

JOBES TAKES UP CAUSE OF BOERS

President of Bank of Commerce Issues Circular

CALLING ON CHURCHES

To Petition for Peace in South Africa.

KANSAN DONATES $100

To Aid in Enlisting Churches in the Work.

Mr. Andrew C. Jobes, president of the National Bank of Commerce of this city, has taken up the cause of the brave Boers and has issued a circular and sent it to nearly all the ministers in Wichita, in which he says:

"A philanthropic gentleman residing in Kansas, who desires that his name be mentioned, has left with us one hundred dollars, and requested that we use the money as far as it will go in placing the Cosmopolitan article and blank petitions before the ministers of Kansas, Oklahoma and other western states. We therefore enclose herewith copies of each, and request that you read the article before your congregation (Christmas Day preferred) and request all men and women present who are in sympathy with the movement to sign the petition, after which we will ask that you kindly forward the same to the Cosmopolitan Magazine, New York.

"As the time before Christmas is so limited now, we will not be able to procure the names of all the churches and ministers, and have, therefore, concluded to address the papers to the pastors of the M. E. and Presbyterian churches respectively, enclosing a few extra copies which we will trust will be distributed to any other ministers who may reside in your city, and if thereafter you should have any copies left, please forward them to any ministers you may know residing in eastern states, and request that they make similar disposition of them.

"We believe, with the gentleman who has written this expense, that the war in South Africa has done more to bring to the attention of the world the effects of the war, than any other event of the century.

"We also believe that friendly intervention upon the part of the people of the United States to stop this waste of blood and treasure would not be regarded as a large majority of the people of Great Britain, and that any honorable plan of settlement that would save to the Boers their country and the lives of their remaining men, women and children, would be gratefully received by them. Very truly yours, A. C. Jobes, Pres."

PEACE ON EARTH. On Christmas Day a hundred thousand congregations will assemble throughout the United States, to repeat the command of Christ: "Shall not these words have for them a practical application?" It will be the Christmas of the century, and will find 2,000,000 troops of the Christian nation of Great Britain standing, life in hand, on the South African soil, to destroy the lives of Christian people. The horrors of war, which is now in its third year, have been unusual.

We Americans have cause to feel deeply over these conditions. On one side is England, with whom we are united by blood, and commerce, and customs. On the other, a brave republic, endeavoring unflinchingly to maintain its independence, and some principles which were at stake in our own War of Independence. The English people, with whom we have such close ties of friendship, have been placed by short-sighted politicians in the false and ruinous position of seeking to destroy a brave republic with whose interests England would have been in harmony had there been intelligent leadership.

More than 20,000 lives and 500,000,000 have been sacrificed as the result of this mistaken policy, and in the third year of the war the latest and the toll is 37,000 and 28 men killed and wounded in the last fight. Other estimates tell of 10,000 additional men being killed in England, and 10,000 in the service, and that the commonwealth very shortly be called upon to add another hundred million of taxes.

"This, as any nation of 10,000,000 families scattered over the vast and fertile wilderness almost without a parallel, or held in great prison camps where the death-rate and attendant horrors are almost equal to our own Andersonville.

Have the Christians who will gather in American churches on Christmas Day no interest in these two peoples? Can they do nothing beyond meeting and singing "Peace on Earth?" An effort should which lies at least a promise of success, will be made by the Cosmopolitan to secure the cooperation of those who are Christians of every work in aid of the unfortunate participants in this great struggle, who as believers in a republic, see a determined effort to preserve the other fundamental principles that all government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed. Foreign retrogression on the part of the American republic, and the loss of nearly three cents on every dollar of gold, has come up against the crushing of an infant republic. Have they been indifferent to the struggle? Everywhere over the country there are indications that the most intense feeling pervades all classes of people.

It is impossible to believe that if the American people uniformly adopted the English position, there would not be a favorable response. Ten thousand earnest meetings on Christmas Day, expressing only the sentiments that already lie every breast, would quickly bring about the desired result.

We see it in England to serious endeavor to settle a war which is so vast a part of the blood of her splendid youth and so rapidly bringing her resources under the mortgage of an immense national debt. We see it in the republics of South Africa, who have shown the most magnificent spirit since the world began, to do something for their liberty. The Cosmopolitan therefore asks the people of the United States that they give their Christmas Day a tone of active thoughtfulness that the men and women of each congregation after Christmas services meet, and with the following:

"We are the 400 of Wichita, assembled on Christmas Day, in sympathy with the suffering being endured by the South African war. We hereby petition our English brethren to join with us in sending the petition of the president of the United States and the agents of the Cosmopolitan, to whose judgment shall be committed the settlement of all questions affected by the South African war, and that meanwhile hostilities shall cease."

Mr. Jobes hopes that the Christian congregations of Wichita will prove on Christmas Day that there is something more Christ-like than mere words in the sentiment, "Peace on Earth."

Mr. Jobes said last night that the Kansas man who sent him the $100 check in behalf of the Boers in W. H. Stubbs, a wealthy, self-made man, of Lawrence.

BIRDS GOT OUT

And Made Things Lively at Pet Stock Show Last Night.

A lot of the pigeons got out of their cages at the pet stock show during the supper hour last night and for a brief period the interior was decidedly more festive. Luckily none of the homers got out, for if they had there would have been a lot of broken glass, for there are such sharp tools on the wing that light shins would hardly be strong enough to withstand them. The birds sailed around and around and the beating of the many wings made a confusing roar and the display of many bright white wings that never seemed to grow weary. Some perched upon the rafters, and some, high above reach on the wall, but enough kept sailing around to make one's head swim a little.

For the first time "Sultan" the regal angora cat shoots off his leopards and said, "I'm not going to sleep. The doctor's medicine has made me look longingly at the dainty morsels sailing about and wished that they might assist in the lively job of catching them, which took quite a little while to complete, some high flying and swift, stealthy, tactics which the cats said was a rank trespass upon their patented methods.

Another interesting feature was the escape of the pet rooster, who is as tame as time as the cats, but who has now acquired a taste for a diet which the most skilled epurians never dreamed of. He got himself into a pile of the gold fish and got the gold fever at once and he had struck a lead of the pure stuff. His little hands went toward and gold fish became instantly wrapped up in a room at a rapid rate. When caught, he smiled the contented smile and in the delight of his epicurean delight seemed to say, "they never would be missed," but "I'm not going to sleep."

The rat killing contest was swift and exciting. The young ferret had a lively scrimmage with his antagonist but the larger one made a couple of jumps, and then by a quick dive, got the rat's head in chancery and one pass sent him down and out. Another contest occurred tonight when the exhibition closes and the exhibits will be shipped away. Most of the collection of Mr. Payne's animals will leave also on Monday, and the show will close until after this exhibition before shipping.

CHANGE WILL BE SLIGHT.

Johnson-Larimer Company May Take in New Members.

The proposition is still pending for an increase in the membership and capital of the Johnson-Larimer Dry Goods Company. Some few weeks ago it was given out that six or seven of the employees of the company desired to embark in the wholesale dry goods business. At the same time it was understood that an interest in the business of the old house would be agreed to, and the company was to promote the latter idea were undertaken, and it is said that the old firm expressed a willingness to give their employees an interest at a reasonable figure. Papers were drawn up to that effect and placed in a bank, with a sum of money to express good faith in the negotiations. To complete the transaction, the parties were given until December 21, but it is possible that before that time the trade will be closed, and the business started under the new corporate organization. The bulk of the increased capital is expected to come from the Stanley, McGilgill, Hale & Company, C. A. McGilgill of Kingman, and J. W. Robinson of the First National bank of Winfield. Mr. Stanley, it is said, will take an interest valued at $50,000.

A great majority of the stock will be owned by the old firm, and the corporate name will remain. The Johnson-Larimer Dry Goods Company, in fact, the firm will have no significance, except that the membership and capital of the firm will be greater.

The increase of the stock on hand is said to amount to $20,700.

Stock in the firm is a very desirable investment. The company did an immense business this year, a larger business than for any year in its history.

ANNUAL RABBIT HUNT.

Held in Vicinity of Conway Springs Wednesday.

Wednesday the people of Conway Springs held their annual rabbit hunt. This is a sport that the people engage in once a year. Practically all the boys in the hunt. They chose two captains, and these captains select from the people eight hunters to go out and kill back rabbits. The side that kills the greatest number of rabbits is the winner and the vanquished must entertain the conquerors to a sumptuous banquet.

The hunters went to work from last night in the open house. The captains were H. T. Shube and Dr. R. A. McIlwain.

Captain Shube's hunters were: Grant Lane, A. C. Fryer, Abe Perry, F. C. Myers, Ed. Fuller, Bert Strong, C. C. Cunningham, and F. B. Akers.

Captain McIlwain's hunters were: Jess Thornberry, Pat Fowler, Geo. Howarth, Geo. T. Kay, L. V. Clark, John Achelpohl, Charlie Thompson and Dr. Clarence Gilchrist.

Captain H. T. Shube's hunters saw and killed 122 rabbits. Captain R. A. McIlwain's killed 20 rabbits and saw a great many more.

It was quite an enjoyable scene and somewhat exciting to see the hunters with their outfits getting ready to start at the sound of the whistle from the round house at 7 o'clock. The whole town was out to witness the departure and many of the town people drove out yesterday in their own conveyances to see the hunters.

W. J. TOWE IS NOT GUILTY

Sheriff of Urbana Wires He Has No Papers.

RELEASED FROM CUSTODY

Held for Three Days for an Illinois Officer.

Mr. W. J. Lowe, who was arrested last evening in this city, charged with embezzling $500 from the Washburn railroad company at Urbana, Illinois, was released last evening at 9 o'clock, as the result of a telegram from the sheriff of Champaign county, Illinois.

The following correspondence which passed will explain the reason for the arrest of Mr. Lowe. The first of the matter was the following letter, from the inspector of the American Surety company, Kansas City:

"Harry Sutton, Esq.: The man W. J. Lowe referred to was formerly agent for the Washburn railroad at Urbana, Illinois. He is short in stature, 5'6", blue eyes, thin nose, dark hair, and is a native of Illinois, but resides at Pittsburg and Alton, Pa. Lowe and family (wife and daughter) left Urbana September 14, '01, going to Parsons, Kansas, but their household goods were left at Urbana, Kansas; but returned to Parsons, where they are now stored with White & Co., furniture dealers. Lowe remained in Parsons only a few days, and it is possible he may have been in Wichita more than a month. Some ten days ago Mrs. Lowe came to Parsons and borrowed money on the goods, leaving $25 above storage, and reports she has a check for $100.00. A warrant for Lowe's arrest in the hands of the sheriff of Urbana, Illinois. Mrs. Lowe's father lives at McCune, Kansas, and she has a sister living in Parsons. Marshal Bennett of Parsons can give you information on that line if necessary. If you arrest Lowe, wire (our expense) J. W. Bowman, Mer. American Surety company, Kansas City, for the city. There is no bond, Mr. H. will do the rest."

"I will have Mr. Bowman send you a general description of Lowe. Being an operator, it is natural to suppose that he would drive a car, and the car is a blue flame along the wire behind it. If this weather keeps up, we will not go to the policeman's hall tonight. We will be out on dry ground, and the wire will be forming on the trolley wires so long as the cars are kept running right along. They keep the wires open, and are but little more than a wire, and the wire street car companies have it when they start in the morning, after a hard freeze of this kind. The telephone companies and electric light people have the most difficult job of all. When the ice becomes very heavy, the wires break and fall across each other, and in this way become very dangerous. For instance, if a telephone wire breaks and falls across an electric light wire, then the current is deflected from the light wire to the ground where it strikes the water and wet pole, and the blue flames rise, and the wire shatters and falls in a very uncomfortable fashion. The wires are very dangerous to handle at such times. Ordinarily a man could, by being very careful to hold the wire, get it out of the wire without any danger; but in times like these there is no dry ground to stand on and everything is wet, and conducts the electricity almost as well as the wire itself."

Mr. Evans, the city electrician, when asked how he met the emergency, picked up a pair of wire cutters that were wrapped in a blanket, and with the wire whipling, insulates the iron from the hand, and thereby enables one to stand in any place and cut the wires without danger. Even with this simple instrument one has to be very careful that the wire does not turn and strike the clothing, as the least contact would send a shock through the body that would cause very great pain, and might permanently injure the person.

"Whenever an ice storm is in prospect, the electric light men become very much concerned and watch their wires with unusual care."

"The street cars were all delayed yesterday afternoon, and on the West Side they were three-quarters of an hour behind time, but today evening the cars had had time to get on their feet and were running all night."

SHE ALLEGES CRUELTY.

Mrs. Monahan Wants to Be Separated From William Monahan.

Mrs. Mollie Monahan filed a petition in the district court asking for a divorce from William Monahan. She states that they were married on June 12, 1893, and to the 14th of November of the present year they always lived together. On that date, she alleges that the defendant threatened to kill her and several times threatened to kill her. She alleges that on several occasions he has gone to her home and threatened to kill her, and she threatened to kill her if she did not come back to him. Since November 22 he has abandoned her and refused to support her. She alleges that he has an income of $100 per month, and she has no income. She asks for an absolute divorce and alimony.

LIFE OF LINCOLN.

Mr. Brown of This City Has Compiled One.

Dr. R. H. Brown of this city has just completed a life of Abraham Lincoln. The doctor is an old soldier, and is a member of the Grand Army of the Republic. He is now residing in Illinois and is the author of a number of books. He was well acquainted with Lincoln, and for the past three years has been working on the life of the great president. The book came out in the first volume of the book came out. The work is bound in two volumes, and while giving the facts of President Lincoln's life, the story is told in a very interesting manner.

Mrs. Ella Glenn Shilde yesterday procured a pension of $50 per month for Arthur Burgess of this city. The claim was just presented last July, and the pension was secured in very short order. Mr. Burgess enlisted in Company A, 4th Infantry, United States Army on September 1, 1861. He was in the Philippines from 1862 until 1863, when he was discharged for lung trouble. He was in seven hospitals during his term of service.

FIREMEN'S GRAND BALL.

First One in Twelve Years to Be Given.

The Wichita fire department will give a grand ball on New Year's eve and the arrangements now in progress indicate that it will be one of the swiftest affairs ever given in Garfield hall. In times gone by the fire department balls were events of social importance that marked the junction of years, but for a dozen years none has been given. It is time that the fire department should get down in its pocket again for that dollar that was so cheerfully given in the eighties to the boys who have never been known to flinch when the interests of the city called them to duty.

Yesterday a meeting was held at Chief A. G. Walden's office in the city building and the following committees were appointed:

Committee on Invitation—A. G. Walden, H. H. McCall, A. S. Brownwell, E. J. Moore, H. D. Killon.

Committee on Music and Hall—W. A. Schamer, A. E. Baldwin, J. P. Nolan, John Ends, Walter Robinson.

Committee on Arrangements—C. S. Rivney, D. H. Maxwell, W. B. Snow, Geo. Madock.

ICE CAUSES TROUBLE.

Wit thte Wires Strung Over the City.

The city electrician did not like the prospects last evening, when the rain was falling in a fine mist and freezing as fast as it fell. The trolley wires were being covered with a coat of ice, and every car that came along was dragging a streak of blue flame along the wire behind it. "If this weather keeps up, we will not go to the policeman's hall tonight. We will be out on dry ground, and the wire will be forming on the trolley wires so long as the cars are kept running right along. They keep the wires open, and are but little more than a wire, and the wire street car companies have it when they start in the morning, after a hard freeze of this kind. Mrs. Hotchkiss Sentenced to Term in Penitentiary.

Wednesday Judge Clark at Great Bend sentenced Mrs. Belle Hotchkiss to three years in the state penitentiary, for the murder of James Duffy at Ellinwood on October 30. This was the extreme limit, as given by the verdict of the jury. Mrs. Hotchkiss killed the man in front of his shoe store at Ellinwood, because he would not give up his children, which were in the Wichita Children's Home. Mrs. Duffy had been separated from his wife for some time, but still retained the custody of the two children. His wife wanted them, and it is alleged that Mrs. Hotchkiss had been in the habit of visiting them, and because he refused she shot him. The children are still in the local home.

STORE BROKEN INTO.

Fifty Dollars Taken From Peter Smith's Cash Drawer.

Yesterday it was reported that Peter Smith's store at Goddard had been broken into and about $50 in money and goods taken. The store is a general merchandise store, and the thieves entered through a rear window. The cash drawer was found in the middle of the street. There was considerable money in the drawer, but the proprietor did not know exactly how much, and he has not been able to estimate the amount of goods, but this he considered very small. Yesterday Messrs. Stevens and Coleman went to the scene with the policeman.

Douglas W. Demmitt sold the greatest number of tickets for the State Fair on Thanksgiving evening, the many other members of the lodge. Yesterday the members of Warwick Lodge, Wichita, supported No. 2, 2000th Bank Building, and the receipt is very grateful to the Knights local and brethren.
