

Wichita Daily Eagle
N. S. BURDOCK, PUBLISHER.
REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.
CHIEF JUSTICE: Shawnee county
GOVERNOR: Montgomery county
LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR: Nemaha county
SECRETARY OF STATE: Shawnee county
STATE TREASURER: Republic county
ATTORNEY GENERAL: Lyon county
STATE SUPERINTENDENT: Geary county
FOR CONGRESS:
JAMES R. HOLLOWELL, of Sedgewick County.

COL. HALLOWELL AT NEWTON.

The subject of the grand demonstration made in that city the evening Col. Hollowell spoke there, and the colonel's splendid effort.

THAT DEAD ROOSTER AGAIN.

A prominent southern Kansan man who has served in the Kansas legislature, and who is an Alliance man, writes us a letter admitting the truthfulness of our editorial headed "The Dead Rooster and Jackass Abscess."

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY EXTENSION.

For ten years past this city and its active business men have been trying to get the Union Pacific railway from McPherson to this city.

UNREASONABLE CALCULATION.

President Polk, of the National Farmers' Alliance, has just completed a canvass of the states of Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa and Illinois.

OH, RATS!

The prohibition state central committee have now broadcast throughout the western counties a circular charging Hollowell with hypocrisy, with violating his oath of office and so forth and so forth.

A NOVEL EXPERIMENT.

In a cable dispatch from Berlin to the New York Sun, a description is given of an interesting undertaking of the Prussian government, a field where governments are wont to venture.

SUNFLOWER SHIMMER.

Mr. Willis will finally quit with next Tuesday. Senator Ingalls was born four days after Christmas.

RECIPROCITY AND FREE TRADE.

From the Kansas City Journal. "Mr. Blaine says reciprocity is no more strange," remarks the Courier-Journal, "than for a Starke county farmer to bring 100 bushels of wheat to Canton, get his money for it, buy supplies for his family and go back home."

A SOLDIER SPEAKS.

To the Editor of the Eagle. Comrades: We desire to especially address you upon a matter of vital and specific importance to all old soldiers.

OKLAHOMA OUTLINES.

The Conch case at Oklahoma City is set for December the 10th. Today is the time set for the legislature to adjourn for ten days.

EXCHANGE SHOTS.

Their Readers will Say Amen. From the Lawrence Journal.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

SANTA ANNA, Cal. Oct. 26 1890. To the Editor of the Eagle.

In notice in your issue of Oct. 22nd that Col. Markham, Republican candidate for governor, had sailed for Europe.

It is Mayor E. B. Ford, of San Francisco, Democratic candidate for governor, who is expected to sail for Europe on November 5th, 1890.

Simply Suicidal.

The farmer who curses Kansas, its laws and its people is at once depreciating the value of his land, his horses, his cattle, his farm products and everything that he possesses.

They'll Market Them After the Election.

Through the counties of Leavenworth, Atchison and Doniphan, in fact all over the eastern part of the state, great piles of apples may be seen stacked up at the western farmers stacked their corn last year.

Mr. Willis will finally quit with next Tuesday. Senator Ingalls was born four days after Christmas. Two years ago Kansas cast 330,000 votes on a clear, bright day.

The president ought to proclaim Thanksgiving day, on the 30th of November this year. John Anderson has grown heavier the last year, especially in the regions of the heart.

The McKinley bill would probably give the price of corn a little boost if it could reach it. Father Richardson will be the only candidate for governor who will sleep Tuesday night.

The Leavenworth Times says most of the colored men of that city will vote for Robinson. Jerry Simpson has never been in Washington. You can apply the present and future tense.

An algebraic statement: Peoples' party minus Mrs. Leese, is less than Mrs. Leese minus the Peoples' party. Undoubtedly all the opposition to the ninety day amendment has developed outside of Topeka eating houses.

A county central committee which had been soliciting campaign funds recently received "one bushel of potatoes." If Kate Field was running against Ingalls, there would be two or three people in Atchison who would vote for her.

A good many men who are looking troubled and worried over the result of the election, have a jack-knife or an oyster supper up. It has been discovered that Pharaoh drank beer. This will make Bernard Kelley feel warmer towards Moses than he has ever felt before.

The sparkling humorist of the Topeka Capital says: "The only possible danger now is that the Republicans will neglect voting because of over confidence." The mixed condition of the Kansas newspapers now is nothing compared to the complication there will be when they come to claim the credit after the election.

Farmer Funston's foghorn voice is getting wheezy. He is reported to have said that "Humb is a nasty, dirty coward, and was afraid of the uprising of the people of this state." Denying the Catholic disposal of suicides, it will be a terrible tax upon the unending and unexceptional bliss of heaven, if Charles Robinson should be elected next Tuesday.

Tom Ryan's worthless son has turned up again. It is very probable that he wouldn't be so worthless now if our minister to Mexico had turned him up more himself, years ago. D. R. Anthony is getting ready to make a new flap. A great many seven-wort people must look with sorrow upon the Lilliputians' treatment of Gulliver, because it is impracticable.

"Silver is the poor man's money," says Luther Chellis, the manager of the Atchison five cent fare horse cars. It is not often that Mr. Chellis commingles his dual functions as railroad manager and editor. Two years ago Humphrey's vote in the state was 180,841. Martin's 107,480 and the Union Labor vote 35,837, and the Prohibition vote 6,439.

This was in a presidential year. In 1880 John A. Martin's vote for governor was 149,413, Thomas Moonlight's 115,200, and the Prohibition vote for governor 8,095. In 1884 John A. Martin carried the state by a vote of 140,777 against 108,284 cast for Glick and 9,880 for Phillips, the Prohibition candidate.

"Do you believe in the inspiration of the bible?" asked a Methodist brother of Jerry Simpson at a meeting at Halstead, the other night. "I do," answered Jerry. "Do you believe in the divinity of Christ?" was the next question. "Most assuredly I do," was the reply. "Have you ever made light of Christ or spoken of him in a disrespectful manner as has been reported?" "Never in my life," responded Jerry, and the accusing spirit that flew up to Heaven's chancery with the lie, blushed, as she gave it in, and the Recording Angel, as she wrote it down, dipped his pen afresh and marked it with a great black dash.

A young Cherryvale editor went out to report a party the other evening where the home had been blessed with a new baby. Accompanied by his best girl he met the landlady at the door, and after the usual salutation asked after the baby's health. The lady who was quite dead and was suffering from the grip, thought that he was asking about her cold, told him that she usually had one every winter, but this was the worst that she had ever had; that he awoke at night a good deal at first and confined her to her bed. Then noticing that the scribe was getting pale and nervous she said that she could tell by his looks that he was going to have one just like hers and asked him to go in and sit down. The paper was out as usual the next issue, but the local editor has quit inquiring about babies.

Has the legislature spoiled the cry against the existence of the towns of "hounyas" in Buffalo and Beaver do not fight any more now than El Reno and Reno City. There will be more young men in the next legislature than there is in this one. At the world's fair Oklahoma is to have a house built for the display of its products.

Guthrie Capital: Profanity is repulsive, but if you must swear, swear by Judge Harvey. Marshal Grimes is an artist in his way. He drew $13,000 to pay off court expenses, Tuesday.

The Norman townsite commission will also exercise jurisdiction over the town of Lexington. The Kingfisher fellows are anxious to know whether the governor kept a copy of his first vote.

The New World says there is danger of Kingfisher's paper "quadrupling" if that city should get the capital. If Kingfisher's bill isn't signed, it will take the consolation of knowing that it didn't cost as much as Oklahoma City's.

A widow who lives three miles east of Reno has taken the contract to carry the United States mail between Reno and Frisco. The Congregational Sabbath school organized at their new church in south Oklahoma. There were about 100 persons present.

Gets the York Terrier's revolver episode by the New York he will have killed three or four men. The Kansas City papers' report of it were all but that.

The Democratic members of the legislature from Logan county have made a splendid record. The same may be said of the Republican members of Cleveland county.

A little thing like drawing a pistol in the legislative halls, on the part of one of the legislators, does Oklahoma a great deal of harm to the name of the land in the east.

Frank Green occasionally drops off into poetry. In his last issue he says: "Be there a man with a heart so dead who never to Harvey" has said, "McCoy is no good as never to Harvey!"

Doc Guthrie was thrown out his leg last week and the last issue of the Payne Hawk was made up left-handed. Guthrie's lie is hand, however, is a good deal better than some editors' right hand.

El Reno Eagle: Trade San is sometimes slow, but always sure. Three years ago, Major Williams, while Indian agent at Darlington, sent in a requisition for a large bull for the county. He made a splendid record. The same may be said of the Republican members of Cleveland county.

A little thing like drawing a pistol in the legislative halls, on the part of one of the legislators, does Oklahoma a great deal of harm to the name of the land in the east.

Frank Green occasionally drops off into poetry. In his last issue he says: "Be there a man with a heart so dead who never to Harvey" has said, "McCoy is no good as never to Harvey!"

Doc Guthrie was thrown out his leg last week and the last issue of the Payne Hawk was made up left-handed. Guthrie's lie is hand, however, is a good deal better than some editors' right hand.

El Reno Eagle: Trade San is sometimes slow, but always sure. Three years ago, Major Williams, while Indian agent at Darlington, sent in a requisition for a large bull for the county. He made a splendid record. The same may be said of the Republican members of Cleveland county.

Mr. Blaine says reciprocity is no more strange," remarks the Courier-Journal, "than for a Starke county farmer to bring 100 bushels of wheat to Canton, get his money for it, buy supplies for his family and go back home."

Not exactly. Free trade does not involve the necessity of purchasing his supplies in the same place where the farmer found the market for his produce. Having obtained the money for his grain from the Canton mills, he might drive to a rival market town and there purchase his supplies.

Reciprocity demands quid pro quo. It is an exchange of benefits. Mexico, for instance, has a commodity for which there is a good market in this country and we have commodities which Mexico needs, but which she can get quite as well in England.

Free trade, in this world, admits the Mexican commodity free of duty without any agreement that the American commodity should be treated with like favor by Mexico; while it is quite possible to conceive that the same commodity produced in England might have free entrance.

Reciprocity has been likened to a club, wherewith to force concessions from other nations. Insofar as a club is a persuader, this is true. It offers an overpowering inducement having almost the force of a command.

In order to secure free entrance into this market for certain commodities other nations will gladly grant similar privileges, and the United States need never get the worst of the bargain.

The free traders would like to convince the people that free trade and reciprocity are identical in principle, if not in extent, for Mr. Blaine's reciprocity proposition struck a popular chord. But they are not identical. In the one case we give something and take our chances of getting a return. In the other case the return is bargained for before we give anything, which is much more business-like.

Comrades: We desire to especially address you upon a matter of vital and specific importance to all old soldiers. A matter which upon even slight reflection will appeal strongly to the natural self interest of every man who wore the blue in the war of the late rebellion.

You have today a liberal pension law, which the Republican party has formulated and given you. But there remains yet an act of justice that is expected from this country to its old soldiers, that there are reasonable hopes of yet seeing it consummated, if a strong Republican majority of both houses of congress can be maintained long enough to take up the question and act upon it.

We refer to the equalization act, to make good to the veteran the difference between the depreciated money in which he was paid (at one time worth 28 cents on the dollar) and the standard coin value, to which he was entitled as much as the bondholder ever was.

That this act of justice may be carried out, it must be apparent to the soldiers now living in Kansas, that Republican statements of the stalwart character of John J. Ingalls, it consummated, if a strong Republican majority of both houses of congress can be maintained long enough to take up the question and act upon it.

We refer to the equalization act, to make good to the veteran the difference between the depreciated money in which he was paid (at one time worth 28 cents on the dollar) and the standard coin value, to which he was entitled as much as the bondholder ever was.

That this act of justice may be carried out, it must be apparent to the soldiers now living in Kansas, that Republican statements of the stalwart character of John J. Ingalls, it consummated, if a strong Republican majority of both houses of congress can be maintained long enough to take up the question and act upon it.

We refer to the equalization act, to make good to the veteran the difference between the depreciated money in which he was paid (at one time worth 28 cents on the dollar) and the standard coin value, to which he was entitled as much as the bondholder ever was.

That this act of justice may be carried out, it must be apparent to the soldiers now living in Kansas, that Republican statements of the stalwart character of John J. Ingalls, it consummated, if a strong Republican majority of both houses of congress can be maintained long enough to take up the question and act upon it.

We refer to the equalization act, to make good to the veteran the difference between the depreciated money in which he was paid (at one time worth 28 cents on the dollar) and the standard coin value, to which he was entitled as much as the bondholder ever was.

That this act of justice may be carried out, it must be apparent to the soldiers now living in Kansas, that Republican statements of the stalwart character of John J. Ingalls, it consummated, if a strong Republican majority of both houses of congress can be maintained long enough to take up the question and act upon it.

We refer to the equalization act, to make good to the veteran the difference between the depreciated money in which he was paid (at one time worth 28 cents on the dollar) and the standard coin value, to which he was entitled as much as the bondholder ever was.

That this act of justice may be carried out, it must be apparent to the soldiers now living in Kansas, that Republican statements of the stalwart character of John J. Ingalls, it consummated, if a strong Republican majority of both houses of congress can be maintained long enough to take up the question and act upon it.

We refer to the equalization act, to make good to the veteran the difference between the depreciated money in which he was paid (at one time worth 28 cents on the dollar) and the standard coin value, to which he was entitled as much as the bondholder ever was.

That this act of justice may be carried out, it must be apparent to the soldiers now living in Kansas, that Republican statements of the stalwart character of John J. Ingalls, it consummated, if a strong Republican majority of both houses of congress can be maintained long enough to take up the question and act upon it.

We refer to the equalization act, to make good to the veteran the difference between the depreciated money in which he was paid (at one time worth 28 cents on the dollar) and the standard coin value, to which he was entitled as much as the bondholder ever was.

That this act of justice may be carried out, it must be apparent to the soldiers now living in Kansas, that Republican statements of the stalwart character of John J. Ingalls, it consummated, if a strong Republican majority of both houses of congress can be maintained long enough to take up the question and act upon it.

We refer to the equalization act, to make good to the veteran the difference between the depreciated money in which he was paid (at one time worth 28 cents on the dollar) and the standard coin value, to which he was entitled as much as the bondholder ever was.

That this act of justice may be carried out, it must be apparent to the soldiers now living in Kansas, that Republican statements of the stalwart character of John J. Ingalls, it consummated, if a strong Republican majority of both houses of congress can be maintained long enough to take up the question and act upon it.

We refer to the equalization act, to make good to the veteran the difference between the depreciated money in which he was paid (at one time worth 28 cents on the dollar) and the standard coin value, to which he was entitled as much as the bondholder ever was.

That this act of justice may be carried out, it must be apparent to the soldiers now living in Kansas, that Republican statements of the stalwart character of John J. Ingalls, it consummated, if a strong Republican majority of both houses of congress can be maintained long enough to take up the question and act upon it.

We refer to the equalization act, to make good to the veteran the difference between the depreciated money in which he was paid (at one time worth 28 cents on the dollar) and the standard coin value, to which he was entitled as much as the bondholder ever was.

That this act of justice may be carried out, it must be apparent to the soldiers now living in Kansas, that Republican statements of the stalwart character of John J. Ingalls, it consummated, if a strong Republican majority of both houses of congress can be maintained long enough to take up the question and act upon it.

Don't Forget This WE ARE CLOSING OUT OUR IMMENSE CARPET DEPT!

The largest carpet stock in Kansas at 25 per cent less than they can be bought in this country. Beautiful patterns and latest styles of Body Brussels, Moquettes and Tapestries.

Curtain Department must be closed Out.

AT LESS THAN COST!

Fine Brussels Net Curtains. New Swiss Lace Curtains. Irish Point Lace Curtains. Nottingham Lace Curtains. Portiers, Plain and Fancy.

Now is the time to furnish your house at less than cost.

AT THE

White House of Innes & Ross.

Philadelphia Store

POST OFFICE CORNER.

Extraordinary Values

IN

FLANNELS AND BLANKETS!

We place on sale Monday morning a good quality of plain red flannel at 20 cents a yard (all wool) real value 30 cents and an extra heavy all wool red troillett flannel at 25 cents, which the shrewdest buyers will call cheap at 35 cents.

We have the same quality in a blue gray at the same price.

All wool red blankets at $3.00 a pair and a half wool silver grey blankets at $2.00 a pair are two notable bargains which should not be overlooked.

Our line of comforts at 90 cents $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 are well worthy your attention, and are being sold much below their real values.

If in need of anything like the above Dollars will be saved by calling on us.

A. KATZ.

Dissolution Notice of Kansas Buggy Company.

To close out quick part of our finished Carriages, Phaetons, Buggies and Spring Wagoons we offer them at actual cost to produce them. They are our own makes, hand made and first-class.

We are not here to make money, but to save the manufacturers and dealers profits by buying now. It is money we want.

TULLER & WASHBURN.

He reports that the Choctaw grade is nearly finished, except over the culverts, through the Seminole nation and that men and teams are at work within eight miles of Shawneetown. He says corn is a dollar a bushel down there and apples 60 cents.

Their Readers will Say Amen. From the Lawrence Journal.

The great difficulty with the local papers of Kansas during the past sixty days has been that each one thought it was running the politics of the state. They will all be better after the election.

Timely Assurance. From the Atchison Champion.

The statement of a medical journal that a healthy man actually suffers more from the prick of a pin than he would from the pains of dissolution in death will relieve the fears of some of its disagreeable features to a large number of candidates in Kansas.

The Issue in Wisconsin. The great issue in the campaign in Wisconsin this fall is whether the English language of the German shall be taught in the public schools. The German Lutherans and Catholics favor the teaching of German, and the Irish Catholics, Methodists and Scandinavian Lutherans generally favor the English. The Republicans are for the English, and the Democrats are for the German.

"Guessing" is a Lottery. The postoffice authorities notified the Cleveland Press the other day that the paper could no longer remain in its columns.

The "ad" in question was from a prominent clothing house which offered a pump to the purchaser who could guess its weight. The authorities held that it came under the provisions of the lottery law.

The Judicial Amendment. From the Kansas Republican.

The supreme court is now composed of the same number as when it was first established, at the organization of the state. The court has now, and has had during the past three years, the temporary assistance of the three commissioners, but the permanent court is still composed of three justices, as it commenced thirty years ago.

The number of the trial courts of the state, from all of which appeals are taken to the supreme court, have grown from five to thirty-six.

The number of cases taken to the supreme court each year during the past ten years is as follows: In 1880, 298 cases; in 1881, 329 cases; 1882, 736 cases. During the first six months of 1890 there were filed 489 cases—indicating plainly that the whole number filed in 1890 will exceed 900. From these figures it will

Dr. Prices Cream Baking Powder. Used in Millions of Homes. 40 Years the Standard.