PENSION REFORM

RAUM AND BUSSEY REVERSED BY SECRETARY SMITH.

Disability Sufficient to Preclude Self-Support by Manual Labor Necessary to Secure Rating.

A Decision That Will Reduce the Annual Pension Disbursements From Fifteen to Twenty Millions of Dollars.

The Secretary's Interpretation of the Law of 1890 Concurred in by Commissioner Lochren and Attorney General Olney—A Chinese Restaurant Keeper Not Classed as a Laborer by the Department of Justice. General Notes.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Probably the most important pension decision ever sent from the office of the secretary of the interior to the commissioner of pensions was filed today. It is believed by those high in authority in the pension bureau that it will reduce the payment of pensions under the act of June 27, 1890, between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000.

The decision involves the repeal of the order issued by General Raum and approved by Assistant Secretary Bussey, and a return to the language of the statute, requiring disability not of service origin to be such as to prevent the applicant from earning support by manual labor. Secretary Smith has been considering the principles involved in this decision for several weeks, and submitted the question involved to the attorney general and to Judge Lochren, commissioner of pensions, both of whom concurred in the correctness of the decision.

The decision is in the case of one Bennett, who sought a pension under the old law, alleging that while in the service at Raleigh, N. C., he was protected by gunshot, which resulted in partial deafness in both ears. His application was denied on the ground that while the applicant had a slight deafness, as alleged, it was not of sufficient severity to warrant any rating. The testimony showed that Bennett could hear a watch tick at the distance of half an inch from the ear.

Bennett subsequently applied for and received a pension of $12 a month under the act of June 27, 1890. This act allows a pension ranging from $6 to $12 per month to ex-soldiers or sailors suffering from any disability of a permanent character not the result of their own vicious habits, and which incapacitates them from performing manual labor in such a degree as to render them unable to earn their support. Inability to earn support is therefore made the basis for allowance. During Commissioner Raum's administration an order was issued known as order No. 164, which directed that all claims for pensions under the act of June 27, 1890, should be rated the same as like disabilities of service origin, and that all cases showing personal disabilities of service origin which should be rated at or above $6 per month should be rated at $12 per month. The only requirement to obtain a pension under the law applicable to pensions of service origin is disability by reason of wounds received in the line of duty while in service and in the line of duty.

"Incapacity to perform manual labor," says Secretary Smith, "which is the foundation of the pension law, is the rating under the act of June 27, 1890, fixed an entirely different standard of disability from that first mentioned, contained in the Revised Statutes covering in part the service origin. When by order No. 164 it was declared that disabilities under the act of June 27, 1890, should be rated as of service origin the very principle which governs the rating under the act of June 27, 1890, was displaced, and a rule applicable to a different act was substituted. This case illustrates the effect of the departure by your bureau from the terms of the act of 1890. In a word, the act of June 27, 1890, was changed and superseded by order No. 164, as construed by your office, and by a practice that neglected to take into consideration the ability of an applicant to perform manual labor."

The decision is signed by John M. Reynolds, assistant secretary of the interior. Secretary Smith, in another communication to the commissioner of pensions, says that it is hardly necessary to present argument or to support by authority the proposition that the practice of the secretary of the interior, the commissioner of pensions can by order or practice supersede an act of congress, and he therefore directs that hereafter the practice of the office conform to the law.

APPOINTMENTS. WASHINGTON, May 27.—The president today made the following appointments: John R. Hiley of New York, consul general at Ottawa, Canada; Wendell A. Anderson of Wisconsin, consul at Montreal; Jacob Steyer of Massachusetts, secretary of legation and consul of the United States at Bogota, Columbia; John L. Thomas of Missouri, assistant attorney general of the postoffice department, vice James N. Tyner, resigned.

ADMITTED BY OLNEY. WASHINGTON, May 27.—Attorney General Olney has decided that Yang Han, a restaurant keeper, is not a laborer. Han, who is in business in New York City, went to China to visit. Upon his return he was refused admission on the ground that he was a laborer, and not a merchant, and the case was appealed to the attorney general.

EMIN PASHA SLAIN. BETHLEHEM, May 27.—A letter from Ben Muhammad, received by the governor of Palestine, leaves little doubt that Emin Pasha, the noted explorer, is dead. The letter says that an Arab chief named said Bin Abuda, in journeying toward Unyoro and Wadai, met Emin Pasha and his retinue, and a severe battle of three days ensued. Emin Pasha and his followers were defeated and took to flight. Abuda and his victorious followers overtook him and killed him with all his people.

POISONED BERRIES. NEW YORK, May 27.—Thirteen persons, residents of the aristocratic neighborhood of Clinton and Union streets, Brooklyn, were poisoned at the boarding house of Mrs. McKinley, where they took meals. The poison is supposed to have been in strawberries, being placed on the berries to keep off insects. No one but the fruit was growing. William Gevkey, Mrs. Gevkey and John Webster are the most seriously affected, and they may die. The others, it is believed, are not in danger.

THE VANDERBILTS IN A RUNAWAY. NEWPORT, R. I., May 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and their two sons and two daughters had a narrow escape from being killed yesterday. The family hired two carriages, and started for Beacon Hill to inspect a cottage they have rented. One of the horses was seized with blind staggers, and the pair ran away, frightening the horses of the other carriage, so that a double runaway was the result. William E. Hunter was in the carriage with Mr. Vanderbilt, and jumping out, he succeeded in stopping the runaways. The driver of the other team, with rare presence of mind, prevented the horses from going over a steep precipice. No one was injured.

A WEAK STOCK MARKET. NEW YORK, May 27.—Speculation at the Stock exchange opened weak, and prices declined 3/4 to 5/8 per cent. A rally occurred and the losses in most instances were recovered. Weakness was again displayed, and General Electric declined sharply from 71 1/2 to 65, affecting the whole list adversely. At the close prices were at or near the lowest of the day.

THE PEARY EXPEDITION. ST. JOHN'S N. F., May 27.—The steamer Falcon leaves here June 15 for Philadelphia, where she will take on board the Peary expedition for Greenland. The expedition will consist of sixteen persons, including Mrs. Peary, who again undertakes the hardships incident to Arctic exploration.
