

WEATHER BULLETIN.

WEATHER BUREAU, DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, WICHITA, KAN., August 17, 1891. Forecast for Wichita and vicinity—Continued warm and dry weather. The highest temperature was 88°, the lowest 72° and the mean 85, with very warm, generally cloudless weather except a trace of rain at 6:30 a. m. Nine-eight is the highest temperature so far this summer.

For the past three years the average temperature for August has been 76°, and for the 17th day 71°.

FRED L. JOHNSON, Observer. WASHINGTON, D. C., August 17.—Forecast until 9 p. m. Tuesday: For Kansas—Continued warm, slightly southerly winds, generally fair weather. For Missouri—Generally fair, except scattered showers in the extreme north-east portion. No decided change in temperature except, perhaps, a trifle warmer in the vicinity of St. Louis.

OKLAHOMA STATEHOOD.

LAWRENCE, Kan., August 17.—Hon. Sidney Clarke, of Oklahoma, in an interview in this city yesterday concerning Oklahoma affairs, among other things, said:

"The movement to secure the passage of an enabling act by congress authorizing the formation of a state government to include all the old Indian territory is now fairly under way. There is no opposition to the movement, but in Oklahoma proper it is favored by a large majority of the people. The movement is nonpartisan and will probably result in the election of a Republican to the office of governor. The election is not yet clearly defined. The election of a Republican delegate to congress last fall was due to the fact that the peculiar condition of affairs which grew out of the fight to locate the capital. There has never been any objection to much of a political fight in the territory."

"The Commercial club of Oklahoma City has taken the lead in calling a statehood convention to be held in the city on the 19th of September. It will be the most significant assembly ever held in the territory. Hon. Fred Guthrie is chairman of the club committee, and is in charge of the matter in an able manner. The federal officeholders, and those who expect office at the hands of an incoming Democratic administration, are all cordially invited to take kindly to the movement. In Oklahoma, as everywhere else, there is a small pull-back element, contented with federal rule, sympathetic to the old territory, and despairing of progress."

Speaking of the occupancy of the reservation for grazing purposes, Mr. Clarke said: "There has been no objection to this season along the Santa Fe railroad south of the line than ever before. Secretary Noble started out bravely in excluding the cattle companies from the possession of the Cherokee outfit. Even now the United States troops are chasing long horned steers in the outfit, while the Ponca, Osage, Kiowa, Cheyenne, Arapahoe and other reservations are occupied as cattle ranches in violation of the law. It is a touching scene to see the United States troops chasing the cattle on an adjoining reservation left undisturbed, though excited by the same law. The law is being enforced as either being deceived by corrupt agents or it has betrayed the people in this permitting the cattle companies to again encroach themselves in the Indian territory. It is the duty of the United States Indian commission to be successful in negotiating agreements for the cession of Indian lands with the cattlemen, and to prevent the Indians and using their reservations for cattle pastures."

"When will the Sac and Fox, Iowa and Potawatomi reservations be opened to settlement?" "The Lord only knows. The ways of this administration are mysterious. Deleaher is in charge of the reservation at this time to get the order issued, but he is as dumb as an ox and the people are kept in ignorance. The allotments have not been made, and if they are made they would have to be made in two weeks. But it is safe to say that the opening is a month and a half or two months off. There will be a great rush when the time comes."

VALLEY CENTER NOTES.

VALLEY CENTER, KAN., August 17.—(Special.)—The last regular meeting of our Republican club was well attended and most enthusiastic. The speakers were J. H. Boushback, made short but good speeches. Ten of the candidates for county officers were present. All were called upon to make speeches and most of them responded.

It was decided to hold club meetings every Thursday night, and candidates and speakers from every party to be invited to be in attendance and entertain the crowd. Delegates were elected to attend the Tripartite convention of the Republican state league as follows: J. H. Boushback, J. D. Glick and George S. Newman.

There is a good prospect for a bank to be started here, and also a good general store. Both will be ready soon as the grain market is fairly opened.

At the annual school meeting it was decided to employ four teachers in our public school. A high school department has been organized, with a course of study modeled after that of the Wichita high school. Already twenty-five foreign pupils have made application for admission. The following teachers have been employed: Principal, V. L. Alexander; assistant principal, Mrs. Kate Clark; intermediate, Florence Falls; primary, Mrs. M. A. Brown. With this efficient corps of teachers, the success of the school for the coming year is assured.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., August 17.—J. L. Ray, an expert accountant employed by Treasurer Woodruff to look after his interests before the state board of finance, was today arrested on a warrant sworn out by Treasurer Woodruff, charging him with the theft of $100,000 in state scrip.

When the legislature adjourned the joint committee left two boxes filled with state securities, which they had examined and found to be correct. Mr. Ray claims that he has broken into another box belonging to the state, and extracted therefrom $100,000 worth of scrip. The committee cancelled about two years ago, and which was put into boxes and left here by the legislative committee. Ray was taken before a justice of the peace and given a $5,000 bond for his appearance on September 1. The warrant was sworn out by Woodruff without consulting the members of the state board. The arrest was a great surprise to Woodruff and his bondsmen, who say that the securities were placed in the box by Ray and are only those that constitute vouchers held by Woodruff.

Ray when interviewed today, simply said "I am all right; they are bearing up the wrong tree."

No pimple, spot, or blemish disfigures the skin preserved by CUTICURA SOAP.

BRAZIL AND THE FAIR.

WASHINGTON, August 17.—The special commissioner to Brazil in the interest of the World's Columbian exposition, Capt. Alex. Rodgers, has succeeded in convincing the officers of the federal district, which has practically the same organization as the state, very deeply in the success of that enterprise. The president of the municipality of Rio de Janeiro assured Capt. Rodgers that all possible efforts would be made to secure a splendid display of its many and varied products. He expects to send also a large number of flags, arms, etc., belonging to the municipality, and many old books, manuscripts and historical objects, of which there is a large and fine collection. The exhibit from the federal district, under his energetic and wise supervision, will probably be both valuable and attractive. A committee has been appointed, composed of men in the front ranks of their respective callings in the district, to take charge of its representation, among whom are the directors of the National Library, National museum, Botanical gardens, and also distinguished educators from both army and navy.

A NEW METAL.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., August 17.—A series of experiments into the properties and uses of nickel, steel and manganese bronze, has led to the discovery of a new metal. The chief characteristics of the metal are that it contains very high tensile strength, is indestructible by corrosion, being impervious to acid, and that it can be wrought into spikes while either hot or cold.

A JEWISH COLONY.

CAPE MAY, N. J., August 17.—It is reported in congressional circles here that Wilson Banks and others have sold to an agent for Baron Hirsch, the Jewish benefactor, about 500 acres of land in Woodbury, on the West Jersey road, near the northern boundary of Cape May county. The land will be used to establish another Jewish colony, one having already been established about two miles above the reported purchased tract.

THE SIOUX COMMISSION.

OMAHA, Neb., August 17.—The members of the commission on the Sioux, having completed their work. In conversation Commissioner Harris, of Washington, said: "More important than any other branch of our duties was the settlement of the difficulty between the Pine Ridge and Rosebud Indians. By the terms of the Foster-Walker-Crook treaty the boundary line between the two reservations was moved eastward nearly twenty miles. At the Rosebud and lower Brule agencies we collected much valuable information on which to base our report. It is our opinion that a treaty may be negotiated."

SAN SALVADOR'S COMPLAINT.

NEW YORK, August 17.—The following dispatch reached the Associated Press to-day: "The reports recently published in New York touching an alleged revolution in San Salvador, are altogether inaccurate. They pretend that the revolutionaries refused to surrender a criminal fugitive in direct violation of law and sailed away from the city. The revolutionaries, however, are reported to have fallen on times when the right of force prevails over the force of right."

VALUABLE HORSES BURNED.

LYONS, Kan., August 17.—A disastrous fire occurred here last night, about the hour the beneficiaries were being said in the churches. The barns of Stanford and Harold and also of J. J. Laffover were completely destroyed, with their contents. Stanford and Harold lost two large imported Clydesdale stallions. Their loss is about $5,000. There were also two imported stallions in the barn of Laffover, but they were rescued before the fire reached them. His loss is near $400. It was with difficulty that the horses that were saved could be induced to leave the burning buildings. It was only by determined effort on the part of firemen that surrounding property was saved.

SMALLPOX.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., August 17.—There is a smallpox scare in the "Blue Bottoms" near Independence. The dread disease has stricken down several poor families and there are now 25 cases under treatment. The district where the disease exists is under supervision of no health officer, and yesterday one of the patients, feeling fairly well got out of bed and walked into Independence and dined at one of the principal restaurants.

Shortly afterwards he had a relapse and fell from exhaustion in the street. He was removed to his home, and now the citizens of Independence and farmers in the vicinity have established a shotgun quarantine over the infected district. The doctor has patrolled the district and no one is allowed to leave it. State officers have been notified, but the quarantine will not be raised until some official action is taken to properly quarantine the infected district.

THE IOWA HARVEST.

CEDEAR RAPIDS, Ia., August 17.—Never before has Iowa harvested such a crop of corn as it will this year. The oat crop will be limited. It will be easily averaged sixty to seventy bushels and in many places will go to 100 bushels to the acre. In addition to this, oats will weigh from thirty-four to thirty pounds to the bushel. This great crop is causing railroad officials no little trouble. All the railroads are buying a large number of grain cars in order to dispose of the business, when the movement of grain sets in.

PORT DOUGLASS, Ia., August 17.—The farmers of northwestern Iowa are besieged by a crop of corn that is the best in the district. The crop is so good that the farmers are offering on the strength of the general bonanza harvest. Many of the farmers have thus sold their crops in advance, but the majority have held out the stalks in European countries and will hold their grain for higher prices.

ST. LOUIS, August 17.—The Milwaukee (Western association) team was admitted formally today into the American association and transferred to Cincinnati, having bought Cincinnati's franchise. Manager Bancroft will supplant Manager Cavanagh.

"We are in a position of surrendering Cincinnati," said Von Dor Ave. "It is an association territory, and we will have a club here next season. The League offered us $24,000 to abandon the place. The only reason we consented to abandon the place temporarily was to break up the Western association, which has been allied with the National league in fighting us. The Western association will be disbanded at the meeting today. They are away in debt to the board of control now, but the National league has not dared to expose them, owing to the fight they have on hand now with us."

CHICAGO, August 17.—It is stated tonight that the Chicago league club has signed Vickers and Schriver, the Milwaukee star battery.

MINNEAPOLIS, August 17.—At the meeting of the Western base ball association today all the clubs were represented. The membership of the Milwaukee club was announced, and transferred to President Krauthoff, as trustee for the association. The players were released from their contracts and declared eligible to sign with any National league club. The prospects are bright for finishing the western association season with six clubs, Sioux City dropping out.

A TURKISH GIRL'S DEBUT. There is no coming out party in that Medieval Land. (Special Correspondence.) CONSTANTINOPLE, July 15.—In Turkey there is no such thing known as a coming out party nor any kind of a debut made by a young girl. The seclusion of the lives of the women and the sacredness in which they are held are opposed to it, besides which it is considered somewhat of a disgrace to appear to have a daughter who seeks instead of being sought.

When girls are nine years old they reach their majority, and they are often given in marriage at that age, though the more generally observed rule is to marry at fourteen or fifteen. The girl who is not married at an early age is considered very unfortunate and classed among the old maids.

No man can ever behold the unveiled face of his bride until after the marriage, and he really does not know what she looks like, nor does she ever speak one word to her until she is irretrievably his own.

But the young man generally succeeds in getting as pretty a wife as he could have chosen for himself, and most likely fares better than half our own bridegrooms, for he sets his mother or his nearest female relative to find out for him all he wants to know.

It is not considered proper for any parents who have a daughter to appear to wish to find a husband for her, but there are certain old women who make a business of knowing all the marriageable girls and young men, and then they take the possibility of arranging the affair. They will see the girls at the bath or in their homes, and then go to the mothers of the young men and give an summary of their beauty, wit and accomplishments. When the young man is ready to make a proposal, family position and dowry as well as personal attractions seem suitable to her son's merits, she signifies that she would like to see the maiden at the bath.

The old woman then visits the young lady's mother, and invites her and her family to the bath, which is the first step in inviting any one to the matinee. The mother is carefully enjoined to take her whole family. No word is said, but the mother knows that her daughter is to be inspected and judged upon, but all parties wisely ignore the fact. The young man's mother pays the expense of the matinee, and is there with all her family—of course, only the female members—and several of her personal friends.

When the invited guests have all arrived, there are introductions and compliments, and then disrobing for their steam bath. The invited guests have all plunged into the basin and have a general good time. Then slaves bring lunch and they all sit around in soap suds and eat lunch, after which they plunge in the basin again, and when weary of sport they come out to have their toilet made for going home.

On such occasions all the young girls who are to be at the bath are dressed in the most exquisite manner as to bathing robe and such garments, which she takes good care to display before she enters her bath, but during the interval she has no garment but that which Godiva wore.

If the young man's mother likes the girl she asks permission of the girl's mother to visit her the next day. If she does not, she simply bids her adieu politely and that ends it. It is very mortifying to fail to be approved of and greatly lessens a young girl's chances.

If, however, the visit is to be made, there will be a formal demand for the young lady's hand, which is referred by her mother to the girl's father, and he makes his investigations, though probably less exacting ones, and if the young man is eligible the mothers are at liberty to talk it over to their hearts' content, while the fathers make out the contract. The girl gets a dowry of clothes, jewels, household goods and money, according to the position of the parents. This always remains hers, and in case of her husband's death reverts to her, as also it does in case of divorce, though her husband has virtual control of it during their married life.

The preparations for the wedding are always showy and always reach the utmost limit of the bride's parents' means. An ulama comes the day of the ceremony and the guests are to the door of the harem to ask the usual questions, and when a certain number have been answered the groom is led to the family sitting room in the harem, where the two join hands and exchange rings and are pronounced wedded. Not even then is the bridegroom permitted to see his bride, for all the married women now take possession of her and she has to eat the "leg of mutton" dinner with them, which signifies that now her girl's life of pleasure is ended and she must come down to matter of fact life.

The Power Behind the Throne. BINGO—I wish you would tell the lady next door to be careful about her hens getting in our back yard. Mrs. BINGO—Haden't you better tell her husband? BINGO—Not much. The Rating of Wasts. Mothers sometimes mistakenly insist that the child should eat all upon its plate to prevent it from being "wasted." It ought to be needless to remark that this is not to be commended. A child should not be permitted to waste food, nor should he ever be permitted to render vain the efforts of his mother in preparing his food. But to eat food when one has had a sufficient quantity to keep it from being "wasted," is not the way to teach a child frugality.

To force into the stomach one ounce more of food than is needed to overtax it, and frequently overtaxing it will lead to the swelling of the stomach as is of people. Then the services of the physician must be had, and before we can dispense with them, the value of a barrel of flour is gone to save an ounce of food. This is not economy, neither is it common sense to feed two or three times that to lead his plate so that he is in danger of leaving it. Thus may health and frugality be secured at the same time.—Health and Home.

A Woman Playwright. Many competent critics have pronounced "The Merchant" by Martha Morton, to be the best play ever written by an American woman. Miss Morton took the high prize under which Americans live for a theme, and evolved a play good enough to be selected by half a dozen managers and finally achieved notable success. Her first effort at playwriting was a dramatization of one of George Eliot's novels, which of course was never performed. Since the success of "The Merchant," however, managers have made her several offers, and she is now hard at work on a play called "Geoffrey Middleton, Gentleman," which will probably be completed and produced next spring.
