

Wichita Daily Eagle

MATH FRIEND

A remedy which, if used by Wives about to experience the painful ordeal attendant upon Child-birth, proves an infallible specific for, and obviates the tortures of confinement, lessening the dangers thereof to both mother and child. Sold by all druggists. Sent by express on receipt of price, $1.50 per box, charges prepaid.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA.

TRICKS OF SMUGGLERS.

How They Come It Over the Watchful Customs Officers.

Precious Stones Concealed in All Sorts of Places—Women Are the Most Dextrous in Escaping the Payment of Duties.

"Diamonds and rubies, being so small, are easily smuggled," said a government inspector to a reporter for the New York Recorder. "I don't believe the government gets the duty on one-quarter of them that are sold in this country, after all the expense it goes to in trying to suppress the business. We have agents all over Europe, and pay employees in the brokers' offices, who give information of all sales to people they do not know and those smugglers whom they do know. Some of the ship's officers on every steamer coming to this port are constantly on the watch, and all they. But what's the use if you can't find the goods on them when they are searched. Many's the time I've been dead sure of my man and could swear he had the sparklers somewhere about him when I searched him, but I've gone through everything and cursed the rat to his face, but it was no use. Then other officers take him up and keep their eyes on him as long as he stays in port, and they really have a better chance of finding something, but they seldom do. Women are generally the worst and most dextrous smugglers of stones, on account of having so much upholstery, but there are not many women in the business now. I don't know why, but they seem to be leaving it. Diamonds have been found all over women—sewed up in seams, in hems and tucks and in corsets, waists, wraps and muffs, and secreted in their hair, which is a favorite place. We have found them in parasols and on the baby, in hats and bonnets, tied up in the corners of handkerchiefs and veils, and even woven into their garters, besides in everything you can think of in their trunks, some of which have false bottoms. You may be sure that when we once are satisfied we have caught a smuggler we do not stop at anything in the way of searching. We men search the men and there are women to search the females.

"Why, we've found diamonds in umbrellas sticks and in the heels of shoes, in covers of books and behind coats and pants buttons, in hollow rings and in pewter cups with false bottoms. The round handle of a palm leaf fan was the favorite hiding place for precious stones for some years, and it was a long time before we caught one old smuggler with a hollow crutch. One old soldier of the Crimean war had an artificial leg, and he couldn't get enough diamonds to fill the interior of it so he filled the remaining empty space with fine lace to keep the stones from rattling and giving the snap away. One old codger used to work the sweat-leather of his hat with great success, and another always carried a revolver of home manufacture loaded with cartridges full of diamonds. Another fellow had the biggest hollow tooth you ever saw and there was always a diamond in it nicely tucked away and covered with wax when he got on shore. Toe and finger nails grown very aristocratically long have hidden precious stones fastened in with fine silk threads, and sleeve buttons have been brought into requisition successfully in the smuggling of diamonds. You wouldn't think of it, but little terriers have been loaded down with diamonds. You've heard of the four-and-twenty blackbirds baked in a pie, of course, but you never, probably, heard of diamonds baked in cake or made into chewing gum and black cough drops. You never heard of cigars 'inlaid' with diamonds and other precious stones or of match boxes and snuff and tobacco boxes with false bottoms full of them. I have, I've found precious stones secreted in shawls and steamer rugs and once in the hollowed-out legs of a steamer chair. Once I found the silk cord that goes round the waist of a dressing-gown filled with them and only discovered it by a mere accident, as nearly all our discoveries are made. One fellow had removed the works of his watch and thrown them overboard after he had filled the case with valuable rubies, and one lady's bracelet contained forty thousand dollars' worth of sparklers on one voyage, and we didn't get onto it until too late."

PROFESSIONAL JAIL BIRDS.

Men Who Live by Serving Out the Sentences of Others.

The French are a practical people. For many years it has been the custom for the more explosive Parisian editors to keep a "ghost" round the corner. Generally, says the Chicago Herald, the "ghost" is slipping absinth at the nearest cafe. But he is the titular editor. And when the paper falls foul of the authorities and the editor has to go to jail it is the ghost round the corner that goes. The scheme is convenient. Justice is satisfied and the paper comes out as usual. There is an established bureau in the Rue Drouot, with a register and a tariff, for the supply of "doubles" for wealthy citizens who are averse to hard labor. It does a very thriving business and does not limit its resources to catering solely for the requirements of newspaper men. An eye young dude who falls foul of the police can, by a little judicious squaring, send round to the bureau for a substitute, who, for one dollar a day, payable in advance, will take his place in prison and do the allotted time meted out for venal offenses. For higher grades of punishment the tariff is a little more and usually comprises an extra sum of ten dollars for a new suit of clothes upon release from jail.

NO HARM DONE.

Three little maids from school are we, and we're just as naughty as we can be. We sneezed the ink on our hands and face, but you can't tell the difference, so it's no disgrace.

—Harper's Young People.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

SUBSTITUTES FOR MEAT.

As Prepared by Intelligent But Economical Housewives.

Abroad, in France, and Italy, and Switzerland, at the pensions where meat is a luxury and the practice of intelligent economy a fine art, great mounds of macaroni, stewed with tomatoes, are served as a separate course, delicious and satisfying. We Americans rarely dream of eating things in such fashion as they are cooked and served in those countries, but, as the New York Press says, so much the worse for us! Certainly there is no occasion for the over-abundant use of meat, especially in hot weather.

As a matter of fact, it is much easier for a cook to serve a steak or some chops than to prepare a substitute, but nevertheless many can be prepared of simple, small-cost materials.

To make "illusion chops" you need two or three cupsful of mashed potatoes, quite free from lumps, moistened with a little hot milk and well seasoned with salt, pepper, and salt. You will need also two small, round onions, those called buttons; mince these, very fine and fry brown in a spoonful of butter. You will also mince fine six small carrots, boiled until tender, and four small boiled turnips, and if you have some fine, firm white cabbage or some bits of cold boiled cauliflower add them; season with a little finely cut parsley, a tiny pinch of grated nutmeg, salt, and a red pepper corn, or a bit of the long scarlet pod.

Now mix all well with the mashed potatoes; mold with the hands into dainty chop shapes, dip into beaten egg and then in sifted cracker dust, and fry in very hot butter. Drippings will answer, but there must be enough of it to immerse the outlets just as you do oysters or Saratoga chips, and it must be boiling when the chops go into it.

Let them fry a fine brown. You have had chop bones scraped clean in a hot oven meantime, and now stick on carefully in each chop. Lay them on coarse brown paper in the mouth of the oven, in order that every particle of grease may be absorbed. Why endure this terrible disease? Why endure this terrible disease? Why endure this terrible disease? You only pay for London postage and a box for $1.00. Guaranteed to cure. Write for full particulars. Sold by all druggists.

HOLMES' COUNTRY LIFE.

Pittsfield, His Country Estate, Was the Home of a Great Doctor.

"It was curious to know about Dr. Holmes' experience of country life, he knows all nature's processes so well," writes Edward Everett Hale in McClure's Magazine. "So he told me how it happened that he went to Pittsfield. It seems that a century and a half ago his ancestor, Jacob Wendell, had a royal grant for the whole township there, with some small exceptions, perhaps. The place was at first called Pontosee, then Wendelltown, and only afterward got the name of Pittsfield from William Pitt. One part of the Wendell property descended to Dr. Holmes' mother. When he had once seen it he was struck with its beauty, and fitness for a country home, and asked her that he might have it for his own. It was there that he built a house in which he lived for eight or nine years. He said that the Housatonic winds backwards and forwards through it, so that to go from one end of his estate to the other in a straight line required the crossing it seven times. Here his children grew up, and he and they were privileged every year by long summer days there.

"He was most interesting and animated as he spoke of the vigor of life and work and poetical composition which come from being in the open air and living in the country. He wrote, at the request of the neighborhood, his poem of 'The Ploughman,' to be read at a cattle show in Pittsfield. And when I came to read it afterwards I said: 'Here it is! Here is open air life. Here it is! Here is breathing the mountain air and living in the midst of nature and a man! And I want to read you now a part of the poem, because it contained a prophecy. And while he was looking for the verses, he said, in the vein of the Autocrat: 'Nobody knows but a man's self how many good things he has done.'"

THE BEST MEDICINE.

He was a man of at least two hundred and fifty pounds weight, good muscles on his bones, too, a sturdy eater and drinker and long sleeper. "You'd hardly think to look at me, I guess, that I'd been turned out to die with consumption before I came of age," said he. "It's a fact, though. I weighed ninety-five pounds when I left home. My folks were poor, and they sent me to Kansas in a prairie schooner, never expecting to see me again. I began to pick up as soon as I got upon the rise of the plains. I lived in a cabin that was wide open day and night. Then I went into the army during the war, and after that did a lot of work grading and surveying for a railroad, and all the time I was living and sleeping with only the sky for a roof. I have been farming it for the last dozen years and my windows are open day and night. Air is the best medicine there is."

SCRATCHED TEN MONTHS

A troublesome skin disease caused me to scratch for ten months, and was cured by a few days' use of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC.

M. H. WOLFF, U.S.S., Upper Marlboro, Md.

I was cured some years ago of White Swelling in my leg by using SWIFT'S SPECIFIC and have had no symptoms of return since. Many prominent physicians attended me and failed, but S. S. S. did the work.

PAUL W. KIRKPATRICK, Johnson City, Tenn.

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. SWIFT'S SPECIFIC COMPANY, Atlanta, Ga.

How Chicago is Spelled.

In sorting over the letters for Chicago a man in the general Chicago office has kept an account of the number of different ways the word Chicago is spelled. Recently the record showed one hundred and ninety-seven different ways. Some ripe scholar and spelled the name of the Garden City Zizzazo. Still another foreigner, possibly with a sinister motive, spelled the word Jag-jago. Hipaho, Jajjo, Scheechecho, Hizege land Chachicho are also prime favorites.—Postal Record.

JAPANESE PILE CURE

A New and Complete Treatment, consisting of SUPPOSITORIES, Capsules of Ointment and two Boxes of Ointment. A never-failing Cure for Piles of every nature and degree. It makes an operation so painful and tedious a protracted cure, often resulting in death, unnecessary. Why endure this terrible disease? Why endure this terrible disease? You only pay for London postage and a box for $1.00. Guaranteed to cure. Write for full particulars. Sold by all druggists.

READY MADE MUSTARD PLASTERS

We were the first manufacturers on this continent. Our latest improvement surpasses anything ever before produced. See the ad. per tin. Be sure to get SEABURY'S. Ask for them upon each tin.

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER.

Removes tan, freckles, redness, itching, and all skin blemishes. It is a perfect skin preservative. It is a perfect skin preservative. It is a perfect skin preservative.

INDAPO

MADE A WELL MAN OF ME.

INDAPO THE GREAT HINDOO REMEDY FOR ALL DISEASES. It is a perfect skin preservative. It is a perfect skin preservative. It is a perfect skin preservative.

PENNYROYAL PILLS

Celebrated English Remedy for all Diseases. It is a perfect skin preservative. It is a perfect skin preservative. It is a perfect skin preservative.

ERRORS OF YOUTH

Corrected by PENNYROYAL PILLS. It is a perfect skin preservative. It is a perfect skin preservative. It is a perfect skin preservative.

THE DEADLY SHRAPNEL.

An Awful Agent of Destruction in Modern Warfare.

Recent experiences in little wars in the far east and in peaceful practicing have caused military experts to class the shrapnel as the gunner's most Wichita Wholesale & Manufacturing Houses.

The houses given below are representative ones in their line, and thoroughly reliable. They are furnished thus for ready reference for the South generally, as well as for city and suburban buyers. Dealers and inquirers should correspond direct with names given.

TOLER - STOCK - FARM.

SEASON 1893.

Ashland Wicks, 217 1/2; John Steiner, 217 1/2; Maurice Levy, 217 1/2.

YOUNG STOCK FOR SALE.

Address: H. G. TOLER, North Wichita Kansas.

R. M. MAXWELL, E. L. McCLURE.

MAXWELL & McCLURE.

237-239 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

IMPORTERS and JOBBERS of NOTIONS, FURNISHING GOODS.

WICHITA WHOLESALE GROCERY CO.,

Wholesale Grocers

OFFICE AND WAREHOUSE 213 TO 223 SOUTH MARKET STREET. Keep everything in the grocery line, show cases, scales and grocers fixtures, also sole proprietors of the "Royalty" and "La Innocent" brands of Cigars.

L. C. JACKSON,

DISTRICT AGENT FOR

SANTA FE COALS,

AND JOBBERS OF BUILDING MATERIALS

112 S. 4th AVE. WICHITA, KAN.

COAL AND SAND

All kinds of Coal at Lowest-Market Prices. Best Arkansas River Sand Wholesale and Retail.

SCHWARTZ BROS.

OFFICE 541 W. DOUGLAS AVE., PHONE 193.

CHAS. AYLESBURY. GEO. M. NORRIS

AYLESBURY-NORRIS MERCANTILE CO

Nos. 138-140 N. Fourth Ave.

Wholesale Grocers.

JOBBERS OF TEAS, CIGARS AND SPICES

Sole Agents for Alvarado, Figaretta and La Perleta Cigars.

FARIES MACHINE WORKS.

Builds and Repairs

ENGINES, BOILERS and MACHINERY

124 S. Washington Ave Wichita

THE WILLOTT MFG CO

Successors to

BUTLER & GRALEY,

Manufacturers of and Jobbers in Piced and Stamped Tin Ware. 213 South Main Street. H. R. BULLER, Manager.

J. P. ALLEN,

DRUGGIST,

Everything Kept in a First-Class Drug Store

108 EAST DOUGLAS AVE.

WICHITA, - - - KAN.

THE LEGENDARY ADAM AND EVE.

Some Curious Particulars Furnished by Jewish Writers.

To the Scriptural account of the creation and fall of Adam and Eve the Jewish writers of the Talmud have added many curious particulars. According to these myth-mongers, says the St. Louis Republic, Adam, when first created, was a "giant of giants," as far as stature goes—his head reaching into the heavens and his countenance outshining the sun in all its splendor. In one place they tell us that "the very angels stood in awe of the man which God had created, and all creatures hastened to worship him." Then the Lord, in order to give the angels some idea of his power, caused a deep sleep to come over Adam, and, while he was in a comatose condition, removed a portion of every limb and bone! The first man thus lost a part of his colossal stature, yet he remained perfect and complete. Next, the first "helpmeet" for the lord of creation was created in the person of Lilith, who forsok Adam to become the "mistress of the air and the mother of demons." After the departure of Lilith, Eve was created and married to Adam in the presence of Jehovah and the angels, the sun, moon and stars dancing together to the angelic music rendered.

Then the supreme happiness of the human pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of even the angels, and the seraph Sammael tempted them and finally succeeded in bringing about their fall from innocence. According to the Koran, all the angels paid homage to Adam except Eblis, who, on account of his refusal to do so, was expelled from Paradise. To gratify a spirit of revenge, Eblis loitered about the gates of the garden hatching discord, until at last he succeeded in separating the first couple whom "God had joined together." The record of the wanderings of the unhappy pair excited the envy of