

CARGO AND CABIN

SAD NEWS FOR PURSER BLOOMER

A cable bearing the sad news of the death of a father, awaited Purser John Bloomer a popular official connected with the Pacific Mail liner Nile, upon arrival of that vessel at Honolulu early this morning.

C. H. Bloomer, father of the Nile officer passed away at his home in San Francisco on April 20. For the past twenty-nine years he has been prominently identified with the business interests of the Golden Gate city. Familiarly known to many old residents as "Pop" Bloomer, the deceased also served with distinction in the series of Indian wars in the early history of the great southwest. Mr. Bloomer was one of the few who survived the battle in which Sitting Bull was made a captive. He was in the heat of the noted Geronimo, the great Indian chief.

Purser Bloomer decided this morning to proceed to the Orient in the Nile, following his filing a cable to his mother in San Francisco. The news of the death came as a distinct shock to the officer, who in his hour of affliction and sorrow has the sympathy of not only a large circle of friends in local shipping circles, but he is also receiving the sincere condolence from his brother officers.

The Nile is to be supplied with two hundred tons sugar milling machinery during the stay at this port. The liner is to proceed to the Philippines on this voyage and the consignment of machinery will be incorporated in a bill to be erected in the southern islands. The Nile will also receive a considerable quantity of coal being steaming for Japan, China and the Philippines at five o'clock tonight.

Arriving here with one of the smallest lists of cabin passengers in her history, the vessel was moored at Alakea wharf before eight o'clock this morning. Eighteen cabin, six second class and 31 Asiatic steerage passengers are proceeding through to the Far East. There are no layover passengers for Honolulu. The Nile's through cargo, includes 1200 tons merchandise and supplies a large portion of which is destined for Manila.

With the arrival of this vessel, the local postoffice received 218 sacks of mail from the mainland.

One change is noted in the personnel of officers aboard the ship, in Dr. J. J. Smith, a well known practitioner from the Emergency Hospital at San Francisco, who takes the berth as surgeon in the Nile, vacated by Dr. Cockingham. Dr. Cockingham is to take up his duties as medical officer in the big Manchuria, upon the arrival of the vessel at San Francisco.

Purser Joe Bourne May Again Call Here.

It seems to be pretty generally understood that Joseph Bourne, who for some years was a regular visitor at Honolulu as a purser in one or more large Pacific Mail liners, will again beam upon his large clientele of shipping friends at this port with the arrival of a Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner. Officers in the Pacific Mail Nile today predicted that Joe Bourne, who is extremely well liked by travelers as well as the business public, would receive a berth as purser in the T. K. T. Hongkong Maru when that vessel takes up the trans-Pacific service in conjunction with the Nippon Maru. The statement was also forthcoming that one of the Pacific Mail popular freight clerks was slated for a higher position with the Japanese line.

War Medals for Captain Rice

Captain Emory Rice, commander of the Pacific mail liner Mongolia, was a volunteer in the United States navy during the Spanish-American war, and was at the battle of Santiago as a quartermaster on the cruiser Harvard. When he arrived at San Francisco he found in his mail a notification from the navy department to the effect two medals, a West Indies campaign medal and a Sampson medal, had been forwarded to him.

In the same mail he received a request from the navy department inviting his co-operation in the formation of the national naval reserve, which it is hoped to form among former navy men who are now connected with the merchant marine.

Hyades Away for San Francisco.

The Matson Navigation steamer Hyades departed from Hilo for San Francisco late last night, according to a wireless message received at the agency of Castle & Cooke. This vessel has spent the past fortnight in the islands, in the discharge of a large general cargo brought from San Francisco and Sound ports, and also taking on consignments of sugar and bulk molasses. The vessel should reach the coast by May 12.

Ship Phelps Figures in Libel

The ship Erskine M. Phelps, a well known sugar carrier and one that has made a number of trips between Honolulu and the east coast of the United States by the way of the Horn, has just figured in action for libel. San Francisco attorneys have instituted a libel against the ship for $700, a coast firm claiming that the merchandise shipped in that vessel from Philadelphia to San Francisco reached destination in greatly damaged condition.

BABES FARE WELL DESPITE TEMPEST

Bringing a tale of sea-swept decks, smashed lifeboats, a wrecked galley, together with stirring accounts of brave and daring acts performed by a valiant staff of officers, the mails received today bore interesting stories of the terrible experience in which the Matson Navigation liner Lurline figured on the last voyage from Honolulu to the Coast.

The ship was heavily laden and was swept repeatedly by great green seas. The seas wrought considerable damage about the decks and the after quarters were flooded. Water poured down the ventilators, and No. 1 lifeboat was badly smashed. While the gale was at its height the galley was practically out of commission, but this did not inconvenience the passengers, who were too seasick to take much interest in cooking.

H. B. Meyer, the purser, knows exactly how Robinson Crusoe felt. For two hours, during the height of the storm, Meyer was marooned on top of the safe in his office. He went up there when a sea broke into the room and stayed there because other seas kept coming in as fast as the water from the preceding wave receded.

Joseph Lombardo, the chief steward, was the hero of the storm. There were several babies among the passengers. Babies seldom suffer from seasickness, and the youngsters on the Lurline were not exceptions. The fact that there was a storm raging and that the ocean was staging a series of Niagara Falls on the deck was no reason why they shouldn't get hungry. They wanted milk. The milk was at the after end of the ship. Lombardo volunteered to get it. He made the trip aft in safety and was returning with the milk when a great sea swept the deck. Lombardo jumped for a stay. The milk bottles were in his pocket, and although he went through enough gymnastics to churn the lactical fluid, the babies, when they got it, half an hour later, said that it was the best milk they had ever tasted.

Deputy Collectors Will Stay

The news received from Washington today, in effect that deputy collectors of customs now second in command in all ports of the United States probably will retain their positions under the Democratic administration, and have direct charge of the customs offices when the reorganization plan becomes effective July 1, was received with much interest by officers connected with the local department of customs. The new order affects a number of well known and efficient employees, who have served faithfully and well with the department for many years.

Philippines imports potatoes.

Much of the cargo aboard the Pacific Mail liner Nile consisted of potatoes, thousands of crates being destined for the Philippines. Lord, to the amount of many thousand tons is also being shipped to the insular possession. One thousand tons cotton are included in the cargo, this, however to be discharged at Japanese ports.

SEAMEN'S BILL SAID WILL PASS

Officers connected with Honolulu Seamen's Union have been advised today that the Seamen's bill which has been before the national congress for some weeks past is destined to pass with a safe majority in both houses.

The seamen's bill abolishing involuntary servitude and fixing a standard of efficiency for seamen will be enacted into law at this session, according to Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's Union. Furuseth said he based his prediction on interviews with President Wilson and Secretary of Labor Wilson, both assuring him they favored the legislation and would see that the bill passed at this session.

Mongolia Engineer in Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24--George Constantine, junior engineer was walking down the gangplank at the dock last Tuesday afternoon with the first cabin passengers when he came under the watchful eye of Lieutenant Joseph Head of the customs service. Head noticed that he seemed to be stouter around the waist than was consistent with the proportions of the rest of his frame and took him into custody as a possible smuggler. Head caused him to strip, and found wound tightly around Constantine's body next the skin about $50 worth of embroidered silks.

A search of Constantine's room on the steamer was made and a quantity of other silk and embroidered goods was found. Constantine was given in custody of the United States marshal yesterday and admitted that he had been "caught with the goods on him." He was taken before United States Commissioner Francis Krull, to whom he confessed his guilt, and stated that he would waive preliminary examination. He furnished a bond in the sum of $100 and was released from custody.

Maningtry Called for Orders

The British steamship Maningtry, with a full cargo of coal, was a caller off the port at an early hour this morning. The vessel was visited by the pilots who delivered a cable to Capt. Stewart which ordered his vessel to proceed to San Francisco. This vessel was first expected would remain here for discharge.

Oil Tanker to Call at Maui Ports.

The American ship Falls of Clyde, which was discharged of a portion of a shipment of fuel oil, consigned to the local branch of the Associated Oil Company, has sailed for Kaanapali where the remainder of the oil will be pumped into storage tanks, before the ship sets sail for Gaviota.

DECREASE SHOWN IN DEATH RATE FOR 1911

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2--According to statistics regarding the causes of death for the registration area of the United States for 1911, which are shortly to be presented in a bulletin to be issued by Director Durand, bureau of census, department of commerce, the death rate from a large majority of diseases was lower during the past year than in previous years. The only exception was pellagra, which showed a large increase over preceding years.

During 1911 there were 9622 suicides, an increase of 1522 over the preceding year. The death rate, however, was lower than during 1908 and 1909.

The number of violent deaths, exclusive of suicide, is given as 54,023, more than nine-tenths, 50,121, being of an accidental or undefined character, the remainder being homicides. The death rate through accidents is slightly higher than during 1910, but lower than the periods from 1901 to 1909.

Organic diseases of the heart caused more deaths than any other disease, 83,525, although the number of deaths from tuberculosis, of all forms, was 94,265.

Decreases in the death rate are shown in typhoid and scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough, diphtheria, croup, tuberculosis, cancer and infantile paralysis.

A bachelor must fight life's battles single-handed. Still, he spends his money that way.

Microbes in Your Scalp

Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Unna, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists. This microbe destroys the hair follicle, in time causing the scalp to become thin and the scalp to become shiny. Then, it is believed nothing will revive the growth. It treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Resall "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Unna, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else--can to remove dandruff and stop falling hair; and if any human agency can promote a new growth of hair it will do that, too.

We want you to make us prove it. We will pay for a month's treatment of Resall "93" Hair Tonic used during a trial, if you will use it according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your mere request will get your money back if you want it. Two sizes: 50c and $1.00.

You can buy Resall "93" Hair Tonic in this community only at our store: BENSON, SMITH & CO., LTD.

KAMEHAMEHA ALUMNI

WILL HOLD MEETING

The Kamehameha Alumni Association will hold meeting in the clubhouse on Fort street at 7:30 o'clock this evening, at which time nominations of officers for the annual election which will be held in June will be made. There are three candidates for the office of president and some lively competition is assured. The committee which is investigating the advisability of a new dormitory will make its report. Other business matters of importance will be discussed and a large attendance is expected.

The Kamehameha students are at present holding a legislative session and many bills which will benefit the school system have been signed by President Horne. A bill has just passed both bodies asking the trustees for an appropriation of $10,000 with which to erect a new dormitory for the alumni. It is rumored that the bill will be sent to the trustees for action. The officers of the association whose terms are about to expire are: A. G. Hotendprf, president; A. Arnold, vice-president; J. Ordenstein, treasurer; Eben Cushingham, recording secretary; R. Mahiko, auditor; Thomas Treadway, William Ahia and M. Matson, board of directors.

There are some heus, you know, right in the human family, that you can't keep on the nest.

TWO-YEAR PROBE SUGAR SHIPPED TO MAY FIRST

OF SCHOOLS IS PLAN

The real investigation is to be made by the hold-over committee. The investigation of the joint committee on education of the two houses, whose report was handed in recently, was for nothing more than to give impetus to the hold-over committee's work.

Thus spoke Senator Penhalow, chairman of the education committee of the senate, and chairman of the special hold-over committee appointed to investigate school conditions in the territory and report to the next session of the legislature.

"We did not intend this report to do any more than pave the way for a between-sessions investigation. It is not a complete report, or a complete investigation. Two years from now we will have data sufficient to appear before the legislature and have our recommendations carried out.

"It is a mistake to think we intended the present report to be the last word on the subject. Even before the joint committee investigation was ordered, Representative Clarence Cooke and I agreed that a hold-over committee should be named at the conclusion of this session to study school matters in the territory, and make needed recommendations.

"It will require such a study before a proper understanding of the school situation can be had. Just now, on the information before me, I would not vote for the consolidation of the Normal School with the College of Hawaii. I feel the same way in respect to other matters before the committee. The text book problem is an instance. Whether the territory should publish its own books, or buy them from the publisher, or let the pupils buy them direct from dealers are questions which can't be decided on snap judgment. It takes long and serious thought."

Senator Penhalow continued that the committee would lose no time in beginning its work.

Only One Commissioner.
The end of the 1913 legislature leaves the department of public instruction with only one commissioner, Mrs. May T. Wilcox. The failure of the senate to confirm the nominations or appointments made by Governor Frear removes W. R. Farrington from the board, while the terms of Mrs. B. D. Bond and W. H. Smith, of Hawaii; of W. O. Alken, of Maui, and W. H. Rice, of Kauai, expired last week.

Thus five of the six commissioners are out of office. It is understood Senator Penhalow has recommended to the governor that an entirely new commission be appointed. The chief executive said today he had not given it any thought and will not until he returns Monday.

Three of the commissioners have been serving unexpired terms. Mrs. Bond was appointed to fill the place left vacant by the resignation of Miss Ella H. Paris; W. H. Smith was filling the unexpired term of John T. Mohr, and Farrington was appointed to succeed Judge W. L. Stanley, resigned. The terms of Rice, Alken, Smith and Mrs. Bond expired last week.

The term for which Judge Stanley was appointed, which was being filled by Farrington, is not yet finished, but the governor says that the senate's failure to confirm the appointment leaves the place vacant.

A mass meeting for women, under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association, will be held Sunday evening in the Christian church commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Doremus Scudler will speak upon the subject, "Why Become a Christian," and the members of the Kamehameha girls' school will sing. The meeting is open to all women.

Asking for the mitigation of the sentence of George Borges, recently found guilty of the carnal abuse of a female child under the age of consent and sentenced to life imprisonment, a petition signed by 29 members of the legislature has been recommended to the attorney general's office by Governor Frear. Borges was tried a few weeks ago in Judge Whitney's court on an indictment of having ravished his little niece and communicated to her a loathsome disease.

WATER BILL MEETS ITS END THROUGH FRIENDS

The attorney immediately saw that, inasmuch as all other laws governing water regulation were to be repealed by the act, its passage would put water consumers outside of the district entirely without the jurisdiction of the government. When this was explained to Governor Frear he had no alternative but to veto the measure.

It is the easiest thing in the world to find fault with a man's morals, if you happen to have it in for him.

Shorter engagements, if followed by longer marriages, would help some.
