Miss Rena Walling, who will lecture in this city soon, is the daughter of Dr. Walling, the well-known reform editor of the Caldwell Journal. Miss Rena is a bright young lady, and in this age of feminine progress she is bound to make her mark.

A social will be given by the ladies of the W. C. T. U., at the residence of Mrs. W. H. Wonderly, 237 South Lawrence avenue tonight. Everybody is cordially invited to attend and enjoy a good social time. No refreshments.

The Eagle's answer to the "kicker" is the one performance given in a church the other in an opera house—the rent of one being nothing, the other $100. Besides the performance here is in the interest of a lecture course that is running behind.

The lady eulogist, Miss R. Walling, will appear at the Central Christian church next Monday evening, accompanied by Wichita's best musical talent. Miss Walling comes highly recommended by the best musicians of this and other cities. Everybody is invited to attend.

A program was received yesterday from Dr. I. T. Gabbert of Caldwell of the festivities to be held there tonight in honor of the visit of Dr. Frank Swallen, head physician of the Moody Woodmen of America in that city. The doctor will make an address, Miss Rena Walling will give a recitation and Dr. Gabbert will deliver the reeditions.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING.

Many indications that the Holiday Season is Near at Hand.

A large number of people from surrounding towns were in the city yesterday shopping. Evidences of Christmas purchases were on every hand.

On a street car yesterday coming down town were half a dozen young ladies going shopping. The fact that they were going shopping was easily learned.

What a different scene was witnessed on the other side of the street. A lady poorly dressed, evidently a widow, was talking to the lady beside her about Christmas presents...

The stores are all filled with holiday goods, attractively displayed and the merchants are enjoying a good trade, although the rush is never expected until the last two or three days before Christmas.

The charitably inclined people of the city and Wichita has many of them—are already looking about them to see whether needed kindness can be extended at the season of the year when all hearts should be glad and many a poor stricken child, who now looks longingly into the windows of the well filled shops, will not be forgotten when Santa Claus arrives.

OFFICIAL SCHOOL BOARD PROCEEDINGS.

The board of education met in special session on Dec. 15, 1892, at 4 o'clock p. m. with President Van Noy in the chair.

The members present when the roll was called were: Messrs. Ward, Van Warden, Van Noy, Pezzel, Allison, Dr. Davis, Cole, and E. A. Davis.

The president stated that the meeting had been called for the purpose of determining the length of the holiday vacation, and to consider the matter of paying the teachers and janitors before Christmas, and for the consideration of unpaid bills.

Mr. F. A. Davis, seconded by Mr. Ward, moved that the schools close on Friday, Dec. 23, 1892, and reopen on Jan. 2, 1893. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Davis moved, seconded by Mr. Allison, that all employees of the board receive pay for the three weeks of December preceding Christmas, and that on the following payday said employees receive pay for the week of January carried.

The unpaid bills were called up by the president. Mr. Campbell reported that the bills of the Keith & Perry Coal company and the Eno Furniture company had been properly paid and allowed, but that the committee on heating and ventilation were unable to report on the bill of G. W. Bennett for the reason that they had not had time to examine it.

On motion of Mr. Ward, seconded by Mr. Van Warden, the bill was ordered paid. On motion the board adjourned.

UP AT VALLEY CENTER.

VALLEY CENTER, Kan., Dec. 14, 1892. Editor Daily Eagle.

The people of our city were last night treated to an entertainment by Miss Olga Street of your city, and it would be an injustice to the young lady to pass unmentioned such an evening of pleasure as she afforded us.

Although the evening was cold and roads very bad, a good audience greeted her and the opinion is general that this was the best entertainment of the kind ever given in our city.

It is stated on good authority that Mr. Dadieman, father of Ike Dadieman, will be the next custodian of the county band.

ALMOST A FIRE.

What might have proven a very disastrous fire was prevented by being discovered in good time.

The Boston store were closing up yesterday evening some trimmings in the rear end of the dry goods department were found to be on fire. The spot caught fire in the chimney and falling into a defective pan started the wall paper into a blaze...

A PITIABLE CASE.

Something Should Be Done in the Interest of Alice McCormack.

During the past week or two there has been a young woman in the city named Alice McCormack whose condition is certainly sad enough to appeal to the heart of somebody who has the power to assist her...

While she affords merriment to many and is not especially obnoxious yet the streets and public houses of Wichita are not places for her considering her weakness and she should be taken care of by all means by the authorities.

She claims she has friends at Newton, but if she has they either do not care for her or else she is beyond their control. The latter is probably the case from all indications.

She was in the asylum once and it would be much better for her if she were there now. A large majority of those who know her treat her decently, because a large majority of the men of Wichita are decent, but there are some scamps in this town as well as everywhere else who have no respect for themselves or compassion and sympathy for the afflicted and unfortunate.

She should be cared for at once either public or private expense, for her condition is truly pitiable. More so than even the average man who knows her can estimate, unless he is thoroughly acquainted with her true condition.

H. TROVATORE TONIGHT.

Tonight "Il Trovatore" will be presented at the Crawford Grand. The sale of seats has been most satisfactory, and it is expected that one of the best seasons of the season will see this performance.

Everything is in readiness, and a first-class production will be given. Each person attending the opera will be presented with an elegant lithographed souvenir program. The cast, which is an exceptionally good one, will be well represented in a manner creditable to the musical profession.

In so amateur production could a better cast be secured than the principals in "Il Trovatore." Signor Baribini, who is recognized as a very fine voice trainer, has labored hard for the past four months and his efforts will certainly be well rewarded.

There is no doubt but that the production of Il Trovatore by these amateurs will surprise the public. Mr. Carey who takes the part of the Troubadour will sing his part in an elegant manner. The count, Mr. McClung sings his part to perfection and his singing will certainly be a success.

Ferrando, which part will be ably represented by Mr. Hamman will be a decided success. He possesses a rich basso voice. The parts of Leonora will be most satisfactorily represented by Mrs. Ewing, who is conceded by all to be a very fine soprano.

Mrs. Gibbons as the old gypsy sorceress will be immensely successful. Her voice is admirably adapted to her part. Miss Hazel Shell sings very sweetly and will represent the part of Inez in a most finished manner. The chorus consisting of forty trained voices will be the best ever heard in the city.

The men's chorus is an exceptionally strong one, and will be a big success. The curtain will raise promptly at 8:15 o'clock tonight, and the opera is quite long. This will positively be the only production of Il Trovatore in Wichita on account of the great expense for costumes and other incidentals.

The costumes have arrived and are very gorgeous and elegant. The gypsy costumes are quite picturesque. Some special scenery has been procured and those missing scenic Il Trovatore will certainly miss a rare treat.

PROFESSOR BLAKE'S ELEVENTH LECTURE.

Tonight the subject of the electrical lecture will be "Electrostatics." The syllabus or outline is here given: Electrification by Friction and Contact. Distribution of the Charge. Static Induction. Influence of the Dielectric. The Condenser. Leyden Jar. Farad.

Edison Smith Train Telegraphy. Disruptive discharge. Length of spark. Break and Glow discharge. Lightning stroke. Liechtenberg discharge. Oscillating discharge. Discharge in High Vacuum. Gessler Tube. Aurora Borealis. Radiant matter. Transference of electrical energy without wires.

The ether under electrostatic stress. High potentials with rapid alterations. Edison Thomson's Experiments. Nikola Tesla's Researches. Light without heat. Langley's experiments on phosphorescence.

No book contains such fresh and valuable matter on electricity as that offered by Professor Blake. There will be striking and vivid experiments illustrating the subject. Professor Blake gives but one more lecture besides this, and it is hoped that there will be a large and appreciative audience.

A NURSERY.

The Stoner Nursery Loan and Investment Company Organized and Chartered.

What is known as the Stoner Nursery Loan and Investment company has been organized in this city and is now fully equipped for business.

The Stoner Nursery, Loan and Investment company will sustain six departments to successfully prosecute its work to the interest of all, namely: First, wholesale department; second, retail department; third, mortgage department; fourth, crop department; fifth, investment department; sixth, spraying department.

Each of the above departments will be daily organized and systematized under their proper heads.

The rich, sandy soil of the Arkansas valley is peculiarly suited for the rapid growth of young trees, vines and plants. The salubrious climate of this section is unequalled for the propagation of nursery stock, which has been demonstrated, year after year.

The vast agricultural and horticultural region of which Wichita is the commercial metropolis, together with the fine shipping facilities to be attained here at Wichita with its railroads, radiating in all directions throughout Kansas and neighboring states and territories; all points to the profitable and permanent maintenance of such an organization as this.

Missouri and northwest Arkansas have demonstrated this in many possibilities of fruit growing compared with grain and stock raising. Western New York and California both owe their wealth and prosperity to this one industry.

They have not Kansas learn some valuable lessons from the study of the natural resources with which she has been so abundantly favored. The question arises, shall our people encourage home industries? such as are peculiarly suited to our environment, or shall they continue to send their money to the country for something that can be produced at home?

All interested in the welfare of our community will answer: "We have a helping hand for home industries, providing they are practical and profitable and under safe and conservative home management."

The practicability of this enterprise in the light of the foregoing undisputable facts and environments, none need to question.

The profit to investors of stock in this company is easily susceptible of demonstration to any one who will examine the facts and figures in all of the departments of a general nursery business.

The constitution and by-laws of the corporation is guaranteed by the terms of our charter and bylaws and the character of the men who are promoting the enterprise.

The capital stock of this company is placed by the terms of its charter at $50,000, divided into 5,000 shares at $10 each. The shares are placed at $10 each so that any man or woman of small capital can invest on equal terms with capitalists and business men of larger means.

This work up in the labor departments of the association, as their ability merits the same by promotion, as it is desired that stockholders fill these various appointments. Stockholders, by the terms of the constitution and by-laws, have all the advantages of owning nursery stock at the regular wholesale rate, of which catalogues and price lists will be issued each year. This alone should be sufficient inducement for farmers and others interested in planting trees, vines, etc.

This company cannot, by the terms of its constitution and by-laws, bond itself for a dollar, nor will it engage in any speculative enterprises outside of its alleged departments, and will work strictly within the limits of its capital. There will be returned to the stockholders, at least twice a year, sworn statements showing the financial condition of the company.

While proxies may be used in all other matters, of which management of the company, there must be a direct vote of stockholders to effect any change in the constitution and bylaws aforesaid, and any amendment proposed shall be submitted in full to all stockholders in the time for their consideration before voting on same. It is also agreed at the last meeting of its directors of this company that no money should be paid on subscription of stock until $25.00 of the capital stock is duly subscribed of which there are about $3,000 now subscribed. All subscribers will be furnished subscription sheets if they so desire to push the interests of the company as it is designed to put in 100-acre plant in the spring of 1893. It is especially desired to raise the minimum subscribed stock of $25,000 at once.

All wishing to avail themselves of the above advantage in subscribing to capital stock may call upon or address any of the officers of the company. It is desired to employ stockholders of this company in all departments of the business.

The officers of the company for the first year are as follows: President, C. L. Stoner; vice president, R. E. Lawrence; secretary, R. C. Sweeney; treasurer, Major E. R. Powell; attorney, P. A. Rohrbach. For further information concerning The Stoner Nursery Loan and Investment company call on or address any of the above.

Yesterday morning a solid-blood bay filly colt, eighteen months old, star in forehead, with slightly Roman nose, in fine condition, broke away from her stable on East Oak street.

She was last seen in the vicinity of Thirteenth street, going north. She is very gentle and a pet, and will lead by halter. Any person leaving information at the EAGLE office, or her return to Colonel Murdoch's home on Oak street, will be paid for the same.

QUARTERLY C. E. CONFERENCE.

At the Lincoln Street Presbyterian church the regular quarterly conference of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor met Wednesday night, the Oak Street Presbyterian, West Side Presbyterian, Plymouth Congregational and Dodge avenue societies were not represented in the conference, all the other societies of the local union having delegates in attendance.

The business session of the conference was long and interesting. At the preceding conference a special visitation committee was appointed to collect matter for a general report upon the condition, and especially the conduct of the business of individual societies. The chairman of this committee presented a synopsis of the full report that will be made. The synopsis deals particularly with recommendations as to improvements needed in the manner of conducting meetings and expediting business.

"We find," says the preliminary report, "much to encourage us, but of this we have not time to speak. It will be set out fully in our complete report. At this time we only make these suggestions:

The consideration of the relations between the Juniors and Seniors occupied the attention of the conference for some time. It was decided that the best way of bringing about more intimacy and fuller expression of sympathy is not by the meeting together of the branches, but by individual contact and conference of members. Rev. Lawrence, the superintendent of the United Presbyterian Junior society, the oldest Junior society in the city, gave a detailed explanation of some of the means used in that society for making the Junior Christian Endeavor successful in its objects.

The chairman of the committees on district and local union papers reported, and it is thought that within a week some definite arrangements will be made for the publication of a local union sheet. The feeling of need for such an aid is growing, and the prospect of having it soon is very gratifying to the union.

A meeting of the union, to be held in 1893, for the purpose of discussing the best means of pushing the work of temperance reform, especially in its relations to Wichita, was decided upon. Some of the societies that have not heretofore followed this line of work are being urged to do so, and it will be made the object of thought and work during the next year.

The reports of the officers show that Christian Endeavor work is progressing throughout the city. In the respective churches union assistance is being rendered by the organizations, and church membership is being increased by this means. The number of members of the different societies is also growing, there being now more than 600 Seniors on the rolls, and 200 Juniors. Financially the union is in fair condition, and the affairs of the individual societies are in the main very satisfactory.

Rhodes, Waters and Le Bacon, the parties from Oklahoma, who have been using their utmost endeavors to open a gambling house at this point, have finally succumbed to the inevitable and returned to their homes at El Reno. They have capitulated only temporarily, however, as they claim they, like Calhoun, will return again, when the new administration is inaugurated and will then do business if anything of that nature is permitted. They have a room fitted up and will leave every thing till Feb. 1st, when they will ask the same privilege as others enjoy.
