

CLARK LOVED HER

LETTERS EXPLAINING THE ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Theory That Mrs. Alice Underwood Was Only Working Clark Out of His Cash is Sustained by Letters of Clark's Written Probably Before the Trouble Occurred.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Sallie Clark, the wife of B. C. Clark who shot Mrs. Alice Underwood on last Tuesday night, received several letters from him. The letters were found in Clark's coat. Mrs. Clark had some trouble in getting the letters. She learned that Mr. Clark's coat with some letters in the pocket had been found and that it was in the possession of George Johnson, who lives in the second block on North Mead avenue.

WASHINGTON WAS KILLED!

Some Unpublished Facts About His Last Illness and the Lesson They Convey to Men and Women of the Present Day.

It is not generally known that General Washington was killed in a most cruel and barbarous manner, but it is, nevertheless, a fact. At the time of his death, Washington was in his sixty-eighth year, a strong, robust man. On December 12, 1799, he contracted a severe cold and pneumonia threatened. Two doctors were summoned, and, in accordance with the absurd custom of those days, they prescribed blood-letting. Nearly a quart of blood was taken from his veins, until at last he begged them to let him die in peace. He died that same day—not from disease, but actually from loss of blood. He was killed by ignorance!

In these days any doctor who treated a patient as Washington was treated, would be indicted for manslaughter. The world has moved since then, and there has been a complete revolution in the practice of medicine. Instead of lowering the vital forces by thinning the blood, advanced physicians now endeavor to build up the strength of their patients. They employ only the latest and most scientific remedies.

And yet, in spite of this fact, we find thousands of people endeavoring to improve their health by taking old-fashioned medicines. They forget that chemists and scientists have made great discoveries in recent years, and do not go back to the antiquated remedies and concoctions that were used a hundred years ago. It will not do.

What you, reader, need to cure the headaches, dizziness, tired, worn-out and irritable feelings, constipation, and bearing-down sensations is some modern discovery based on scientific truths that will strike at the root of the trouble. You are sick because your kidneys and liver are out of order, and you should at once see that they are put in order. "Yes," you say, "this is easy to assert, but what shall I do?" Take the best and most scientific discovery for these troubles you can find. Ask any advanced scientist what this is and he will tell you, Warner's Safe Cure. This discovery stands alone, by itself, and far above all so-called medicines of the past or nostrums of the present.

The Mrs. Barrett mentioned in Dave Sprague's mother. She lives north of town. Who Brown is nobody knows. There used to be several years ago a man came to Wichita by the name of Jim Oliver, but it is thought that he is dead. The strange part of the letter is the enclosure of the clipping from Perry, Ok., which is a scheme to agitate and further the effort to pardon Willie Sells, or it may be that Dave Sprague himself, being afraid his folks want to get hold of his South Fifth avenue property, wants to scare Mr. Carnahan out of any notion of helping the scheme. How the letter got into a Lawrence attorney's envelope and came to be dated January 4, is not known. The clipping enclosed is probably December 12th of '96.

Harry Stewart, of the Deam Abstract company, says that they received letters about Sprague's property a year ago and he thinks the letter to Mr. Carnahan is the work of some crazy person.

Frank Robbins attempts vengeance for his sister. Yesterday, five miles north of Wichita, near Sullivan's dam, Frank Robbins, a school boy of 14, with half a dozen of his schoolmates about the same age, attempted to lynch Ward Fisher with a lariat rope for slandering the character of Robbins' sister.

Fisher's arm was caught in the loop and he was dragged over the ground for a hundred yards, tearing and bruising his flesh till he seemed dead. The boys at once took sides and twenty drew their knives. School has been dismissed and parents have taken up the matter. This is not the only time this school has been in trouble.

Enclosed with the letter was the following special to the St. Louis Republic, which is supposed to be an instance of this man Oliver's work:

COUNTY OFFICIALS INDICTED. Perry, Ok., Dec. 12.—Much excitement exists in Payne county over the indictment of county officers by the grand jury. Judge Dale of the First Oklahoma Judicial District and Chief Justice of the Oklahoma Supreme Court, opened court there several days ago, and the grand jury has been investigating the acts of the county officers, and yesterday the probate judge of the county was indicted for making false entries on his records, and Judge Dale suspended him from office.

The sheriff, J. M. Atherton, was also indicted for mismanagement. The people of Payne county are making great complaints about exorbitant tax levies. Dave Sprague is well known in Wichita and has some property here that was once worth not less than $25,000, but that was in boom times. He was arrested here in 1880 by Sheriff Cone on the charge of stealing a horse at Hesston, Kansas, Wallace Gleason, then sheriff of McPherson county, came here for Sprague and was warned by Mr. Cone that the prisoner would get loose or break jail if he was not handled rigorously. And he broke out of the McPherson jail twice before trial and while being taken to the penitentiary after conviction he got away from the officer and jumped off a passenger train at full speed.

TO THE PUBLIC. "This is to let the world know what I have been. I have loved this woman for three years. She caused me to leave my wife and go away with her. She broke me up in my life. I am heart troubled. I spent my money on her for three years. I bought all of her best clothes—five or six dresses. I gave her a plain gold ring; that is the last thing I gave her and she lied to me. She will tell me no more lies. That is a sure thing.

"Henry, I have kept your wife ever since you lived on North Market street where I first commenced sweetheart with her. She tried to get me to run away with her. It was one year before I would agree to go. At last I made up my mind to go. She had me to leave my wife, sell my stock to go with her. Then she tried to back out. She wrote me up for good and this will settle the matter. We will both go the way. I don't care what you do when I am gone. This is no new thing about this. Sallie has heard the truth.

TO MRS. CLARK. "Sallie, your words have come to pass. You said this, so don't grieve for it is finished now. We are both gone. Alice (Mrs. Underwood) caused me to leave you this way, so it is all over now. Do the best you can for I am gone for good this time. Sallie, you give my clothes to Charley Vintz who Clark refers to in Mrs. Clark's son and Ruben Floyd is his brother. Mrs. Clark thinks from the tone of the letters that Clark may have committed suicide.

ST JOHN'S CARNIVAL AND BAZAAR. Gloses With a Crowded Hall—Brilliant and Delightful. Garfield hall was crowded last night with one of the most happy and sociable audiences ever assembled there. Any one who did not enjoy the evening must have been in very ill health or intensely gloomy spirits. The carnival of 1897 will be an event to be remembered and Mrs. Edward Vall and her corps of charming and energetic assistants deserve great commendation and credit. Indeed, there are few cities east or west that could eclipse the culture, refinement and delightful sociability that has characterized the large audiences at the carnival each evening for the past four days.

TO HENRY UNDERWOOD. "Henry, your wife did not tell you that she let me have the keys so I could come in her room every morning when you would go out. I have done this for a year and she would not tell you that she would let me know when you was away by raising the window blinds, so that I would know when you was away. I did give her that spoon pin that she wears for a breast pin and all of her best clothes. She kept after me to go away with her till I left my wife. Now she is trying to give me the worst of it. I told her I did not go out for a year and she would not tell you that she would let me know when you was away by raising the window blinds, so that I would know when you was away.
