

GREECE HALTS NOW SWAPPING OF MINISTERIAL HORSES IS IN ORDER.

Not in the Middle But at the Bottom of the Stream, Which May Take the Case Out From Under the Lincolnian Aegis.

London, April 28.—Matters at Athens are likely to remain unchanged until the ministerial crisis is settled, when overtures from the powers to intervene are expected.

Little or nothing seems to be known at Athens or is reported here as to the movements of the Greek fleet.

The only news of actual fighting in progress this afternoon comes from Velestino which commands the road to Volo.

It is said that Edhem Pasha has sent a white flag to Volo, with the assurance that the Turkish troops will inflict no damage upon the city of citizens.

The Greek forces now extend in a fourteen-mile line from Pharsalos to Velestino.

Down with the King. Athens, April 28.—Crowds last evening stoned the palace, broke its windows and cried: "Down with the king! Down with King Constantine!"

Portenars in Fear. Athens, April 28.—Public excitement is increasing every hour. The foreigners are hoisting their national flags over the buildings inhabited by them.

Greek Dynasty Must Go. Paris, April 28.—The Matin today declares that the secession of Prince Constantine, if made by a royal decree, is equivalent to his renunciation of his rights to the crown.

Italy Takes Action. London, April 28.—Special dispatches from Rome say that news has been received there from Athens announcing that the popular ferment against King George and his government has become graver.

Extra Session Put Off. Athens, April 28.—(Non.)—For want of a quorum today the extra session of the legislative assembly has been postponed.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Shot Their Own Men. The dispatch further says: A melancholy incident occurred yesterday. A countryman brought news that the Greeks were retreating from Philippida towards Arta.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

THE GREEKS WERE STILL FIGHTING IN FRONT OF PENNIPOLIS ON HIS ACCOUNT.

London, April 28.—There was an ineffectual attempt today (Wednesday), says the Athens correspondent of the Daily Mail, to pillage the shops of gunsmiths.

The headquarters of the Greek army are being removed to Domokos, a long way out of Pharsalos.

The Daily Mail's correspondent says that King George, on receiving a distinguished caller today, said to him: "I am ready to accept all my country's wishes. What I desire is that not a drop of blood shall be shed on my account."

Opposition Urges Quiet. Athens, April 28.—The opposition deputies issued the following address to the people: "Fellow citizens—In the critical period through which the country is passing, the summoning of the chamber is a necessity."

The French minister here, M. E. Aboune, has telegraphed for the French warship La Touche Treville to return immediately to the Piraeus.

The merchants on Hermes street have organized a private guard to protect their shops and patrole have been placed in the streets near the Boule.

The address of the opposition deputies, however, had a calming effect upon the people. A better feeling now prevails here and there is little probability now of a dynastic crisis.

Pour Parlers Active. Paris, April 28.—The following semi-official announcement has been made: "Four parlers between Paris, London, Rome and St. Petersburg, with the view of attempting mediation between Turkey and Greece, have been very active and are now assuming more precise form."

Amidst and Detrimental. Badua Post, April 28.—In the lower part of the Hungrus diet today Count Anppli, the opposition leader, interplated the premier, Baron Banffy, as to whether the territorial status quo and the granting of autonomy to Crete are the guiding principles animating the powers, the moment has not arrived "to end the aimless and politically detrimental war" and whether the object of Emperor Francis Joseph's visit to St. Petersburg is "to modify the conditions of our alliance or, without modifying them, to conclude an arrangement with Russia on the eastern question?"

France Threatens Turkey. London, April 28.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Paris says that M. Hanotaux, the French foreign minister, had a five hours interview today with the Turkish ambassador. It is understood that the subject under discussion was the terms upon which the powers are to base their intervention between Greece and Turkey.

The Daily News correspondent at Paris says that M. Hanotaux in the course of the conference urged the Turkish ambassador to advise the sultan to hold out the olive branch to Greece, adding that the Turkish minister was further France would be compelled to come forward as the defender of the Christian cause. In that event, said M. Hanotaux, Turkey would have them on reason to regret the intervention of the powers, which would not serve as a prop for the Ottoman empire. It is understood that M. Hanotaux expressed the earnest hope that the Turkish government would make the mistake of increasing the difficulties of the task of Europe.

Greece Can't Help It. Paris, April 28.—The French newspaper surges the powers to intervene between Turkey and Greece, especially as the fate of the Greek dynasty is now involved, and as Turkey has every reason to be satisfied with its victories, while Greece must accept the inevitable.

Signs at St. Petersburg. St. Petersburg, April 28.—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria and the czar were present today at a brilliant review of the troops of the St. Petersburg garrison.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

THE GREEKS WERE STILL FIGHTING IN FRONT OF PENNIPOLIS ON HIS ACCOUNT.

London, April 28.—There was an ineffectual attempt today (Wednesday), says the Athens correspondent of the Daily Mail, to pillage the shops of gunsmiths.

The headquarters of the Greek army are being removed to Domokos, a long way out of Pharsalos.

The Daily Mail's correspondent says that King George, on receiving a distinguished caller today, said to him: "I am ready to accept all my country's wishes. What I desire is that not a drop of blood shall be shed on my account."

Opposition Urges Quiet. Athens, April 28.—The opposition deputies issued the following address to the people: "Fellow citizens—In the critical period through which the country is passing, the summoning of the chamber is a necessity."

The French minister here, M. E. Aboune, has telegraphed for the French warship La Touche Treville to return immediately to the Piraeus.

The merchants on Hermes street have organized a private guard to protect their shops and patrole have been placed in the streets near the Boule.

The address of the opposition deputies, however, had a calming effect upon the people. A better feeling now prevails here and there is little probability now of a dynastic crisis.

Pour Parlers Active. Paris, April 28.—The following semi-official announcement has been made: "Four parlers between Paris, London, Rome and St. Petersburg, with the view of attempting mediation between Turkey and Greece, have been very active and are now assuming more precise form."

Amidst and Detrimental. Badua Post, April 28.—In the lower part of the Hungrus diet today Count Anppli, the opposition leader, interplated the premier, Baron Banffy, as to whether the territorial status quo and the granting of autonomy to Crete are the guiding principles animating the powers, the moment has not arrived "to end the aimless and politically detrimental war" and whether the object of Emperor Francis Joseph's visit to St. Petersburg is "to modify the conditions of our alliance or, without modifying them, to conclude an arrangement with Russia on the eastern question?"

France Threatens Turkey. London, April 28.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Paris says that M. Hanotaux, the French foreign minister, had a five hours interview today with the Turkish ambassador. It is understood that the subject under discussion was the terms upon which the powers are to base their intervention between Greece and Turkey.

The Daily News correspondent at Paris says that M. Hanotaux in the course of the conference urged the Turkish ambassador to advise the sultan to hold out the olive branch to Greece, adding that the Turkish minister was further France would be compelled to come forward as the defender of the Christian cause. In that event, said M. Hanotaux, Turkey would have them on reason to regret the intervention of the powers, which would not serve as a prop for the Ottoman empire. It is understood that M. Hanotaux expressed the earnest hope that the Turkish government would make the mistake of increasing the difficulties of the task of Europe.

Greece Can't Help It. Paris, April 28.—The French newspaper surges the powers to intervene between Turkey and Greece, especially as the fate of the Greek dynasty is now involved, and as Turkey has every reason to be satisfied with its victories, while Greece must accept the inevitable.

Signs at St. Petersburg. St. Petersburg, April 28.—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria and the czar were present today at a brilliant review of the troops of the St. Petersburg garrison.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

THE GREEKS WERE STILL FIGHTING IN FRONT OF PENNIPOLIS ON HIS ACCOUNT.

London, April 28.—There was an ineffectual attempt today (Wednesday), says the Athens correspondent of the Daily Mail, to pillage the shops of gunsmiths.

The headquarters of the Greek army are being removed to Domokos, a long way out of Pharsalos.

The Daily Mail's correspondent says that King George, on receiving a distinguished caller today, said to him: "I am ready to accept all my country's wishes. What I desire is that not a drop of blood shall be shed on my account."

Opposition Urges Quiet. Athens, April 28.—The opposition deputies issued the following address to the people: "Fellow citizens—In the critical period through which the country is passing, the summoning of the chamber is a necessity."

The French minister here, M. E. Aboune, has telegraphed for the French warship La Touche Treville to return immediately to the Piraeus.

The merchants on Hermes street have organized a private guard to protect their shops and patrole have been placed in the streets near the Boule.

The address of the opposition deputies, however, had a calming effect upon the people. A better feeling now prevails here and there is little probability now of a dynastic crisis.

Pour Parlers Active. Paris, April 28.—The following semi-official announcement has been made: "Four parlers between Paris, London, Rome and St. Petersburg, with the view of attempting mediation between Turkey and Greece, have been very active and are now assuming more precise form."

Amidst and Detrimental. Badua Post, April 28.—In the lower part of the Hungrus diet today Count Anppli, the opposition leader, interplated the premier, Baron Banffy, as to whether the territorial status quo and the granting of autonomy to Crete are the guiding principles animating the powers, the moment has not arrived "to end the aimless and politically detrimental war" and whether the object of Emperor Francis Joseph's visit to St. Petersburg is "to modify the conditions of our alliance or, without modifying them, to conclude an arrangement with Russia on the eastern question?"

France Threatens Turkey. London, April 28.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Paris says that M. Hanotaux, the French foreign minister, had a five hours interview today with the Turkish ambassador. It is understood that the subject under discussion was the terms upon which the powers are to base their intervention between Greece and Turkey.

The Daily News correspondent at Paris says that M. Hanotaux in the course of the conference urged the Turkish ambassador to advise the sultan to hold out the olive branch to Greece, adding that the Turkish minister was further France would be compelled to come forward as the defender of the Christian cause. In that event, said M. Hanotaux, Turkey would have them on reason to regret the intervention of the powers, which would not serve as a prop for the Ottoman empire. It is understood that M. Hanotaux expressed the earnest hope that the Turkish government would make the mistake of increasing the difficulties of the task of Europe.

Greece Can't Help It. Paris, April 28.—The French newspaper surges the powers to intervene between Turkey and Greece, especially as the fate of the Greek dynasty is now involved, and as Turkey has every reason to be satisfied with its victories, while Greece must accept the inevitable.

Signs at St. Petersburg. St. Petersburg, April 28.—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria and the czar were present today at a brilliant review of the troops of the St. Petersburg garrison.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

Why the Greeks Fail. London, April 28.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverses of the Greek army to the mistakes of the government.

DEBOE IS SENATOR

KENTUCKY'S LONG AND STUBBORN FIGHT ENDED.

Frankfort, Ky., April 28.—Governor Bradley has written out the certificate of election for Honorable W. J. DeBoe of Crittendon county, the junior senator from Kentucky, to succeed Honorable J. S. Blackburn, whose term expired March 4.

The end of the famous struggle, which has extended over two legislative sessions, will go into history as the most memorable Kentucky has ever known.

Republican caucus, informal, irregular and impromptu, were held from 5 o'clock in the afternoon till after daylight this morning.

When the last train was in this morning the Republican leaders announced that all of the seventy-one Republicans were on hand; that DeBoe would be absent, and that he was sure to be elected by seventy-one votes.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

When the legislature convened, all the Republicans in the senate, except DeBoe, answered present.

Advertisement for Wine of Cardui, featuring an illustration of a woman and text describing its benefits for women's health.

Advertisement for Bucklen's Arnica Salve, describing its uses for various ailments.

Advertisement for the Dawes-Otoataw-Chickasaw Men's Announce Agreement, detailing the terms of the agreement.

Advertisement for the Army and Navy News, providing updates on military and naval events.

Advertisement for the Army and Navy News, providing updates on military and naval events.

Advertisement for the Army and Navy News, providing updates on military and naval events.

Advertisement for the Army and Navy News, providing updates on military and naval events.

Advertisement for the Army and Navy News, providing updates on military and naval events.

Advertisement for the Army and Navy News, providing updates on military and naval events.

Advertisement for Stryper's Kidney Pills, featuring an illustration of a man and text describing its benefits for kidney health.

Advertisement for Stryper's Kidney Pills, featuring an illustration of a man and text describing its benefits for kidney health.

Advertisement for Stryper's Kidney Pills, featuring an illustration of a man and text describing its benefits for kidney health.

Advertisement for Stryper's Kidney Pills, featuring an illustration of a man and text describing its benefits for kidney health.

Advertisement for Stryper's Kidney Pills, featuring an illustration of a man and text describing its benefits for kidney health.