NEW ORLEANS RACE RIOTING

Sheriff Klock, in charge of the parish prison, saw both the mayor and the chief of police today. There is confined in the prison Leonard Pierson, who was the man with Charles when the latter shot and dangerously wounded Patrolman Mora before he killed Captain Day and Patrolman Lamb. The mobs that have been going the rounds of the city have been anxious to get at Pierson if possible and lynch him. The sheriff assured both of them that he had the jail so well protected that it would require the use of dynamite to reach the culprit.

Mayor Capdeville and his assistants made arrangements this evening for transportation facilities which would assist in the quick dispatch both of the militia and of the special police from one section of the city to another. All the trolley lines sent representatives to the mayor to say that they would place special cars at his disposal throughout the night, so that armed forces could be moved hither and thither. The express companies also assured the mayor that their wagons would be ready to respond to any call which might be made upon them.

Later this evening Mayor Capdeville issued a proclamation which had an excellent effect. It called upon all citizens to go to their homes and places of business and remain there. They were warned also and advised not to assemble or idle about the streets. The police were ordered to disperse all crowds and to arrest all obstreperous and disorderly citizens.

THURSDAY NIGHT'S RIOTING

Story of the Mob's Operations Related in Detail.

New Orleans, July 26.—All last night and up to 2:30 o'clock this morning mobs ran riot through the city on a scale of violence and destruction which has not been witnessed since the rioting of 1890. The mob's operations were related in detail by a man who was present at the rioting and who was shot in the leg by a mob member. He was taken to the hospital and is now recovering from his wounds. The rioting began in the French quarter and spread to the other parts of the city. The mobs were armed with clubs, knives, and other weapons. They looted stores, burned property, and killed several people. The police were unable to control the mobs and the situation became very dangerous.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Makes the lightest most delicious and tasty hot biscuit

ROYAL Baking Powder is indispensable to the preparation of the finest cake, hot-breads, rolls and muffins.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy other powders because they are "cheap." Housekeepers should stop and think. If such powders are lower priced, are they not inferior? Is it economy to spoil your digestion to save a few pennies?

Alum is used in some baking powders because it is cheap. It costs but a few cents a pound whereas the chief ingredient in a pure powder costs thirty. But alum is a corrosive poison which, taken in food, acts injuriously upon the stomach, liver and kidneys.

DIRE THREATS HEARD

According to State Witnesses on the Powers Trial

AGAINST GOEBEL'S LIFE

Youtsey and Powers Chief Targets of Sensationalists.

Georgetown, Ky., July 26.—Walter Bronston, a Lexington attorney, who assisted in the arrest of Caleb Powers and John Davis at Lexington, was the first witness in the Powers case today. Witness identified them to the police officers. After a forcible arrest, Powers was taken to jail, where the pardon granted him by Governor Taylor and $100 in money were found in his pockets. Deputy Sheriff Frank Rodgers of Lexington also testified as to the arrest. The pardon granted Powers by Governor Taylor and attested by the defendant himself was then exhibited to the jury. Walter Bronston, recalled, told of the conversation with Powers after the arrest in which Powers, referring to the pardon, said: "I know this looks like hell, but we were making our way to a place where the pardon would have been recognized." Assistant Adjutant General David R. Murray, who, in response to a subpoena fuses tecum, had brought with him the muster rolls of the state militia was next introduced. After Murray had gone over such parts of the muster rolls as were in his possession, he testified that he had admitted, H. David Harrod, a constable of Frankfort, was called. He testified that when the shooting occurred he ran to the executive building and entered the west door. The door of the ante room to the executive office was closed but was pushed open with difficulty, when he encountered several men, who thrust pistols in his face. He told them he was an official but they pointed their pistols in his face and made no reply. Harrod said that just as he entered the main door, a short, stout man slammed the door of the secretary of state's office and dashed down the steps to the basement. Witness did not know Youtsey at that time. During the cross examination ex-Congressman Owens, of the defense, repeated a question at different intervals, several times. Judge Cantrill ordered the clerk to enter a fine of $5 against Mr. Owens for contempt for repeating the question after the objection had been sustained. W. H. Mayner, of Whitley county, gave sensational testimony against both Powers and Youtsey this afternoon. He said that he was in the secretary of state's office a few days before the shooting and a man whom he did not know referring to Goebel, said: "Somebody ought to kill the damned rascal." Youtsey said: "I have made up my mind to do that myself."

CHAMBERLAIN IS SUSTAINED

In the Commons, but the Liberals Remain Firm While They Can.

London, July 25.—Discussion of the colonial office vote led to a spirited debate in the house of commons today, in the course of which the Liberals again raised more of the old charges against the colonial secretary, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, and indulged in criticism of the war in South Africa. Finally, Sir Wilfrid Lawson moved a resolution of Mr. Chamberlain's salary as a mark of censure of his policy.

Mr. Chamberlain, replying, welcomed the issue raised by the motion, which he declared meant that the war was wrong.

It further shows that E. G. Rathbone, late director general of posts, drew two warrants of $50 each, on which he himself obtained money, and that no account explanation has been rendered; that he appropriated a per diem of $5 per day for several months after it had been expressly prohibited by the postmaster general, and that he incurred extravagant and unjustifiable expenditures of a personal character, making them a charge upon the postal revenue.

FACTORY FIRE IN CHICAGO

Thrilling Escape of More Than a Score of Girls—Three Deaths.

Chicago, July 25.—Shortly before noon today an explosion occurred in the chemical department of the Windsor Cellulose Company, on the fourth floor of 125 Dearborn street, setting fire to the building and resulting in the death of three women, the fatal injury of another and minor injuries to five other persons. The property loss is estimated at $300, partially insured. The dead are: Mrs. Ellen McLaughlin, Grace Stevenson, and two unknown girls. The injured are: Viola Ritter, Etta Munsell, Jennie Munsell, B. G. I. Walter.

There were twenty-five girls working in the Windsor Cellulose company when, without a moment's warning, a terrific explosion occurred, blowing the glass of the front windows clear across Dearborn street. A sheet of flame followed instantly and the terror-stricken girls, with their clothing lit by the flames, crawled through the window to the fifteen-inch coping running along the front of the building. The coping extended eighty feet to the Lichten tailoring company building, the windows of which were thronged with men shouting encouragement to the terrified girls. As fast as they reached the Lichten window the girls were drawn into safety. Just as Mrs. McLaughlin was about to be drawn through the window the girl behind her, in her haste, pushed Mrs. McLaughlin, who lost her balance and fell to the ground, dying instantly. The two unknown girls jumped from the coping down. One was picked up dead and the other died at the hospital.

RATHBONE'S ARREST PROBABLE

Some Samples of His Alleged Get-Rich-Quick Methods.

Washington, D. C., July 25.—Now that the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Rathbone's report has been made public, the arrest of Rathbone may soon follow. It is intimated at the postoffice department that the delay in arresting Mr. Rathbone has been due to a desire to await the statement of the results of Mr. Rathbone's investigations, and also a wish to give Mr. Rathbone every opportunity to explain items which the report says are unaccounted for. Postmaster General Smith and Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Rathbone were called to the postoffice department, and also a wish to give Mr. Rathbone every opportunity to explain items which the report says are unaccounted for. Postmaster General Smith and Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Rathbone were called to the postoffice department, and also a wish to give Mr. Rathbone every opportunity to explain items which the report says are unaccounted for.

It further shows that E. G. Rathbone, late director general of posts, drew two warrants of $50 each, on which he himself obtained money, and that no account explanation has been rendered; that he appropriated a per diem of $5 per day for several months after it had been expressly prohibited by the postmaster general, and that he incurred extravagant and unjustifiable expenditures of a personal character, making them a charge upon the postal revenue.

Washington, D. C., July 25.—Secretary Root spent almost the entire morning in consideration of the report of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Rathbone on the Cuban postal frauds. It is understood that an order has been issued by General Wood for the arrest of Rathbone. Secretary Root discussed with Colonel Edwards, chief of the insular division, and Judge Magoff, attorney for the division, the financial and legal questions involved. After the conference it was said that General Wood would be given full charge of the matter.

Washington, D. C., July 25.—The secretary of war does not issue orders to courts," replied Secretary Root to the direct question as to whether or not he had given orders for the arrest of E. G. Rathbone, late director of posts in Cuba. He then explained that the Rathbone report had been forwarded to General Wood by mail, but as this could not reach him soon enough the main feature of the report had been already placed in his possession and were also in possession of the proper authorities in Cuba. He said the proceeding on the part of General Wood would be the same as directed by the attorney general to a district attorney to proceed with the prosecution of persons charged with offenses against the government. The Rathbone report would be made the basis of prosecution against the persons who were charged with the offenses against the postal laws.

It was learned that General Wood and Acting Director General Fones of the Cuban postal service had taken the initial steps already toward bringing the case of ex-Director General Rathbone to the attention of the judicial authorities of Cuba.

Secretary Root's attention was called to the alleged charges against Major Black of the engineer department at Havana. It had been published that these charges were made by General Wood. Secretary Root said that there was no foundation for the statement, but, on the contrary, General Wood had spoken highly of the engineer department in Havana. The expenditures of the engineer department, as well as all others in Cuba, were being investigated, but nothing that would call for any criticism had been found.
