BOOKS AND RENDERED A REPORT TO THE COUNTY

books and rendered a report to the county that the total amount in the bank and in his hands, as county treasurer, was seventy-eight thousand six hundred and ninety-one dollars and fifteen cents ($78,691.15), and rendered an account in his book and to the county that the said sum was all the money he had collected except what had been duly and legally paid out on the proper warrants; that, whereas, in truth and in fact, the said John A. Doran had collected in addition thereto and failed to state the sum in his said report, the said sum of thirty-two thousand one hundred and seventy-eight dollars and seventy-nine cents ($32,178.79), which sum said John A. Doran failed, refused and neglected to pay to his successor in office, or to any person authorized by law to receive the same, but which said sum said John A. Doran previous to the said second Tuesday in October, 1894, and about the 24th day of May, 1897, the said John A. Doran departed this life, and Priscilla Doran has been duly and legally appointed administratrix of the estate of John A. Doran. Demand was made upon her as administratrix for said sum and payment thereon was refused by her; that since the execution of the said bond and since the second Tuesday of October, 1894, the said J. D. Stover departed this life and J. H. Rhodes and H. Stover were duly and legally appointed administrators of the estate of J. D. Stover; that since the execution of the bond and since said second Tuesday of October, 1894, W. J. Pittenger has departed this life, and that — has been duly and legally appointed his administrator.

That all of the said defendants except the said John A. Doran are sureties of the said bond of the said John A. Doran, which said bond was duly and legally filed in said office of the county clerk, as provided by law, on the 17th day of October, 1892, and was duly and legally approved as hereinafter set forth by the county commissioners, and by T. H. Randall, chairman of the board of county commissioners of Sedgwick county, Kansas, and has ever since been a part of the files of Sedgwick county, Kansas. Wherefore, and by reason of the foregoing plaintiff demands judgment against said defendant and each of them for the said sum of thirty-two thousand one hundred and seventy-eight dollars and seventy-nine cents ($32,178.79), and for interest thereon from the said second Tuesday of October, 1894, at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, and for costs of suit and for such other and further relief to which in law and equity plaintiff is entitled.

THE STATE OF KANSAS, EX. REL. S. B. AMIDON, County Attorney, State of Kansas, Sedgwick County, ss. S. B. AMIDON, says that he is the duly elected and qualified acting county attorney of Sedgwick county, Kansas; that he has read over the foregoing petition and that he is informed and believes the same to be true and correct, and that he makes this affidavit upon his information and belief.

Subscribed to in my presence and sworn to before me this 1st day of September, 1897. T. A. SULLIVAN, Notary Public, Commission expires April 2, 1900. The Value of a Reason. (By Wm. Woodhouse, Jr.) In a town not a thousand miles from New York is an advertising manager who insists that whenever bargains are offered good reasons for the lowering of the prices shall be inserted in the advertisement. The proprietor is with him heart and soul, and always insists that the real reason shall be given.

There are always buyers who will jump at a bargain, and who are smart enough to know that there must be some good reason why the prices are lowered. They don't care if the goods are a trifle mused, or shop-worn, or out of style; they're not sticklers for fashion, and a good reason for the price cutting satisfies them. The before-mentioned advertising manager and storekeeper are just shrewd enough to know this. The consequence is that whatever bargains are offered are sold quickly, too, as a rule. There isn't a store in that town so entirely free from has-beens and out of dates, nor one that possesses firmer friends. Whatever store news it prints is believed in implicitly.

CONTROL IN THE FUTURE. OF THIS DECISION THE OPINION SAYS:

"Under the law as construed by the court, the commission has power to say, what, in respect to the past was just and reasonable, but to rates complained of as unreasonable, unjust and unlawful, and so found to be by the commission, it can make no provision or order for their reduction which the court is not required to enforce or the carriers obliged to obey. When the rates are found to be unreasonable the commission can declare them unlawful and recommend their reduction, and where, after investigation, rates of carriers complained of are found to have been in the past, and still to be unjust, unreasonable and in violation of the statute, it is made the duty of the commission to notify and request carriers to cease and desist from such violations."

ONE MORE COMPANY GOBBLED By the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company at Milwaukee. Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 1.—In furtherance of a scheme which the Westinghouse Electric Company, of Pittsburgh, and the Baldwin Locomotive Works company, of Philadelphia, planned a year ago to absorb all of the more important independent manufacturers of electric dynamos and motors, the combination under the name of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, has bought out the interests of the Gibbs Electric company of Milwaukee. The consideration is said to be $50,000.

COLORED FOLKS WARNED Town of Elwood, Ind., has Never Allowed Them to Live There. Elwood, Ind., Sept. 1.—The negroes residing in Elwood were warned to leave and serious trouble is threatened if they are not gone by the middle of this week. On numerous occasions during the past twelve years, colored people have made efforts to establish permanent residence here but were invariably driven away. Two months ago a colony of fifty negroes came here and expressed a determination to brave all dangers and make Elwood their home. A number secured employment and then warnings began to be served on them. A few of them departed but the others remained.

IN THE SPRING VALLEY SCHOOLS Victory Parade, temporarily at least, on the Coal Companies' Banner. Spring Valley, Ill., Sept. 1.—The Spring Valley schools opened today guarded by the entire city police. The workers of clubs paraded the school yards, while crowds on the outside peered at them through the fence pickets. The new teachers hired by the Spring Valley Coal company faction of the school board, many of whom do not live here, have many things against them. The old teachers, who were reinstated by the anti-company members, seem to have the sympathy of the pupils. In many of the rooms the children refused to recite their lessons for the new teachers. The fight between the contesting janitors is also warm.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RICKS On the Letter Carriers' Convention Rates of the Great West. Chicago, Sept. 1.—The Southern Pacific has announced that it will not be a party to the reduced rates made to San Francisco for the meeting of the letter carriers, and that it will insist upon its full proportion of the rates west of the Missouri river. The lines of the Western Passenger association which made low rates for the meeting are now in rather an unpleasant situation, as they will be compelled to stand all of the reduction, and they can hardly do this and carry the business as a profit. DOES MORE "RECOMMENDING" Interstate Commerce Commission Tries to Look Awfully Severe. Washington, Sept. 1.—The Interstate commerce commission today in an opinion by Chairman Morrison, has "recommended" reductions of freight rates to Eureka Springs, Arkansas, over the Eureka Springs and St. Louis and San Francisco railroads. The Eureka Springs railway has for many years carried to its terminus freight at greatly reduced rates when included for points beyond, to be reached by wagon transportation. The commission holds that this arrangement does not make the railway company carriers beyond Eureka Springs and that such lower rates are a discrimination against Eureka Springs and its business. The opinion continues: "That transportation charges should be liberal, until the earnings are sufficiently sufficient to return on actual investment will necessarily be questioned, but it does not follow that a large maintained and grossly discriminatory must be continuous and may be lawfully exacted year after year, though it be assumed that railroad investment or property is so much more valuable than other property, that its owners must bear none of the losses or disadvantages incident to industrial and financial changes are never excessive when the annual net earnings are less than the amount necessary to the reason able annual income on such property and investment."
