AN OLD LANDMARK GONE.
A telephone message to the EAGLE yesterday from Wellington brought the sad intelligence of the death of Isaac N. King of that city who died yesterday morning surrounded by a fond wife and four loving children, of pneumonia, provoked by a gripe. He was in his forty-first year but owing to lung troubles of many years standing he looked much older.

BOOK RECEIPTS POSTPONED.
On account of the continued bad weather the book reception which was to be given at the Wichita university this Tuesday evening has been postponed until one week from tonight, March 22.

GOOD FOR THE CROPS.
One of the heaviest snows for years fell in this city yesterday.
One of the heaviest snows that have fallen in several years fell in this city yesterday. About 4 o'clock in the morning a sleet began falling and an hour later the sleet was succeeded by snow which kept pouring down for twenty consecutive hours. Old timers say it is one of the largest one-day snow-falls in the history of Wichita. It made things disagreeable for the town folks, but nobody regretted that it occurred, for it will be of incalculable value to the farmers of Sedgewick county. It will furnish a sufficient amount of moisture to prevent a drought, at least. The farmers who ventured into town rejoiced over it and expressed themselves as decidedly of the opinion that with the two or three good big rains that preceded it a big wheat crop is assured. The street car tracks were blocked for a part of the day, but by hard work they were cleared before night, and in some parts of the system cars were running steadily, but slowly, of course all the afternoon. The train made good time considering the weather, and only a few of them were late. Reports were received from various places throughout the state, which indicated that the snow was general throughout the west.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.
Five or six hundred people are praying that Tuesday will not be a day as yesterday was and they are depending on St. Patrick to intercede for them to that end. It is an old saying that St. Patrick's Day is always wet whenever a celebration is held, but it is the hope of hundreds, whether they believe in old sayings or not, that the coming St. Patrick's Day will be an exception to the rule. The weather is not so much as it was yesterday, but it is an old saying that St. Patrick's Day is always wet whenever a celebration is held, but it is the hope of hundreds, whether they believe in old sayings or not, that the coming St. Patrick's Day will be an exception to the rule. A HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE.
The home of Ike Dean in Waco town-ship was totally destroyed by fire on Saturday evening, March 13, and his wife and two children were saved. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock and the flames were discovered bursting through the roof. As luck would have it his two little children were in a neighbors, otherwise they might have been caught in the flames. Nothing of importance was saved except some of the furniture by the neighbors. The home was a fine one, and the family treasures were all destroyed. Mr. Dean says he feels that he was lucky in that the baby and its sister had left the house. The property was insured for about 40 per cent of its value.

UNITED STATES COURT.
The United States court convened again yesterday morning and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the court was held, consisting chiefly of jurors, witnesses and lawyers. In the forenoon V. W. Robinson pleaded guilty to sending obscene matter through the mails while Thomas Brown pleaded guilty to selling liquor in Oklahoma without a license. It was a technical violation of the law which Brown was charged with. He was fined $100 and committed to jail for the term of one month.

WE BEAT 'EM ALL
On Quality and Price.
Pounding away is what tells. People realize now that we do that which is just and honest toward all classes of people. We boldly assert that no other Clothing House on this continent can show such unlimited inducements. With an adequate capital to work with. With ability to properly employ it. With hydraulic pressure behind it. We shall forever stand head and shoulders above all competition.

FROM WESTERN KANSAS.
Mr. L. Sims of Dodge City, Kan., is here attending the U. S. court. Mr. Sims is an influential and old time resident of western Kansas, and came to Ford county eight years ago. He is engaged in the wholesale and retail flour, feed and coal business, besides being an extensive ranch owner. His stock market is in the city, and the business is now improving. The wheat is looking very fine in Ford and a number of the adjoining counties. There are no flies or anything which will interfere with the maturity of the wheat, a fact which makes farmers happy, business with the merchants better, and an advance in the price of farm lands. The prospect is fully two hundred per cent better in western Kansas today than it was one year ago. The wheat acreage in these counties is 300 per cent greater than last year.

WICHITA UNIVERSITY ITEMS.
President E. T. Mathers left last night for Cheney, Kan., to deliver one of his lectures in the interest of the university. All friends of the university are cordially invited to attend the book reception next Tuesday evening. The university street car will make connection with the Douglas avenue line regularly during the evening. Next Wednesday morning the spring term will open, and classes will be organized to accommodate all new students who may enter at that time.

EX-GOVERNOR ST. JOHN.
John P. St. John, ex-governor of Kansas and a Prohibitionist of considerable fame, spoke in Garfield hall last night according to a previous announcement. Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather he drew a large audience, every seat in the hall being filled. Of course many of them came out in the evening. The balance of the audience consisted of Republicans, Democrats, Alliance and Prohibitionists.

Col. E. C. Cole of Kingfisher, Oklahoma, is in the city a few days attending the United States court. Colonel Cole is not as stout as he used to be by sixty or seventy-five pounds owing to bad health during the past fall and winter, but is on the up grade to health again now. He reports the condition of Kingfisher in excellent condition, with many immigrants coming there waiting for the opening of the Cheyenne country which event is expected to occur about the middle of next month.

THE KEELEY INSTITUTE OF KANSAS.
Will open an institute for the treatment of drunkenness and the opium habit at the Second ward, on Wednesday the 16th. This company now has five institutes in the state. Another state in the union has so many. The Keeley company of Kansas has the exclusive right to operate under the Leslie E. Keeley system and use the Keeley remedies in the state of Kansas. Up to this time 35,000 men have taken the Keeley treatment and the bi-chemical gold club, an organization composed of men who have taken the treatment, show that only five per cent of the cases cured have relapsed. The institute at Winfield is designed to take care of all cases in the southern portion of Kansas, and is in fact bringing the treatment to the patients to obviate the travel and expense of going to the northern part of the state for it. The prospect is that the institute will start out well as a large number of prospective patients from Wichita and elsewhere have declared their intention of going to Winfield as soon as the institute opens. See business announcement elsewhere in this issue.

Mr. Warren D. Wentz of Geneva, N.Y.
Tells of His Fearful Sufferings After Gastric Fever and His Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla
All who know Mr. W. D. Wentz give him the best of recommendations for honesty and integrity. For many years he has worked for Mr. D. P. Wilson, the harness maker and member of the Geneva Board of Health. He says:
'I was taken sick last October with gastric fever and my chance for recovery was considered almost hopeless. After 7 weeks my fever slowly left me, but I could not eat the simplest food without terrible distress. It seemed that I had recovered from the fever but I had not.
Die of Starvation
I took peptic compounds, stomach, charcoal, cod liver oil and malt until my physician confessed that his skill was about exhausted and he advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Everything I took seemed like pouring molasses lead into my stomach. I had been told that it was a good thing to try Hood's Sarsaparilla that had been in the house for two or three years, that had had no beneficial use previously for dyspepsia. I began taking it and soon began to feel better. I have now taken a little over two bottles and can truthfully say I feel well again and can eat anything without distressing me even to which I have been unable to touch for years. The English language does not contain words to permit me to express the praise I wish to give to Hood's Sarsaparilla.'
Pie and Cheese
