MORE RELIGIOUS IN AUSTRALIA THAN IN U. S., SAYS NOTED DIVINE

Rev. Geo. E. Burlingame of San Francisco Talks of Visit to Colony — Declares People of Country Are in Mortal Terror of Japan, So Cling Close to England's Skirts.

The Rev. George E. Burlingame, pastor of the First Baptist Church of San Francisco, and who has gained the distinction of building up one of the largest churches in the city out of a ruin left by the earthquake, arrived here from Australia yesterday evening and is staying at the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Burlingame will remain here for ten days and will leave on the Sierra, July 27.

The Rev. Mr. Burlingame has just been making a tour of Australia, New Zealand and the South Seas and made an extensive study of economic conditions in Australia during the time that he has been away. The Baptist minister has preached throughout Australia and made many observations.

"Residents of Sydney and Melbourne are far more religious than the people in our American cities," he declared. "They receive a thorough course of religious instruction in the schools and seem to be imbued with a deep religious feeling. All the denominations are well represented and there is a larger church-going population. The streetcars do not run on Sunday morning, but begin their schedules at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, which is done in order to give their employees part of the Day of Rest."

"The gas, electric-light and street-car systems are owned and operated by the city and while in parts of Sydney, the tram service is as good as that found in America, there is much to be desired in the other cities. The chief deficiency is that the systems do not progress with the growth of the city but remain more or less stationary."

"The railroad systems have not attained the American perfection as yet, the worst feature being the absence of a standard gauge. In going from Melbourne to Sydney, which is about the same distance as is Chicago from New York, the traveler has to ride over three different gauges which of course necessitates a change of cars each time. The reason for this is that state ownership of railroads is predominant and the gauges are different in each state. On account of the increase of freight traffic and the inconvenience caused by the necessity of transferring consignments each time, a standard gauge will doubtless have to be adopted but the time is yet far off."

"The country is rapidly developing but not as swiftly as it might owing to the scarcity of labor. Australia wants people to aid in opening barren tracts of land which are fertile but require water. There is a lot of land that is not barren and is yet unopened owing to the lack of settlers. "Immigrants are coming in rapidly, every so often an immigrant ship comes in from Great Britain with thousands of immigrants. White immigrants are wanted and for the purpose of increasing the tide of desirable immigration agencies are being established throughout the United States and Canada in an effort to get our people from us."

Oriental, Spanish and Russians are not sought after so much, the desire being to develop the country and yet to keep it Anglicized. Chinese and Japanese are not permitted to settle; there being a prohibition poll-tax of 100 pounds a head which keeps the coolies out and as the Orientals are not allowed to open establishments and engage in business, the more prosperous ones are kept away."

Australia Fears Japan. "Australia is in mortal terror of Japan. I think that is one of the reasons that they cling so closely to the mother-country and that there is not more of a movement for an Australian republic. If they keep to England, they are safe from a Japanese invasion but if they lean on the safe side, they are building two dreadnoughts a year and have made military service compulsory for youths."

"A war with between England and Germany is also feared because they fear German occupation. "Australia belongs to us commercially and we ought to build up our commerce with her more than we are doing. The entry of the Oceanic company into the field is a good thing and will tend to bring America and Australia closer together."

The Rev. Mr. Burlingame will remain at the Y. M. C. A. during his stay here and, at Dr. Scudder's invitation, will preach at Central Union church next Sunday.

ARMORY APPROPRIATION MAY GO INTO STREET IMPROVEMENT

Joseph Gilman was made happy last night by the introduction of a resolution calling for the payment of $26,000 for laying a bitulithic pavement along Queen street.

The City and County of Honolulu will have fourteen thousand dollars additional for street improvement, with the withdrawal of the appropriation which was formerly voted to assist in the cost of erection of a suitable armory for the Hawaii National Guard.

Action taken last night, tabled a resolution calling for $14,000 for the armory.

With this sum in sight, the general fund is believed will be drawn upon more freely for street macadam and permanent improvement. Another New Auto Purchased. Another new auto has been added to the list now owned and operated by the municipality. This time Road Overseer Caldwell was the lucky City official who is presented with a motor car. The board allowed the expenditure of six hundred dollars for a car owned by the late Dicky Davis.

The Bergstrom Music Company is the successful bidder for supplying the Hawaiian Band with a new set of instruments. The board has appropriated $2029 for the betterment of the band.

Beckley Street Wins Out. Beckley street is to be improved to the extent that $600 will be expended upon the thoroughfare. This work has been authorized following the insistent demand made by a large percentage of the property holders.

A friendly suit is advocated by Treasurer Robert Shingle, appointed to assess the betterments to follow the widening of Hotel street near its intersection with Fort. The treasurer reported that efforts to raise $15,000 as a betterment fund were unsuccessful.

Mr. Shingle, in a letter to the board, stated that he had interviewed a large number of persons owning real estate and leaseholds which would be assessed for betterments under condemnation proceedings and endeavored to get them to make voluntary contributions toward this much-needed improvement, but without success. The majority of those who would be assessed for this betterment are in favor of the proposed improvement, but would prefer to have the assessment levied against them as prescribed by law.

The voting strength along Puhi Lane is said will make a demonstration at the polls unless the present board members get busy and cause the installation of new electric lights along that thoroughfare. It is recommended that new lights be extended to the C. L. Wight place. Thirty-five petitioners are on the list.

The California Feed Company has been granted permission to erect a fence along Queen street opposite the site for their new building, the same to remain for a period of one hundred days or more.

Supervisor Sam Dwight refused to vote in favor of paying the cost of bringing eight game birds from Japan to Honolulu. The money is set aside as a special fund, which has accumulated by payment of licenses monies collected from local nimrods. Dwight claimed that the birds would afford food for the mongoose.

The statement of the Pioneer Building and Loan Association published in this issue is of interest to the prospective-home builder.

The Governor has notified the Hilo supervisors that he has appointed E. N. Holmes, Adam Lindsay and C. Castendyk to act as appraisers of the property on the makai side of Front street, Hilo, belonging to W. S. Terry and to the Salvation Army, which is needed for the widening of that thoroughfare.

Pending improvements costing about $50 the certificate of the Canton restaurant has been held up by the board of health. The improvements are required under the sanitation laws. No prosecution will be started unless the proprietor continues business an unreasonable length of time without a license, when the treasurer will be notified and the place closed.

Following a conference with Colonel Jones, adjutant general of the National Guard and the architects Governor Frear has asked that plans be drawn in an effort to determine whether the proposed new armory can be built in the size desired on the $100,000 available, or whether, to obtain the requisite size, portions of the structure must remain unconstructed until another legislature appropriates an additional $23,000, the sum that has been asked of the city and county.

To celebrate the completion of its new hau-tree lanai, the Outrigger Club will give a dinner and dance on the grounds Saturday evening. The new lanai completely surrounds the hau-tree grove on the men's side of the Outrigger grounds, and provides a place where members may entertain the women of their families. Tea and refreshments will be served daily under the shade of the hau. Members who wish to attend the dinner and dance Saturday are requested to notify the Public Service Association, as admission will be by ticket only.

DICKEY TAKES OATH AND BECOMES JUDGE It is now "Judge" Lyle A. Dickey. The well known attorney appeared before Chief Justice Robertson of the supreme court this morning and took the oath of office that qualifies him to sit as district judge on the island of Kauai.

He will leave Honolulu next Tuesday to take up active duty in his new office. He had planned to leave earlier but discovered that he must appear in supreme court Friday as counsel in a case pending before that judicial body, thus making necessary a delay in his departure.

FORMER POOLA OFFICIAL CHARGED WITH THEFT David Kama, financial secretary and former treasurer of the Hui Kokuu ame Manawalea Poola, the Hawaiian organization of longshoremen, was arrested yesterday afternoon on warrant sworn out by Tom Pedro, a member of the board of directors, who accuses Kama of embezzlement of $100.05 of the funds of the organization.

According to Pedro, Kama has been given several months to settle the account out of court, but when he showed no intention of so doing the formal charge was placed against him.
