be administered in the baptistry of the church at the close of the morning service. June 5.

Methodist Episcopal Church South, on Eighth street, between H and I.—Preaching to-morrow, at 11 o'clock a. m., and at 8 o'clock p. m. June 5.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS. The Public Schools.

It is gratifying to see that all the candidates are very desirous of the good of the city. A writer in the Intelligencer of yesterday complains of an article which appeared on Monday last for exhibiting the interest manifested by Mr. Lenox, not only by his legislative action, but by his personal presence at the convention of city charter delegates, and by his active and faithful attendance upon all meetings and assemblies of the delegates.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Public School Question." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

The Public Schools. The Mayoralty.

It is gratifying to see that all the candidates are very desirous of the good of the city. A writer in the Intelligencer of yesterday complains of an article which appeared on Monday last for exhibiting the interest manifested by Mr. Lenox, not only by his legislative action, but by his personal presence at the convention of city charter delegates, and by his active and faithful attendance upon all meetings and assemblies of the delegates.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfairness or otherwise to the public schools, but simply to state the facts as they are, and to leave the public to draw their own conclusions.

"The Mayoralty." To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.—A handy book, "The Municipal Election," has been issued by some friend of Mr. Maury, which does such manifest interest to the public mind, that it has been called upon to lay the facts before the public. In doing so, it has no desire to make or refuse any charges of unfair