THE FIRST DAY OF THE GREAT SOUTHERN KANSAS FAIR.

Today Will Occur the First Races—They Will be Blood—The Displays Magnificent and Everything in Readiness to Start Off Brilliantly Today—The Most Favorable Circumstances Characterize the Start—A Great Fair Assured.

S A CIRCUS IS A circus, so is a fair a fair. The disordered order preparatory to the full-fledged holiday of existence, characterizes both. The grounds yesterday were alive with the stage carpenters of the exhibition to be open to the free entrance of the world. The monarchical gate keeper and the wildly gesticulated cane which he generally holds in one hand and brandishes in a czar-like manner had not taken his post, yet the man with the striking machine, where a man can work himself to death in two minutes for a nickel had yet shown no signs of appearance. The long poles on which the museum pictures of the fat girl and the tattooed man will later be hung, stand silent spectrals of yet unborn glory.

The benevolent and temporary pump with the new pine shingle under its spout, which today will be the admitted center of a dusty and caudally-gleamed crowd of thirsty people, the whole afternoon stood with unwonted freedom of its liquid toy-passers-by. The amputated wind-mill which is never seen anywhere but at a fair grounds stood whirling in dangerous proximity to the ground. The steam thrashing-machine with the engine which will puff away to the admiration of thousands within a day stood with pulleys set and belts in readiness. The art hall was undergoing the process of adornment. The photographers each had an apartment in which their local notables and society belles glister in their realties in silhouettes. The handiwork of a steady nimble finger and the domestic contrivance of some household ingenuity in the way of rural decorations, crazy quilts, tiles, pin-cushions and the like were being hung in neat arrangement for the prospective delectation of that endless throng that will surge through this hall in a grand chaotic condition of a great deal of mental cracking, a surfeit of taffy candy and a wonderful lot of feminine criticism and comment. The stove man, the furniture man and the organ man is there. And the sewing machine man, whose magic manipulations of the shuttle, wind at the head of regulation topics of gossip in sewing circles for miles around. The sewing machine man who cannot write his name with his machine will not be in it.

And so in the floral and the agricultural hall, where the big pumpkins and the monster watermelons lengthened out in rows of marvelous products for the inducement of a myriad unexpressed "ohs!" And apples, and peaches, and peaches, and peaches. And everything, big and little, that grows.

All over the grounds was the same intensity of action and that taut activity preparatory to the exhibition. Tents going up. Tents spread out on the ground, ready to be hoisted. Everywhere a rush and a jostle. Down by the long line of stalls the live stock of emulative size and quality were being housed, and over by the horse-stalls was the same degree of liveliness. The horseman, with his derby and his top hat, and his eye for an eye, showed down on his ears, and the earwig which he always has in his mouth and bites occasionally, was talking persuasively or boastfully to another man whose life is full of pedigrees and records. The thin-shanked jockey stood near in deep conspiracy with other knights of the pearly.

So nearly every square rod of the grounds held some representative of activity or expectant readiness. All afternoon a thousand and a couple were at work and all last night the hum of preparation filled the air, for the fair will open in earnest this morning and the gates will swing back to admit a great multitude. In the afternoon the amphitheatre will hold a vast assembly who will witness the beginning of a set of records that have never been equaled in in Kansas. Today, tomorrow, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, people from near and far will file through the various halls, linger by various exhibits, wonder at the fat pigs and the woolly sheep and with cheer to their heart's content as a favorite horse comes victorious under the wire.

The fair grounds were a scene of bustle and activity yesterday. Everyone could be seen moving and running hither and thither in the pursuit of their labor to get things arranged, and to properly take care of what was brought in. The song of the hammer and the saw was heard from early dawn until after the shades of night had thrown its mantle over the moving front. In the morning nothing in the way of displays was to be seen but by the noon hour the various halls and tents were well filled. The farmers are taking a very great interest in the fair and are quite enthusiastic in their work. The agricultural specimens which were brought in yesterday were especially fine and the committee who are here to gather specimens for the world's fair were quite pleased in getting the same for the Kansas display at Chicago.

The officers of the fair are working hard and the secretary is seen to rush first to the right and then to the left in an aimless and excited sort of a way, all day long. The officers in the secretary's office were engaged the greater part of the day yesterday in recording entries. The prominent horsemen who have so far made entries and whose horses are on the grounds, for display, are as follows: The display horses include stallions of the different classes, mares, fillies and colts. Those who have made one or more entries are Geo. Ferrell of Sedgewick City, G. Scott of Wichita, Jos. Johnson of Wichita, Black & Wain of Valley Center, G. Hurst of Zebra, John Shipley of Goddard,

A. T. Richardson of Sedgewick, John Westfall of Valley Center, John Hughes of Iowa, H. G. Toler of Wichita, Dr. Crosby of Wichita, Astral St. Farm of Newton, C. W. Simmons of Wichita, W. H. Sternburg of Wichita, George W. Carr of Valley Center, G. M. Hildorf of Belle Plaine, Leonard Suer of Greenfield, J. R. Owen of Newton, Louis Brestanich, C. E. Diver of Wichita, Geo. A. Daryl of Valley Center, Geo. Alterson, N. Bridgeman of Minneha, W. H. H. Martin of Belle Plaine, E. M. Green of Sedgewick. Numerous others came in last night from the distance, but whose names could not be ascertained as they came too late to make entries.

The ladies are also taking a great interest in the fair. The contest for specimens in bread, pastry and dairy promises to be highly interesting. The following ladies made entries yesterday: Mrs. O. R. Sisson, Mrs. N. O. Eldred, Mrs. Eldridge, Mrs. B. A. Baker, Mrs. Buncoe Tanner, Mrs. Ora McKinney, Jessie Spangler, Mrs. A. W. Marshall, R. E. Guthrie, Wichita; Mrs. A. W. Marshall, Sunnysdale, M. E. Little, Wichita.

The art hall received quite a number of fine specimens yesterday. These were by Mrs. H. F. Wilson of Fort Scott, Mrs. Little of Wichita, Mrs. Dulaney, Wichita, and other Wichita ladies as follows: Mrs. Ora McKinney, Ella Wood, Mrs. J. J. Fletcher, Miss Anna Gaekensbach, Anna C. Martin, Mrs. G. W. Peters, Mrs. F. Gray, Mrs. Sarah Taylor, M. Nicholson, T. B. Oliver, Mrs. R. E. Guthrie, Mrs. J. McEwen, F. B. Smith, Wichita; and Mable Brew, Greenwich; Cordelia Johnson, Udall; Mrs. G. D. Newler, Colwich.

Besides the large number of horses, cattle, swine and sheep that have been entered, large numbers came in yesterday which could not be accommodated in the grounds. The stalls for horses were all occupied by noon and a large force of carpenters were put to work immediately to build more stalls. The art hall is located in the centre of the grounds. To the east of this a short distance from it is a large and spacious building in which are displayed the agricultural products of the county and state. To the south of the art hall are two large buildings erected by Mr. Thomas Shaw and Manager Wilson of the Academy. These were both in course of construction but will be completed this morning. To the west and northwest of the art hall are large tents in which are displayed agricultural implements and farm machinery, buggies, poultry, etc. North of the hall in the center is the merry-go-round. To the east of the art hall, there is a line of 17 tents extending from north to south in which are museums, shows, etc. The orphans home have their headquarters on the grounds southeast of the art hall. The secretary's headquarters are located a short distance from the latter.

The stalls which are occupied by the race horses are all located on the new ground, a space of ten acres which has been added to the grounds this year. "The race horses on the grounds are the finest field of horses ever seen outside of the gates of the celebrated Williams track in Independence, Ia.," so remarked a well known horseman yesterday. The horses are here from every part of the Union and the excellent races will be the chief feature of the fair.

Large herds of fine cattle were leisurely grazing on the grounds yesterday. One elegant herd of shorthorns were brought in by Harvey of Joplin, Mo., yesterday. Berry, the well known breeder of swine, has as beautiful a lot of Berkshires on the ground as ever delighted the eyes of a lover of fine animals. Flocks of magnificent sheep of various varieties came in yesterday.

Press headquarters were established yesterday in the tent hard by the secretary's office, which is in charge of Mr. Volk, who has a cordial welcome and a good word for all members of the fraternity who call. No horse racing came off yesterday. Four good races are on the program for today. As will be seen the amounts are large. The races will be for blood and full of interest. The track is in excellent condition and today promises to be a great opening day. To the seating capacity of the grand stand, which will comfortably seat 5,000 persons, there have been added new seats, forming an amphitheatre around the track, from which a good view can be had of the entire track. A number of dining halls and lunch counters are on the grounds. The W. R. C. have a large and spacious building in which they serve hot coffee, lunch and complete hot meals. The ladies are earnest in the work and are laboring hard to succeed. Near this is the dining hall of Mrs. John Martin who attends to the wants of the inner man with delicious sandwiches, hot coffee and dinners. The ladies of the Entre Nous society have erected a good-sized booth, from the top of which flutters a flag bearing the legend, "The Entre Nous; for Sweet Charity's Sake." These ladies are doing their work for a laudable purpose, and should be encouraged by the patronage of the people. They have for sale nice fresh sandwiches, hot coffee, besides everything that is good to eat. A lot of the edibles were donated by merchants and others and the money which is gotten by the sale of the same, is given for charitable purposes. This booth is located southwest of the art hall, near the grand stand. The Eagle band under the direction of Mr. J. H. Hobbs were on the grounds yesterday. They were attired in bright and gay uniforms and discoursed lively and sweet music during the afternoon. The band is the best in the state outside of Marshall's military band, so it is said, and it is worth the trouble of coming from a distance to hear them. Today is a great day and is the first of a number of great days. The race program is as follows: 1. Trotting, foals, 1:30 to 1:50. 2. Trotting, 2:30 to 3:00. 3. Pacing, 3:30 to 4:00. 4. Running, 1 mile dash, 4:30 to 5:00.

REPUBLICAN MEETING. The Republican club of Delano township held an enthusiastic meeting last Thursday night at the Petersons school house. The Delano Republicans are wide awake and in earnest this year and are determined that the township shall fall back to the Republican columns by next November. Some of the Alliance Republicans have already returned to their first love and there are others in the township under conviction, "almost persuaded" to retrace their errand steps. Mr. W. A. Carlin, Republican candidate for county clerk, and J. S. Carson were present from Wichita. Mr. Carson addressed the meeting for one hour and a quarter, upon the issues of the day comparing the condition and growth of the country under the last 15 years of Republican rule with the last 15 years of showing the degree of taxation per capita to be 24 per cent, while in England during the same time it has increased 10 per cent, per capita. Mr. Carlin was called for and made a few timely remarks, setting forth the necessity of keeping up the party organization. Mr. Martin also addressed the meeting, showing that the Alliance party was the result of a social condition of the country which had its origin in Europe and was not due to any party organization at all. The club adjourned to meet at the O. K. school house Oct. 6th.

THE SCHEME DISCOVERED. The city jail has been built for a number of years now and needs a new floor the old one having become very badly worn and rotted. In one place it had rotted clear through but as a heavy iron plate covered the floor about it it was thought of and nothing was done about it. About 10 o'clock last night Captain Bedford Wood telephoned in to the station that he had learned of a scheme that was to be worked to free a few of the prisoners and for the turkey to investigate the matter and to look particularly at this hole in the floor. Upon investigation it was found that this iron plate had been pried loose, the hole enlarged enough for a man to squeeze through and every man awake as if waiting for the proper time. Their work had been nicely covered with a blanket and had it not been for some "friend" of Woods' some of the prisoners would have made their escape. There can be no doubt but that some one on the outside was interested in the case, for tools must have been passed in to the prisoners and before they could get out from under the building a lot of rock would have to be moved. It didn't work, however, and every one of them were locked in cells for the night.

UNITED STATES COURT. No business was done during the morning session of this court owing to the absence of witnesses, but the most interesting case of the term in from the Oklahoma country and from the late home land of Saxawatonic, it took but a short time during the afternoon session to empanel a jury for the case of the United States vs. J. B. George, charged with assaulting with intent to kill one John Ford on the 23 day of November 1887. The difficulty occurred just before one of the local elections over a political question. United States District Attorney Ady represented the prosecution, while Mr. George was ably defended by Mr. McNeenan of this city and Colonel T. W. Johnson of Oklahoma City. The case being given to the jury a verdict of assault and battery was returned without them leaving the room. The sentence was $20 and costs.

C. I. S. C. A preliminary meeting of the Epworth C. I. S. C. was held at the residence of the president, Mr. C. F. Coffin, last evening. The Sunflower Circle and the West Side Circle were represented by their respective presidents, Mrs. R. Platt, Hon. R. E. Lawrence and a number of the members. A masterly address was delivered by Mr. Coffin, in which he presented the idea of the Epworth C. I. S. C. with much inspiration and exhortation to earnest endeavor for a broader outlook. An interesting resume of a summers outing was given by Miss Anna Mason, whose graphic word pictures pleased and benefited all. Miss Ruth Woody recited a selection entitled "Platonic," with much ease and grace. The program closed with an interesting paper on James Russell Lowell, by Professor E. S. McMichael. Nearly one hundred persons were present. The Epworth circle now has enrolled fifty-six members, and the prospect for this year's work is most encouraging.

A POINTER FOR FARMERS. Here is a pointer for some if not many of the farmers of southern Kansas, who will be attending the fair this week. LeRoy Scott of Union township, Sedgewick county has seventy acres of wheat already far enough advanced to make good pasture. A great majority of the farmers of south Kansas have their wheat yet to sow.

WOMAN'S COUNCIL. Mrs. Grubb will speak on Wednesday at the fair grounds at 10 o'clock. Subject: "Gate-keepers of the Nation." Societies in charge of woman's headquarters. Tuesday—King's Daughters, Reformed church, Baptist Mission Circle. Wednesday—Children's home, E. S. A., W. C. T. U. Thursday—Hypatia, Central Christian church, Ladies' Benevolent Home. Friday—Wichita hospital, Guild, Home Missionary, M. E.

BURGLARY. Last Saturday while Mrs. John Hagerman of South Mead avenue was up town consulting a physician, her house was forced open and ransacked from kitchen to garret. Dressers and cupboards were torn up, valises cut into strips, trunks of all that was taking as far as possible, were some razors. Something like $10 was hid by Mrs. Hagerman somewhere in the house but the burglars failed to find it. As were all the others, this burglary was committed while the center of attraction was on the principle streets.

THE EAGLE BAND. The Eagle Band is making the music for the Southern Kansas Fair association this week and incidentally for the town. This is a new organization, but for the most part of accomplished musicians, so they were not to say energetic. The band is a delightful sight of right of energetic fashion. People will still enjoy the music and every body will follow the band to the fair. The organization complimented the EAGLE with a serenade last evening which was listened to by many passersby and street loungers also. Here's to our musical namesake.

It is estimated that over 5,000 strangers were in the city last evening. Every train brings in large numbers of visitors to attend the great Southern Kansas fair. Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Newcomb take great pleasure and pride in announcing to their many friends the arrival at their home of a bouncing boy, the event having taken place Sept. 25.

Mr. Chas. H. Finch, representing Conan Brothers of Toledo, O., furniture dealers, is in the city. He is here to superintend the work of putting the furniture into the new city building. Mr. C. A. Hyde, representing Beahr Brothers Piano company of New York is in the city. Mr. Hyde states that his business this year in this state is very much better than it has been for years.

The district court has discharged the jurors of this term until Nov. 9, when work will be resumed. Occasionally business may be brought up before the judge will be considered. The ladies of the Entre-Nous society have erected a booth on the fair grounds, and are ready to feed the hungry multitude during the fair. As the money thus collected is all devoted to charitable purposes, we have no doubts they will be successful in their laudable enterprise.

Workmen are still at work on the street railroad track to the fair grounds. The switches have been lengthened so that trains of four cars can pass easily. A new wire has been put up to furnish more power. The track is in excellent condition. Mr. Harry Sheppard returned Sunday from a business and pleasure trip to Indianapolis and St. Louis. He reports a very pleasant time during his short vacation. Mr. Sheppard states that business in the east is reviving as in this state.

Some boys on South Water street were shooting off firecrackers last night, being the means of frightening a horse so as to occasion a serious runaway. The horse, which was attached to a buggy, was stopped before any damage was done. General Yardmaster Maiby of the Santa Fe informs his friends that it is a boy-arrived last night and weighs ten pounds. The usual number of cigars necessary on such an occasion are being passed around among the fair ground friends.

J. W. Stallard, staff correspondent of the Kansas City Times, and G. A. W. Bone, also representing the Times, are in the city for the purpose of doing the southern Kansas fair. The gentlemen made their first observation to the EAGLE last night. S. H. Oliver of Kiowa, and J. H. Wheat of Medicine Lodge, both staunch Barber county Republicans, are attending the United States court, one as a juror and the other as a witness. They called in company with Jim Dobson, who is Republican nominee for sheriff in Jerry Simpson's strong hold.

An alarm of fire was turned in from the corner of Douglas and Topeka avenues last evening about 7 o'clock. The fire companies responded promptly but the fire, which had sprung up in the building formerly occupied by the Kansas Furniture company by the explosion of a gas-line stove, was extinguished before the companies arrived. On Friday it rained in central western Kansas in many places. On Saturday evening it commenced raining at Kingman and continued until daylight Sunday morning. Rain fell at Cheney from midnight Saturday until daylight but from Goddard eastward to this city no rain fell until the city was reached when it rained Sunday morning and Monday morning.

Russell & Co., of Maxwell, O., have shipped a beautiful traction engine, separator, water tank, grain measure and straw stacker to show at the fair. The exhibit is in charge of J. E. Dewitt, general agent, and James Campbell, engineer, both of St. Joe. They steamed up yesterday afternoon and went to the grounds, taking with them about twenty Studebaker wagons and carts. It made quite a procession.

Prof. Orlo J. Law, of Guthrie, who is up attending the South Kansas Fair, dropped in yesterday. He is quite enthusiastic over all that Oklahoma is and all that it promises to be. The first steps have been taken at Guthrie for the founding of a university, some of the departments of which will be opened in a few weeks and with which he will be identified. Prof. Law came to Wichita some years ago but went into the Territory when first opened.

AMUSEMENTS. BRYAN BROTHERS DANCING ACADEMY.

Yesterday the Beebe-Barbour company was unknown to Wichita. This morning the hundreds who witnessed their initial performance last evening at the Grand opera house, the variety being the pound puppy, and grew on his place on East Oak street. The apple dropped from the tree on Sunday, Sept. 27th. Since the middle of summer it has rested in a sling which he constructed for it, the twig upon which it grew not being strong enough to support it. It is a monster weighing over a pound and a half and shows what Kansas soil can do in the way of fruit.

CHANCE IN CARE SERVICE. College Hill cars will run regular 30 minute service, commencing on the hour Riverside regular half hour service. Topeka avenue—30 minute service to packing house and 40 minute service to Burton.

The ladies of this committee that cannot come every day are expected to send a substitute to work in their place. Please all come and help us for sweet charity's sake, Committee. Her company is an exceptionally fine one and includes Mr. Will Manderville, late principal comedian of "The Little Tycoon." Mr. Joe Carstern, for many years a star, Mr. William N. Griffith, Mr. Gerald Griffin, Mr. Edgar S. Halseid, Mr. Marcus Moriarty, Miss Grace Gayler Clark, Miss Corrie Francis, Miss Fannie E. Jacobs and others.

The annual reunion of the ex-soldiers and soldiers of Kansas is to commence in Ellsworth on Tuesday next week. Careful arrangements have been made to care for everybody and it will be the most complete reunion in the history of Kansas. A large number of the members of the U. S. A. R. will have been in Ellsworth of next week, Oct. 7, over the Kansas Midland (Price) railway, that company having completed arrangements to run regular trains each way and return the following day. We bespeak much enthusiasm, hearty friendship and a "page" of fun.
