REMOVING THEM OVER.

THE RECIPROcity SCHEME BECOMING TANGIBLE.

President Harrison Now Working to Secure Co-Operation in the House.

Some Sort of an Agreement Likely to be Made During the Present Term.

The Senate Agrees to Two Conference Reports—The Tariff Bill Not Touched—Almost no Business in the House—Army Changes and Assignments—Capital Notes.

WASHINGTON, August 8.—The president is now trying to win Chairman McKinley to the reciprocity idea. Mr. McKinley has been at the white house on invitation of the president and the matter was discussed. The president has been in accord with Secretary Blaine in a general way upon the subject from the beginning, and their only difference has been in the desired extent of reciprocity, the most part of procedure and the consequent details. It is said the president was at first rather inclined to stop at the tariff amendment, which simply proposed that goods should be put upon the free list, and that the president should have power to reimpose the sugar tax at the rate of a year against such sugar-producing countries as failed to offer a free market for the products of the United States. His plan was originally in favor of about the plan afterwards suggested by Senator Aldrich. It proposed to make the period two years and to extend the retaliatory power of the president not only to sugar, but to manilla and sisal grass, which are placed upon the free list by the McKinley bill, and to coffee, rubber, cocoa and hides, already on the free list under the existing law.

The exact details of the compromise reached by President Harrison and Secretary Blaine are not yet made public, but it is not at all improbable that the main feature of reciprocity will be sugar, and that Mr. Blaine has yielded to the president on the wool question. The secretary has urged four South American wools as a concession to the countries represented in the Pan-American conference, but the president declined so radical a step at this time rather damaging to the cause of protection. The plan which has been practically adopted will not exempt wool protection in the least, since none of the articles to be employed in the reciprocity are on the dutiable list under the McKinley bill as it now stands. A message is sent to congress on the subject. It is probable that Chairman McKinley, Speaker Reed and other Republican leaders of the house will be invited individually to a conference with the president, and it is hoped to win them over. The senate is believed to be favorable and if the reciprocity bill is passed, it is expected that some shape will go through before the present session closes.

TWO CONFERENCE REPORTS.

Fortifications and the Sundry Civil Bill Agreed to.

WASHINGTON, August 8.—Mr. Call offered a resolution (which was agreed to) instructing the committee on foreign relations to inquire into the expediency of a measure as may be best for the protection of citizens of the United States who were formerly residents of Cuba, subject to Spain, against prosecution by the Spanish government for alleged offenses to have been committed by them. The concurrent resolution heretofore offered by Mr. Plumb in reference to the desire of congress for the removal of the remains of the illustrious soldier and statesman, Lyman S. Grant, to Arlington National cemetery, and requesting the president to convey to the widow of that eminent man such desire, tendering to her, on behalf of the nation all necessary facilities for such removal and interment, was taken up and agreed to. The conference report on the fortification bill was taken up by Mrs. Call. After discussing the conference report it was agreed to. The conference report on the sundry civil appropriation bill was referred to the committee on the subject of the bridge and viaduct at Rock Island (declining to require the municipality to purchase the bridge and ownership) was criticised and condemned by Mr. Edmunds, who contrasted that liberality of the committee with its meanness and parsimony as recorded in the widow of a dead chief justice the balance of his salary.

Mr. Sherman expressed his regret at the striking out of the bill, because he did not think it should ever have been in it. He hoped that the action of the conference committee would be recorded as settling the whole matter until some general law was passed on the subject and that there would be no difficulty and embarrassment. The discussion then turned upon the items in relation to the irrigation survey and to public lands, and it was carried on until midnight. The sundry civil appropriation bill was agreed to—years 9, 10 and 11. A further conference was ordered on the irrigation items, which had been postponed and Messrs. Allison, Hale and part of the senate. The tariff bill was then taken up, but went over without action. A joint resolution was passed to accept from the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic a statue and pedestal of the late Gen. John S. Sessé's Grant, to be erected in the capital. The senate then adjourned.

VERY LITTLE DONE.

The House's Time Passes in Dilatory Debate and Motions.

WASHINGTON, August 8.—Mr. Mitchell, of Pennsylvania, was excused at his own request from further service on the committee on foreign relations, and Messrs. Vaux, of Pennsylvania, was appointed to fill the vacancy. The house then resumed consideration of the general deficiency bill, the pending question being on the amendment granting a month's extra pay to employees of the house and senate. The amendment was lost, yeas 17, nays 10. Mr. Vaux, of Pennsylvania, moved to recommit the bill with instructions to the committee on appropriations $20,000 for deficiencies in the fees and expense of the United States marshals eliminated. Mr. Holman, of Indiana, wished to

INCREASED UNCERTAINTY.

Poor Crops, Closer Money and Delay in Legislation Affects Trade.

NEW YORK, August 8.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Less business and more uncertainty in the markets and further delay in action on the tariff bill in the senate have increased the uncertainty which retards business. In spite of a sharp advance in wheat, corn, oil and coffee, the general average of prices for commodities is a shade lower than a week ago.

FROM GENESSEE.

General News Items from that City and Rice County.

GENESEE, Kan., August 7.—(Special Correspondence). Wheat is being threshed and proves to be fine in quality and an average of ten to twelve bushels per acre, some doing as high as 15. Corn is being cut and "spotted" with an extent of 10 to 12 bushels per acre is the result. Corn is practically a failure. Some few pieces will make a little corn, but the stalks in most places are all that will amount to anything. This section has just been visited by a rain which will do much good in making grass and may help even some of the late planted corn. The wheat market has ruled firm with an upward tendency ranging from 50 to 70 cents for best grades. George Cartright, a farmer living near here, was while under the influence of liquor, and "spotted" with an extent of 10 to 12 bushels per acre is the result. Corn is practically a failure. General Alger Disapproves the Sentence in His Case.

NEW ORLEANS, La., August 8.—On the 24th ultimo, a court martial was held on Captain Jacob Gray, the past department commander of the departments of Missouri, Army and Louisiana, Grand Army of the Republic. The proceedings were necessarily secret, and of what transpired little could be ascertained at the time. The court martial was held at the ill-felling which was manifested between the two factions in the ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic. The department commander, turned out in the funeral procession to do honor to the dead soldier and statesman. The commander-in-chief has disapproved the sentence of court martial in your case. NEW YORK, August 8.—The rumblings of an expected storm among the thousands of employees of the New York Central and Vanderbilt lines owing to the discharge of Knights of Labor and Brotherhood men broke out like a flash from a clear sky shortly after 7 o'clock tonight. All the length of the train was tied up. Trains were left by the crews where they stood. The strike was begun at 7:30 o'clock. No train was left the depot at Forty-second street since that hour. The Grand Union hotel is crowded with people who are expected to be the cause and engaged passage for various points. At 8:20 o'clock a gentleman reached the hotel and announced that the engineer and men employed in running a morning train had deserted their posts in the tunnel and left the train standing there. He and other passengers had to get out and make their way to Forty-second street on foot or by horse car.
