

FORMER WICHITAN CRUSHED TO DEATH

Charles Garrison Was Killed in Frightful Manner.

WAS WORKING AT SMELTER

John Garrison Was Formerly in Business Here.

Charles Howard Garrison, a former Wichita boy, was crushed to death by falling ore in a smelter works at Murray, Utah, November 12. The body will be brought to Wichita for burial and is expected to arrive in the city this morning.

John S. Garrison, father of the boy, who is a well known mining man of Utah, with interests in the Dutch Mountain district, left home about the first of the month for a ten days' visit to his mine. During his absence his son Charles, who was only 17 years of age, ran away from school and went to Murray, Utah. He secured employment in a smelting works. Not long had been heard of the boy since leaving home and his parents were greatly worried over his absence. November 14 a death notice appeared in the Salt Lake Herald and although the name of Garrison was not mentioned it was by this means that the anxious parents found their son. The notice read as follows: "Dead—Howard, at Murray, Utah, November 12, 1903, Charlie Howard, aged about 20 years."

Mrs. Garrison read the above notice and told her husband of it. The two names given were similar to those of her son and she feared it might mean him. The father of the absent boy laughed at the anxious fears of the mother, but assured her that he would investigate.

The older Garrison went to Hall's undertaking establishment with a clipping of the death notice in his hand and asked to see the body of the young man who had been killed at Murray.

When Mr. Garrison first gazed at the features revealed by the withdrawn sheet he did not recognize the body as being that of his son, but after a while realization of the truth came to him and the body was recognized.

Details of the accident were received which showed that the young man was employed to shovel pulverized ore from a pile made by dumping from a considerable height above. He was on the night shift. While standing directly under the chute a load of ore, estimated at several hundred tons in weight, fell in such a manner that it struck the young workman, burying him completely. When removed from the pile of ore the young man was dead.

John Garrison formerly lived in Wichita and was for a number of years engaged in the real estate and lumber business here. He moved to Utah fourteen years ago.

Word was received in the city yesterday stating that the body will arrive at 11 o'clock a. m., over the Missouri Pacific. Upon its arrival the body will be taken to Gilts undertaking establishment and funeral services will be held.

INDIANS WERE HERE

Three Crow Chiefs and Squaw Were in Wichita.

Howling Cain, White Eagle and Brave Bear, three Indian chiefs of the Crow tribe, accompanied by a squaw, were in Wichita yesterday for a short time. They are on their way home to Tumalo, O. T., after a trip to the Crow reservation in Montana.

The Indians are full-blooded Crow and none can speak a word of English. The Indians passenger employes experienced quite a little difficulty before the Indians were loaded safely on the right train to continue their journey.

SOLD 576,000 EGGS

Which Were Bought in April and Kept in Cold Storage.

The ice machine has revolutionized the packing of eggs by making the packing season last the year round and it, by being applied to cold storage, making quite a change in the sale of our products. For instance, C. W. Southward has just sold four car loads of fresh eggs that was made possible by cold storage.

The four car loads of eggs were sold to the Baden Produce company of Winfield. In the four cars were 3,999 cases, 65,000 dozens or 780,000 eggs. These eggs were bought in the month of April, can be used and put into cold storage with a regular temperature. Freshness was tested and they could see no difference in them and absolutely fresh eggs.

This cold storage business gives people fresh eggs the year round while before the discovery of the ice machine expiring the winter season could only be had at exorbitant prices. The Baden Produce company has fifty thousand pounds of spring chickens in cold storage in the city. Later in the winter when there are no spring chickens on the market these will be brought out of the cold storage plant and sold to consumers. They are frozen perfectly hard and will be kept in that condition until needed for use. Mr. Southward probably does not want his business made public but there will be no betrayal of confidence to state that he has made a good sum of money on his eggs. In addition to giving consumers certain products to consumers at a reasonable price the year round this cold storage business helps the farmer. The great number of eggs taken in the spring for cold storage prevents the market from becoming over-stocked which would cause ruinously low prices. The same is true of the farmers' spring chickens. Spring chickens and eggs brought pretty good prices all last summer because the surplus was taken for cold storage.

IS WANTED AGAIN

Ellsworth Lewis, Who Became Engaged to Wichita Girl.

The wind has again blown the sand off H. Ellsworth Lewis, who went from Topeka to the Kansas penitentiary a little more than two years ago. Lewis who stood his release from the penitentiary last summer has been mesqued in Kansas City under the name of W. R. Thomas, is wanted for passing worthless checks aggregating $100 on three Kansas City firms, and if he is caught will get his mail at Jefferson City for some years to come.

Lewis flew into Topeka two years ago last spring. He showed up first at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., pretending that he was a desperate man who wanted to renounce his evil ways and live a righteous, useful life. Lewis' repentance was so thick at that time one could have sliced it with a knife.

Somewhat "aloud" him into the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, and his desire to reform was so genuine that the Rev. Mr. Sheldon interested himself in his case. Through his influence H. Ellsworth was given a job reading proof on the Capitol, where he lasted just long enough to give the bookkeeper time to erase his name from the payroll. Meanwhile Lewis had met Miss Pearl Leavitt, and had won her heart and hand, which is quick work even in Topeka. Miss Leavitt was helpless to considerable property and in order to further perfect his title in the house and her property, Lewis worked E. W. Swearington, the jeweler, for a $200 diamond ring in a manner which was subsequently defined by the district court as obtaining goods under false pretenses. Swearington and Miss Leavitt both avowed after a time, but by the time they had begun to sit up and notice things, Lewis was in Denver, where he was apprehended two or three months later. He was sent to the penitentiary for two years at the September term of court following.

His scheme for squaring himself in Kansas City was much the same as that employed in Topeka. He pretended to be an ex-convict who wanted to reform himself, and told a fanciful story about being the son of a variety actress who had gone to the bad. He was given employment, joined the Congregational church, and also entered a medical college. Apparently he led an exemplary life. The appearance of the forged checks was the first indication his sponsors had that he was doing otherwise—Topeka Capital.

Allen Leavitt is a Wichita girl.

IS MOVING TO WICHITA

L. W. Robinson and W. C. Edwards Discuss Cattle Interests.

L. W. Robinson of Robinson Bros., Topeka, Kan., is moving to this city and will be building a new residence house which will be on Park Place.

Mr. Robinson said Wichita is going to be the great live stock center and he made up his mind to live here. Robinson brothers are breeders of fine horses and cattle and they will have another sale in this city next February.

He said great improvement in the herd of Texas has been made and the Kansas cattle are going to be better. He mentioned that Texas is now sending out stockers and feeders superior to any in this section of Kansas.

W. C. Edwards of the Orient confirmed this statement. He said the separator is playing havoc with the cattle of Kansas. Out in Western Kansas where he used to live the farmers and ranchmen used to raise fine steers and they did not have any milk or butter on their tables. Now they all have separators. They have cream and butter on their tables and are raising skimmed milk calves.

SATURDAY IS CHARITY DAY

Badges Will Be Sold, as in Former Years.

Saturday is Charity Day in Wichita and the ladies of the Children's Home, Torrance Home, King's Daughters and the Wichita Hospital will sell charity badges. The proceeds will all go to the benefit of the organizations named in the foregoing.

The ladies will be stationed in all parts of the city and on the street cars as in former years. Five cents is all that will be asked for the badges although a person may give as much as he desires. We would like to know that the custom of selling the badges, is disagreeable to some people, remarked one of the ladies "we feel that it is our duty to carry out the work as has always been customary. If everyone will contribute even a nickel, quite a large sum will be raised."

WICHITA WOMAN IS HEIR TO PROPERTY

Grand-Daughter to Get an Eighth of Estate.

VALUED AT $200,000

Grandmother of Mrs. Carrie Woltz Is Dead.

Mrs. Carrie Woltz, wife of Dr. J. W. Woltz, yesterday received word from Warren, Ill., from the administrator of an estate which belonged to a grandmother of Mrs. Woltz's who died about three weeks ago, that she is heir to one eighth of the property. It is estimated to be worth anywhere from $100,000 to $200,000, although it may exceed even any of these figures.

The property left by Mrs. Woltz's relative consists of land in South Dakota and Illinois besides a large sum of money. The land is all being disposed of and when the estate is converted into cash Mrs. Woltz will receive one eighth of the total amount.

She received a letter about two weeks ago from a law firm in Warren, Ill., which was sent to ascertain her whereabouts. Mrs. Woltz answered the epistle with the result that she received a letter yesterday telling her of the death of her grandmother and bequeathing the good money that she is heir to a large sum of money.

Mrs. Woltz lived in Wichita for the past four years. She was married in this city to Dr. J. W. Woltz. She is originally from Michigan, but came here from Holyrod, Kan., about four years ago.

Mrs. Woltz's grandmother, who died, was the mother of two daughters. Both are now dead. Each daughter was the mother of four children. The estate will be divided between the eight grandchildren.

CASE FILED AGAINST RAILROAD

Woman Says Appraisement Is Far Too Low.

The case of Mrs. Bathsheba Twelzy vs. the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railway company is up for trial in the district court. She claims that she was not allowed enough damages when her land was condemned for the railroad and asks that she be allowed $5 per acre for the eight and one-half acres and $700 is the result of the railroad cutting the land in two and thereby ruining its drainage and making it of no further use as a stock farm. The total damages amount to $7,650.

The board of county commissioners appraised this land in September, 1902, at $400, and allowed $200 as damages. The plaintiff claimed this appraisement was altogether too low and she made the above appeal in the district court.

Her attorneys are Amidon and Conly & Conly.

Excellent music has been secured for the dance and a five pound box of chocolates will be awarded to the best lady dancer present.

HAD GOOD LUCK. James Howard Captured More Than 300 Birds.

James Howard, who returned from a hunting trip near Okavina yesterday, probably holds the record for the number of ducks captured on one trip. He brought back, it is understood, something like between 200 and 300 birds.
