The public school buildings are all filled to their utmost capacity and the demand for the new buildings, additional, and under contract, grows every day. Among all of the 3,000 or 4,000 children attending the public schools of the city no complaint of sickness is heard, ordinary coughs excepted.

WICHITA UNION STOCKYARD THE GREAT LIVE STOCK MARKET OF THE SOUTHWEST.

Receipts of the Year Ending February, 1890, 12,747 Cattle and 121,914 Hogs. For the First Twenty Days of the Present Month, 2,482 Cattle and 11,673 Hogs.

In the early part of the year 1887 some of our leading business men conceived the idea that within a few years Wichita would develop a large live stock market and become a packing center owing to the large number of cattle and hogs raised in country contiguous to this city that raised in the principal city to which all other products of the same territory were looking for a market.

About the middle of December 1886 a meeting was called and all the gentlemen interested in the matter were present. A board of directors were chosen, a charter drawn up incorporating the Wichita Union Stock Yards company, Wichita, Kan. The charter was filed with the secretary of state December 28, 1886. The following gentlemen qualified as the board of directors for the first year, February 3, 1887: J. O. Davidson, N. A. English, W. K. Carls, Talton Kinney and W. R. Dulaney.

Early in the spring of '87 they commenced the building of the first yards, which covered a space of some three and a half acres of ground, the pens and alleys all being roofed. The yards were completed early in October of that year. Mr. Jeff Houston, now one of the heaviest cattle buyers on the market, went to the country and purchased a car load of cattle and hogs and shipped them to the yards. He says he was three or four days selling this one load to the local butchers. How different from the market of today. This was the only load of stock handled at the first yards.

On the night of the 18th of that month the yards caught fire in some mysterious way and were entirely consumed. This was a severe blow to the company, but, nothing daunted and with the pick and energy which possess the men who have built the Wichita of today, and with more faith than ever that Wichita within a few years would become a great live stock market and packing center, they at once commenced preparations for rebuilding the yards, which were completed February 1, 1888. Stock was received and sold on that date. The receipts continued light until the following November, when the Jacob Doll Packing company commenced operations in their immense packing houses which had been in process of erection for eight months. The receipts of live stock for eight and a half months previous to this were 520 cattle and 1,151 hogs, and for the two and a half months following, or up to February 1, 1890, the receipts were 679 cattle and 10,279 hogs.

This compares with the first year's business of the Wichita Union Stock Yards company. The receipts for the second year up to February 1, 1890, were 12,747 cattle and 121,914 hogs, a gain over the first year's business of 12,068 cattle and 111,673 hogs. The receipts for the first twenty days in March, 1890, are 2,482 cattle and 11,673 hogs, and for the same period this year, 2,482 cattle and 11,673 hogs, a gain for twenty days of 2,342 cattle and 6,734 hogs. None of the now great live stock centers of the country made half as good a showing during the early part of its second year's existence. The great packing house of Francis Walker & Son, in connection with its operations August 1, 1889, which more than doubled the demand for hogs.

About a year ago the stock yards company realized the fact that the old yards were inadequate to handle the large increase of business for this year and commenced building an entirely new plant of double the size of the old yards, with all conveniences known to modern stock yards. They purchased forty acres of ground just east of the packing houses and commenced building August 1 of last year. They were completed December 22 last, and the first load of stock was unloaded and sold at the yards December 29, 1889. The new yards are very complete and as good as any in the country, and superior to many older yards. The cattle and hog pens and all the alleys are under roof. They have chutes for unloading twenty cows of stock at a time, without moving the train. All the railroads serving Wichita have combined and built a joint track into the yards.

The company has added fifteen additional cattle pens to accommodate the large increasing business in this line, and will have to double the present capacity to take proper care of the cattle which will come to this market for the fall. They reserve the old yards for feeding through Texas cattle, thus preventing any danger of Texas fever in the new yards. The growth of this as a live stock market is certainly wonderful, and is now far in advance of the expectations of the most sanguine. This is destined to become the great live stock market of the southwest, and will, within a very few years, equal the Kansas City market of today. Many who have given the subject a great deal of thought predict that this market will outdo that of Kansas City within ten years.

This is without question the best hog market in the west today, as a matter of fact are realized on the same grade of hogs. Most of the hogs that come to this market are mixed, and run in pounds in size ranging from 160 to 275 pounds in the same load, and yet the packers take them all without sorting at the same price, and always pay within a few cents what Kansas City pays for sorted lots. Our packers are only getting about one-fourth as many hogs as they need to run their houses to advantage. The cattle market is growing very fast. Less than six months ago if a shipper sent in two or three good butchers' cattle with a load of hogs the commission man would hang his head and feel like saying, "I wish they would send cattle here, as there is no market for them." They would work hard to sell the cattle at even a fair price. Those days are gone, and now with receipts of 100 to 250 cattle daily they all sell at strong prices for all grades, and there are always buyers to take all the offerings. There seems to be a general impression that choice heavy cattle can not be sold on this market; such, however, is not the case. There are order books on this market constantly for that class of cattle for Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Buffalo markets. Shippers and buyers of this class of cattle will bear in mind that very few of this grade of cattle are slaughtered in Kansas City but are sold to order buyers and shippers for markets farther east. Just as liberal rates can be had out of here to the markets that handle that class of cattle as from Kansas City, and the stock trains all make just as good time. Such cattle can be sold on this market to net the shippers more money than to go on. Choice fat butchers' cows and heifers are quick sale and will always bring with in 10c per hundred of Kansas City market and oftentimes will sell for just as much money.

For the purpose of showing up this market as a distributing point for cattle the writer of this article called upon the commission firm of Eldridge & Campbell and were permitted to take from their books their cattle sales for the week ending yesterday and which show the following results: Cattle were shipped to Summer county, Kan., 49; driven to the country to feed, 23; sold to shippers and speculators, 41; feeders sold and shipped to Burton county, Mo., 148; sold to local slaughterers, 42.

It is a well known fact that our people and our established institutions have always been ready to aid in any enterprise undertaken for the good of Wichita. This has been shown by the history of the stock yards. November 27, 1886, the Citizens' bank opened a branch office in the Exchange building at the yards. They had long felt that the yards should have all the advantages of banking facilities enjoyed by similar institutions in the east, and as soon as the volume of business seemed to warrant it they appointed Mr. A. C. Runyon, the secretary of the Stock Yards company, their agent for the receipt of deposits. This statement was very satisfactory as far as it went, but was hardly comprehensive enough for the needs of the yards. In December a handsome bank counter was put up in the office of the Stock Yards company, and on January 2, 1887, the stock yards' branch of the Citizens' bank was ready for business. Mr. Arthur Falkner was appointed cashier and handles the business in a manner which shows him to be master of his business. The aim of the bank is to make the transaction of business at the yards as easy as possible and that it has succeeded in so doing all the commission men at the yards and all the shippers will gladly testify.

To give our readers an idea of the amount of business being done at the yards in a money way, we submit the following statement given by Mr. Faulkner. In January the amount of business done at the yards for the first month of the present month the business will show a total of more than $500,000, which is certainly an immense, an astonishing showing. The stock yards branch furnish exchange on New York and Kansas City, pay checks, receive deposits, transfer credits for shippers to their home banks, and make collections on commission men.

THE QUESTIONS OF THE DAY. The leading subject of thought by thoughtful people in this country as well as in Europe is undoubtedly the question of labor and capital, socialism, communism and kindred subjects. The recent recitals of the young German emperor, the call for an international peace congress, these subjects and the whole trend of current events is filling the mind of the civilized world with the discussion of the elements of property and of poverty and the laws relating to labor. Rev. Joseph Cook, whose famous Boston Monday lectures have made him renowned as a leader of thought in the two hemispheres, has given his celebrated Tremont temple audiences a course on Labor and Another on Socialism. We learn that he will deliver a lecture on Law and Labor, Property and Poverty, next week Saturday, April 5, in the First Presbyterian church, which would be too good to hold the audience. He is to give a prelude on current events as at the Boston Monday lectures—a novel and exceedingly pleasant feature of those celebrated lectures. Rev. Dr. Thomas Hill, ex-president of Harvard University, speaking of Mr. Cook's lectures, says: "These lectures are crowded so full of knowledge, of thought, of argument, illuminated with such passages of eloquence and power, spiced so frequently with denigrating though good natured wit, that it could make no man proud of them without utterly mutilating them."

GENERAL ALGER RECEPTION.

The committee making arrangements to receive General Alger, Tuesday next, were busily engaged yesterday in their various departments. The work is getting along nicely, and everything no doubt will move off smoothly. From information gained from the railroads and the advertising committee, the number of visitors expected will reach high up in the thousands.

General Alger, Department Commander Collins and party, will arrive at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, and the city will be made aware of the fact by a salute of seventeen guns by Battery A. The reception committee will escort the party to Hotel Metropole, aided by the following gentlemen in their private carriages: J. O. Davidson, H. C. Sloss, J. P. Allen, J. M. Allen, B. D. Allen, R. P. Murdock, W. C. Allen, E. P. Niederlander, Frank B. Smith, W. F. Green, Ab. Smith, A. B. Wright, C. E. Jones, J. C. McComb, John McComb, J. N. Bayless, H. W. Kendle, Colonel John A. Wallace.

At 9:30 the board of trade committee will escort the party over the city and reach the board of trade rooms at 11 o'clock, where for an hour a public reception will be held.

The parade leading to Garfield hall will commence forming at 2 o'clock and move a half hour later. The column will form on South Main, right resting on Williams, in the following order: Platoon of Mounted Police, General Murray Myers and Staff, Guests, Wichita A. R. Posts, Field Music, Garfield Post G. A. R., Mail Carriers, U. S. Soldiers, Soldiers' Band, Wichita Light Infantry, McMahon's Mounted Patrol, Battery First Light Artillery, Valley Center Band, Uniform Rank K. of P., Patriarch Militant Canton No. 5, Wichita Fire Department, Wheelmen, Seteviek Ladies' Band.

The column will move north to Douglas street to Fourth, West to Main, North to Second, east to Lawrence, South to First, west in column of fours to the armory on First and Water streets. A program of informal exercises will be carried out in Garfield hall. Reception speeches by Comrade M. Stewart, Reception by Comrade Alger. Other short addresses by comrades and songs by quartette. Music by female band, etc.

GENERAL ORDER. HEADQUARTERS GARFIELD NO. 25, DEPARTMENT OF KANSAS, G. A. R., WICHITA, KAN., March 22, 1890.

The members of this post are urgently requested to assemble at the Hotel Metropole on Tuesday, March 24, 1890, at 1:45 o'clock for the purpose of forming for parade in honor of our commander-in-chief. By order of JOHN A. WALLACE, Post Commander. H. T. KRAMER, Adjutant.

A LADY'S RIGHTEOUS PROTEST. To the Editor of the Eagle. In this day of reforms it would seem a positive cruelty to propose the organization of a society to swell the list of alphabetical absurdities that already baffle the conscientious reader. But would not an S. P. T. G. (Society for Protection of Theater Goers) fill a long felt want?

Notwithstanding Mr. Barnum's assertion that the American people are not interested in these few who decidedly object, might there not be some means of protection and assurance for those who do not wish to be included in the list of alphabetical absurdities that already baffle the conscientious reader. But would not an S. P. T. G. (Society for Protection of Theater Goers) fill a long felt want?

WESTERN BUSINESS COLLEGE NOTES. Mr. J. E. Hogan of the telegraph department accepted a position with the Western Union last week. Mr. George Follick on last Friday assumed the duties of stenographer for the New York Life Insurance company, Zimmerman building.

Mr. J. F. Rader who was in attendance for several months, left for Eminence, Kan., where on the 15th proximo he will assume the duties of official court stenographer of the Twenty-eight judicial district.

G. S. Stokes from Lyons, Kan., received his diploma last week and can now be found in the clerical department of the Johnson and Larimer Wholesale Dry goods company, on Topeka avenue.

The following students entered during last week: W. E. Hearst, Doves, Kan.; E. M. Little, Bently, Kan.; Frank Mitchell, Eldorado, Kan.; Miss M. Ross, Clearwater, Kan.; A. B. Hollenbeck, Bitter Creek, Kan.; Henry A. Clay, Wichita, R. F. Niederlander, Wichita.

OUR BRIGHT AND BEST CITY. The spirit and life of the streets of this city yesterday were an inspiration bordering on the exciting. The day's sun was very brilliant, the wind strong enough to be exhilarating, while fashion and business jostled each other along the crowded sidewalks. Where all the people came from bothers strangers to explain out, they being inclined to conclude that an excursion had just arrived, or probably a circus in town. Market street, owing to the live-paving operations, did not show up as many vehicles as usual, but First, Market and Douglas were in a clutter throughout the day with all the rigs, carriages, wagons and omnibuses going in all directions and at every conceivable gait. The metropolitan life and spirit never fails of impressing the visitor by the beauty of the city and the fact that it was born with her, Wichita never having been a village in air or characteristics.

DELIGHTFUL STREETS. The city of Wichita is paving with strictly modern and standard materials her principal business thoroughfares, but in looking up and down her unpaved avenues it would be hard to find or even to imagine the possibility of dirt, steeper, or harder streets than Douglas or Lawrence avenues. Many visiting strangers enquire as to the material with which these and other streets are paved and are hard to convince that they were never paved or macadamized with any material, that in fact they are natural roadways never rounded up by sweeps or rakes, and packed into stability by the wheels of traffic and of pleasure.

HUMANE SOCIETY.

Big Meeting at the Garfield Hall Next Friday Night. The Humane society will hold a meeting next Friday night at the Garfield hall for the purpose of reorganization, and it promises to be the largest and most enthusiastic meeting ever held in the state for that purpose. Perhaps in no city in our country is so widespread an interest in this, and all interested in the cause of humanity are invited to be present.

ACCEPTS THE INVITATION. WICHITA, Kan., March 22, 1890. N. E. Niederlander, H. W. Stewart, C. A. Van Ness, and others. Gentlemen: Feeling a deep interest in the cause of education in Wichita I consent to the use of my name as a candidate for member of the school board to represent the Fourth ward. If elected I pledge myself to use all in my power to advance the interests of the public schools. Respectfully yours, CHARLES BALLANCE.

FARMERS' ATTENTION! A beautiful farm in the banner county of Sedgewick, Kansas, 1,280 acres in a solid square, near two-story house, new barn, large granaries, orchard, shade trees, never failing stream of running water, twelve feet wide, through the farm, 800 acres fenced in pasture, 250 acres in cultivation, first soil, black, as good as any in the state, a garden, only one and a half miles from station, $10,000 cash, balance in five, ten and fifteen years at 6 per cent. Very cheap. Owner lives east and must sell. W. D. MCCORMICK, 4108-1m Fireproof Block, Wichita, Kan.

BASE BALL. Quite a large and enthusiastic crowd went out to the Clipper base ball park yesterday to witness the first game of the season between the Garfield university team and the Clippers. The game resulted in favor of the Clippers by a score of 17 to 15.

FLOWERS TOMORROW. The committee appointed to decorate the Garfield hall for the Tuesday reception request that the Women's Relief Corps bring flowers to the hall tomorrow. They will spend the day arranging banners, flags, flowers and in completing the work. The committee hopes to be able to make the hall attractive and there is no doubt of success.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES. Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock the fire alarm was turned on from 1211 North Lawrence which proved to be a bonfire of rubbish but so close to the fences and out-houses as to jeopardize them. The department dived it out in about a minute the only damage being a length of fence.

At 8:30 the evening fire alarm came in from Seneca and Maple streets, West Side, and proved to be a feed store in the brick block on that corner. The only damage was to the hay on the ground floor the bales being partly badly burned on the outside. The damage to the building is to the ceiling which was badly smoked and wet by the water. Upstairs is occupied by families but none of them were damaged. It is supposed the fire was set by throwing a torch in the back window but no conclusive evidence as to the parties or the means they employed to fire the building could be discovered last night.

Mr. W. S. Drunker returned yesterday from a trip east, where he purchased some additional machinery for the Wichita Towing Supply company. The machinery will be on hand within a couple of weeks and the work on increasing capacity completed.

Mr. J. R. Mulvey received a letter yesterday from a gentleman in Cincinnati engaged in the retail drug business, stating that he had seen Mr. Fots, who is going into the wholesale drug business here, and he had given Wichita a great deal of business.

The Garfield boys played a game of ball yesterday afternoon at the base ball park. The game resulted in a score of 17 to 15 in favor of the Clippers. Langhain and Willcock made up the battery for the Garfield boys; Conklin and Gordon for the Clippers. The game was well played, the Clippers being too heavy for the other side. The features of the game was Crocker's center fielding and Langhain's pitching.

St. Paul's M. E. church—Evangelist Shawhan will preach in the morning, Dr. Vaughn at night.

AT DINNER. Mrs. Agnes Crocker received a few friends at dinner yesterday at her residence, 118 Wichita street. Amongst the number were Misses Mand Egan, Jennie Gentry, Joselyn, Ray, Wood, Mrs. E. W. Washburn, Valie Old, Anna Wilson, Fry, Reed and Lettie Harris. After a sumptuous dinner various amusements entertained the time most pleasantly until going home time.

There will be services in all the places of public worship throughout the city today. Wichita may be more largely interested in the business concerns of life than any city in the country, and her people secure in the future of the city in no other respect, but they do not neglect to gather together in their respective places of worship to "Praise God, from whom all blessings flow."
