

I suffered thirty years with a complication of diseases. I lost all health and strength, and forty pounds in weight. Kodol has cured me. Under its use I have been restored to perfect health and strength and have regained my lost weight. I recommend Kodol to all suffering women.

For several years I suffered constantly from indigestion and after using this or other so-called cures, tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Four bottles cured me and I am to-day sound and well. I always carry a bottle of Kodol with me, but have had no occasion to use same not having had a touch of indigestion in about two years. W. P. LAMBERT, Traveling Salesman for Kahn Bros., Louisville, Ky.

said that Dr. Richards stated to him that if he had a little money he could quiet the Wichita matter (meaning the death of the baby).

James Adams testified that he was at the house and saw the baby after it was dead and remembered hearing Dr. Richards curse the dead child, calling it names that he could not repeat in court.

The next witness was Emily Flora, wife of C. Flora, the former witness. She also stated that Dr. and Mrs. Richards had lived with them and her testimony consisted largely of things told her by Mrs. Richards. She said: "Mrs. Richards told me that she and the doctor were not married, that they frequently quarreled and fearing that he would leave her she wished to have a child, thinking it would keep them together. They came to Wichita and when they returned to Rusk they had with them the baby. Both the child and Dr. Richards were sick and Mrs. Richards stated that Mr. Richards had taken a dose of medicine and had given the baby one too. She called the sick child some hard names."

E. L. Stratton testified to having seen the baby before its death and said it appeared nearly dead, and that there were several sores and marks around the mouth.

Dr. J. W. Hutton was next called and stated that the first time he saw the defendant was in the Carey hotel. He was called there to wait on the child, which he found in a drowsy condition. Mr. and Mrs. Richards told him they had given the child paregoric to quiet it and feared they had given it too much. He stated that he gave it a heart stimulant and when he left it was much better.

Dr. S. L. Marberry of Enid gave some important testimony. He said: "I have known Dr. and Mrs. Richards for three years, and about the first of June last I was called to attend Dr. Richards. I found him suffering from an overdose of cocaine. He was not rational and did not recognize me. The baby was also sick and Mrs. Richards' request I examined it, spending about one and one-half hours with it. I found the stomach in an inflamed condition, and the child very sick. Mrs. Richards told me it was her baby, and seemed very much concerned about its health, following me out of the house to question me as to its proper care. The child was neatly attired and seemed to be even more neatly dressed than the average baby."

Mrs. L. W. Richards, one of the defendants, then took the stand. She gave her residence as Rusk, Oklahoma, and said that Mr. Richards was a practicing physician and owned a drug store at that place. She told her story as follows: "On the 10th day of June the doctor and myself came to Wichita and asked Mrs. Shields for a child six or seven months old. She found me one three months old, which we took. After reaching the Carey hotel the baby seemed unwell and we gave it a dose of paregoric. But as it continued to grow worse I called a physician, who relieved the child for the time. We went to Rusk, Oklahoma, Sunday and both the child and Mr. Richards were taken ill. A physician was called, who gave me advice regarding the care of the child, which I followed as nearly as possible."

Here Mrs. Richards showed the clothing the child wore at the time of its death. Apparently they were not extremely filthy, she then continued: "Mr. Richards remained sick and wished to go to Chicago to be placed in a hospital, and as the child was in a great deal of work, I concluded to bring it back to Mrs. Shields, which I did. She would not accept it, but sent me to Mrs. Miller, from whom she had gotten it. The baby died at Mrs. Miller's home. I had become very fond of the child and was sorry to give it up."

The case was continued until 9 a. m. Next Friday.

COMING LOCAL EVENTS. All clerks that are members of local union No. 23, will please meet in union hall, over Ochsberg's drug store, at 125 S. Main, Sunday afternoon, to attend the funeral of our late sister and fellow workman, Miss Wagner. All clerks try and be present to attend the last sad rites of one who was much beloved among us, but was taken from our midst in the prime of life.

The funeral services over the remains of Miss Myrtle Wagner will be held at the Pro-Cathedral, Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Interment will be in the Catholic cemetery. Friends who desire to view the remains may do so any time Sunday between the hours of 9 a. m. and 2 p. m., at the home, 218 St. Francis.

Staff of Royal Neighbors of Camp 67, please meet at the hall at 2 o'clock for drill for special session.

The ladies of the Plymouth Congregational church will have a rummage sale early in December.

It is reported at Topeka that Charles Jones, a Topeka newspaper man, will be C. H. Luling's deputy in the insurance office.

Winter Eczema OR TETTER

Is one of the many varieties of that tormenting disease called Eczema. It breaks through the summer and breaks out in winter. The head, feet and hands are the parts most often attacked, though it sometimes appears on other parts of the body, the skin hardens, cracks open and bleeds, while the itching and burning is at times almost unbearable. Scratching only makes it worse, sores and scabs forming where the skin is broken.

In this form of Eczema brownish white crusts sometimes form which scale off in fine particles, leaving the skin raw and sore, and inflamed. It is especially painful and severe when confined to the hands, which often become so badly affected that the sufferer is unable to perform the lightest work. This, like all other types of Eczema, is due to acid poisons in the blood and not to local causes. The trouble is more than skin deep, and washes, soaps, powders, and salves not anything else applied to the surface can possibly do more than soothe the burning and itching or relieve temporarily the inflammation and pain.

It is the acids forcing off by the blood and which are forcing their way through the pores that cause the skin to harden, crack and bleed, and produce the irritation and soreness. S. S. S. neutralizes these acid poisons and cleanses the blood of all irritating substances and humors and does it promptly and effectually. S. S. S. purifies and invigorates the thin acid blood, and builds up the entire system; then the slightly eruption and sores heal, the skin becomes smooth and soft, and all signs of the Eczema disappear. HOW NEW YORK WAS SHOCKED them all for his sake. And when I have him at my side again to give me the protection that a husband can give I shall not care what they say.

Yet six days after the release of her husband Mrs. Mollieux has left her husband's side and gone to the west to seek a permanent separation from him.

The young wife of four months—they had been married only that long when Mollieux was thrown into the Tombs on a charge of murder—has taken a suite of three rooms in the Cataract House, South Fifth, and will reside there for the six months which are necessary to establish a legal residence in the state.

Then the papers in the case will be filed and the mystery of the sudden separation will be solved in part.

Mrs. Mollieux as Miss Blanche Chesbrough, met Mollieux during the summer of 1897 in Portland. Mr. Mollieux went on a yachting trip with his friend A. J. Morgan in the yacht Vlator, and at Portland, Miss Chesbrough and her sister came on board and were entertained. That was the first meeting between Mollieux and his future wife. Her sister introduced them. Upon the trial of the case there was much said about this yachting trip, but at all events it was the turning point in the career of both.

Among Mrs. Chesbrough's friends was Henry C. Barnett, who said paid her considerable attention before the meeting of Mollieux.

It was stated at the trial of Mollieux, and not denied that the attentions of Barnett continued not only after her meeting with Mollieux, but after her engagement to Mollieux, which was announced in the latter part of September, 1898.

At the first trial of Mollieux a letter was introduced in evidence written to Barnett by Miss Chesbrough during his final illness which terminated in death on November 10.

Mollieux testified at his last trial that Miss Chesbrough had rejected him the first time he proposed marriage to her. They were finally married nineteen days after the death of Barnett.

In the investigation following the death of Mrs. Adams, it was discovered that Skram had died from a poison similar to that which caused the death of Mrs. Adams, and subsequently when Mollieux was arrested the District Attorney attempted to fix both crimes upon Mollieux, but he was only indicted for the murder of Mrs. Adams, and Mrs. Mollieux was pointed out as the motive for the crimes.

Mrs. Ella Glenn Shields, the next witness, said she just met the defendants June 14 when they came to her office to procure an 18-month-old baby. She said that she got a child for them of Mrs. Miller, and while it was only three months old they took it. She said the doctor stated that they would probably adopt the child and that Mr. and Mrs. Richards consulted Judge Wilson as to the proper way to adopt it. She also testified that the child was clean and perfectly healthy when she left her care and when Mrs. Richards returned the child was in a dazed condition and she refused to accept it, whereupon it was taken to Mrs. Miller, who took it. Mrs. Shields was given to understand that Mr. Richards was confined to his room at the hotel and was being taken to a sanitarium for treatment.

Court then adjourned until 1:20 p. m. The first witness introduced by the state after dinner was C. Flora of Rusk. He stated that Mr. and Mrs. Richards had boarded at their home for five weeks about the death of the child, and that he had frequently heard the doctor abuse Mr. Richards. He said that he had often heard Mr. and Mrs. Richards money and that he had made a trip to Geary with them to get a mortgage upon some of their property to secure himself, but upon arriving there they refused to mortgage it.
