

PASSOVER IS NOW BEING OBSERVED

Israelites to Celebrate for Eight Days

COMMENCING LAST NIGHT

People Will Partake of Matzo and Wine.

The Passover will be observed by the Israelites of Wichita in all its pomp and glory.

It is only the orthodox Israelite who lives up to the teachings and practices of this feast.

During the eight days which they will celebrate they will eat unleavened bread, or a kind of cracker called by them "Matzo."

In Wichita, the Israelites will endeavor to carry out the doctrines of the Torah and the precepts that they were taught by their elders concerning the observance of the Passover.

The Israelite considers the Passover as important as the American does the Fourth of July.

In Biblical times the Israelites were accustomed to killing a sheep out of the family's flock and sprinkling the blood thereof on the doorposts of their houses during the Passover.

"The fines were all due January 31," said Chief of Police Burt, "and about four-fifths have settled."

The license for these kind of business in the city of Wichita costs $5.00 each year. Prior to this year collectors were always engaged to gather the licenses.
