A FATAL RIDE. A TERRIBLE WRECK A FEW MILES SOUTH OF THE CITY.

Three Men Dead and Two Wounded. The Engine Leaves the Track While Running at a Terrible Speed—The Dead are Frank Malby, Phil Reamer and John C. Wade.

Death had a great harvest in this vicinity yesterday. This all-destroying angel swooped down with merciless fury and without warning or notice made three widows, and nine orphans and sent three souls to the great unknown beyond.

The cause of all this was the wreck. It was the same old widow and orphan maker. The story is as follows: At noon, yesterday, news came to Wichita that a cattle train had been wrecked on the Santa Fe road south of Derby.

To assist in clearing it away a crew was made up in this city, and an engine and a material car was sent out there. Those who accompanied them were Phil Reamer, engineer; John C. Wade, fireman; Frank Malby, yardmaster; A. Stabler, James Martin and J. F. Young, switchmen.

When about two miles north of Derby the engine left the track and after running 300 yards or so on the ties it turned over and fell on the east side of the track. All but Stabler who were in the cab of the engine were injured. At the instant they were turned over they jumped for their lives.

When the train reached Kellogg street it stopped and four stout men bore the suffering Reamer to his home at the corner of Kellogg and Fourth avenue. His wife was distracted with grief, and when he saw her condition he demonstrated great nervousness of mind by shouting out in a merry tone of voice that he was worth six dead men yet. This cheered her, but it was only for a short time, for in less than an hour he was dead.

DISASTROUS ALLIANCE WORK. Their Vicious Legislation Keeps a Million Dollars Out of This Vicinity.

Messrs. Turnley and Seppings, of Rannings, were in the city yesterday for the purpose of attending a meeting of the directors of the Wichita and El Paso Railroad company and making a statement of their work during their recent visit to England in the interest of the proposed road referred to.

An EAGLE reporter called on Messrs. Turnley and Seppings at the Hotel Carey last night and held a brief interview with them. "I am very sorry to say," said Mr. Seppings, who was spokesman, "that the legislation of the Alliance legislature of Kansas blocked the enterprises when we had attained complete success in raising the money in England to build not only the road but to inaugurate and build up certain other important enterprises."

No arrangements, so far as heard from last night, had been made for an inquest but it is likely the railroad men will demand an investigation of some kind. No funeral arrangements had been made last night and the bodies will probably not be buried till Wednesday.

Wild rumors were on the street when the news of the fatal wreck first came that Superintendent Parsons was in the wreck and was killed, and as a result there was great excitement. Mr. Parsons was not in the wreck although he was down there doing everything he could in the matter.

The eighth semi-annual reunion of the various bodies of the A. A. Scottish Rite Masonry "working in the valley of Wichita, Kan.," assembled in the splendid cathedral of the order last evening under the most favorable auspices. The attendance was good and all the gentlemen, both those and visiting members, were in the best of spirits.

Hon. John H. Brown, the pastor of Free-masonry, was down from his home in Kansas City, Kan., and looked as natural as ever. Mr. Brown has been the secretary of the various Masonic bodies in Kansas for decades, and the oldest Mason in the state cannot remember when he was not an active member of the craft.

Those who took the degrees last night were J. D. Pifer, a prominent citizen of Wellington, Peter Miller of Kingman, Commanant E. P. Goode of this city, J. S. Long of Coffeyville, W. T. Stevens of Mays, J. K. Sawyer of Wichita, J. L. Wells of the extensive wholesale supply house of Coffeyville, B. B. Cushman of Wichita, J. W. O'Neill, superintendent of the Citizens' Electric Light company, and E. B. Beach of this city.

The balance of their program for today can be found under the head of announcements. Rev. Thomas Penick, the most popular minister in Wellington and perhaps in the entire southwest was in the city yesterday looking over the city with a view to establishing headquarters here for pushing forward and extending his office.

The program for tonight's reception is gymnasium class from 8 to 9, addresses by Rev. David Winters and C. F. Coffin Esq., on exercise of brain and brain, refreshments at 9 o'clock, and a social gathering at 9:30. The board of directors will meet for a few minutes after the gymnasium class, and addresses to appoint delegates to the tenth annual state convention which will convene at Parsons tomorrow night.
