

PEACE PLAY IS GIVED

By the Unfriendly Section of the German Press.

CASE OF SOCIALIST ARONS

German-American Trade Relations Still Unsettled.

(Copyright, 1899, by the Associated Press.) Berlin, July 29.—The papers this week have been giving their verdict on the outcome of the peace conference at the Hague. The tone of the comment of the papers friendly to the conference generally is one of disappointment that so little has been accomplished, while those opposing indulge in glib felicitations that no more was accomplished. The Eagleist considers that the form of arbitration adopted marks an important step toward securing the peace of the world, adding: "Whoever knows the toilsome way in which international law is made will be satisfied with this result." The Post says: "The result shows that those who have been neither too optimistic nor too pessimistic in expectations were in the right." The most important result the Post sees is that a method is now open to nations for settling difficulties, saying: "While the conference has not ushered in the millennium, still it shows that the powers are earnestly striving to preserve for the peoples the blessings of peace."

A Pain Remedy

For over fifty years this wonderful remedy has proved itself the best, safest and surest antidote for pain in the world.

The True Relief, Radway's Ready Relief

For Internal and External Use. In using medicine to stop pain, we should avoid such as inflame the system. Opium, Morphine, Chloroform, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice; it masks the symptoms, shuts up, instead of removing trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and, if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis. There is no necessity for using these powerful agents when a positive remedy like RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will stop the most excruciating pain quicker, without entailing the least danger in either infant or adult. It instantly stops the most excruciating pains, allays inflammation and cures congestions, whether of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels, or other glands or mucous membranes.

PAIN CURED IN AN INSTANT

No matter how violent or excruciating the pains the Rheumatic, Bed-ridden, Infirm, Crippled, Nervous, Neuragic or prostrated with disease may suffer.

Radway's Ready Relief Will Afford Instant Ease.

A half to a teaspoonful of Ready Relief in a half tumbler of water, repeated as often as the discharges continue, and a flannel saturated with Ready Relief placed over the stomach and bowels will afford immediate relief and soon effect a cure. No bad after effects (which are invariably the sequel of dosing with opium, etc.) will follow the use of Radway's Ready Relief. It will cure Rheumatism, Cramps, Spasms, Sour Stomach, Headache, Nervousness, Stomachic, Headache, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Flatulency and all internal pains.

MALARIA Chills and Fever, Fever and Ague Conquered.

Radway's Ready Relief

Not only cures the patient seized with this terrible foe to settlers in newly settled districts, where the Malaria or Ague chills, but people exposed to it will, every morning after getting out of bed, take twenty or thirty drops of the Ready Relief in a glass of water, and, say a cracker, they will escape attacks. This must be done before going out.

the greatest consternation in insurance circles. The Deutsche Versicherungs Zeitung this week has a strong protest, asserting that experience shows that the American companies are untrustworthy, and warning the government against giving them again the right to do business here. The Associated Press correspondent's review in the newspapers here with comment most friendly to the United States, but the Deutsche Tages Zeitung takes occasion to express distrust of the government, and says: "All depends upon the means employed for preserving friendly relations with the United States. American friendship is not worth having if it must be purchased by the abandonment of important German interests, especially economic advantages, or by keeping cool when German dignity is wounded."

A German officer has invented an acetylene searchlight which can be carried by one man and which will illuminate everything for a hundred yards. It is expected to be of great use in searching for the wounded after a battle, and in bridge building at night.

It is observed that since the president of the Reichstag has permitted discussion of the emperor's utterances if they were printed in the official Reichsanzeiger, the National Review writer finds in these dreams an explanation of the hitherto all most inexplicable policy of the German emperor towards the United States. The article continues: "The reason for Emperor William's seeming desire to unnecessarily quarrel with a state of such gigantic strength is that he wished to avoid the position of champion of Europe against trans-marine powers."

It is rumored that the Russian war minister, General Von Goussier, will resign and that he will be succeeded by Baron Von Gemmongen, now commanding a division at Erfurt.

Telegraph boys will be experimentally employed in Berlin, replacing men. The change will begin with the substitution of eight boys from 14 to 17 years of age.

THAT THROBBING HEADACHE

Would quickly leave you if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves, and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by druggists.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY IN TEXAS

Eleven-Year-Old White Girl Found Hanging in a Tree. Chicago, July 28.—A special to the Chronicle from Dallas, Texas, says: "Fannin county, located 25 miles north of Dallas, is in a state of indignation over a terrible crime. An 11-year-old white girl, the daughter of Alonzo Newton, a farmer, was found by her father hanging lifeless from a tree near the family home. The child was left alone in the morning when the father went to his work. News immediately spread through the neighborhood. News was sent to Rockham, the county seat, seven miles distant, and Sheriff Rip-crima. The search was continued all day and Justice John Steele, acting coroner, has been holding an official investigation. The people of Fannin county are terribly aroused and a lynching, perhaps two of them, may be the outcome."

KAISER'S ANTI-YANKEEISM

Salisbury's Transvaal Climb-Down--Chino-Jap Alliance.

(Copyrighted, 1899, by Associated Press.) London, July 28.—The disgrace of General de Negrier has created a profound impression, not only in France, but all over Europe, and has brought into prominent notice the depth of the civil as well as the military courage possessed by the new French minister of war, General Marquis de Gallifet. Before him the pastboard patriots who threatened terrible vengeance with the army if they were thwarted by the republic, doubled up and fell to pieces and the public is beginning to realize that at last the right man has been found to suppress the real traducers of the army, those who degraded its honor and shamed its uniforms by chicanery and intrigue. It is symbolic of the change in the situation to see General de Pelloux, who, in full regimentals, attempted to bully the jury into the conviction of Zola, now whining pitifully for a pension from the position which he has disgraced. When General de Pelloux searched Colonel Picquart's rooms he found a bundle of love letters from Madame M., the wife of a well known judge, to the Picquart. General de Pelloux and the letters were carefully sent them to the woman's husband, who, upon the evidence they furnished, obtained a judicial separation from her. Who asked by General de Gallifet if he had sent the letters General de Pelloux denied on his word of honor that he had done so; but the minister of war, when the general had been lying and hence the punishment imposed upon him was in even greater degree than it would otherwise have been. The removal of General de Negrier tends to the salvation of the republic as, if his flagrant insubordination had been overlooked, the discipline of the army could scarcely have been maintained. Details of the interview between General de Gallifet and General de Negrier show how misplaced was the confidence of the government in General de Negrier. When taxed with issuing seditious circulars, instead of boldly sticking to his guns, the general equivocated, protesting and finally General de Gallifet sent him a command to come and not forget the circular. General de Gallifet's communication, issued yesterday, in which he avowed full responsibility for the disciplinary measures adopted toward the generals, contrasting so strikingly with the pusillanimity of previous French ministers of war and a nation for him, and fully justified Premier Waldeck-Rousseau's bold step in appointing him to prescribe for a grave political disease. No member of the general staff has dared to lift a finger against General de Gallifet. General Zurlinden left Paris without a murmur; General de Pelloux, who tied to his side, only asks for money; General de Roloffe and Gonze have done nothing to save their tool, Lieutenant Colonel du Paty de Clam.

The National Review, in an article discussing the probability of an alliance between France and Germany against England, has reached the conclusion that such a move is within the bounds of practical politics. The writer points out that Germany's future expansion must be colonial, and that France has similar interests. In this respect both France and Germany are somewhat barred by England's widespread holdings. The common belief that England is the enemy of every power with colonial or maritime ambitions, the writer asserts, supplies both Frenchmen and Germans with an argument in support of the union. Emperor William, it is argued, is acting upon the supposition that, such as France dislikes Germany, she must dislike England more after the Fashoda incident. The emperor dreams of forming a coalition of central and western powers of the continent to be used, firstly, against England; secondly, against the United States; and finally, against Russia, though at the commencement the latter power will be included in the official Reichsanzeiger, the National Review writer finds in these dreams an explanation of the hitherto all most inexplicable policy of the German emperor towards the United States. The article continues: "The reason for Emperor William's seeming desire to unnecessarily quarrel with a state of such gigantic strength is that he wished to avoid the position of champion of Europe against trans-marine powers."

To the continent, before 1898, the United States appeared a huge, drowsy monster that spent its energy in rare moments of wakefulness in nibbling the lion's tail. No one objected much to this; but when her huge beast shook itself and planted one paw upon the Spanish West Indies and another upon the Philippines, it became an object of real terror to European statesmen, who did not know whom it might next attack. The conditions were all the more unnerving as England refused to walk into the trap and turn her navy about to the United States. So the events of 1898 only served to bring the two trans-marine powers together."

The Marquis of Salisbury having at last broken silence on the Transvaal question in so decided a manner, it may be expected that President Kruger will hardly be likely to refuse to listen to the government's new proposal for a joint commission to examine the franchise bill. This proposal meets varying criticism here. Liberals are inclined to regard it as another instance of incurable tendency of the Salisbury government to solve every difficulty by referring it to a commission. Mr. Labouchere calls it a climb-down on Mr. Chamberlain's part, and undoubtedly it saves more of Salisbury than Chamberlain. Others think it a concession to the Transvaal's contention that the matter should be referred to arbitration. All agree, however, that it forms a practical bridge of which Kruger can avail himself to retire from an impossible position. Mr. A. J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury and government leader in the house of commons, gave strong hint in the commons yesterday, announcing in reply to a question, that in the unfortunate event of war there was no intention to employ other than white troops. The prospect of a Chino-Japanese alliance has been welcomed by England and Germany on the ground that it will invigorate China and enable her to assist the course of an interesting article this week, asserts that Japanese re-organization of the Chinese army and navy and finances would be successful because the Japanese are more in sympathy with Chinese feeling than western nations. Japan, the article says, would abolish corruption and organize a formidable, well-armed Chinese army, while the combined Chinese and Japanese navies would be able to prevent any invading army reaching China by sea. Thus, it is argued, China would be agai a powerful nation, able to exclude European trade from Manchuria and threaten India through Tibet, while a Chinese victory over Russia, even if possible, would be a victory of barbarism over civilization and could be of no possible benefit to Europe.

Through the attendance at the Goodwood race meeting this week all records, it was largely made up faces familiar at previous meetings, such as the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, the Duke and Duchess of Richmond, Lord and Lady William Bessborough, Lady Randolph Churchill, the Duke and Duchess of Portland, the Earl and Countess of Aberdeen and the Earl of Rosbery. Among the new comers were the Count and Countess de Castellane. The quality of the racing matters little, and certainly this week's card was below par, both as to the number and quality of the entries. The pleasure seekers made the usual fine show on the lawn and there were the usual picnics under the trees, the participants enjoying themselves to the fullest extent. This was almost the closing big function of the season, only the final disengagement of society until late in the autumn. The weather was typical of Greenwood meetings and furnished occasion for the display of toilet, although William was noticeable, the simplicity of the royal family wore tweed suits and low hats, while many of the best known men were dressed in flannel suits and wore straw hats, which was quite a new departure at this meeting.

JAMAICA AROUSED AGAIN

Over a Revival of Imperialism--Talking Annexation Again. Kingston, Jamaica, July 28.—The report of Sir David Barbour, late financial minister of India, who has been studying the sugar industry of Jamaica in his bearings upon the political situation, has been published here. The report has created a sensation and angry disappointment, being regarded as the result of a pre-arranged scheme to dispose of the colony of a representative constituency, which would be likely to encourage the American annexation tendency by alienating the wavering sentiment of loyalty. While the American University athletes have been made much of during their stay in England, they have not entirely escaped the criticism which greeted their predecessors here. They have been severely criticised, owing to the fact that they brought a tape measure on the grounds and checked the rings measured for their hammer throwing; and the English public has taken every opportunity to emphasize the fact that the English won every event where stamina and endurance were required. At best the praise given the Americans has been mixed with condescension, President Hunter, of the Cambridge University Athletic club, saying in his speech at Saturday's dinner that they really did not know or care exactly where they came from, but were satisfied they were real good sportsmen; while Truth this week says: "The lesson we learned is one that will do an immense amount of good, and that is that the men of Harvard and Yale are real good fellows, so very, very different from what many believe Americans to be."

The Cowes regatta is anticipated with keen interest. An immense gathering of yachts and yachtsmen is expected. The Shamrock sails for America practically untried. The entries for the Queen's cup at Cowes include the Britannia, Meteor and Santonia. If the Meteor competes it is hoped the contest will throw some light upon the present capabilities of the Britannia and the value of the Shamrock as a cup challenger.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 28.—The report of Sir David Barbour, late financial minister of India, who has been studying the sugar industry of Jamaica in his bearings upon the political situation, has been published here. The report has created a sensation and angry disappointment, being regarded as the result of a pre-arranged scheme to dispose of the colony of a representative constituency, which would be likely to encourage the American annexation tendency by alienating the wavering sentiment of loyalty. The report may be summarized as follows. The condition of the colony, though precarious, is not altogether hopeless; but an immediate loan of 1,675,000 pounds sterling is necessary, which would be unwarrantable only if the colony resigns its constitution, accepting imperial control. Public sentiment considers that anything would be preferable to surrender of the constitution, the most conservative even whispering of annexation as an alternative.

Hasland Bear Has a Growl Coming. Berlin, July 29.—In consequence of inquiries from the St. Petersburg chancery, Germany has formally repudiated all intention of annexing Bear Island and has ordered the consul at Tromsoe to inform the traveler Lerner, who recently occupied the island with a view to revivifying the German fisheries there, that in the event of his action leading to complications he must not reckon upon any support from Germany.

Fine Rain in Northern Kansas. Atchison, Kan., July 29.—Reports received at the Missouri Pacific office indicate that the rain last night was general over southern Nebraska and northern Kansas. It was a steady downpour lasting for six hours in most places and the first in two weeks. The rainfall averaged two inches and almost insures a record-breaking corn crop.
