CATCHING THE IDEA

Sheeny Moonlight Effects Are Sought in the Evening Robe. It is a satin season—it is also a broadcloth velvet and a gauzy season—the colors for evening wear—Two New Costumes.

It was by the sad sea waves that the woman of fashion caught the idea. Sad sea waves are an unfortunate subject on chilly autumn days.

Naturalization Notes. The naturalization mill has practically ceased grinding. Some erroneous impressions have undoubtedly been created.

The Tenderloin. The glories of the Bowery should by no means be allowed to overshadow the fame of New York's other weird region.

HUGGED THE EARTH

Ten Minutes of Terror Under Stamped Cattle. The Prudential Escape of Four Men from Being Trampled to Death by a Madly Rushing Herd.

"Yes, we have an adventure now and then out in our country," said Judge Thompson, of Wyoming. "If you'll come out and see us I'll refer you to five or six men whose hairbreadth escapes would fill a book."

"That's the very one I'm after," said the Detroit Free Press interviewer. "Well, it didn't amount to much as an adventure, I'm afraid, though I'm free to say I was never more frightened for ten minutes."

"Fish! The Indians were all right and grizzly bears don't wander down into the valleys by daylight."

"Exactly. I passed over three long breaths when the front of the herd was at hand."

"Not a tree nor a rock for five miles around, but just where we pulled up was a natural ditch about fifty feet long cut out by the rains."

"And the herd passed over you?" "Exactly. I passed over three long breaths when the front of the herd was at hand."

"And your horses and mules?" "Picked up on the horns of the cattle and tossed about and stepped on till they were reduced to pulp."

"Seemed like the hand of providence, didn't it?" "Of course. That's what we look for and depend upon out in our country."
