

CANNON KILRAIN DO IT

GREAT INTEREST CENTERS IN HIS FIGHT WITH O'DONNELL

In His Day Jake Kilrain Put Up Many a Hard Battle, Even Scoring a Majority of Points in a Fight with Sullivan, but He is Old Now and Corbett's Boxing Partner Will Make Him Strike Live to Hold His Own—To Take Place Monday Night—Sullivan will Challenge the Winner at the Ringside.

Boston, March 15.—The greatest interest in the pugilistic world centers around the contest which takes place between Stephen O'Donnell and Jake Kilrain next Monday night at the Suffolk Athletic club of this city.

Whether Kilrain, in his second pugilistic life, is capable of the deeds of Kilrain of former years remains to be seen. Close observers of pugilistic events believe that "Jake" is not at present equal to the feats that made him famous years ago. In support of this opinion they point to Kilrain's long absence from active competitions, and argue that such inactivity makes an athlete's movements slow. In order to offset this drawback it is claimed Kilrain would have to train hard for many months. Basing their opinion on the lines indicated, the critics also say that Kilrain has taken on considerable flesh during the period of inactivity mentioned, and that he will not have sufficient time to properly prepare himself between now and the date set for the contest. His vitality, they claim, in consequence surely be weakened by the unusual strain it will be put to, and this will be a serious question for the chances of success against so clever and strong an athlete as O'Donnell.

Then, too, Kilrain, has not lived a model life, and is a serious question in the minds of sporting men whether Kilrain could successfully stand a severe course of training. Past experience seems to have convinced the knowing ones that youth and strength always triumph over athletes who have been careless of their moral obligations, hence their unwillingness to believe that the Kilrain of today is capable of the brilliant feats of the Kilrain of bygone days.

ONE OF THOSE WHO PELL

Instances of the defeat of once great pugilists who led gay lives by younger and more careful fighters is eloquently illustrated in the defeat of Sullivan and Mitchell by Corbett, Dempsey by Fitzsimmons, and Cal McCarty by Mike Will. Kilrain's name is added to the list? Who knows? Kilrain in his day, the smart set admitted, was a spry fighter, and they profess to believe that if he had not lived in Sullivan's time he might have been the champion. Kilrain's victory over Mitchell, when both men were in their prime, argues well for the Baltimorean's cleverness, the critics think. Kilrain is unquestionably a clever two-handed fighter. He is especially skilful and effective with his left hand. During Sullivan's reign as the king of all fighting men Kilrain was the next best man.

It Kilrain had been allowed to fight Slavin in his own way when he met the Australian in Hoboken in 1891 many good judges believe he would have outpointed Slavin in the four rounds. He, however, followed the advice of William Muldoon and "Mike" Cleary, his seconds, and was to mix it up with Slavin, and in the sixth round he received a terrific uppercut that lost him the battle. While it is true he stayed three rounds after receiving the blow, he never fully recovered from its effects. In his dazed condition, however, he displayed remarkable generalship. Slavin, with all his strength and superior condition, was unable to finish his man.

MADE SULLIVAN WORK

Prior to Sullivan's defeat by Corbett, the man who gave the former champion the hardest struggle during his ring career was Kilrain. In many of the rounds in his fight with Sullivan Kilrain scored the greatest number of points, and it was only Sullivan's superior strength that eventually won the battle. Kilrain's with "Jim" Smith was another victory for the Baltimore man which showed his sterling qualities as a pugilist. He, however, did not receive official recognition for his work, the referee being intimidated by the gang of thugs behind the Englishman. The battle was declared a draw, after 16 rounds had been fought, although "Jake" clearly had the better of it.

Years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., recognizing the fact that consumption was essentially a germ disease, and that remedy which would drive the germs and their poisons from the blood would cure consumption, at last found a medicine which cured 99 per cent. of all cases, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. The tissues of the lungs being irritated by the germs and poisons in the blood circulating through them, the germs find lodgment there, and the lungs begin to break down. Soon the general health begins to fail, and the person feels languid, weak, faint, drowsy and confused. This is the time to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; it drives the germs and poisons from the blood, and has a soothing effect upon the dry cough. In cases of bronchitis the "Discovery" is invaluable. "Golden Medical Discovery" increases the amount and quality of the blood, thus invigorating and fortifying the system against disease and builds up wholesome flesh and strength after wasting diseases, as fevers, pneumonia, grip and other debilitating affections.

HER AFFECTION FOR ROLAND IS ALIENATED BY PLAIN JOHN.

She Starts from Chattanooga, Tenn. to Carlville, Ill., to Meet and Wed Her True Love, but Meets John Lynch on the Train and Roland's Cake is Dough—She Loses All Her Money and John is Arrested for the Theft—He Claims to be Innocent and There's Trouble All Around.

St. Louis, March 15.—A well dressed young woman who said she was Mrs. Emma Dwyer of Chattanooga, Tenn., left a Chicago and Alton train at the relay depot at 9 a. m., and reported to detective Moore that she had been robbed of $500. She said that she had left Chattanooga for Carlville, Ill., where she was to meet and marry Roland Buel also of Chattanooga. On the train she met a stranger who came aboard at Evansville, Indiana. She became infatuated with the stranger, who said he was John Lynch of St. Louis and claimed to be a lawyer. After a necessarily short courtship Emma agreed to marry him instead of Buel. Lynch conducted her to the Lambert house when she reached St. Louis yesterday and she remained there with him last night. This morning she started for Carlville to get Buel about her chestnut and Roland and Lynch bought her a ticket. While crossing the bridge she discovered that $500 in cash and checks had been taken from her reticule, which Lynch had carried for her.

Lynch was arrested at the union station and admitted practically all of Mrs. Dwyer's story, except the fact that she had $500. This he strenuously denied. Lynch is an attorney at Evansville, Indiana. Mrs. Dwyer says she owns a business property in Chattanooga valued at $100,000.

SPRING APPROACHES.

An Extract from Dr. Hartman's Recent Lecture on Climatic Diseases of March.

At the close of one of his regular lectures on the practice of medicine, Dr. Hartman said: "March is the connecting line between cold and hot weather in the north temperate zone. Of all the months of the year, it is the most trying to the health. Those who have suffered from any climatic disease during the winter, such as catarrh, la grippe, influenza, coughs, colds or bronchitis, are apt to find themselves much injured by March weather. Even those in good health usually need a course of purifying, renovating, regular or invigorating treatment. A gradual accumulation of effete matter in the winter ought to be thoroughly expurgated during the month of March in order to preserve health. Every body, sick or well, finds his system more or less clogged or depressed after a severe winter like the past one, and a course of Pe-r-u-na is beneficial, if not absolutely necessary. Pe-r-u-na is an ideal spring medicine, because it is specific for catarrhal affections; it renovates the nerves, invigorates digestion, regulates the circulation, cleanses the blood, rejuvenates the feeling and strengthens the mental faculties. Depressed men, tired women, nervous girls and boys weakened by overwork, study or excesses—all alike find complete restoration by a course of Pe-r-u-na.

A highly instructive illustrated book on spring medicines and diseases will be sent free to any address by the Pe-r-u-na Drug Manufacturing company, 412 Columbus, Ohio. This book contains illustrations of value to every physician, student, teacher, invalid and reader in the land.

No More A Sufferer From Catarrh in the Eye After Surgery by Dr. M.

Mr. T. Tuhill of Kansas City, Kan., residing at Third and Minnesota avenue, and a well-known mechanic, is at present boasting of the best health he ever enjoyed in his life, and assures his friends that it is due to the treatment of Dr. Copeiland and Branaman. He feels and is justly too, that all sufferers from catarrh and troubles of the eye, that what was done for him can be done for them.

He says: "I suffered for years with catarrh, accompanied by all the annoying symptoms of head, throat, stomach and other organs of the body. I had headaches, stopped-up nose, ringing in ears and partial deafness. I had dropping of mucus into the throat, causing an inflammation of the larynx, which was attended with a constant hacking and spitting. I had a troublesome cough, and sharp, shooting pains in my lungs and in the region of my heart. I had very poor appetite, had a distressed and bloated feeling after meals, then sourness and belching of wind, and a coated tongue. I usually had a bad taste in my mouth in the morning. At times I was very dizzy, then dark spots would appear before my eyes. I also had kidney troubles with the usual symptoms. My chest became very complicated one, became nervous and could not sleep or rest. Gradually growing worse all the time, I was finally obliged to try Dr. Copeiland and Branaman. After taking a course of treatment from them, I find that I am entirely cured, and freed from every symptom of my former disease. I never felt so strong as I do now, and I can conscientiously advise all sufferers from catarrh to consult Drs. Copeiland & Branaman."

Winnifred B. Munn, with Wilcox & Munn, the leading mercantile house of St. Charles, Ill., writes: "To chronic sufferers who live in the country and have not the advantage of consulting a specialist, I would recommend a course of treatment with the Copeiland and Branaman medicine. After having suffered, myself, for some years from catarrh of the head, throat and bowels, I wrote to them for a symptom blank and began a course which very soon resulted in a complete cure. So that, in commending their medicine, I speak from personal experience." For mail treatment send for symptom blank!
