

WHEAT IS TIRED

MARKET OPENS WEAK AND CLOSES IN LASSITUDE

Kansas Rains Figure in an Opening Weakness and California Drought Causes a Temporary Revival

Which, however, is soon dissipated—Large Sales Help the Weakness. Corn and Oats Gain—Provisions Lose.

CHICAGO, April 17.—Wheat, after a weak start, became strong today and held firm until near the end of the session, closing weak and tired with May unchanging and July 1/2 cent lower than yesterday. Kansas rains figured in the opening weakness, crop damage in California causing the interval of firmness and some selling at the finish caused the weary closing. Corn was firm, closing 1/2 cent higher and oats gained 1/2 cent. Provisions were weak, losing yesterday's advance.

More rain in Kansas was the first influence upon the wheat market. May opened 1/2 cent lower, at 60 1/2, and in a very short time it touched 60 cents, or about half a cent below yesterday's closing quotation. July, which rested at 62 1/2 cents on the day before, started at 62 1/2 and sold off to 62 1/2. Following the opening, the market rallied, with July in thirty minutes had advanced May to 60 1/2 and July to 62 1/2.

The market surged up and down between 60 1/2 and 62 1/2 for a time on the foregoing and then rose for a moment to 61 1/2. Bradstreet's statement of 1,320,000 bushels decrease in the stocks on both coasts and 2,204,000 bushels in the stock of the world. A sale of 10,000 barrels of flour by a Minneapolis concern was widely heralded. India and the Baltic together with the exporting countries of the United States and Canada, shipped 4,201,000 bushels of wheat last week. Adding the 2,000,000 from this side, the total is 6,201,000 bushels, against weekly requirements of 4,500,000. Minneapolis and Duluth receipts were 365 cars against 268 cars with Chicago Trade at the close of the market here went to 61 1/2 on a little sale.

Corn attracted a good deal of attention and was strong from start to finish. The receipts were 346 cars, which for two days' inspection is not heavy. The buying was of a very confident character and much more general than for some time back. Bradstreet's visible statement gives a decrease in stocks of 2,321,000 bushels. May opened 3/8 cent, advanced to 30 1/2, and held above 29 during the remainder of the session, comparing with 28 1/2 at the end of the trading yesterday. July opened at 40 cents up to 40 1/2 and closed at 40 1/2. May rested at 39 to 39 1/2.

Table with columns: WHEAT, CORN, OATS, BUCKWHEAT, RYE, BARLEY, and various grades with prices.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour steady, unchanged. No. 2 spring wheat 60 1/2, No. 3 59 1/2, No. 4 58 1/2, No. 5 57 1/2, No. 6 56 1/2, No. 7 55 1/2, No. 8 54 1/2, No. 9 53 1/2, No. 10 52 1/2, No. 11 51 1/2, No. 12 50 1/2.

On the Produce exchange today the butter market was firm, including creamery. Large receipts here during the next two days and accordingly they held off for lower prices. Although the supply was only about 5,000, no one would pay within 10 1/2 cents of Monday's prices, and there were sales at as much as 20 cents off.

AN INEXORABLE LAW. Habit is the Strongest Influence of Our Lives. The warden of one of our state penitentiaries said to a visitor that almost the first expression of dissatisfaction on the part of a new prisoner was called forth by the routine and monotony of prison life, says Youth's Companion.

Some men show intense feeling against it for the first few weeks of their confinement, but after two or three years, it seems, in some cases, as if they could not do without it. The warden had known discharged prisoners to return and ask for work inside, just "to get back to the regularity of prison life."

Captains of seagoing vessels and officers of the army observe the same trait of human nature. The discipline, the inflexible routine, which are irksome to the raw recruit and to the sailor in his earlier voyages, obtain so firm a hold on their minds and habits that they prefer not to live outside of them. Jack goes back to his ship and the soldier reenlists until each grows gray, or death takes them.

Some of Bonaparte's marshals, men of low birth, had learned in their youth vulgar tricks of the eye, the hand, grimaces and foolish laughter. Even the emperor, and his brothers and sisters, were not guiltless of such habits. He could not rid them of these signs of childish vulgarity. They could not rid themselves of them. He could make them kings and queens, and they could handle their scepters with royal grace; but old habits ruled them still.

A century ago John Vanx, a young man making "the grand tour," wrote "I was impatient to plunge into the dissipation of Paris. I had not, however, counted on the hold which old habits had on me. They had been cleanly. Every act, word or familiar custom of my pure English life at home held me now like an iron cord. I wished to do it, but could not."

There are few young men who do not wish to make their lives solid and enduring. Let them remember that this inexorable natural law is equally strong in good as in bad habits.

Every high, pure aim in his father or mother; every honest, modest custom of a young man's home; the cleanly life of his boyhood; the prayers he learned; the habits of reverence, of kind, unselfish action—these are as many stones in the rampart which shall defend him in middle age from storm and ruin.

Other Things Count. "A great deal depends on penmanship, my boy—a great deal depends on penmanship," he said to his son. "It may be of inestimable value to a young man, so you can't be too particular. notice you don't write nearly so good a hand as your brother."

"Neither do you," retorted the boy. "Um—no, perhaps not. I didn't have the advantages."
