Not in Great Peril. "I hope," he said to her in the carriage, "your father will not be able to catch up with us."

The Freewalling Fads. They had flirted a couple of weeks or so. The youth and the maiden shy; But the time had arrived for him to go And he came to say goodby.

And he said: "Ere we part you will give me a kiss! Refuse not, I pray, the boon. For I should like to remember this As a sort of souvenir spoon."

Not That Kind of Pressure. "Your daughter refuses to be my wife, Mrs. Jones." "She's foolish, then. Have you pressed her at all?" "No. To tell the truth she is always so distant that I have been afraid to try."

Satisfied. All the girls have gone away— Lenox, Newport, Long Branch claims them. Let them merry be and gay. Lively, sportive—no one blames them.

She'd Make It Hot. "What if I were one of those husbands, my dear, who get up at six in the morning, bang things around and raise a rumpus because the coffee is cold?"

Very Likely. Two in hammock Talking low While they're swinging To and fro. Watch the maiden. See her pout! Soon there'll be a falling out.

Curious Cullings. In Madagascor it is regarded as an act of treacherous courage to submit to the cleansing influence of water.

Not far from Portland, Me., a barn was set on fire by lightning. The same bolt that fired the building shattered a pipe that connected with a water main, and the flow of water extinguished the flames.

The number of English words which have no rhyme in the language is very large. Among them are month, silver, liquid, spirit, chrysan, warmth, gulf, sphinx, music, breadth, width, depth, honor, iron, echo.

The existence of a cholera demon is still firmly credited in certain districts of India. Some of the liars of that country claim to have put the demon to flight by firing off guns and beating the tom-toms. They describe the demon as having a head like an earthen pot.

The British debt is so large that if it were divided into one-penny notes they would completely cover the state of Ohio three times over. If paid in penny pieces, and each penny piled one above the other, it would make seven columns of copper reaching to the moon.

FADS OF FASHION. Gold finds increased favor on ladies' hats and dresses. A nice baby mantle of plume has the skirt portion laid in hollow folds.

A pretty waist is made of bengaline trimmed with Chantilly lace. Balayages come into use whenever dresses are, as at present, worn long.

Blouses are greatly worn. Light nappys and mousseline de laine are the materials. In children's hats the Heigland style leads, as it affords protection against the sun's rays.

Serviettes, washable and heavily starched, of plain white or colored cretonne, are quite popular. For winter children's capotes will be favorites. These styles are very nice with ruche borders.

A Terrible Situation at Spring Lake. "Dear me! dear me!" cried Ethel as the hotel clock pointed to midnight. "What's the matter, dear?" asked her mother.

"Why, mamma, I buried Chollis de Sapp in the sand this morning and forgot to dig him up!"—New York Sun.

A Hint. "You always turn your head, sweet May. Whenever I try to kiss you," said he. "The damsel blushed in a charming way." "Stolen kisses are sweet," said she.

TURF WINNERS. CHICAGO, September 2.—Kingston won at Garden Park today. Fifteen thousand people saw probably the most inconsistent race in America retrieve his lost laurels by easily defeating his former conqueror, the best hunter C, by three lengths.

The race was for a special purse of $5,000, and it was generally conceded that, barring accidents, Kingston would prove the winner in today's contest, and the real battle was looked for between Marion C and Virge D. O for place honors. The black colt ran a great race for miles, but when he reached the final dose of whip and spur, drew away like the flash and secured the verdict by a length and a half. The day was perfect and the track fast and smooth. Other winners were: Grand Cal, Alphonse, Aloha, Midden Somerset.

CHICAGO, September 2.—Hawthorne winners: Ed. Leonard, Enterprise, Ethel, Tom Kraft, Patrie.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., September 2.—A heavily clouded sky kept down the attendance at the race today. The track was fast, 2:20 class, purse $500. H. S. won, treasure second, Sausalito third. Best time, 2:11. 2:19 class, trotting, purse $1,000.—Harvest George won, Lobasco second, Olive third. Best time, 2:17.

CINCINNATI, September 2.—Winners at Latonia: Cap Bearer, Falero, Hueneme, Daisy F. Frankie.

SUBURBAN, Sept. 2.—Winners: Arab, Bix, Cassius, Landwig, Willie H. Carroll.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—The defeat of Hal Pointer over the rest of the race today. Hal Pointer took the first heat in the last time of 2:12, and also easily took the second heat, while Johnson won the third heat. Hal Pointer seemed to be in distress, and came in bleeding at the nose, while Yolo Maid, who also seemed to be in distress, was withdrawn. Johnson took the fourth heat, while Hal Pointer, who was sick, was withdrawn. Johnson then closed over the fifth heat and won the race. The judges declared all pools off, and the horses were sent to the stables.

FOREIGN NOTES. PARIS, Sept. 2.—The concentration of the French troops for the campaign to which they have been ordered to engage has been completed. Several divisions have reached their destinations. The first series of maneuvers begins tomorrow.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Mr. Spurgeon is very weak and unable to take food.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 2.—A riot broke out at Yenching Tuesday. All the mission and foreign property was burned. No fatalities are reported.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Chronicle says that the prince and princess have been decided to go to Chicago, and is likely to be accompanied by the Emperor William of Germany.

A BRIDEGROOM'S RETURN. ROCKWELL, Mo., Sept. 2.—Courtland Rile, who was kidnaped by his mother, brother and aunt at the beginning of his wedding journey, after he had eloped, and married a young lady of this place, and who was being taken west, escaped from his captives in Colorado yesterday and reached here today. He went immediately to the house of his bride, where he was joyfully received. There is much rejoicing in town over the escape of the bridegroom, and he and his wife were welcomed by a large number of citizens to night.

WOLFE'S COMET. ROCHESTER, N. Y., September 2.—Professor Lewis Swift, of Worcester, observes, calls attention to a remarkable phenomenon to occur, after he has seen before by any human eye. During the morning hours of Sept. 4, Wolfe's periodic comet will pass directly over the heads of seven stars.

He wrote about the summer girl? In a profitable vein? But by all luck he saw one once. "A—never was again!"—New York Herald.

A FRIGHTFUL FALL. OSWEGO, N. Y., Sept. 2.—At the Oswego county fair today one of the attractions was a balloon ascension and parachute jump. While the balloon was being inflated the cry was started that the big gas bag was burning, and all the volunteers who were holding the balloon let go their hold, except George R. Woods. In an instant he was whirling in the air and 10,000 horrified spectators saw that he was enjoying a parachute jump. He fell furiously for a minute or two and then shot downwards head first. When he was picked up he was dead. He fell a distance of seventy feet.

SICKNESS AMONG CHILDREN. Especially infants, is prevalent more or less at all times, but is largely avoided by giving proper nourishment and wholesome food. The most successful and reliable of all is the Gail Borden "Eagle" Brand Condensed Milk. Your grocer and druggist keep it.

THE BAHAMAS TARIFF. WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The bureau of American affairs is receipt of the information from the Bahamas that, by a recent ordinance, rum, rosin, caustic soda, potash, pain oil, electrical apparatus and appliances, and fine and crude petroleum are added to the free list, and a drawback of 90 per cent of the customs duty is allowed on kerosene oil used as fuel in working steam engines.

SENTENCED TO DEATH. SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 2.—Peter Redford, who was convicted in the criminal court last week of murder, was sentenced to the gallows by the state supreme court, next. Redford is charged with the murder of William Morris, deputy sheriff of Texas county, July 15, 1888. A motion for a new trial was overruled and the case will go to the supreme court.

OBITUARY. CHICAGO, September 2.—Rev. J. B. L. Soule, D. D., died here yesterday morning. He is the last of four brothers, all of whom have been eminent as authors and educators, among them being Gideon L. Soule, J. L. D., for nearly fifty years principal of Phillips Exeter academy. J. B. Soule had been an educator, editor and preacher in Indiana and Illinois since 1843.

A ROYAL LOVE MATCH. LONDON, Sept. 2.—A matrimonial alliance between the czarowitch of Russia and Princess Maria, of Greece, his cousin, will be formally announced in the near future. The match is being arranged by adhering to his choice, in spite of the czar's advocacy of a Montenegrin princess.

TEXAS FEVER. CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Six car loads of cattle, which were shipped from the Indian territory, passed through the stock yards this morning, consigned to a commission house in Buffalo. They are said to have Texas fever, and the authorities at Buffalo will be notified of the fact.

THE ST. LOUIS EXPOSITION. ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2.—The eighth annual St. Louis exposition opened tonight, and 25,000 people examined the most beautiful display in art, science, manufacture and enterprise that has ever been made here.

NORTH DAKOTA CROPS. GRAND FORKS, N. D., September 2.—John Ingalls, the crop expert, has been through out the state before and since the frost. He estimates the loss to the wheat crop by frost at not more than 2 or 3 per cent.

PARRICIDE. POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sept. 2.—This evening Frank Schofield, who resides near Cold Springs, shot and killed his father and brother, while quarrelling over crops.

DON'T WAIT TO HEAR... The Blind Young Man and the Talkative Stranger. A large, middle aged man, with a kind of how-are-you-everybody look on his big, round face, stepped into a South Side street yesterday morning and sat down by the side of a laddery youth whom, after a few remarks of a preliminary nature pertaining to the weather, he addressed in this style:

"I reckon you were born and raised a blond, wasn't you, young man?" "I don't know," answered the other. "I don't often make mistakes about things of that kind," rejoined the large man heartily, "I can spot a blond as far as I can see him. And there's another curious thing about that," he added, turning half round in his seat, crossing one leg over the other, "I know some of these tall, nature never makes any mistakes, either. When nature gives a young fellow a sort of pinky skin and light brown hair she doesn't give him a blue black mustache. That's why?"

"The slender youth hastily crossed the car and sat down on the other side. "You're right," said the cheerful, middle aged party, following him over. "It's altogether too sunny on that side. Now this thing of a blue black mustache on a blond face, you know, with light eyebrows and hair, is a queer thing."

"I'd like to know what difference," interrupted the now painfully blond young man fiercely, "it makes to you?" "Certainly, certainly. That's what I was coming to. Lord bless you, I've got a nephew nearly as old as you are, I reckon, and he's got a regular sponge cake complexion, you know—some of these tall, waxy sort of skins that go with light, waxy colored hair. They call him Sorreltop. Well, that chuckedhead went up town one day and paid a barber a quarter to dye his mustache. When he got home—" "Say! Look here! What do I care about your nephew?"

"That's just exactly what I'm getting at. He had a blue black mustache like yours and he looked like—" "Conductor!" yelled the young man, "let me off at the next crossing!" "A barber!" roared the conductor in indignation on a full moon," continued the middle aged man pleasantly. "No, sir, I tell you, young chap!"

But the young chap, without waiting for the next crossing, jumped off. Flap! Kerplow! Kerplow! The car was going at the rate of twelve miles an hour of the way for the next one.

When he picked himself up he felt of his blue-black mustache to see if it was all there. Then he stood up in the middle of the track and swore at the flying cable car until he got out of the way for the next one.—Chicago Tribune.

LIGHT AND AIRY. A Scheme That Miscarried. If he hadn't been fond of good living, they say that he would have been a success. But he was a failure. He was a failure. He was a failure.

The Ideal and the Real. She (at 11:42 p. m.)—And will you never leave me, darling? He—Through the sky should fall, by heaven nothing shall part us.

Just then the shuffling of a pair of heavy feet in the room overhead caused him to remark nervously, "Well, Mabel, I think I'll be going," and he went out of the front door like a shot out of a gun.—New York Herald.

FOOTLIGHT FLASHES. Hammerstein's new theater in New York will contain twenty-four private boxes.

Augustus Thomas is drama-tizing Frank H. Smith's story, "Colonel Otter, of Carterville."

Emily Soldano, once a famous opera singer, has set down to teaching music in San Francisco.

The Australians are enjoying two American successes, at Sydney—"The County Fair" and "Evangeline."

The conservatory at St. Petersburg, of which Rubinstein has just resigned the directorship, boasts 500 pupils, of whom 200 are pianists.

Henry Neville, the English actor, who traveled as leading man with "The Southerner" in America last season, is now teaching acting in London.

George Barrett, the English comedian and character actor, looks as much like William H. Crane that a stranger would take them to be brothers.

Leonora Marie, an actress well known in Europe, was recently severely injured by a shot fired into a moving train, on which she was a passenger, in England.

Possart, the German tragedian, is not to play in this country next season, but W. R. Haden, "Star of the West," is looking him up for an American tour in 1892-3.

Stratford Robyn will present "She Stoops to Conquer" exactly as Goldsmith wrote it, including scenes not in the published editions, which was in the original manuscript and was acted in the Covent Garden theater in London in 1822.
