

WARMEST WEATHER IN TEN YEARS

Finest Winter Climate Experienced Yesterday.

FOR A LONG TIME

Maximum Temperature Was Seventy Degrees.

Forecast for Wichita and vicinity today: Partly cloudy weather and colder tonight. For Kansas—Cloudy and colder. There was something unusual in the temperature yesterday, when the maximum reached 70 degrees. This is the highest maximum winter temperature that Wichita has known since January 15, 1894. Ten years ago this maximum was reached and the winter was similar to the weather now being experienced.

Mr. Todd said: "I predict that there will be a very sudden change in the weather. Within the next few days it will get cold, although nothing serious will come as far as I can see. It is an old saying, and a true one, that extremely warm temperature at any time of the year is a storm weather breeder, and every indication points to a change within the next few days. But I have every reason to believe that this will be just another such winter as we had ten years ago."

Mr. Hicks also predicts cold weather, but seems to think that the wave will be of short duration. Hicks, however, said that the cold wave would reach here about the 26th, but that has failed and now, it is probable, since all weather observers have figured out about the same conclusions, that Wichita may have a spell of a few days, at the most, of wintry weather.

The winds yesterday were spring-time breezes and, had a northerly blast stepped into Wichita, he would surely have thought that he were in Florida. It is a notable fact that the citizens of this vicinity have not seen a snowflake fall thus far. Clear weather is general this morning except over the lower Missouri and Arkansas valleys and portions of Minnesota, Montana, Oregon and Nebraska. The Pacific northwest disturbance, central over southern Montana, yesterday morning, has divided, one portion of it moving to the middle plateau region and the other to Minnesota. The pressure is high over the Ohio valley and relatively high over northern Montana. The precipitation in the past twenty-four hours has been unimportant. The following high wind velocities (miles per hour) were recorded during the night: Bismarck, 40; Huron, 42, and Chicago, 52. There has been a general rise in temperature in the past twenty-four hours over the Mississippi, lower Missouri and Arkansas valleys and western gulf states, and a decided fall over the northern slope and portions of the plateau region. Minimum temperature, 50 degrees; maximum, 70 degrees.

BROCKMAN STILL HELD

Employer Is Ill and No Warrant Has Been Issued.

Marion Brockman, who was arrested last week, charged with stealing $30 from J. A. Bishop, is still confined in the city prison and insists that he was drugged and knows nothing about the missing money. He says that a man stopped him on the way to the bank and asked him to take a drink. The both of them stepped into the alley and he took a drink from a bottle which the man offered. After this he says he remembers nothing.

PRESENTED WITH DIAMOND

W. T. Rouse Is Pleasantly Surprised By Employee.

During the Wichita implement dealers' convention in December, a number of the old Deering Harvester company employees planned a surprise on W. T. Rouse, who has had charge as general agent of the Wichita general agency of said company for several years, and Saturday evening, January 16th, those of Mr. Rouse's old office and field force, who are residents of Wichita at this time, called at his home at 133 South Hydraulic, in company with their wives, acting as a delegation, and presented him with a magnificent 2nd degree Masonic diamond ring, together with about sixty letters from absent donors. The presentation speech was made by Mr. E. W. Jaquith and an

A Conversation With a Climax

When a Professional Man Talks, It's to the Point.

Several famous American physicians and surgeons were recently dining together after a session at a national meeting held in New York. "I had a remarkable case this winter," remarked a surgeon present, whose name as a specialist in rectal diseases is world wide. "My patient was a woman, a delicate, nerve-racked creature, who had suffered so fearfully from the ravages of hemorrhoids, that the knife seemed the only solution of the trouble, and yet her heart was weak and her strength exhausted by this fearful disease, that we dared not operate."

OFFICE WAS ROBBED

Thieves Took Case of Whiskey From Argonia Station.

A notice was received at the train dispatcher's office of the Santa Fe yesterday from F. C. Fox, division superintendent at Newton, warning all conductors to be on the lookout for tickets stolen from the Argonia station the other night. Some one entered the place and stole sixty cents in money from the drawer, a case of whiskey and some railroad tickets. As the agent's stamping machine was found to be dated January 23 instead of January 18 as it should have been, it is supposed that the thief dated the tickets which he stole and intends using them.

Just ask Gehring & Higginson, corner of Douglas and Topeka avenues, what they think of Mi-o-na. It is natural for people to doubt, but when Gehring & Higginson frankly offer to buy back any empty boxes when Mi-o-na fails to restore health and increase weight and return the full amount of money paid, it silences the doubters and they cannot help but feel that Mi-o-na is an unusual and remarkable preparation. AT THE CRAWFORD.

The sensational melodrama "The Convict's Daughter" was presented last night at the Crawford to a very enthusiastic audience who seemed well pleased with the performance. The play built on the life of the daughter of an escaped convict who has many pathetic scenes which always appeal to an audience. The plot was unconventional with a succession of natural and logical incidents which were not over done, as they are in a great many dramas of this class, and with a little vim of comedy throughout the piece, makes it a most interesting performance. The scenery was fine, every scene being very appropriate, especially the prison scene where the convict makes his escape from the wall of the prison by jumping onto a moving train, was something new and original, and received round after round of applause as the convict made his daring escape. The cast presented every part in a manner that left nothing to be desired. Edmond Soraghan deserved special mention in the part of James Blackadder a villain who in the third act received a storm of hisses which proved him very realistic in this exceptionally hard part. Although this play has been seen here several times before, it seems to have a life about it that never fails to win favor with theater goers, who are admirers of this kind of entertainment.

"PICKINGS FROM PUCK."

In writing "Pickings From Puck," Clarence Simms and Theodore Northrup, authors, have passed all expectations, and produced a musical farce comedy travesty a long bit better than that of many new upon the stage. It is said to be screamingly funny, and contains many catchy musical numbers, having a succession of droll situations and a libretto absolutely commensurate with smart wit and sparkling dialogue. The play is a gem and a special feature of the "American Four Quartet," which has for several years been one of vaudeville's most expensive headliners.

THE KATZENJAMMER'S.

Every reader of the New York and Chicago papers will, no doubt, recall with many a smile, the funny illustrations relative to the pranks of the middle-class Katzenjammer Kids played on their Ma and Pa, and residents and theater-goers of this city will, perhaps, also be inclined to know that tonight at the Crawford Blondell and Fennessy's screaming and hilariously funny musical farce comedy, "The Katzenjammer Kids," now in its fifth successful season, will be the attraction that has created as much favorable comment, from a theatrical and popular standpoint, as the famous cartoons have. The coming attraction is said to be replete with good music.

THE PROFESSOR'S LOVE STORY.

One of the strongest dramatic attractions in the country today, Mr. Harry Beresford, in a special engagement of J. M. Barrie's delightful romance "The Professor's Love Story" is announced for Saturday, matinee and night at our play house. No play on the stage of today more cleverly depicts the power of love or more beautifully illustrates the charm of friendship's golden bonds, and no player reaches the sympathies of his audience with a more delicate touch and a greater display of natural talents than does Harry Beresford. The motif of "The Professor's Love Story" is based on a human subject and permits the genius of Mr. Beresford to strike that well-spring of emotion—the heart—in a most sympathetic manner in fact. "The Professor's Love Story" has been classed among the greatest of J. H. Barrie's writings, some critics even going so far as to term its creator the modern day Dickens, so exquisite and so true are his character delineations. Mr. Beresford comes to use with a record of success to his credit in all the cities where he has presented it. Its superb mountings, magnificent settings and beautiful gowns we are told create in themselves quite a future. He has also surrounded himself with a company of players that contains the names of many notable artists.

AT THE OLD CROSS ROADS.

"At The Old Cross Roads" which appears at the Crawford on Thursday, January 22nd, is the play which met with such unusual success at the Grand Opera House, New York City, when at every performance hundreds of people were unable to gain admission to the theater. In beauty and adherence to nature the old cross roads scene excels anything of the kind ever seen on the stage. The company last season was everywhere spoken of as being a splendid one, but Manager Alston who is always looking to improve, has strengthened it for this season. Ethel Williams will again be seen in the role of the Octoroon in which she has made such a great hit. James M. Brophy, the well known romantic actor has been re-engaged for the part of Doc Kerr, and it is needless to say that he will give a magnificent performance of it. Manager Alston has also engaged as an extra and a special feature the "American Four Quartet," which has for several years been one of vaudeville's most expensive headliners.
