THAT CYCLONE.

The city was excited yesterday over the possibility of a tornado visiting it.

He demonstrated by scientific means that the conditions for a tornado were present.

He gave them no encouragement with reference to the possibility of the storm, but showed clearly that it was not probable.

TOWANDA SUFFERERS.

Two more deaths reported from There—The Relief fund swelling.

Two more deaths occurred at Towanda as a result of Thursday night's tornado.

They are Mr. Westcott and Baby Hall. These make a total of eight deaths up to date with one or two more in a critical condition.

Sunday hosts and legions of people visited the scene of devastation and ruin and many of them followed the suggestions of the EAGLE and carried with them some luxuries to the sufferers.

An excursion train left here, but all the people who wanted to go over could not get accommodations, and many of them were compelled to return from the depot disappointed.

Nothing has yet been done to clear away the wreckage. The city is still covered with the debris of its own ruins, and the relic hunters are the only persons who have done anything to clear away the piles of timber which is strewn over the town.

Everybody who visits the little city brings something away. Pieces of broken furniture are the most popular relics, and all ready to take home as soon as they can get a chair, that would make a dozen chairs, and, strange to say, everybody who holds a piece insists that it was taken by his own hand from the chair Blake was sitting in when he got killed.

A copy of the Towanda Herald also is a very popular relic. That the very close interest in the circulation of the Herald there is no doubt, for they are strewn about the town in every direction.

The tornado struck the town after the papers had left the press. It may be considered a striking coincidence that the Herald contained a sharp joke on another town in connection with the present situation.

That occurred there, and before the ink was dry a wind storm had swept itself out of existence.

The good people of Wichita are still contributing money and clothing for the sufferers. The city council has extended their use of the city hospitals without expense, and will do all it is possible to do to administer to their comfort as long as they stay here until they choose to accept the hospitality of the Peerless Princesses.

The Wichita Board of Trade, as has been seen in another column, has done handsomely for them in the line of relief funds, and the good work still goes on.

The ladies are still active collecting clothing and forwarding it to the sufferers as promptly as possible.

The EAGLE'S fund increased materially since Sunday when over $200 had been collected. The latest donors to the fund are as follows:

Table listing donors and amounts: Mrs. H. H. ... $50, J. R. ... $100, etc.

The Knight Investment company has also taken in a good many subscriptions which was intended to be added to the above list, but the names could not be ascertained last night.

Those who have not contributed should come forward at once, as the sufferers are needing all they can possibly get.

IMPORTANT CITY FIGURES.

The EAGLE is in receipt of the annual report of the city clerk showing the department expenses of the city government for the years 1910, 1911 and 1912.

It is an interesting document and well worthy the personal of every tax payer. It is as follows:

Table of city expenses: STREET DEPARTMENT, POLICE DEPARTMENT, FIRE DEPARTMENT, WATER RENTALS, SALARIES, ELECTRIC STREET LIGHT, GAS STREET LIGHT, VAPOR STREET LIGHT, LEGAL EXPENSES, HOSPITALS, SCALES, ELECTIONS, PUBLIC HEALTH, BUILDING AND RENTS, FRANCHISES AND LICENSES, CURBING AND GUTTERS, SEWERS, PUBLIC PARKS, RAILROADS, SIDEWALKS.

Mr. A. R. Ford of Wyandotte spent yesterday in the city and called at the EAGLE office to pay his respects and that a few minutes on politics and business.

Mr. Ford is candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state and feels very much encouraged at the prospect of his success.

He is an excellent gentleman and one whom it is a pleasure to meet. His successful career notwithstanding, he does not seem to be quench a politician in the common sense of the term; on the contrary he looks to be a bright and conservative business man, which he really is.

He is delighted with what he saw of Wichita and left last night, bearing in his heart cherished memories of his first visit here.

When the news of the predicted cyclone spread yesterday afternoon, a man in the southern part of town rushed to the store and got several hundred yards of wire, fastening the ends with pegs. After this he got several buckets of water and went into the house, locked the doors and waited for the wrath of the storm to come.

THE BOARD OF TRADE ACTS.

The executive committee of the board of trade met yesterday. It was found that the fund for the relief of the Towanda sufferers had reached the sum of $333.

Mr. N. C. Knight was elected treasurer, and to him all further contributions of cash will be made.

A committee of three gentlemen, consisting of A. W. Oliver, Charles Smythe and N. C. Knight, was appointed who will go to Towanda to confer with the relief committee to ascertain what is most needed by the sufferers.

The soliciting committee of the board of trade report that every person that was asked to contribute made some donation. It was the disposition of every one to give something to the relief of these stricken people.

The amount collected by the board of trade does not include the money raised by the churches nor the EAGLE fund. Probably over $1,000 has been raised in cash money already.

Persons who desire to subscribe to the board of trade fund will please leave their contributions with N. C. Knight, at the office of the Knight Investment company.

A FINE TREAT. The oratorical contest to be given tomorrow night under the auspices of Dr. Hoss' class at the Y. M. C. A. building promises to be a grand affair and one which will be full of interest to those who are fond of intellectual contests.

The general Dr. Hoss is making extensive preparations and those who fail to attend will miss a treat. The doctor is doing a great work in the development of the oratorical powers of the young men of this section of the state and he should be encouraged, for there is no doubt but what many of the great Kansas speakers of the next generation will be indebted to him for their achievements in the forum and on the platform and pulpit.

AN OLD CITIZEN GONE. Professor F. H. Harper of this city retired the sad news yesterday of the death and burial of one of Wichita's old residents, and one of his most intimate friends, Professor W. D. Jacobs. He has been a sufferer from asthma for several years. He resigned his position of principal of a business college in Texas for the purpose of traveling to regain his health, but his health never improved and he finally decided to return home. He died at his residence at 10:30 p. m. last night. He was 78 years of age. He was a devoted christian, a great Y. M. C. A. worker, and was dearly loved by all. He was the highest type of manhood.

Ex-Senator John Kelley has returned from the Cheyenne and Arapahoe country, having completed his work there as United States allotting agent. He reports all the townsite established and thinks the country will be declared open by the 15th inst. The Indians were allotted according to their local subdivisions, the chief being given the first choice and his people given the lands surrounding him. The Indians of course have taken the best lands, but still there is excellent land left. Eighteen Cheyennes of North Dakota came down and accepted their allotments.

A communication from the Kansas Medical society asking for quarters in the new city building to hold their state meeting in and without motion the mayor tendered them his quarters.

Mr. Munson of the Lombard Mortgage company, asking for permission to move a frame building into premises embraced in the fire limits, and on motion the matter was referred to the fire commission, who have held their meeting at 10:30 p. m. last night.

Dr. St. John made a report concerning the Towanda sufferers and detailed the work done by the physicians of Wichita in their behalf at the request of the mayor.

Mr. Mosbacher moved that the council tender the Towanda sufferers the hospitals of the city, and that when children are the sufferers their mothers or friends be allowed to accompany them, all at the expense of the city. The motion was carried unanimously.

There will be a grand benefit at the Crawford Grand tonight given by the Wichita home ministers. By the rehearsal last night it appears to be even better than their best performance.

The first part will be given with the elegant fountain and the stage filled with flowers will make a fine appearance from the front. There will be all new specialties, new songs, new dances, and everything entirely different. Those who wish to show will not only see a good performance, but will be adding the poor ones who are now suffering from the effect of the terrific cyclone on last Thursday.

The boys have consented to give 20 per cent of the gross receipts to them. Their grand street parade will leave the Crawford Grand at 11:45 sharp, and march through the principal streets. If clear they will be marching with their bands. There will be two drum majors and Hove's K. of P. band will play for them. Tickets are on sale at the principal places. It is requested that the audience be seated by 8:15 sharp, as the program is quite lengthy, thus enabling those living any distance to get home at a reasonable hour.

Walter Ellis of South Main street was refusing yesterday over the arrival of a five year old baby boy at his residence which he intends naming after Governor A. J. Nease of Oklahoma. The boy was born on Sunday morning and lacked just one day of arriving on the third birthday of his little sister. It had not been long yet, both their birthdays would come together and the same stick of candy would do for both of them as a birthday present.

Mrs. T. B. Simpson and son of West City, who have been spending a short visit at the home of her mother-in-law on South Emporia, has returned home.
