

NEEDS AND OPPORTUNITIES OF THE HAWAIIAN BOARD

The annual Hawaiian Board day was observed at Central Union Church yesterday morning when six addresses were given by the members setting forth the successes and the needs of the board, with the idea of bringing the congregation into closer touch with the work that is being accomplished by the organization.

"Our Opportunity Among the Chinese" was the subject of the first address which was given by Rev. W. B. Gleason, who spoke of the two opportunities which the board is now facing in its work among the Chinese, one of which, he said, is the increasing number of English-speaking Chinese which have been educated in the schools in Honolulu, and who are an influential element in the community.

In closing he said that the board is proposing to strengthen its work among the Chinese in Honolulu. Rev. Henry P. Judd was the next speaker, and gave an address upon the subject "The Need of Trained Teachers." He brought out the fact that while there were trained nurses, doctors, and professors, there are no trained teachers in the Sunday schools, and that for this reason the board intends to take steps toward the establishment of a Sunday School Institute. The principle used at present, he said, is for the Sunday school teacher who can ask the right questions which will bring out the motives of the lesson so that it will impress itself upon the minds of the children.

Co-operation of the different pastors throughout the city has resulted in better work, according to Rev. F. S. Scudder, and the board has sanctioned the visiting of the pastors and in order that they may be encouraged to visit other parishes, have paid steamer fares and defrayed other expenses. We cannot provide the money for too many trips, he said, but we are glad to provide the missionary, which is a part of our work.

Rev. John E. Erdmann spoke in brief of the work of the Hawaiian hymns, and praised the work of the ministers as well as that of the congregation, who have been responsible in no small way for the advancement of the Christian movement among the Hawaiians. There are now 5000 Christians among the Hawaiians, according to statistics presented by Mr. Erdmann, and he also stated that were it not for the morals of their race would be in a sad condition. The Hawaiian churches subscribed $40,000 toward the upkeep of their various places of worship, and an effort will be made to increase the salaries of the pastors.

"Work Among the English-speaking Hawaiians" was the subject of an address given by Rev. Akako Akana, and was probably the most interesting of the six. He said, in part:

"The English language and the civilization which accompanied it are great things to have; but on the problems that they create in the midst of the non-English speaking people who have come under their control. Perhaps nowhere else in the world is this fact so noticeable as in the Hawaiian Islands, especially in Honolulu and among the Hawaiian people. "The rapid incoming of the American civilization with all its various forces within a very few years; the impossibility to cope with such an entirely new situation in so short a time; and the measures of compulsion which are being exercised in the schools and elsewhere, forcing the young Hawaiians to learn and to use the English language, have introduced new and serious difficulties which no one but the natives themselves could appreciate."

The meeting was closed with an address by Theodore Richards, who spoke of the finances of the board, and asked for more individual subscriptions. According to Mr. Richards, $62,155.72 was received and expended by the board last year, and if every one would give regularly a certain sum this amount could be greatly augmented. Next Sunday the annual offering for the Hawaiian Board will be taken up.

FLORAL PARADE HEADS ARE NAMED

Director General Chillingworth Names Chairmen of Important Committees

John Hughes has been named for chairman of the committee on horse-drawn vehicles in the Floral Parade next February, and today he signified his readiness to accept. He will begin work at once, preparing to make this one of the large and notable divisions of the parade.

"I shall be very glad to do all that I can to make the parade a success," said Mr. Hughes, in reply to the request of General Director Charles F. Chillingworth, that he take this division of the affair in hand. "The parade and carnival are great contributors to the rapid growth of our city, and every citizen should do all that he can to make the celebration bigger and better every year."

Director Chillingworth said this morning that the committees were now nearly all complete, and some of them have gone to work. The directors have already been in communication with many of those likely to enter in the various sections of the parade, on all the islands, and there is a promising list of entries in sight.

A. M. Brown will be the marshal of the day, and will select his own assistants. Other chairmen of committees, pre-

YOU BE HER SANTA CLAUS

Christmas time will soon be here, burdened with the yuletide joys; bringing with it all good cheer, also tons of dolls and toys. How the little eyes do shine, and pretty lips say "Oh my" others "I wish it was mine", then perhaps you hear a sigh. Gazing in a window bright, during the midweek just gone, by me stood a little mite, with a look, oh most forlorn. At her home will Santa call? Her quivering lips said "No"; Morning would reveal no doll, to set her eyes all aglow. So, come along, you big fife, who has some loose change to burn, with nary a chick or wife, now is the time for your turn. Many like this little girl, are in this city today; be a "good fellow" for once, you will find that it will pay. You certainly have the heart, so why should you longer pause? All that you want is a start. Go on, be her Santa Claus. And besides, just stop and think, how all-fired fine 'twill look; Tabbed with everlasting ink, on a page in that BIG BOOK. —Tom Merle.

25 CENT "DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR AND DANDRUFF—GROWS HAIR

Don't Pay 50 Cents for Worthless Hair Tonics — Use Old, Reliable, Harmless "Danderine" — Get Results

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

COLLEGE MEN'S CLUB PLANS SECOND MEETING

The College Men's Club of the Young Men's Christian Association will meet for dinner in Cooke Hall next Thursday evening at half past six o'clock. This is the second meeting of the younger college men, the first being the latter part of October to consider the organization of the club. At the first meeting a committee composed of C. T. Carr of the University of Illinois, H. W. Robinson of Dartmouth, W. L. Burdick of Yale, F. A. Edgcomb of Brown, and E. T. Chase of Boston, was appointed to discuss the matter of organization and to report at the next meeting. This report will be made next Thursday evening and it is possible that the organization will be perfected at that time.

The purpose of the club is to promote sociability among the younger college men of the city, and the dinners at the close of a short business session have been the feature of the meetings. At the last meeting fifty-six men representing thirty-three different colleges were present. It is thought by those who are promoting the dinner that even a larger number will be present at the second meeting as a number of new members have already been added to the list. L. R. Killam, who is in charge of issuing the invitations, says that no cards will be collected and that an invitation through the medium of the press will be sufficient.

During the course of the evening W. O. Smith will give a talk on "Old Days in Hawaii." Mr. Smith is probably as well posted on the happenings and notable events in Hawaii in former years as anyone else on the islands. Following the address by Mr. Smith there will be a basket ball game by teams representing the Eastern and Western Colleges.

Holiday Goods

By the American-Hawaiian steamers direct from New York we received this week a big line of Holiday Merchandise. These goods were ordered to arrive here by November 1st, but owing to irregular steamer arrangements from the East we received them very much later than anticipated. As the time is getting short and every item is essentially holiday merchandise, we have marked the prices low enough to close out the lot before Christmas.

BROWN DECLINED ROLE OF CUPID

Arthur M. Brown, deputy prosecuting attorney for the city and county of Honolulu, modestly though blushing declined to assume the role of Dan Cupid or serve in the capacity of applying the cement that would unite several pairs of loving hearts.

In the pursuance of a still hunt throughout the highways and byways of cosmopolitan Honolulu on a quiet Sunday night, Deputy Chief of Detectives Kellett and a posse of police officers descended upon the respective abodes of a dozen young people of both sexes who when brought before District Magistrate Monsarrat this morning were charged with a statutory offense.

In three instances the defendants entered a plea of guilty. In the same breath they turned to the prosecuting attorney and whispered their avowal to appear before any legalized official, and then and there enter into bonds of matrimony.

For some minutes it looked as if the proposition to satisfy this yearning was clearly up to Attorney Brown.

Judge Monsarrat awaited some action upon the part of the prosecution, when it was finally announced that the police department, already had one official enrolled in the service who could be pressed into service in speaking words which might satisfy the ends of justice.

A courtroom filled with spectators anxiously awaited the pealing of wedding bells. They hearkened in vain to the melody of a Mendelssohn march.

Judge Monsarrat, in closing the case, agreed to suspend sentence until Wednesday morning, pending a re-appearance of the several defendants who solemnly promised to produce the much coveted and desired marriage license.

Sheriff Jarrett has taken up the matter of a general purification of some of the more notorious districts of the city. He has ordered a detail of officers to make a careful inspection of tenements and lodging houses which for months past have been suspected as harboring people of undesirable character.

The raid instituted last evening is one of several that may be made before the work of cleaning up certain portions of the city is complete.
