DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS. This grand and anciently known restorative strength and vigor to thousands of the most debilitated individuals, many who had lost all hopes, and been abandoned to die. By its complete invigoration of the Nervous System, the whole faculties become restored to their proper power and functions, and the fallen fabric of life is raised up to beauty, consistency and duration upon the ruins of an emaciated and premature decline, to sound and pristine health. Oh how happy have hundreds of misguided youths been made, who have been suddenly restored to health from the desolations of nervous weakness, which result from indiscretion! Such persons, before contemplating MARRIAGE, should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote conjugal happiness. Indeed, without this, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hazy darkens to the view; the mind becomes shrouded with despair, and fills with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes mingled with our own. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply to the above remedy, and you will be restored to health.

AMERICAN TELEGRAPH. [From the Baltimore American.] The Whig Nominations. The cordial satisfaction with which the nomination of General Scott for the Presidency is hailed by the Whigs throughout the country has an appropriate counterpart in the dissatisfaction which that event has caused among our political opponents. No doubt the partisans of General Pierce would have found fault with any candidate that the Whig Convention might have selected, but at present their hostility is mingled with indications of particular alarm.
