

The names of the passengers who were saved from the wreck of the schooner Tybee, of Baltimore, recently lost on the southern coast, are Major O. A. Buck, lady and child, of Washington...

It fortunately happened that Major Buck's case of friction matches was preserved by one of the sailors, and a fire of brush wood was soon made, and they whose strength enabled them ministered to their more helpless companions.

The Lecture of Bishop Timon. According to notice previously given, Bishop Timon, of the Roman Catholic diocese of Buffalo, delivered a lecture last evening in the St. Matthew's church, on the subject of the alleged papal aggression in England.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.—The church edifice on 5th street, in which Rev. Dr. Butler's congregation (Protestant Episcopal) formerly worshipped, has been purchased for the use of the Congregational church, lately organized in this city, and has been repainted and fitted up in an excellent manner for their use.

GOVERNOR FLOYD, OF VIRGINIA.—This amiable and distinguished statesman and gentleman, who has been sojourning in our city for a few days past, took his departure for Richmond this morning.

Hon. R. S. Molony and family, of Illinois, have arrived in this city, and occupy apartments at Gadsby's.

Mr. Mills, boot and shoe maker, has opened a splendid establishment in one of Brown's elegant marble stores; and Mills has a stock of such materials as has seldom been seen.

LOTTERY VENDERS.—Seven persons accused of being engaged in this business in Washington yesterday arrested and brought before Justice Donn, two warrants having been issued against each.

An American Cardinal.

The Newark (N. J.) Advertiser contains a letter from Rome, which says that Archbishop Hughes has been made a cardinal. The fact was made known on the 10th of October, as the writer of the letter was assured, and the rumor is that the appointment was made against the protest of all the Roman Catholic Bishops in the United States except one.

We do not know how reliable all this is; but it does not seem probable to us that Dr. Hughes would be opposed by the Bishops of his church in this country. He is a gentleman against whose good name we have never heard a syllable uttered. We believe his reputation is unsullied and beyond reproach.

AVLICTING MORTALITY IN A FAMILY.—The Cincinnati Gazette of the 18th says: "Mr. and Mrs. John B. Williamson, with their five children, started for the North from Vicksburg, Miss., in the latter part of October, on the steamer California, and had a pleasant passage to the mouth of the Ohio.

THE MARYLAND INSTITUTE.—The fourth annual exhibition of the Maryland Institute terminated in Baltimore yesterday, after a session of four weeks. Joshua Vansant, esq., the President of the Institute, previous to commencing the reading of the awards, made a neat and most interesting address, in which he reviewed the organization and history of various societies in this country, established for the promotion of the mechanic arts, and the benefits which every department of society has realized from them.

GEORGETOWN AND ITS AFFAIRS.

GEORGETOWN, November 21—12 m. Don't forget the great Retrospective meeting, at Forrest Hall, to-night. Let every citizen, friend or enemy, feel it his duty to go and hear for himself; so that when the final issue shall come, he may vote understandingly.

The flags of the shipping in our harbor this morning are at half-mast, in token of respect to the memory of our lamented fellow-citizen, Mr. John Pickrell, who died at eight o'clock last night.

Large quantities of flour are coming in by the canal, but I hear of no sales this morning. The feeling in the market appears rather better than it has been for several days past. Prices remain unchanged.

Our citizens generally are much pleased at the purchase of the Union Hotel by Messrs. Stetson & Blain, of New York; and it is hoped that these gentlemen will go to work and fit it up immediately for the accommodation of the public.

Arrivals.—Schr. Edward Hardy, Walker, Elizabeth City, N. C., to George Waters; schr. Hester A. Jones, Jones, Port Deposit, to Jos. Libbey & Son.

Canal Trade.—Arrived—Charles Perry, Cumberland, coal; Helen Bruce, do., do.; Star, 22 miles, wood; Belle, 73 miles, flour, &c.; Chesapeake, 62 miles, limestone; Wm. Jackson, do., do.; Thomas Jefferson, do., do.; Maryland, 42 miles, wheat, &c.; Rambler, 45 miles, flour, &c.; P. F. Thomas, 86 miles, do.

Departed.—H. H. Casey, Caroline, Ohio, Oregon, J. B. Stone, D. J. McCoy, Annawan.

The following is a list of the dead thus far ascertained: Emma Gildersleeve, Anna Slate, Jacob Spinstad, Matthew Wood, Edwin Glenroy, Sarah Bogart, John L. and Anne Wesley, Catharine Dowdy, Julia Delano, A. Von Tassel, Miss Brown, Lucy Carlow, John Knapp, Anna M. Hill, John McMann, Mary C. Baxter, Sarah Bogardus, Chas. E. Moore, George Mills, Anna Van Dusen, George Walden, Jane M. De Voer, Jane Elms, Delia Ackerman, Abby A. Jacobs, Amanda Hoff, Ann Pike, George Quackenbush, Margery Stephens, Harry Abbott, Morris Waldron, Sarah Levy, Catharine Reynolds, Eliza O. Neill, Mary Harper, Mary Teackard. Besides these, many others were dreadfully injured.

A large number were immediately carried to their homes by their bewildered parents, so that the full extent of the calamity cannot yet be fully ascertained.

The excitement at the school, and at the Ninth Ward station-house, has been such as is seldom or ever seen in our city.

The spectacle of parents clasping their dead and dying children beggars all attempt at description. The scene was most lamentable to behold.

The police and staff, the recorder and mayor, and many medical gentlemen, were promptly on the spot, rendering the sufferers all the aid in their power.

An inquest will be held at nine o'clock, tomorrow morning, when the true cause of this direful calamity will be more fully known.

No language can half depict the distress which exists in consequence of this most melancholy disaster.

The Pennsylvania says that Z. Collins Lee, of Baltimore, is now a guest of Philadelphia, and on Wednesday night delivered an eloquent and impressive address which is the theme of universal praise.

AWFUL CALAMITY IN NEW YORK.—From the papers received this morning, we quote the following heartrending narrative. We have read it with tear-dimmed eyes and deep emotion.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A terrible accident occurred this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the new public school on Greenwich avenue. Miss Harrison, teacher in primary school No. 26, was observed, probably from the closeness of the room, to faint. On seeing this, a number of children ran to her side. Others became alarmed, and in their fright raised the cry of fire. This soon caused the greatest alarm and consternation among the little, unsuspecting innocents.

Almost in a moment they, as with one impulse, made a general rush for the doors and windows, and the stairway, which, it seems, was of spiral form, and running from the first to the fourth story of the building.

Soon the press against the balustrade became so great that it gave way, precipitating to the floor below, which was of flag-stones, used for a playground, nearly or quite one hundred of the little ones. The scene at this moment was awful and heartrending beyond description.

Child after child rushed down the horrible pit, crushing beneath their weight those who had gone before, while others leaped voluntarily out of the windows, and others threw themselves down the chasm, mingling their life-blood with those already dead and dying.

More than seventy children thus rushed into the jaws of death; and, although few escaped being severely injured, some fifty were instantly killed.

The calamity would have been still greater but for the presence of mind of Mr. McNully, the principal, who was in the fourth story, and who, on hearing the cry of fire, immediately placed himself against the door, declaring that none of the children should go out in this manner.

His class, by this means, escaped inevitable destruction.

The following is a list of the dead thus far ascertained: Emma Gildersleeve, Anna Slate, Jacob Spinstad, Matthew Wood, Edwin Glenroy, Sarah Bogart, John L. and Anne Wesley, Catharine Dowdy, Julia Delano, A. Von Tassel, Miss Brown, Lucy Carlow, John Knapp, Anna M. Hill, John McMann, Mary C. Baxter, Sarah Bogardus, Chas. E. Moore, George Mills, Anna Van Dusen, George Walden, Jane M. De Voer, Jane Elms, Delia Ackerman, Abby A. Jacobs, Amanda Hoff, Ann Pike, George Quackenbush, Margery Stephens, Harry Abbott, Morris Waldron, Sarah Levy, Catharine Reynolds, Eliza O. Neill, Mary Harper, Mary Teackard. Besides these, many others were dreadfully injured.

ANATOMY.—For thirty years past, there has been going on in this city a curious process by which the bones of skeletons are dissected, purified, scraped and varnished when they are again replaced by means of wires, rivets, &c., and reappear in all their pristine strength, beauty, and loveliness, braving the noon-day sun of the summer solstice, or the patting rain or hail of more inclement seasons.

Persons having good whalebone umbrellas or parasol skeletons are respectfully invited to leave them with the subscriber for resuscitation. Pennsylvania avenue, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets. DANIEL PIERCE, nov 7—colf

To Subscribers.—Those of our subscribers residing in the route embraced between Twelfth and Fourteenth streets, are notified that J. G. Adams is no longer entrusted with that route. The paper heretofore was carefully served. All payments will be made to Mr. ROBERT GOGGIN. nov 11—4f

DIED. At Georgetown, D. C., on Thursday, the 20th instant, JOHN PICKRELL, in the sixty-sixth year of his age. His funeral will take place to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon, from his late residence, on First street, Georgetown.

GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY! FOR ALL NERVOUS CONDITIONS OF THE SYSTEM.—I have discovered in 1840, since which time I have found but little difficulty in curing most NERVOUS DISEASES, but very recently I have added an ingredient which acts like magic in rendering my NERVOUS CORDIAL far more certain in curing Nervous Tremor of the Muscles, Shaking of the Head, Palpitation, Flatulence, Heart-burn, The Dolor, or Pain in the Face, with Twitchings of the Muscles or Weakness of Heart, Dizziness, Headache, and for the mind or body, affected by fear or study. This truly wonderful Medicine, from its peculiar happy effect in allaying the most violent Nervous Attacks, and in completely eradicating them from the system, may justly be termed the grandest discovery in the science of Medicine. It subdues and averts all these NERVOUS DISEASES, over which the most profound medical skill has hitherto had no control. It is a grand restorer in building up a weak constitution, already worn down by disease and debilitated by other medicines; and its invigorating properties act like a charm, and its beneficial effects are almost instantaneous. The weak, the nervous, and those suffering with constant pains and uneasiness, are frequently cured by using a single bottle.
