

A WOMAN'S NEEDS.

A very eminent surgeon has declared that he never lets a day pass without thanking Heaven that he was not born a woman; and this distinguished man probably knows more of woman's trials than any living person.

Yet how sweet and gracious is the gift of womanhood! To woman belong the joys of girlhood, love, and beauty—of wifehood and motherhood.

A woman's experience, and she a doctor with an extensive practice, should carry conviction to every candid mind. It is therefore with pleasure and confidence that Dr. Louise M. Lander's letter is given to her sex.

THEY WILL CHANGE BUILDINGS. Two Wholesale Firms Enlarging Their Quarters.

Within the next few months there will be a decided change in the location of a number of Wichita's wholesale houses. The McComb Wholesale Saddle Company has contracted for the building now occupied by the Wichita Wholesale Trunk factory.

Mr. Edridge had many compliments for the manner in which the contract had been completed and will so report to the insurance companies. The wiring in the building extends all over the building and electricity will be used in every department where it is possible. The details will have many lamps and they will be very convenient for the workmen.

DEMURRER WAS SUSTAINED. Crist Damage Suit Ends Suddenly in District Court.

The suit of E. J. Crist against the Wichita Gas, Electric Light and Power company came to a sudden close yesterday after the plaintiff had presented its evidence and when C. H. Brooks for the defendant company filed a demurrer to the testimony of the plaintiff, which was sustained by the court.

Three witnesses were examined by the plaintiff, they being Howard Schroder, Tom Murphy and Roy Davis, all of them former electricians. Their evidence was given as to the manner of cutting live wires. They stated that it was a very dangerous matter to attempt to cut a live wire immediately after a rain unless the current had first been turned off.

It was at the conclusion of their evidence that the attorneys for the company demurred, because, as they alleged, the fact has not been established that the company has been negligent.

The action was for $2000 damages alleged to have been sustained in 1900. Crist had been sent to jail a live wire that had become entangled in front of the establishment. He demolished the company to cut off the current and then pointed the pole to perform his duty.

When the company finally cut off the current, Crist fell to the ground, and upon examination it was found that the pole of his hand had been so badly burned that it became necessary to dis- amputate it.

WERE IN CAPE NOME

Three Persons Have a Joyful Meeting Here Yesterday.

MANY INTERESTING THINGS Were Related of Days Spent in Gold Country.

Yesterday was a pleasant time for three persons who were in Cape Nome last summer. These three people met accidentally in Wichita and last night they held a regular old-fashioned reunion.

The persons are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Drew and a man who is known over southern Kansas as Ben Hitchcock of Sumner county. The meeting was at the entrance to the pet stock show on North Main street, and at first Mr. Hitchcock did not recognize Mr. and Mrs. Drew were Mrs. Drew finally said to him: "Well, you are back from Cape Nome," and then Mr. Hitchcock was aware of the fact that they were in Cape Nome together.

Last night many of the incidents of their trip was told by the three people and a Wichita citizen, could be heard listening to the conversation, would have gotten some idea of the life in Cape Nome. The three persons went to Cape Nome about the same time last year and were through the season there. Mr. Hitchcock returned a short time before the Drews left and all sorts of questions were asked about those who were in Nome at the time the ship sailed for a warmer climate.

Now the parties who were in Nome last year are contemplating going back this spring. Mr. Hitchcock had stated last night that they expected to return, but Mr. Hitchcock would not commit himself. He said that he did not care to say, but stated that while in Wellington a few days ago a man there had offered to let him that he would not return and Mr. Hitchcock said, "Well, I will bet you $50 that I will return," and even since that time he says that he has not fully made up his mind.

Mrs. Drew says that she liked the life in Cape Nome. She said that she had a good time and saw much of the country and really wanted more of the experience. She is a woman who would make friends and that kind of life would make friends any place. She says that she is anxious for the time to come and wonders whether or not she will meet her old friends at Nome this spring.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Drew and Mr. Hitchcock were very successful in Nome and they have had a very good performance this year. There seems to be an attraction about the place that is hard to get away from and for this reason it is natural that they would want to go back.

Mrs. Drew was asked if there were many women in the mining camps and she stated that in the conversation last night she had a very good time. Mr. Hitchcock spoke up and stated that in his experience in Cape Nome, or in fact any of the mining camps, he saw many women. "One time I was away off from where I supposed I would see a woman and one day, discovering what appeared to be a camp some distance from me, I used my glass and the first thing that I saw was a woman. It rather surprised me, but after that I was not surprised to see women any place."

Many amusing things were told of some of the persons who were at the camps. Mr. Hitchcock said that he had a very amusing time. "We all kept a diary. It was amusing to see some of them. One man had one and on the first day of his trip he wrote was 'Sick.' The second day he found time to write 'Sicker.' The third day he wrote 'Dead.' The next day he wrote 'Said' and the man began to keep a record of his experience. Mr. Drew told of his experience and stated that on one of his first days he has a record of eating three breakfasts the same day and disposing of them immediately over the rail into the ocean.

One of the things which came up in the conversation was the conversation last night at sea on the return trip. The description was very vivid and to a person who has never witnessed such a thing, the scene could be pictured. The person who died was a returning miner and his associates gave him a splendid burial at sea. To a westerner the idea of a burial at sea is very strange, but it could be described by one of the returned Cape Nome people an impression which will last long to be gotten.

Mr. and Mrs. Drew have many pictures and relics of their trip to the gold country. These were all gotten out last night for the benefit of the three people. Mr. Hitchcock said that he had secured a promise from his former companions that they would visit his farm in Sumner county some time in the next few weeks. This means that another talk will take place over the occurrences of the days spent in Cape Nome.

HE WAS "KIDNAPPED"

Young Man Has a Novel Initiation Experience.

RODE IN BABY BUGGY Harry Campbell Now Member of High School Society.

Yesterday afternoon the people on Douglas avenue and Main street had their curiosity aroused by a novel scene, which was the initiation of a candidate for membership in the Lambda Phi, the young men's Greek letter society of the city high school.

The candidate for admission into the society was Harry Campbell, a son of Attorney I. P. Campbell, and probably no young man now a member of the society had a more peculiar experience than Mr. Campbell.

Mr. Campbell first saw a young man wrapped in a red shawl seated in a rubber tire baby carriage, being wheeled along the street by a young colored man. The occupant of the baby carriage did not say a word, but looked straight ahead and did not seem to pay any attention to the remarks of the people who saw him.

Following on either side of the street were groups of the high school young men, members of the secret society. On the rig being pushed by the colored boy was a card which had the expressive word in large letters "Kidnaped," and this was all.

After having been wheeled around the street for a time the young man was allowed to get out of the buggy and this completed the initiation into the Greek letter society. This is not the first novel initiation that the young men of the high school have had. The citizens of this city have been treated to many different things. Just a year ago a band of Indians rode along the street in war array and later a wandering musician will be striding that to a young man who assumed the role of a monkey doting the pedestrians with an Italian performance.

There are many interesting things that are not made public by any means and the young men have much enjoyment from their secret sessions.

There are said to be a usual ritual for the first part of the initiation of a candidate in the society rooms and then comes the public ordeal. Just what this ordeal is to be decided upon by a vote by the members of the society and the plans are immediately perfected to that end. Some of the suggestions are very novel and it is hard to tell just what the candidates will have to do.

Yesterday, while the high school young men were having their initiation people were wondering what it all meant. Many were the comments made and one woman was heard to remark: "Why, those boys are crazy! What do you suppose they mean?"

A man who stood on the walk and watched the boys go by said: "Well, I suppose that this is a part of the Nation show. I heard that Wichita was having great things before I came here." People were inclined at first to think the whole thing a joke, but when they saw the man who was being pushed in the baby carriage, they would hardly understand what the kidnaped meant.

The initiation idea of the high school young men are always novel, and after this, the people on the streets on Friday afternoon will watch carefully for some new feature in the Greek society of the high school.

Mr. Bruce R. Leydig of the firm of Hamilton & Leydig, lawyers of El Dorado, was in the city yesterday afternoon on business. Mr. Leydig was associated in the prosecution of Jessie Morrison in her famous case with which Wichita readers are familiar. In talking yesterday to a reporter for the Eagle Mr. Leydig said: "The case will undoubtedly be brought up again. What the outcome will be no one can tell. Whether a jury can be secured or not, no one knows, but it is my impression that Jessie Morrison has not been often seen in El Dorado since her release. There seems to be an impression that she is in Virginia, although members of the family say that she is at her sister's in the south part of Butler county."

No Other Person Has So Wide An Experience with Woman's Ills, Nor Such a Record of Success.—"A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills."—Her Advice Led Miss Farrell to Health.

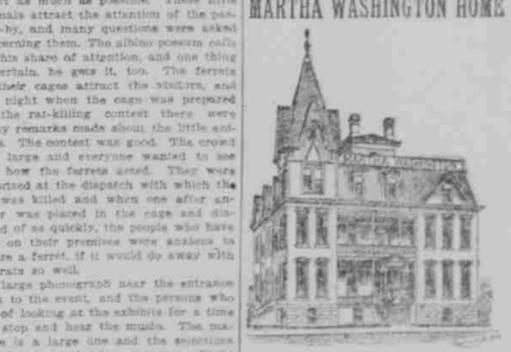

Examination by a male physician is a hard trial to a delicately organized woman. She dreads the humiliation of it all. She therefore puts it off as long as she dare, and is only driven to it by fear of cancer, polypus, or some dreadful sickness. Most frequently such a woman leaves a physician's office, where she has undergone a critical examination, more or less discouraged. This condition of mind destroys the effect of advice, and she grows worse rather than better. In consulting Mrs. Pinkham, in person or by letter, no hesitation need be felt. The story is told to a woman, and is entirely confidential—to a woman who has listened to thousands of similar stories—and who is so competent to advise women because of vast experience, and because she is a woman. Her advice is absolutely free to all sick women, and her address is Lynn, Mass. Read Miss Farrell's account of how she was sick, and was led to health by Mrs. Pinkham. She is only one of thousands whom Mrs. Pinkham has cured this year.

Female Weakness Relieved by Mrs. Pinkham. "I take pleasure in writing you a few lines thanking you for your advice. I did just as you told me in taking your medicine, and owe my life to you. You are like a mother to your sex. I was awful sick, was all run down, and felt sick all over. I looked like a person brought out of the grave. My face was as white as the driven snow. I was always tired after doing a little work, and would have to sit down. I had terrible pains and headaches, and my appetite was not good; also, troubled with shortness of breath. I could not get up one flight of stairs without being tired and having to stop to get my breath. I was feeling just as miserable as could be. I took two bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and cannot express my thanks to you for what your medicine has done for me."—Miss M. S. FARRELL, 35 Devon St., Grove Hall, Boston, Mass.

event as much as possible. These little animals attract the attention of the passer-by, and many questions were asked concerning them. The albino possum calls for his share of attention, and one thing is certain, he gets it, too. The ferrets in their cages attract the visitors, and last night when the cage was prepared for the rat-killing contest there were many remarks made about the little animals. The contest was good. The crowd was large and everyone wanted to see just how the ferrets acted. They were surprised at the dispatch with which the rat was killed and when one after another was placed in the cage and disposed of so quickly, the people who have rate on their premises were anxious to secure a ferret. If it would do away with the rats so well. A large photograph near the entrance adds to the event, and the persons who tire of looking at the exhibits for a time can stop and hear the music. The music is a large one and the musicians are given to a pleasing manner. Right by the side of the photograph are the cages which contain the deer and antelope, and the cure these animals have their share of attention which is paid to the entire exhibit. Since the show of this week is the first event of its kind in Wichita, the management is well pleased with the manner in which everything has gone off. This means that there will be another and a much larger show next year, and that fact from all over the world will be brought here for exhibition. The secretary, Mr. T. H. Boliver, said yesterday: "We are more than pleased with the success of the show. We will have another one next year. Pianos were supplied when they found out the magnitude of the show, and many of them have been here every day to see what was going on. We were disappointed that some of the people whom we depended upon did not come, but if they had we would have been forced to have arranged our own very different in order to accommodate them. People who have seen other shows tell us that ours is superior to anything in the southwest, and we think they are right about the matter." In addition to the usual part of the city, the collection on display by Mr. Charles Payne, the animal man, attracts attention and adds much to the show. There are very few men in the country who give their entire time to animals and Mr. Payne is one of them. He has been from all over the world, and he has about wild animals, and he knows about all the animals of the west. This is a privilege that Wichita people can take advantage of, for it is not often that Mr. Payne makes an exhibition of the animals which he has at his house through some error, the article on the case were overthrown.
