Then at her boy. She appears to have stepped from a fashion plate; he from the rag-bag. But don't blame her—she's inexperienced in the wiles of the clothiers, and doesn't know that most clothes for boys are made to look well while being sold; but that some—the H. & H. kind—are made to look well while being worn. Ask her to come with you today and look at our $2.50 and $3.00 "Wear-Well" suits for boys from 4 to 14 years of age.

SON DESHA STABS

BRECKINRIDGE'S BOY SEES A LONG GLITTERING DURE.

He Gets Into an Altercation with a Gentleman Named Livingston and Begins by Cursing Him and Ends by Aiming the Dagger at His Heart and Thrusting it Forward Savagely—Duel is Now Certain.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 21.—Desha Breckinridge had a sensational altercation with James Duane Livingston, formerly of New York City, in the Phoenix hotel this evening. Livingston was standing at the news stand reading when Breckinridge came in and bought a package of cigars. Livingston spoke to Desha and extended his hand, saying: "It's all over now, we ought to be friends; shake hands." Breckinridge, with an angry look on his face, replied: "No, you one-horse scoundrel, I will not take your hand. You profess to be a man's friend and then stab him in the back." Livingston replied to this by saying that he had done nothing of the kind, when Breckinridge called him a damn liar. Then Livingston struck at Desha and knocked his glasses off, following this up with a blow on the neck.

WHEN DESHA PULLED HIS DICK, Desha reached for his hip pocket and instantly flashed in the air the long, bright blade of a big dick. Both men were as pale as death. Livingston, in a moment of desperation, grabbed at the glittering blade which Breckinridge had aimed at his heart. The knife went between the second and third fingers of Livingston's right hand, cutting the third finger to the bone. Desha Breckinridge seemed to desire no more blood and gave Livingston two strong kicks. The hotel clerks and several bystanders rushed in and seized Breckinridge and at the same instance, Matt Lane, a strong Breckinridge man, ran up and said he would take a hand in helping Desha. Two witnesses say Lane also flourished a big knife, but Lane denies this. Livingston was hurried into the wash room, and then taken to a physician where his hand was dressed.

HE CALLED HIM A DAMN LIAR. Desha and Lane met Judge George B. Kinkaid on Main street. Kinkaid made several speeches during the campaign, denouncing Colonel Breckinridge in the most scathing terms. Desha Breckinridge said to Judge Kinkaid that the election was over and he wanted to tell him he was damn liar. The judge replied that he was unarmed and did not want to have any difficulty on the streets. Desha told him to go arm himself and he would meet him anywhere or at any time. He repeated this several times.

Then Lane, who is a comparative stranger in Lexington, having recently come here from Mount Sterling, said, addressing the judge: "This is Judge Kinkaid, is it? When you said that decent people would not entertain Colonel Breckinridge you lied. My sister entertained him in Woodford county, and I say to you that you are a g-d-b-." HE WANTED TO FIGHT BAD.

Judge Kinkaid said again he wanted no trouble on the streets and that he was unarmed. Lane threw his coat back and said he was not armed either and then repeated the offensive language. The judge walked away. Later in speaking of this affair, Lane said: "Yes I called him a g-d-b- and I will fight him any way he wants to, and what's more, if any of his friends wants to take it up, I will fight them too."

J. Duane Livingston is a man of about 30 years and financial agent of J. Kennedy Tod, owner of the Kentucky Union railroad. He was a strong Owens man and worked night and day for the victorious candidate. While he says he believes he saved himself from a fatal stab by grabbing Desha's knife, he thinks he will have a sore hand for some time.

MORE BLOOD IS EXPECTED. Judge Kinkaid is a grandson of Isaac Shelby, the first governor of Kentucky, and is a first cousin of John T. Shelby, Colonel Breckinridge's law partner, who slapped Attorney Johnson in the face during the famous Pollard trial. Judge Kinkaid is about 42 years of age. He has always been considered a man of the highest physical courage and everybody expects more blood will be shed before this trouble is over.

"HE MADE IT PAY." Mayor Gardner Says Dr. Cook Had an Eye on the Main Chances.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 21.—Mayor Gardner has come out with an arraignment of Dr. Cook in relation to the latter's management of his Arctic expedition and the sinking of the Miranda, charging him with incompetency and cupidity from first to last. He says:

"Twice we bought provisions for ourselves, and as every one knows our trip was to include everything. "Before the transfer of passengers from the Miranda to the Rigel, Dr. Cook told each man that absolutely nothing but what was necessary in the way of clothing would be allowed on the schooner, and he secretly had conveyed to the Rigel his own property, including a stock of liquor and cigars, which he sold to the passengers on the trip at ridiculously high prices. "Cook's sole idea from beginning to end was profit. When we reached a port, he insisted on being the first man off the boat so he could buy everything of value from the natives. He bartered and bargled and made money, and that is all he did do. "I don't believe that Professor Wright ever said the crew of the Miranda was drunk most of the time. I never honored or respected a man more than I do Captain Farrell, and the men were most of them perfect in their behavior. "The entire story as related by Mr. Gardner shows Dr. Cook in the light of being a merchant of as large a profit as possible, and that in his greed for money, he risked lives, health and most valuable property."

NOT A DOLLAR OF GOLD. WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—A treasury statement issued today shows that the custom receipts at the New York custom house for the first twenty days of this month have been $1,176,484, against $4,602,000 for the first twenty days of last month.

MURDER AND SUICIDE. PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 21.—Thomas Secord, engineer at Mammoth mine, murdered his wife tonight, shooting her in the breast and back, and then committed suicide by shooting himself in the temple. The parties are from Nevada.

CHOYNSKI IS DONE FOR. Noted Pugilist Disables Himself for Life With a Pistol.

JACKSON, Mich., Sept. 21.—Joe Choynski, the prize-fighter, who was to spar Joe Tansy ten rounds here tonight, shot himself through the right hand, shattering the metacarpal bone in the first finger. The wound will lay Choynski up for several months, and may eventually disable him for life. "Parson" Davies, who is in town, said: "Joe is always poking about. He looked in a small drawer of the bureau in his room, and there found a 44-Remington buldog revolver. Presently, with a bang the cartridge exploded and Joe cried out: 'I am shot in the hand.' The bullet went through the hand, partly burying itself in the wall, from which it was dug out by the 'parson.' Davies says as to his occupation: 'I was writing articles of agreement between Choynski and Jim Hall for October 8, at Intervale, Mich. Of course Choynski cannot fight for months, if at all.' Dr. Hall, who dressed the injured hand, says Joe Choynski's future as a pugilist depends upon the nature of the wound. It is a dangerous wound.

CARBINE AGAINST RIFLE. Cavalrymen Beat the Infantry in the Carbine Competition in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 21.—A special to the Bee from Bellevue, Neb., says: The four days' annual carbine competition practice of the departments of the East Platte and California closed today. The combined work of the ten men who will represent the department in the army contest reached 3,475 points out of a possible 8,000. A remarkable feature of the day's work was the fact that the cavalrymen with their carbines beat the best work of the infantry with their rifles, a very unusual feature.

ARMY SHOOT AT SHERIDAN. Infantry Does Best shooting Which is Done at Known Distances.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—The army shoot at Fort Sheridan began in earnest today. Sergeant Thomas O'Hourke, Company G, 68th Infantry, made the best record. His score was 170 out of a possible 200 points. First Sergeant M. J. Murphy, Company D, 15th Infantry, was a close second, with a score of 169. The best score among the cavalry competitors for the army team was by Private J. L. Martin, troop I, seventh cavalry. His score was 170 out of 200. The best average shooting was done by the infantry. Seventy-five competitors took part in the shooting—forty-three infantry and thirty-two cavalry. The best work was done at known distances of 300, 500, 500 and 600 yards.

As the standard for purity and perfection the world over, Dr. Price's Baking Powder is beyond comparison. Its purity and goodness are unquestioned.

NEW STYLE OF FRAUD. Tennessee Buys a Coyote Farm in Kansas which Uncle Sam Owns.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The interior department has just passed on a case in which a peculiar fraud is being practiced. Some time ago a resident Tennessee wrote to the attorney general stating that he had seen an advertisement in a Chicago paper offering for sale 150 acres of land in Gove county, Kan. The real estate agent lived at Lathrop, Mo., and through him the land was purchased by the man from Tennessee. It was then found that the government owned the land, although the Lathrop agent had furnished a complete deed and abstract of title. Since then the tract has been advertised by the same agent. It is held by the interior department as the rights of the government are in no way affected, there is nothing for the interior department to do in the premises. It is suggested, however, that the attention of the proper authorities be called to the fraud with a view of saving innocent parties who do not take the trouble to make a thorough investigation of land titles.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE DECISION. Common Carriers Given Explicit Directions About Printing Tariff List.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The interstate commerce commission today ordered that all common carriers subject to the act to regulate commerce shall, in all future issues of their rate sheets, schedules and point tariffs including all future amendments and supplements to existing joint tariffs, comply with the general rule laid down in a pamphlet of the commission of Dec. 1, 1891, as modified by the order that all joint tariffs hereafter filed and all future amendments and supplements to existing joint tariffs, be hereafter so arranged and printed as to show distinctly the names of the several parties thereto, that all common carriers, subject to the act, which shall hereafter be named as parties to any joint tariff, filed and submitted by another carrier, or as parties to any amendment or supplement to existing joint tariffs, shall forthwith upon the publication thereof file with the commission a statement, showing their acceptance of and concurrence therein and their respective parts therein.

JAPANESE TELEGRAPH CONFINED TO OFFICIALS

Important Movements are Foreseen owed by the Official Secrecy which Prevails—Russian Minister Reported to Have Withdrawn From Peking. Russian Troops Proceed to Vladivostok—War News.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—A dispatch from Shanghai, received this evening says: There was a most serious loss of Chinese officers in the battle of the Yalu. In addition to those who perished on the Cui Yuen, the captains of four men-of-war which have reached Port Arthur are reported to have been killed. Admiral Ting directed the operations of the Chinese fleet with great coolness. He was twice wounded, the first time on the cheek by a fragment of a shell and then in the leg. Five Chinese transports reported missing, are safe. It has been persistently rumored that three other transports were either sunk or captured by the Japanese, but this is untrue. The officers of the Chinese northern squadron insist that at least three Japanese warships were sunk in battle. It is now generally admitted that not a single Chinese battleship escaped with serious damage. The commanding officers of four of the Chinese warships were killed at the Yalu battle. Admiral Ting was wounded in the neck and leg, but in neither case seriously. Five of the transport ships are still missing. Three Chinese transports are reported to have been captured. All of the Chinese warships that were not sunk are badly damaged. The Japanese ships are reported to have captured another ship. SHANGHAI, Sept. 21.—It is rumored here that the Chinese transports Cui Tung, Hsing and Tuo Nan, while landing troops in the Yalu river were captured by the Japanese, but there is absolutely nothing definite known as to the fate of those on board.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The correspondent of the Daily News at Shanghai states with reserve that Count Cassini, the Russian minister at Peking, has been recalled, and has been replaced by M. Reade, who has been the Russian minister at Tokio.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Times says that the authorities have strictly confined the Chinese fleet to the defense of the approaches to Peking, specifying the limits within which the various vessels are to remain. The officers and men are instructed to continue operations on the Korean coast and are exhorted by what they consider the fatuous policy of the government.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The Standard's correspondent at Berlin says: The Chinese diplomats here declare that the importance of the Japanese victory at Ping Yang has been overrated. They advise the Chinese general staff a great mistake in not waiting for Li Hung Chang's 60,000 disciplined men who were coming overland. The correspondent says China will now unquestionably want to average herself for a long campaign.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The Times publishes a letter from Hong Kong dated August 10, which says: The secretary in the victory's raven today listed within the past 48 hours, but the majority are riflemen. There are no rifles in stock for them, and some are in the hands of the Chinese. The total Chinese garrison at Mukden is 20,000 infantry and 14,000 cavalry.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—A special to the Standard from St. Petersburg reports that the Russian iron-clad Imperator Nicolai and the first-class cruiser, Panlatovskaya from the Mediterranean, and the cruiser from Cronstadt have started for Vladivostok.

By tests at the Chicago world's exposition and California midwinter fair all other baking powders were shown to be inferior to Dr. Price's. Received highest award and gold medal.

HOPE OF THE POPE. Said to Contemplate the Union of the Church With the Democratic Powers.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 21.—Bishop J. J. Keane, pastor of the Catholic University, Washington, reached New York by the steamer Britannia today. He went to Rome for the purpose of personally seeing the pope and telling him of the Catholic University and the condition of affairs in that institution. He is expected to continue his tour of the Quirinal to the Vatican. Bishop Keane said that the policy of the pope in view of the present situation in Italy is the union of the church with the great democratic powers of the future, that is America and France. This is his hope and towards it all his remarkable utterances are bent. He, as a clear-sighted statesman, is opposed to military and despotic and is consequently in sympathy with France and America. He is in triple alliance, of which Italy forms a part. The pope thinks that universal enfranchisement by moral and religious influences must settle the great social question of the future. The social question, the pope recognizes as the great one of the future.

HANGED TO PREVENT LYING. COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 21.—John and Jasper Atkins, white, were hanged at Winnsboro, S. C. today for the murder of William Clapp also white on Feb. 19, 1893. They killed Clapp in order that John might live with Clapp's wife and Jasper with his daughter, and between them divide up what little property the dead man had. The governor thought of commuting their sentence to life imprisonment, but had to do so as a mob was ready to go to the jail and lynch them.

CLEVELAND WILL NOT TALK. CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 21.—President Cleveland refused to discuss the pending statement that he favors Secretary of War Lamont for governor of New York. The chief executive went sailing down the bay today, and had a fair chance Secretary Lamont has gone to New York.

STRIKE STILL ON. BOSTON, Sept. 21.—The story of all the changing contractors in the city are closed today and not one of the strikers at work. At 5 o'clock this morning, a mass meeting of workers was held and the chairman of every shop's crew accounted for every man under him. Several small contractors have applied to sign the new agreement which the strikers under 2000 in it, but it has not yet been completed and probably will not be before tomorrow.
