

MOST READY TO PLAY

(Continued from First Page.)
of a declaration for bimetalism by international agreement...

Holes in Your Health.

What does that mean? Suppose you are taking in money all day, and drop it into a pocket with holes...

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

GOES TO COLUMBUS

(Continued from First Page.)
debts, public and private. But it does not agree to receive a gold dollar in gold...

WHERE IS THE GOLD? Thus, under bimetalism this fore-igner could not exchange his silver for the mint for gold unless the government would give him...

"Well, there is another way that he might do. He might, instead of taking the silver home, instead of giving it to us, instead of trading it to us for gold, he might trade it to us for property...

"Have you ever heard any one say that it did not matter any difference how much money there was; that you could not get any of it unless you had something to sell...

"A TWICE-CRACKED JOKE. A gentleman asked me the other night how this money could be put into circulation. That, to my mind, is one of the simplest of processes...

"How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons...

"MONEY MADE SCARCE. Senator Sherman said in 1890, that we needed about $40,000,000 to keep pace with population and industry. If we need it then, we need it now, and yet, we are not getting it...

"A RISING DOLLAR. We are opposed to the gold standard because the gold standard means a rising dollar. A rising dollar means falling prices; falling prices mean hard times...

"We believe that the opening of our mints will bring into circulation more standard money. To the gold of the world, we will add the silver, and when the gold and silver measure the price of all the property of the world, that price will be more than it is now...

"We want the ratio of 16 to 1 for two reasons. In the first place, we believe that the gap between gold and silver bullion has been caused by hostile legislation, and that it can be closed by friendly legislation...

"We are in favor of a ratio of 16 to 1 not because we produce silver, but because we use both gold and silver.

wash-board can't last—it isn't sensible. The way that is surely taking its place—the easiest, quickest, most economical way—is washing with Pearline.

"DIRT DEFIES THE KING." THEN SAPOLIO IS GREATER THAN ROYALTY ITSELF.

and need all the gold and silver to keep the parity between gold and property. WHAT ANARCHIST? "Just a word about on phase of this subject. I want to caution you against putting your affairs in the hands of foreign nations...

On the Bulgarian Frontier. Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 1.—Serious conflicts took place on Aug. 27, on the Turkish-Bulgarian frontier near the villages of Adarshitzta and Kazlik. A Turkish officer and several Turkish soldiers were killed...

British Ships for the Levant. Valetta, Isle of Malta, Sept. 1.—The battleships Ramilies and Trafalgar, flag ships of the British Mediterranean squadrons, and twelve other British ships have started for the Levant.

Mount Hood in Eruption. Portland, Ore., Sept. 1.—A party of tourists report that Mount Hood was in eruption for a few minutes last Wednesday. The tourists were descending the mountain when they were suddenly submerged in a shower of rocks and ashes. No one was seriously injured.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 1.—Alexander R. McIntyre, 29 years of age, son of D. W. C. McIntyre, general freight agent of the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation company, committed suicide this morning. The weapon used was a shotgun. The act was committed in a room over the Detroit and Cleveland company's offices at the foot of Superior street. The motive for the deed is not known.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 1.—The Examiner-Journal relay courier arrived at Sutherland, Nebraska, from Paxton at 8:45 this morning. The total distance traversed is 1,561 miles, in six days, twenty hours and forty-five minutes, a record of five hours and twenty minutes on schedule time.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 1.—The Examiner-Journal relay courier arrived at Sutherland, Nebraska, from Paxton at 8:45 this morning. The total distance traversed is 1,561 miles, in six days, twenty hours and forty-five minutes, a record of five hours and twenty minutes on schedule time.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 1.—The train bearing William J. Bryan and party from Cleveland arrived in Columbus nearly an hour late. Though crowds of people were gathered at the little station along the route, the train made but four stops, and at those places Mr. Bryan shook hands with those assembled and spoke a few words to the citizens. Those stops were at Shelby Junction, Grafton, Crestline and Delaware. At each of these places he was cheered and applauded. At Shelby Junction four young men in the outskirts of the gathering attempted to start a McKinley riot, but the admirers of the Democrat drove the efforts of the McKinleyites with campy cheers for Bryan.

Here is a picture that women will wonder at, one of these days. They won't understand what the woman is doing. Even now it looks queer to the users of Pearline to see a woman doubling herself up over a wash-tub. This old-fashioned, back-breaking way of washing clothes by rubbing them to pieces over a wash-board can't last—it isn't sensible. The way that is surely taking its place—the easiest, quickest, most economical way—is washing with Pearline. No soap with it—that's entirely needless—nothing but Pearline.

WANTS... Always Popular THE EAGLE'S WANT COLUMNS

Wants For Sale For Trade For Exchange Miscellaneous Real Estate Financials Personals

HELP WANTED-FEMALE. WANTED-A good white girl of experience to do general housework. Bring references. 216 N. Emporia Ave. 624-17.

WANTED-A girl for general housework in the country. Must be a good cook, washer, ironer, etc. Address Theo. B. Young, Box 42, Wichita, Kansas. 624-17-9.

WANTED-A good girl to do general housework. Apply at 1628 North Lawrence street. 624-17-9.

WANTED-First-class girl for general housework; no washing. Mr. J. J. McNamara. 624-17-9.

WANTED-Lady solicitor. Call at Baldwin, Photos, 115 E. Douglas Ave. 624-17-9.

SITUATIONS WANTED-FEMALE. SALESMEN WANTED. AGENTS WANTED-Big money in latest campaign and commission work. Box 54, Boston, Mass. 624-17-9.

FOR SALE-Cheap for cash, a well-established restaurant business, can be conducted by lady of gentleman. Address "Restaurant," Eagle office. 624-17-9.

FOR SALE-A good paying hotel and furniture of 27 rooms. The only hotel in the city; located at Conway Springs, Kan., a division point of the Missouri Pacific R.R. A great snap if taken. 6000-624-17-9.

PERSONAL-If you desire a first-class business education attend the Wichita Commercial College, Y. M. C. A. Bldg. 624-17-9.

PIANO TUNING-J. L. Sheldon is now in the city. Leave orders at Daniel Bros. 401 to 411 E. Douglas Ave. 624-17-9.

WANTED-20 persons to eat pie at the Harvest Home Social, Oak Street Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening, Sept. 3. Social preceded by a Harvest Home Entertainment. A fine program and good music by the orchestra. Admission to entertainment free. All under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. 624-17-9.

WANTED-To buy a first-class phonograph. Call at Bon Ton bakery. 624-17-9.

WANTED-The fall term of the Wichita Commercial College, located in the Y. M. C. A. Bldg., begins Sept. 1. 624-17-9.

WANTED-An upright piano; good or poor; lowest cash price. Address "H. B.," Eagle office. 624-17-9.

WANTED-You can get your piano tuned any time. Our tuner is here all the time. All work guaranteed. Earnest & Newman, piano repairers, 115 E. Douglas Ave. 624-17-9.

FOR RENT-Modern houses; also business house. Israel Bron. 624-17-9.

FOR RENT-Houses in all parts of the city. Hills & Kinckadever 143 N. Market. 624-17-9.

FOR RENT-MISCELLANEOUS. FOR RENT-My store room, 113 East Douglas avenue, after September 1. J. S. Caldwell. 624-17-9.

LOST. LOST-A pair of gold eye-glasses and chain, on Douglas Ave or Market St. If found please leave at Barnes & Newcomb's music store and receive reward. 624-17-9.

PERSONAL-How to become a successful physician. Lectures by mail. Health University, Chicago, Ill. 624-17-9.

FOR TRADE. STRAYED-OM sorrel horse; 3 white feet. Return to 90 S. Main St. and receive reward. 624-17-9.

STRAYED-From 83 South Main street, boy named, branded with letter "H" on left shoulder; 11 months old. See information from the whereabouts suitably rewarded by G. W. Fryer. 624-17-9.

MRS. OFFEN'S JOURNEY. The Poor Woman Had an Upswing Trip to Town. Mrs. Offen started from her country home for a visit to the city. She was an excellent woman, belonging to all the best social societies of her home town, and a great temperance worker. It therefore struck her as very unpleasant to have the car in which she traveled so permeated with the odor of whisky that she was obliged to ask the conductor to open the window.

"I should think you would like some fresh air," said that functionary in a tone that Mrs. Offen resented inwardly as impudent. The ride came to an end and Mrs. Offen gladly left the steam car for an electric, which was to convey her to her friend's house in the city.

"Dear me!" said the good woman as she paid her fare, "your car smells dreadful strong of liquor." "I agree with you, ma'am," said the conductor, with a wink; "if you'll sit nearer the door it will be pleasanter for the other passengers."

"The man is intoxicated. What a shame," said Mrs. Offen to her next neighbor in the car. "Be careful you ain't run in," answered the man as he went outside. "Now, what did he mean?" she suffocated, and as she thought it over, and saw the curious looks directed at her, she concluded to get out and walk the rest of the way. Seizing her satchel in a firm grip, she rose, but as the car gave a lurch forward, she sat down again. "You're not at S— street yet," said the conductor.

"I know where I am; let me out," she persisted. "Don't let her off here at the railroad crossing—she will certainly be hurt," said a kind woman. But Mrs. Offen insisted, and left the car, and soon reached her friend's house, very red and tired, and with her bonnet askew.

Her friend met her at the door and was going to be very kind to see her, when Mrs. Offen blurted out: "I'm going right back home. Everybody's been drinking. All the people are intoxicated. I wouldn't live in such an ungodly place an hour. You are as bad as the rest. Phew! That vile whisky!"

"Sarah Jane Offen," said her friend, solemnly, "you've been drinking yourself!" "Oh, oh, what a horrible slander! I never tasted a drop in my life, and that's why I told Uncle Elias, at first, that I wouldn't bring a bottle of whisky for medicine to old Uncle Peter. But I did, for I thought a sick man as old as he is might need it. And there it is, and I wish my hands of the whole matter!"

She opened her satchel and gave a shriek. The bottle was broken, and everything in the satchel was saturated with the pungent fluid. "Good gracious!" she exclaimed, "do wonder they wouldn't sit next to me," and she promptly went into a fit of hysterics.

And half the pleasure of her visit was spoiled by the knowledge that she had actually figured as an exponent of intemperance.—Detroit Free Press.

"What is that fellow raving so for, asked the tourist. "Missed the midnight train last night," explained Hubberneck Hill. "Well, well! I have seen men swear and cuss for five minutes or so, over and over a train, but he is the first one I ever knew to be at it ten hours after the train had gone."

"He has mighty good reason, my friend. There was more's $45,000 in bullion and dust on that that very train."—Indianapolis Journal.

Something New. Hoax—I've got a great scheme for warm weather. Loax—Let's have it. "I'm going to have a small boy near me sharpening slate pencils. It always makes my blood run cold."—Philadelphia Record.

At a caucus of the Oregon delegation tomorrow the following resolution was prepared for presentation to the convention tomorrow. Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that a permanent organization of the party now in convention assembled is advisable and necessary; that a national committee be selected agreeable to the wishes of the Democratic party...

CANADIAN FOR CALLAHAN Democratic County Convention in Terrestrial Position. El Reno, O. T., Sept. 1.—(Special)—The Democratic county convention of Canadian county met in this city yesterday. The convention was called to order by Chairman O'Rourke of the central committee. Frank Meyer was made chairman and AMW Clayton, and T. E. Hensley were elected secretaries.

After the temporary organization was made permanent, resolution were adopted endorsing Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform, ratifying Callahan's nomination, urging Democrats to vote for him and instructing delegates for him; putting delegates under the unit rule and excluding proxies, and favoring the adoption of the platform formulated by the Populist and Democratic central committees. In case Callahan is endorsed by the territorial convention.

J. Y. Callahan of Kingfisher seems at present to be far in the lead in the race. He is leaving no stone unturned, which will give him the opportunity to appear upon the ticket in opposition to Dennis Flynn. Mr. Flynn does not seem to be worrying himself about the matter, as it may be easily remembered he enthusiastically he was endorsed by both Democrats and Republicans at the time of his renomination at Kingfisher.

The following delegates were elected to represent Canadian county in the territorial congressional convention, which meets in this city next Thursday. For delegates-at-large: Dan Perry, Sid Clute and Joseph Strunk. The delegates were E. W. Pelton, E. B. Edwards, G. M. Church, C. M. Edwards, E. T. Mitchell, E. D. Cameron, E. J. Shiller, J. O'Rourke, A. Bird, Samuel Smelser, A. Snowder, A. N. Harrell, J. P. Dyer, W. J. Salzer, W. R. and W. McMahon.

Each delegate was required to state his position as to fusion, before he received the ratification of the convention. The entire affair has simply resolved itself into a grand effort to defeat Dennis Flynn at all hazards. Populism has almost entirely been absorbed by the Democratic party.

The territorial central committees of both Democrats and populists parties will meet tomorrow night in this city to confer upon the situation, and henceforth during the campaign will act in unison.

The political situation is quite warm all over the territory, and is growing especially, discussions upon the subject almost daily in amateur boxing matches.

The Republicans are by no means idle, but are confident of success when election day arrives. Dennis Flynn's efforts with the free horses bill will not be forgotten by the Oklahomans in November.

NOBLE COUNTY DEMOCRATS Callahan and Fusion Get a Black Eye Above at Perry. Perry, O. T., Sept. 1.—(Special)—The Democratic county convention met this afternoon to nominate a candidate for representative from this (Third) district to the territorial convention, to select delegates to the territorial convention to be held at El Reno on the 3rd inst., to nominate a delegate to congress and to select delegates to attend the council convention at Pawnee which meets for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the territorial council.

Thomas H. Doyle, an attorney of this city, was nominated for the legislature by acclamation. This means no fusion, as Mr. Doyle is opposed to the Rev. Mr. Callahan.

The convention then endorsed Henry E. Johnston, an attorney of this city, for candidate for territorial council and gave him the distinguished privilege of selecting his own delegation to Pawnee.

J. B. Dicks defeated Editor Wharton of the Sentinel for territorial committee man.

The delegates to El Reno are: J. B. Dalaney, J. B. Dicks, W. H. Johnson, F. F. Tobbe, George E. Clayton, W. Perriman, C. F. Colcord, M. M. Warner, G. H. A. Johnson, J. W. Yates, Allen Caruthers, J. W. Quirk, J. J. Patterson, T. M. Wilson and J. T. Patterson. The next rule was adopted.

THIEVES ROB THE DESTITUTE Military Needed to Take Care of Relief Supplies in Oklahoma. Calumet, Mich., Sept. 1.—Colonel Lyons and a company of picked men from the Fifth regiment left this morning for Oklahoma, where they will guard the supplies that are pouring in for the victims of last Tuesday's conflagration. Hundreds of thieves have flocked there from Duluth and other points and the officers of the law have been unable to save the warehouse from being plundered by these villains.

The Ladies. The pleasant and perfect safety with which ladies may use Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy. Get the name of the article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Company, printed near the bottom of the package. For sale by all responsible druggists.

MINISTERS CALL ON LI They Think Him for His Efforts in Behalf of American Missionaries. New York, Sept. 1.—The American Missionary society, represented by thirty ministers, headed by Rev. F. P. Eliot, called upon Li Hung Chang today and presented him with an address, thanking him for his interest in the missionaries in China. The address which is quite long, says that for fifty years the missionaries of the American Board and Protestant Episcopal churches have been favored with the protection of the Chinese government and that in no nation of the world have American missionaries received more just and even generous treatment than in China.

In his address, after thanking Earl Li for a proclamation in behalf of the missionaries issued by him in 1891, says that it is extremely gratifying to observe that at the present time the disinterested spirit of missionaries seems to be better understood and more appreciated in China than ever before. The address refers to work in behalf of Chinese in this country and says that while Earl Li to visit the Pacific coast, he would see the homes and relatives which will be co-operated in the Chinese consular general, the Christian women of that coast have provided for unfortunate Chinese girls "sold into debauched slavery."

The address closes with an expression of satisfaction that the missionaries have had an opportunity to thank his excellency in person and hopes that they may long be spared to life.

Li Hung Chang responded by thanking the ministers for their kind and pressing address, adding that his government had only done its duty in protecting the missionaries. In conclusion he thanked the missionaries for their efforts to stop opium smoking, which he characterized as a curse and expressed his gratitude for their prayers for his recovery from the wound inflicted by his Japanese assailant.

CHINESE COAL IN COMPETITION Cheap Labor Product of the Tonquin Mines Unloaded in America. San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 1.—China has thrown down the gauntlet to the big coal miners of the United States. The American bark Colorado, which has just arrived in port, brought a mixed cargo of anthracite and manufactured coal, mined and made in the Tonquin district, and is expected to unload a coal dealing firm of this city, which promises to push the Chinese fuel on the coast market at prices greatly below those which Pennsylvania and Welsh coals command. The character of the coal is being examined. Experts have pronounced the Tonquin coal beds as almost inexhaustible. The Chinese article is in the market to stay, it is said, and as long as the present traffic conditions last, the Chinese coal of the Tonquin war, has been under the control of the French and it is French capital that is now developing its mines, but the land is still populated by Chinese, and it was Chinese who discovered the coal that is employed in the mines. The coal is extremely low cost of production, which enables the French owners of the Tonquin mines to undersell the coal of other countries where the labor is better paid. The coal from the Orient is said to be of the finest quality, fully equal to the best Pennsylvania or Welsh coal.

SHOULD PUT POEMOSA IN SOAK Intellectual Japanese Journal's Plan to End the Rebellion There. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 1.—According to advices received today, Formosa continues in a state of rebellion against Japanese rule. Japanese forces are kept constantly on the alert in an endeavor to subdue the rebels.

Discussing this state of affairs, the Japan Daily Mail urges the immediate suppression of the uprising and says: "The Japanese are certain foreign countries that have turned their eyes upon Formosa and are most anxious to see possession of it. If it is in view of repeated disturbances and failures to administer the island that the world has decided that Japan is not competent to hold it, what a bitter disgrace it were to bear."

Continuing, the paper says the only way in which the government can raise the spirit of suppression of disorder and to bring about peace is to take a really bold step, raising a loan, domestic and foreign, on security of the island. If Formosa be placed in pledge there would be no difficulty in obtaining $100,000,000 for foreigners would be delighted to go into such an investment.

Firewood Barred. New York, Sept. 1.—The unexpected defeat of J. Hamilton's crack pack, Mocking Bird, in the Blue Ribbon stakes for pacers of the 2:15 class was the feature of the second day's sport at the grand circuit meeting. Berkshire Courier surprised the field by winning the race in straight heats. Summaries: Class 2:15 pacers. Good Cheer stakes, $2,000 (undivided from yesterday.) Planter won third, sixth and seventh heats. Best time 2:18. Monopole won fourth and fifth heats. Best time 2:19. Betsford was third. Red Silk won first and second heats. Best time 2:18. Class 2:18 pacers. Blue Ribbon stakes, $2,000. Berkshire Courier won in straight heats. Best time 2:11. Robert R. second. Royal Victor, third.

Class 2:24 trotting. Speedway stakes, $3,000. Vainor won first, fourth and fifth heats. Best time 2:18. Bell II won second and third heats and was second. Best time 2:15. Comanche was third.

Class 2:24 trotting. Speedway stakes, $3,000. Vainor won first, fourth and fifth heats. Best time 2:18. Bell II won second and third heats and was second. Best time 2:15. Comanche was third.

Class 2:24 trotting. Speedway stakes, $3,000. Vainor won first, fourth and fifth heats. Best time 2:18. Bell II won second and third heats and was second. Best time 2:15. Comanche was third.

Class 2:24 trotting. Speedway stakes, $3,000. Vainor won first, fourth and fifth heats. Best time 2:18. Bell II won second and third heats and was second. Best time 2:15. Comanche was third.

Class 2:24 trotting. Speedway stakes, $3,000. Vainor won first, fourth and fifth heats. Best time 2:18. Bell II won second and third heats and was second. Best time 2:15. Comanche was third.

and need all the gold and silver to keep the parity between gold and property. WHAT ANARCHIST? "Just a word about on phase of this subject. I want to caution you against putting your affairs in the hands of foreign nations. "Let me read to you something—I am afraid I may offend some advocate of the gold standard, but I am going to read it even at a risk of offending him. Let me read you something and see if you can guess who used the language: "Against the insidious foreign influence I conjure you my friends, and I believe, my fellow citizens, the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake, since history and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of Republic can government. "What anarchist do you suppose wrote that? What man do you suppose desired to excite your prejudice against foreigners, would use that language? What demagogue would attempt to put the people of the people, employed those words? These are words used one hundred years ago on the 17th of this month, by George Washington. "When we sell you a barrel of flour, the legislative control of our financial policy in the hands of foreigners, they accuse us of trying to stir up hostility against those who live abroad. But he does not stop there. He says that gold coin without putting the money into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to him. He does not care for his profit; but he cannot spend a dollar of it without putting that into circulation, where it will be used to purchase the products of your soil and the toll of all who labor. Now that is where the Chinese get in. They take gold to the mint and have it converted into circulation. It is not worth anything to him until he puts it into circulation and the moment he does so, it is a part of the country's money, to be used in buying and selling here. "How about silver? The process is just the same as with gold. The man who owns a silver mine produces the silver, but instead of going to find someone who wants to use the silver to make spoons, he takes it to the mint and has it converted into money. That money is his pay for the labor of producing the silver, and paying all his expenses of mining, and that is left over to