

FRANK AGAN WINS

STRAIGHT HEATS GETS THE FREE-FOR-ALL AT CLEVELAND.

Joe Patchen Pushes Him Hard the First Two But Lets the Last Heat Go Easy—Track Record, Made by Patchen Last Year in 2:04 1/4. Lowered to 2:04—Agan's Time 2:05, 2:04 and 2:04 3/4—Robert J. a Third—Rubenstein and Badge Start—Other Races—General Sporting News.

Cleveland, O., July 31.—There was a fast track and an immense crowd at Glenview today. Frank Agan won the great free-for-all pace in straight heats Joe Patchen pushed him hard the first two heats, but in the last he had everything his own way. Agan in the second lowered the track record to 2:04. Patchen's record made last year being 2:04 1/4.

Class 2:30, trotting, purse $3,000: Walter S won in straight heats. Time 2:34, 2:32, 2:34. Black Beth second; Pat Watson, third; Marguerite, Maul Berrett, Otto Prince, Dorothy and Kathleen also started.

Free-for-all pacing, purse $2,500: Frank Agan won in straight heats. Time 2:05, 2:04, 2:04 3/4. Joe Patchen, second; Robert J. third; Rubenstein and Badge also started.

Class 2:17, trotting, purse $2,000 (unfished on account of darkness): Rifle won third and last heats. Best time 2:11 1/2. Angelus won first and second heats; best time 2:12 1/2. Thistle Young fourth heat in 2:12 1/2. Bryson, Prince H. Sasin Slippers, Oudan, Volante-Mellum, Wm. Tell, Black Storm and Cuggles also started.

Hood's Sarsaparilla rests the brain. It gives nerve strength and body health.

St. Louis Races. July 31.—Today's races were evenly divided between favorites and second choices. Track fact. Summary:

First race—Five furlongs, 2-year-olds: Harry B won; Mostyn, second; Mattie Belle, third. Time 1:30 1/2.

Second—Six furlongs, selling: Nicholas won; Petrarch, second; Airtight, third. Time 1:47 1/2.

Third—Seven furlongs, selling: Jana won; Landau, second; Travis, third. Time 2:05 1/2.

Fourth—Mile and three furlongs: Leasman won; Al Orth, second; Dave Zac, third. Time 2:25 1/2.

Fifth—Five furlongs, 2-year-olds: Omaha Wood won; Groganette, second; Ross, third. Time 1:34 1/2.

Sixth—Mile, selling: Devault won; Imp Thorn, second; Battidore, third. Time 1:43.

Constitution Cured Free. We will send FREE to every sufferer a 10c box of CASCARIS Candy Cathartic. They are delightful to eat, convenient in form and the most powerful intestinal tonic ever made. C. C. C. make the liver lively, prevent sour stomach and purify the blood. Address with 2c stamp, mentioning this paper, Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago, Montreal, Can., New York.

Milwaukee Races. July 31.—Results: First race—Six furlongs, selling: Betson won; Morven, second; Almie, third. Time 1:54 1/2.

Second—Four and a half furlongs, selling: Milt won; Sovasso, second; Elong, third. Time 1:34 1/2.

Third—Mile and seventy yards, selling: Trilly won; Papper, second; Miss Perkins, third. Time 1:42 1/2.

Fourth—Seven furlongs—Simmons won; Onda, second; Campana, third. Time 1:57 1/2.

Fifth—Five furlongs: Two-year-olds Eton Jack won; Incitatus, second; Sister Adie, third. Time 1:36 1/2.

Sixth—Seven furlongs, selling: Commission won; Stark, second; Aunt Sallie, third. Time 1:52 1/2.

A Val of Mist. Rising at the morning or evening from some lowlands, often carries in its folds the seeds of malaria. When malaria fever breaks out, one is safe unless protected by some efficient medicinal safeguard. Hoozer's Stomach Bitters is both a protection and remedy. No person who inhales, or sojourns in a malarious region or country, should omit to procure this fortifying agent, which is also the most known remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, kidney trouble and rheumatism.

Female Racing Banned in Canada. Toronto, July 31.—In the racing board bulletin issued today the Canadian board condemns female racing and announces that the board will hereafter blacklist any track upon which female riders are allowed to race before the public.

NEW YORK GIRLS BEGING Have a New Scheme to Work the Susceptible Men of the World. New York, July 31.—Two girls of eleven and thirteen years respectively, were arraigned in a police court the other day before Magistrate Wentworth, charged with begging on the streets. Each carried a begging-bag on the streets, inscribed "For the Evening World Sick Babe's Fund," and they had 89 cents between them. Their mother appeared and protested that they had been soliciting for the fund without her knowledge. One of the girls retorted that they gave the money they begged to her, whereupon the woman declared that her daughter was "a little liar." Ultimately the children were discharged with warning in accordance with the policy of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, by one of whose agents they were arraigned, in dealing with first offenders of this kind. A few days later three girls were arraigned before Magistrate Plummer for the same offense; one was eleven and the others fourteen years old each. One had 32 cents, another 40, and the third 52, and they admitted that it was only a part of what they had collected "for the sick babies" that day, the rest having gone for "rides on East River ferryboats, baths, and things to eat and drink," for themselves. One of these girls had been arrested before for begging without the excuse of the fund, and another had secured a complaint against a man for a criminal charge, which was not sustained. The officer of the court who arrested them reported that two of the girls had comfortable homes and that their parents had expressed surprise at their children's conduct. They also were discharged with a warning.

These cases are fairly typical of a great many that are now being brought to the attention of the authorities, and they are the first public intimations that measures are to be taken to stop an abuse that has probably come to the attention of everybody who goes about in the city. Scarcely a block without a party of girl-beggars for the "Evening World's Sick Babe's Fund" the youngsters of the elevated railway stations, they beseege passers-by, and their importunities for pennies are not to be checked with anything but a response in money. The most casual observer must have noticed some of the unhappy effects on the girls which this occupation could not fail to cause. Those whose business it is to lurk in the blood of many a man, who fancies himself in good health. Let a slight sickness seize him, and the old enemy breaks out anew. The fault is the taking of medicines that suppress, instead of curing disease. You can eradicate disease and purify your blood, if you use the standard remedy of the world, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Smouldering fires of old disease

OUT GOES HARRITY

NOTED DEMOCRATIC LEADER RETIRES FROM POLITICS.

He Will Retain His Place as the Pennsylvania Member of the National Committee, But Will Not Concern Himself With the Drudgery of Fighting Campaigns—History of His Political Career, Chiefly as Political Manager—How He Might Have Been Nominated for Vice President, But Wouldn't Have it so.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 31.—William F. Hartry, until recently the chairman of the Democratic national committee and for years a leader in the party councils, made the interesting announcement today that he has retired from active politics.

In answer to inquiries upon the subject, Mr. Hartry made the following statement:

"It is true that I have withdrawn from active participation in political affairs for several years past. I have been accorded some prominence in the management and leadership of the Democratic party, but now I desire to take my place in the ranks, except in so far as I may have duties to perform as the Pennsylvania member of the Democratic national committee.

"In taking this step, I wish to express my warm appreciation of the personal and political friendship and support which I have had from my political friends. I have no resentments for my enemies, and nothing but gratitude for my friends. No man ever had warmer or more loyal and devoted friends than I have had. These friends I still hope to retain, even though I have withdrawn from active political association with them; and if the time shall come when I can serve or aid them, it will be my pleasure to respond to their demands.

"I shall," Mr. Hartry said, "continue to take a general interest in politics and shall always be ready to go wherever I reasonably and conscientiously can to promote the success of the Democratic party; but I shall absolutely refrain from any participation whatever in matters that relate to party organization and management. I have given much of my time and a good deal of my energies to the Evening World since when I first began to take an active part in politics. I have now concluded, however, to take a rest from politics, so to speak, and to devote all my energies to the management of the business of the Equitable Trust company, of which I am president and in which I have a private business interest."

HE'LL BE BACK AGAIN. Mr. Hartry's declaration is understood by his friends to mean that he will give no attention to the work of state or county committees, or to any other party committee, and that he will not in any way endeavor to influence or control political nominations or appointments of any character whatever.

He now resides at the city of Philadelphia, and is engaged in the business of the Equitable Trust company, of which he is president and in which he has a private business interest.

Mr. Hartry's career in politics has been most successful. In January, 1892, he was elected by the Democratic convention to represent the state on the national committee, as the successor of the late William L. Scott. On April 13, 1892, he was unanimously elected to the full term as the Pennsylvania member of the national committee, which election was unanimously ratified by the Pennsylvania delegation to the national Democratic convention, held at Chicago July 21, 1892. Mr. Hartry was unanimously elected chairman of the Democratic national committee at a meet held in this city of New York on that date.

HE'LL BE BACK AGAIN. As national chairman, Mr. Hartry conducted the national convention of 1892, which resulted in the nomination of Grover Cleveland and A. R. Stevenson as president and vice-president of the United States. It is generally understood that because of his efficient services to the Democratic party, his devotion to President Cleveland during his candidacy for the nomination and election as president in 1892, Mr. Hartry would have been appointed as a member of the cabinet by President Cleveland had he not indicated his inability and disinclination to accept the position. Mr. Hartry preferring to continue in the office of secretary of state of Pennsylvania until the end of his term, Jan. 1, 1895.

Mr. Hartry was a delegate-at-large to the Democratic national convention of 1896 and by unanimous vote was made chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation to that convention. He was also unanimously re-elected as the Pennsylvania member of the national committee.

AT THE CHICAGO CONVENTION. As chairman of the Democratic national committee he presided over the deliberations of the Chicago convention with such signal ability, impartiality and dignity, that Senator John W. Daniel of Virginia, who succeeded Mr. Hartry as presiding officer, paid a high tribute to his fairness and ability. Subsequently Senator Jones of Arkansas, who was elected as Mr. Hartry's successor as chairman of the Democratic national committee, offered a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, thanking Mr. Hartry for his admirable manner in which he had presided over the convention.

In the same convention Mr. Hartry received 21 votes for vice-president. The success of the Democratic party in the Chicago convention was a matter of frequent and favorable comment. Not only was he commended for the skill and ability displayed by him during the three hours in which he presided over the convention, but the nomination for the vice-presidency was within his reach. It is authoritatively stated that prominent free silver leaders looked that Mr. Hartry would be willing to stand upon the platform adopted by the vice-presidency and be nominated. Mr. Hartry advised against such a course.

STAYS ON THE COMMITTEE. While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

OUT GOES HARRITY

NOTED DEMOCRATIC LEADER RETIRES FROM POLITICS.

He Will Retain His Place as the Pennsylvania Member of the National Committee, But Will Not Concern Himself With the Drudgery of Fighting Campaigns—History of His Political Career, Chiefly as Political Manager—How He Might Have Been Nominated for Vice President, But Wouldn't Have it so.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 31.—William F. Hartry, until recently the chairman of the Democratic national committee and for years a leader in the party councils, made the interesting announcement today that he has retired from active politics.

In answer to inquiries upon the subject, Mr. Hartry made the following statement:

"It is true that I have withdrawn from active participation in political affairs for several years past. I have been accorded some prominence in the management and leadership of the Democratic party, but now I desire to take my place in the ranks, except in so far as I may have duties to perform as the Pennsylvania member of the Democratic national committee.

"In taking this step, I wish to express my warm appreciation of the personal and political friendship and support which I have had from my political friends. I have no resentments for my enemies, and nothing but gratitude for my friends. No man ever had warmer or more loyal and devoted friends than I have had. These friends I still hope to retain, even though I have withdrawn from active political association with them; and if the time shall come when I can serve or aid them, it will be my pleasure to respond to their demands.

"I shall," Mr. Hartry said, "continue to take a general interest in politics and shall always be ready to go wherever I reasonably and conscientiously can to promote the success of the Democratic party; but I shall absolutely refrain from any participation whatever in matters that relate to party organization and management. I have given much of my time and a good deal of my energies to the Evening World since when I first began to take an active part in politics. I have now concluded, however, to take a rest from politics, so to speak, and to devote all my energies to the management of the business of the Equitable Trust company, of which I am president and in which I have a private business interest."

HE'LL BE BACK AGAIN. Mr. Hartry's declaration is understood by his friends to mean that he will give no attention to the work of state or county committees, or to any other party committee, and that he will not in any way endeavor to influence or control political nominations or appointments of any character whatever.

He now resides at the city of Philadelphia, and is engaged in the business of the Equitable Trust company, of which he is president and in which he has a private business interest.

Mr. Hartry's career in politics has been most successful. In January, 1892, he was elected by the Democratic convention to represent the state on the national committee, as the successor of the late William L. Scott. On April 13, 1892, he was unanimously elected to the full term as the Pennsylvania member of the national committee, which election was unanimously ratified by the Pennsylvania delegation to the national Democratic convention, held at Chicago July 21, 1892. Mr. Hartry was unanimously elected chairman of the Democratic national committee at a meet held in this city of New York on that date.

HE'LL BE BACK AGAIN. As national chairman, Mr. Hartry conducted the national convention of 1892, which resulted in the nomination of Grover Cleveland and A. R. Stevenson as president and vice-president of the United States. It is generally understood that because of his efficient services to the Democratic party, his devotion to President Cleveland during his candidacy for the nomination and election as president in 1892, Mr. Hartry would have been appointed as a member of the cabinet by President Cleveland had he not indicated his inability and disinclination to accept the position. Mr. Hartry preferring to continue in the office of secretary of state of Pennsylvania until the end of his term, Jan. 1, 1895.

Mr. Hartry was a delegate-at-large to the Democratic national convention of 1896 and by unanimous vote was made chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation to that convention. He was also unanimously re-elected as the Pennsylvania member of the national committee.

AT THE CHICAGO CONVENTION. As chairman of the Democratic national committee he presided over the deliberations of the Chicago convention with such signal ability, impartiality and dignity, that Senator John W. Daniel of Virginia, who succeeded Mr. Hartry as presiding officer, paid a high tribute to his fairness and ability. Subsequently Senator Jones of Arkansas, who was elected as Mr. Hartry's successor as chairman of the Democratic national committee, offered a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, thanking Mr. Hartry for his admirable manner in which he had presided over the convention.

In the same convention Mr. Hartry received 21 votes for vice-president. The success of the Democratic party in the Chicago convention was a matter of frequent and favorable comment. Not only was he commended for the skill and ability displayed by him during the three hours in which he presided over the convention, but the nomination for the vice-presidency was within his reach. It is authoritatively stated that prominent free silver leaders looked that Mr. Hartry would be willing to stand upon the platform adopted by the vice-presidency and be nominated. Mr. Hartry advised against such a course.

STAYS ON THE COMMITTEE. While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

While there was no actual tender of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee to Mr. Hartry, yet it is known that enough of the members of the committee were personal friends of his to have elected him as chairman, had he consented that they should do so. Mr. Hartry replied to them, and all of the others who spoke to him on the subject, that he would not accept the chairmanship, and again, regardless of platform and candidates.

Mr. Hartry announces emphatically that he will not resign his position as a member of the national committee from his state. There will be practically nothing for him to do for four years and as a national committeeman he is able to do more toward the success of the party than anything he could do as a national committeeman.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is confidence in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a congested condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes.

