LESS HARD LIQUORS

And More of a Food Drink in Demand. At the bar of the better class nowadays there is a call for some hot drink that is non-alcoholic, and it is coming to be quite the thing to serve "Postum," the grain coffee, made at Battle Creek, Mich.

A reliable grocer will never offer a cheap or weak imitation of a genuine, original article because he happens to make a little extra profit. But it is well to observe that when genuine Postum Cereal office is ordered that you get Postum and not a spurious imitation offered as "just as good."

Payne township. The officers made a diligent search for Cantonwine but failed to find him. Cards were sent out giving a description of him, one being sent to Guthrie. He was located there and a telegram was sent to Sheriff Cone yesterday notifying him of Cantonwine's arrest. He will arrive in the city today and be placed in jail to await his trial.

Two Reported Drowned. And One of Them Said to be a Wichita Traveling Man. Last night men who came up on Santa Fe train No. 408 brought intelligence of the drowning of two men at Deep Fork Creek, in Oklahoma. The men were supposed to be Billy DeMar, a traveling man of this city, and Joe McKeelcher, of Oklahoma City. The identity of the men is merely a supposition based on the fact that the gentlemen were traveling in that direction.

Employs Moving In. Frisco Division Employees Moving Here for Accommodation. Quite a number of families are moving in from Burston and securing residence property in the vicinity of the Frisco terminal. Prize is Committed. Waives Preliminary and is Sent to Jail in Default of Bond. Robert Price, who is charged with an attempt to hold up "Red" Wilkins, in which attempt Wilkins shot him, waived preliminary examination in Justice Enoch's court yesterday and in default of a $1,000 bond was committed to jail for appearance in the district court. It will be remembered that Price lingered at the point of death in the county jail for a month after he was shot.

He Loves to Fish. Chas. Davidson of This City Makes Splendid Catch. Charley Davidson is recognized as being one of the most expert fishermen in Kansas, either in casting a fly for wary trout in the fastness of the Rockies, or trolling a spoon of trailing a minnow for Kansas' most superb fish, the black bass. He knows their haunts and habits and delights in the sport which made Isaac Walton immortal. Waldoff Lake, a private property in Pratt county, is one of Mr. Davidson's favorite places, to which place he regularly flies with rod and reel. He returned yesterday with an extraordinary catch. The season is right, the minnows prime chubs and tailor-noses and he landed a score of four and five pounders, among them a whale which just tipped the beam at twenty-four pounds. This magnificent fellow was duly delivered to the table of the editor of the Eagle within a few hours after it had been taken from the water, prime and fresh. Few black bass ever attain so great a size.

Rev. W. R. Smith of Oto, Ia., who has been visiting his son, M. R. Smith of this city, left for his home yesterday. He made a telling address at the Y. M. C. center last Sabbath. Little Miss Kendrick Appears. Yesterday with the golden beams of a transient sun came the sunny, dimpled smile of a baby girl into the heart and home of Mr. W. L. Kendrick, No. 1069 South Topeka avenue. The baby for a pretty little lady, and enters upon her function of making the home brighter and happier in possession of the most excellent health and in good spirit. The father and mother are rejoicing. There is a great deal of complaint that the drivers of scavenger carts dump all sorts of animal refuse in the grove north of Oak street bridge, and officers are on the watch.

Standard, reputable articles are not dear at the prices asked for them. Substitutes offered by unscrupulous and irresponsible makers are costly at any figure. Be sure that no humbug is practiced on you when you go to buy. Examine the labels and trademarks of proprietary articles. Imitations are common, and in some instances the difference between them and the genuine is so slight as to escape careless observation. Beware of dishonest shopkeepers and salesmen.

Just as sure as a woman forgets to take her handkerchief with her, some one tells her a tale of woe, and she is compelled to weep under such embarrassing circumstances that she doesn't enjoy it. New York, May 12.—The Johnsons Food Correspondents' association will hold its annual meeting and dinner at the Waldorf hotel, New York, on the evening of May 20. TO PLEDGE "HONOR"

Desiring to Effect an Agreement for the Reorganization of Their Traffic Association—Modeled on the Recent Compact of Western Lines at Chicago, Being a "Gentlemen's" Agreement, Where the Loss of "Honor" is the Only Penalty—Railroad Presidents to be Investigated at Albany—Railway News. Kansas City, May 14.—Representatives of roads members of the old Trans-Missouri Freight Rate committee met here to consider an agreement for the re-organization of their traffic association. An agreement, modeled on the plan of that recently adopted by the executives of the western roads at Chicago, was read and taken up section by section. Provisions for the maintenance of rates are carefully omitted and it is strictly a "gentlemen's" compact, without other forfeits than "honor." It was formally adopted, but it is expected that all lines will accept it, with minor changes.

To Ask Those Who Know. Albany, N. Y., May 14.—Justice Chester has granted the application made by the attorney general of this state for summons to issue against certain railroad officials who are alleged to be concerned in an attempt to corner or control the sale of coal in this state. The persons summoned are requested to appear before a referee, Walter E. Webb, on May 20, to answer as to their alleged connection with the reputed combine. The action is taken under the law passed at the last session of the legislature which prescribes this mode of eliciting evidence as to the operation of monopolies, and is a test case.

New York, May 14.—A Wall street news bureau prints the name of the following railroad presidents as those who have been summoned to appear at Albany on May 20 to testify regarding the coal combine: President Sloane, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western; President Souler, of the New York, Ontario and Western; President Oliphant, of the Delaware and Hudson; President Maxwell, of the Chesapeake and Potomac; President Harris, of the Reading, and President Wilder, of the Lehigh Valley.

Merriam Bill Killed. Lansing, Mich., May 14.—The senate today killed the Merriam bill as amended by the house. The bill as originally passed by the senate increased the tax on railroad earnings by about $150,000. The house amended it so as to raise these taxes to upwards of $700,000.

Steel Beam Falls. Will Result in Starting Idle Mills, and a Scramble for Orders. Pittsburg, Pa., May 14.—The disruption of the steel beam pool, the last vestige of the combinations which held the powerful producers together, is regarded by local brokers as likely to precipitate a rate war along all lines such as exist at present in the rail and billet branches of the business. The dissolution of the pool was followed by a cut of from $22 to $12 a ton. It is thought that a cut in the price of beams, etc., will only be a natural sequence and that the price will go below 1 cent per pound.

War Not Yet Declared. Between the Insurance Departments of Wisconsin and Missouri. St. Louis, May 14.—State Insurance Commissioner O'Rear, when seen in regard to the dispatch from Milwaukee stating that the licenses of Wisconsin insurance companies doing business in Missouri, the dissolution of the bid pool for the repeal of the license of the Citizens' insurance company of Missouri, in Wisconsin, said: "The action of the insurance superintendent of Wisconsin in revoking the license of the Citizens' company in Wisconsin, was called to my attention yesterday, and I am now in possession of a full statement of facts from the officers of the company—some of the most reputable business men in St. Louis, who are scolding out the Citizens company. I also requested him to recall his order revoking the license until the matters complained of can be more thoroughly investigated and the accused company can have opportunity to be heard."

Decrease in Immigration. Nearly a Hundred Thousand Estimated for the Year Ending June 30. Washington, May 14.—The returns received by the immigration bureau during the last several months show a marked falling off in the number of immigrant arrivals to this country. During April the decrease at New York alone was 11,420, and during Fell to the Floor. HIS LEGS SUDDENLY CAME OUT. Thomas P. Bigg, of Cleveland, Stricken as He was Preparing for a Visit to Friends.

Of the list of the many so-called incurable disorders none has proved to be more of an enigma to the most learned and accomplished physicians than locomotor ataxia, or as it is more commonly known, creeping paralysis. This dread disease has baffled their skill, and they have been forced to admit that they were completely unable to mitigate the accompanying pain and suffering. The science of medicine has been of little or no avail to the many unfortunates who have contracted the dreadful malady, which, many people, especially those who are thus afflicted, believe is a forerunner of the grim messenger of death.

Thomas P. Bigg, who lives at No. 1073 St. Clair Street, corner of Lawrence St., Cleveland, O., has been suffering from locomotor ataxia for nearly five years, and nothing but his wonderful vitality has prevented his dissolution long before this. The malady is directly attributable to his exposure during army life. He enlisted in the Third Regiment Ohio Cavalry in Toledo, and served nineteen months in the volunteer service, and after the close of the rebellion, eighteen months in the regular army. "At first," he said in narrating his experience, "my stomach went back on me, and for six weeks I was laid up in a hospital in Texas. Ever since that time that organ has caused me trouble, and about seven years ago I began to feel as if I was suffering from acute indigestion. This was bad enough, but four years ago last July paralysis came on, and I have been using these crutches ever since. The paralysis was in my legs, and it came rather suddenly. I noticed first that my knees were a little stiff, a sort of rheumatic pain, you know. This quickly developed into paralysis. I tried all kinds of remedies, and I tried physicians, but I did not improve. All this time, though, I was holding my own—was getting any worse. A short time ago I was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did not expect this last venture would prove any more beneficial than all the others which preceded it. But I am pleased to say I was most agreeably disappointed. Dr. Williams' Pills are simply wonderful. I began to use them two months ago. My legs then were perfectly numb and cold—nothing could warm them. After suffering with paralysis for more than four years, I now experience a comforting feeling of warmth in my lower limbs. I tell you, I feel like shouting when I think of escaping from my bondage, and my mind is on the subject pretty much of the time. I intend to continue the use of the pills until my legs are as good and useful as they were in their best days, and I feel that this will be soon.

"What effect have the pills had upon your stomach?" Mr. Bigg was asked, "as regards that," said he, "you can readily believe that a stomach which has been seriously out of order for thirty or forty years is in bad shape. Nothing would stay on my stomach, and I was subject to violent fits of hiccoughing. This would have to take me up to get to sleep. But now I find that food stays on my stomach, though I do not suppose that organ will ever be in first-class shape again. Still, I am sure I find that it is improved to such a degree, and that I can eat with a feeling of ease."

For six years until a month ago, October, 1894, Mr. Bigg had a stationary and condition directly opposite the Madison Ave. School. He sold out his business and can now be found at any time at No. 1073 St. Clair St., Cleveland, O. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, if they are never to fail or to be of any use. Address: Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

PA HAND SAW IS A GOOD THING, BUT NOT TO SHAVE WITH. SAPOLIO IS THE PROPER THING FOR HOUSE-CLEANING.

The eleven days in the present month the falling off at New York was 19,800. Commissioner General Stump estimates that the decrease for the entire country during the fiscal year ending June 30, next, will be not less than 50,000. New York probably will show 70,000.

What the High School Graduates at Oklahoma City had to Say. Oklahoma City, O. T., May 14.—The third annual commencement exercises and the graduation of the class of '97 of the Oklahoma City High school took place last night.

Despite the terrific rainstorm, the opera house was crowded with relatives and friends of the graduating class. The stage was beautifully decorated in palms and potted plants and draped flags, the class and teachers occupying seats in a half circle.

The invocation by Rev. Anderson was followed by the salutatory, "Progress of Civilization," by Theodore F. Folk. His oration showed that the young man is a lover and student of history and has the ability of applying the lessons learned by conning the history of the past to the political questions of the present. His delivery was easy and convincing. He is the only male member of the class and he was expected by the boys of the high school to make up what they lacked in numbers by ability, and he fulfilled their most rosy expectations.

The next oration was delivered by Miss Ada Lecler Jarboe. Her subject was the class motto, "What Next?" She dealt in the presentation of her subject with the problems that present themselves through life and that the motto of the class was an ever present question presenting itself at every turn of life's pathway. Her delivery was a combination of most winsome features, and the sweet southern accent of her voice made her delivery very pleasing.

Miss Myrtle Axenia Beatty is the literary genius of the class and on account of her love for literature and her former successes in that direction she was chosen to deliver the class poem. "Hall and Farewell, Farewell and Hall" was the title of her poem, an inspiration of thought and composition, to which was added a graceful delivery.

Francois Margaret Burrows was the class historian and she filled the position capably. Her delivery was a combination of what she possessed and graceful. Her history was told in the form of a narrative and was humorous at times and always interesting. Her history of the class was very minute, even going so far as to tell the respective ages of the sweet girl graduates, which, of course, was of interest to all. The average age of the class is 18 years.

The class prophecy, given by Miss Cecile Blanche Asher, a brown-eyed, brown-haired young lady, who gives evidence of having in addition to her high school training a wealth of what is best known as common sense. She has a good voice and composed delivery. Miss Asher's prophecy was told as a story writer. She will, if her bent is in that direction, some day achieve fame. For then, folk she prophesied politics until the advent of woman to that sphere, when on account of his aversion to the fair sex, he would become a hermit. Miss Beatty is to be a teacher, finally marrying a bachelor millionaire. Miss Jarboe a queen of society with marriage to a foreign nobleman; Miss Burrows an actress; Miss Grant, a missionary to foreign heathens; love in a cottage to Miss Streeter; Miss Blackwelder, woman's rights and dress reform; Miss Price, a lady of noble qualities and wealth, whose life would be devoted to the uplifting of young students in search of knowledge; and to the prophetess herself a life of single blessedness, ended by the marrying of a widower or with six children.

"Ethics of Pederastogony" was the title of Miss Alice Cary Grant's oration. The oration was a well worded effort and gave evidence of a minute observation of the passing events of a school room and the conclusions drawn from those observations could be followed with benefit by the most successful. Part of her address dealt in finely moulded sarcasm at which the speaker seemed at her best. Miss Grant is an intellectual appearing young lady of stately beauty and handsomely groomed, her appearance had an arresting effect upon her audience.

"How the Shackles Were Removed" was the theme chosen by Miss Pansy L. Price, one of the sweetest and brightest young ladies in the class. Miss Price showed a remarkable acquaintance with the history of nations and traced their rise and fall since the beginning of the world, with the most thorough accuracy. In a peroration that was truly eloquent she paid a grand tribute to America and won for herself loud and hearty applause. Miss Price showed pronounced genius in her composition. In addition to a sweet voice and rare intelligence, Miss Price is a beautiful young lady, who has before her a bright future.

Miss Maude Gertrude Blackwelder delivered in German an oration, "Die Deutschen und die Rosen im Leben eines Schulers." She is a student of ability and a remarkable linguist. As she became enthused with her theme she spoke possibly a trifle too fast and some in the audience failed to catch the import of her thought.

The valedictorian, Miss Virginia Naudian Streeter, chose for her subject "In the Long Run." She is a young lady of marked intellectuality and upon several occasions during her high school course composed essays and orations of a very high standard, and her graduation oration was the climax of her literary work of her high school career. She impressed upon her fellow graduates the benefits of hard work and the error of dependence upon luck or chance. Her farewell address to her teachers and fellow students was well worded and touching.

The music that varied the program was well received. Miss Myrtle Cook rendered a beautiful violin solo and responded to an encore. Miss Grace King of the territorial university at Norman delighted the audience with whom she is always a favorite, with a recitative solo, and in response to a hearty encore sang "Good Bye, Sweet Day." The high school orchestra also rendered several excellent selections. The class song was written by Miss Grant and set to music by Miss Price, assisted by Miss Ora Allen. The class sang the composition. Rev. Anderson presented the diplomas.

This is the largest class yet graduated from the Oklahoma City High school. It is one of whom the school and the city may well be proud, that will add lustre to the annals, and is an additional evidence of the superior advantages of the Oklahoma City public schools.

Has Inspected Consulates. Mr. Chilton of the Consular Bureau Returns from a Trip Abroad. San Francisco, May 14.—Robert E. Chilton, chief of the consular department of state, is here. He has made a tour of inspection of the American consulates in Europe and the Orient and is now on his way back to Washington, after an absence of eight months.

Last evening Mr. Chilton said that the consulates, like every other federal office, required inspection at stated intervals, but for some reason the inspection he is now making is the first general inspection that has been made in twenty years.

"The purpose of such an investigation trip as I have been making," he said, "is easily explained. The state department wants to know how well, or how poorly the government is represented in the various places where consulates are maintained and how the business of each office is conducted. At the same time it is my province to make suggestions or recommendations in respect to the establishment of new consulates where they are needed and the abolishment of existing consulates where they are not needed."

"I left Washington in September last and have been on the go ever since. I visited all the American consulates in England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Belgium, Germany, Italy and throughout Europe generally. Then I proceeded to the Orient. The result of my labors is, of course, a matter that concerns only the state department, and my report will be of a confidential nature. I can only say that I found our government on the whole, very well represented."

Mr. Chilton left today for Washington. VANDERLIP TO ASSIST GAGE Secretary's Private Secretary Will Supercede Mr. Scott's Office. Washington, May 14.—It was officially announced today that the nomination of Mr. Frank A. Vanderlip of Chicago as assistant secretary of the treasury, to succeed Mr. Scott Wick, would be sent to the senate when it reconvenes next Monday. Mr. Vanderlip is at present serving as private secretary to Mr. Gage.
