JAPANESE ENVOYS HERE TODAY

Will Investigate Alien Land Law

Reception Is Planned For Members Of the Committee During Short Visit

With a view to investigating the condition which prevails among the Japanese of California with regard to the passage of the Webb alien land holding bill, Hon. S. Ebara and Hon. A. Hottori, members of the Japanese parliament; Rev. K. Iwaka, president of the Society for the Federation of Christian Churches in Japan, and K. Yamamoto, general secretary of the Tokio Young Men's Christian Association, are en route to San Francisco in the Pacific Mail liner Korea, scheduled to arrive at this port at 5 o'clock this evening.

A number of local Christian workers, American and Japanese, are planning a reception of the party to be held at the home of Theodore Richards from 5:30 until 6:30 o'clock this evening. Richards is well acquainted with the members of the party, having met them in Japan two years ago while attending a religious conference in Tokio. A mass meeting for Japanese will be held at the Nuanu street Japanese Church at 7:30 o'clock this evening at which time the members of the party will deliver speeches.

SUGAR SENATORS PLEAD WITH THE PRESIDENT; MISSION IS USELESS

Wilson 'Listens' and Then Tells Visitors That He Is Unalterably Wedded to the Theory of Free Sugar Within Three Years and That He Will Stand Behind the Underwood Administration Measure

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 11.—President Wilson thus far has resisted all attempts to modify his free sugar stand. Strong hopes were entertained by the senators from sugar producing states that they would be able to secure some degree of retained duties. In working out this hope they first appeared before the finance committee and received no encouragement. They then arranged for an extended conference with President Wilson.

INSPECTOR OF BOILERS MAY BE APPOINTED

Explosion Which Caused One Death and Injured Three Is Now Being Probed

Whatever may be the result of the investigation by a board of inspectors of the boiler explosion at the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company's coaling station Saturday, which sent one man to his death and three in serious condition to the hospital, one thing was predicted this morning, which was that the territory will be called upon to establish an office of an inspector of stationary boilers.

There is no officer either in the territorial or federal government having authority over such boilers, it was brought to light this morning by T. J. Heene, United States inspector of hulls and boilers, one of the three men requested by James A. Kennedy, president of the Inter-Island company, to head the investigation. The other two members of the special board are Joseph Jordan and George F. Campbell, both thoroughly experienced boiler-makers.

They have all agreed that the territory is in flagrant need of such an inspector. While it is understood that they hold the company blameless for the Saturday tragedy, believing that it was due to the negligence of one of the employees in not keeping the boiler properly supplied with water, they contend that the present situation which makes it necessary for a volunteer board to act is a sufficient instance to show the great need of the territory having its own inspector.
