WILSON'S HAND SHOWN; SENATE FIGHT NEAR

CONSUL GENERAL OFFICIALLY THANKS THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

Recent Recognition by President Wilson of Chinese Republic Leads Chinese Consular Representatives Throughout the United States to Show Gratitude Through Receptions—Affair at Residence of Consul Chen Ching Ho Largely Attended by Civilians and Members of the Army and Navy

The following messages carrying the recognition by the United States of the infant republic of China, and thanks from officials of the republic to President Wilson, were the forerunners of a celebration by the Chinese throughout the entire world and were responsible for the reception tendered last night by Consul-General Chen Ching Ho, of Honolulu:

WILSON'S MESSAGE.

"His Excellency Yuan Shih-Kai, President of China.
"The government and people of the United States of America having abundantly testified their sympathy with the people of China upon their assumption of the attributes and powers of self-government deem it opportune at this time, when the representative of the national assembly has met to discharge the high duty of setting the seal of full accomplishment upon the aspirations of the Chinese people, that I extend, in the name of my government and of my countrymen a greeting of welcome to the new China thus entering into the family of nations.
"In taking this step, I entertain the confident hope and expectation that in perfecting a republican form of government the Chinese nation will attain to the highest degree of development and wellbeing, and that under the new rule all the established obligations of China which passed to the provisional government will in turn be observed by the government established by the assembly."

THANKS RETURNED.

"His Excellency Wilson, President of the United States of America, Washington.
"In the name of the republic of China I thank you most heartily for the message of recognition which you have sent to me through your honored representative in this capital. The sentiments of amity and good will which it bespeaks and the expressions of greeting and welcome which it conveys at once testify to the American spirit of mutual helpfulness and add another brilliant page to the history of seventy years of uninterrupted friendly intercourse between China and the United States.
"Though unfamiliar with the republican form of government, the Chinese people are yet fully convinced of the soundness of the principle which underlies it and which is so luminously represented by your glorious commonwealth. The sole aim of the government which they have established therefore is and will be to preserve this form of government and to perfect its workings to the end that they may enjoy its unalloyed blessings, prosperity and happiness within; through the union of law and liberty and peace and friendship without; through the faithful execution of all established obligations."

Officially extending thanks to the American people for their recognition of the newly-fledged Chinese republic, receptions were held last night by Chinese representatives throughout the United States. At the official residence of Consul Chen Ching Ho on Sheridan street in Honolulu, in particular, the republic recently recognized by President Wilson was host to the American people of Hawaii.

The house and grounds were decorated with flags and gay bunting; the latter, strung with hundreds of many-colored lights, presenting an especially fantastic and brilliant scene. American officialdom was present in large numbers, Governor Frear and Brigadier-General Funston heading the list. The Hawaiian band played throughout the three hours of the reception.

EVENING PAPER IS BEST MEDIUM FOR ADVERTISER

H. E. Rhoads, Manager of Three Coast Papers, Gives His Expert Opinion

ADVERTISERS USED AS AUTHORITIES

Will Boost Honolulu to Friends Upon His Return to the Mainland

Famous throughout the newspaper and advertising world on the mainland as the man who first started the campaign which resulted in the pre-eminence of the afternoon newspaper in the big cities of the United States as an advertising medium, Horace E. Rhoads, vice president and general manager of three newspapers controlled by the Scripps League, in speaking of his experiences this morning, told of how he went about it to convince the people of California of the importance of the afternoon periodical.

"Being convinced that the afternoon newspapers were better advertising mediums than the morning papers," he said, "I sent 400 letters to 400 of the big advertisers, asking them whether they had enjoyed better advertising satisfaction out of the morning or afternoon papers. Out of the 400 papers appealed to, all but 18 responded. Three hundred and three of this number, an overwhelming majority, stated that they preferred the afternoon paper."

"The results of the canvass were tabulated by me and were copied in several hundred newspapers throughout the country. As a result of the tabulated results, our afternoon papers throughout California doubled their advertising space within a very short time, a great many advertisers coming over from the morning papers.
"I was really surprised at the size and energy of the papers in Honolulu. Such newspapers speak very well indeed for the progressive spirit that rules the community."

Speaking of the growing importance of Hawaii as far as tourist travel is concerned, Mr. Rhoads said that he expects next year double the number of people will visit the Paradise of the Pacific from California than was the case this year. "I am delighted with the place beyond words," he said. "And there is in California an increasing desire upon the part of the people to visit Hawaii. I know of six tourists who will come here next year upon the recommendation that I will be able sincerely make when I return home. And that is the way it goes with everyone who visits your beautiful islands."

Mr. Rhoads is simply on a pleasure trip to Hawaii and is accompanied by Mrs. Rhoads. Mr. Rhoads is vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Record, the San Francisco News and the San Diego Sun. He and his wife are at the Young Hotel.

VETERANS OF 2 WARS WILL MARCH

Four hundred Spanish war veterans will march with the elder veterans of the Civil War on Decoration day in the most elaborate procession that the event has ever occasioned here. Last night a committee of the local G. A. R. and a committee of the Spanish-American war veterans held a preliminary meeting to discuss plans for the commemoration of the nation's day of mourning for its soldier dead. Another meeting is to be held in a short time. No orator of the day has yet been chosen by the G. A. R. post.

THE SPANISH CONSUL WILL OBSERVE THE BIRTHDAY OF KING

In observance of the birthday of King Alfonso of Spain, Senor Ignacio de Arana, Spanish consul-general in Hawaii, will hold a reception at his office in the Elite building tomorrow morning. At this time Senor Arana will be glad to receive the felicitations of all well-wishers of Spain's king, and it is assured that many of the officials and citizens of prominence in Honolulu will take advantage of the opportunity.

When informed of the approaching natal day of King Alfonso, Lieutenant-Colonel Campbell, adjutant-general of the Department of Hawaii, stated this morning that the day would be duly observed at headquarters by flying from the staff above Bishop Square the American flag.

DR. SILVESTRI ARRIVES WITH PARASITES ALIVE AND READY FOR BUSINESS

Dr. Filippi Silvestri, who arrived on the S. S. Sonoma today, with a parasite discovered in Africa that it is hoped will exterminate the Mediterranean fly.

Italian Entomologist Confident That His Discovery Will Prove Sure Death To Mediterranean Fly

Up out of the jungle wastes of Africa came Dr. Filippi Silvestri this morning. There was an expression of triumph on his face as he walked down the gang plank of the Sonoma to greet entomologists of this city, who received word two months ago that Dr. Silvestri had discovered a parasite to destroy the Mediterranean fly, which is responsible for a ban having been put on the shipment of many Hawaiian fruits.

In his eyes there was the flash of genius, and his step was that of confidence. In two years the pest will no longer be unmanageable and the ban on fruits and produce will be a thing of the past. It was this assurance he brought this morning as he left the ship which carried him on the last lap of his long trip.
The hardships experienced in the remote places of Africa, the defeat only to be overcome by perseverance and genius, the struggle to keep the parasites alive when caught—these things were forgotten this morning by Italy's eminent entomologist, as he squared himself to a new battle, to overcome new obstacles, and to smile on a new triumph—the extermination of the Mediterranean fly on the islands of Hawaii.

Dr. Silvestri is both confident and modest. He says he has been defeated before and may be defeated again, and the toil and hardships of a brought unsuccessfully to an end. But in the next breath he tells you he is certain of success and only the worst of ill-fortunes can rob him of it. Those who met him at the Oceanic wharf listened to his laconic account of his work in Africa and the tedious trip to this city, his assurance that the parasites were alive and would live and propagate, at the end of which he found himself congratulated on all sides.

He was taken in an automobile to the station of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry by E. M. Ehrhorn, entomologist at the station. There his first thought was for his parasites, which are contained in a score of little bottles. Temporary arrangements were made for the keeping of the insects. Later the doctor will prepare a little house for them and settle down to the experimental work before him.

The matter of conducting this work will be entirely in the hands of Dr. Silvestri. He has not as yet announced his plans and he is not expected to for a day or two. Dr. Ehrhorn met him before the steamer landed, going out in the customs launch. Coming in they discussed generally the work of spreading the parasite, but the doctor did not state his specific plans.

It was more than a year ago that Dr. Silvestri was commissioned by the territorial board to go to Africa to find such a parasite. In Italy he had gained fame as an entomologist, and his successes there in eradicating pests reached the ears of the members of the territorial board of agriculture and forestry.
His work in Africa is a story in itself. He traveled through the dense, isolated spots of Congo, Angola and Liberia, studying the insects. He met with several successes in locating and securing the parasites until at last when he reached Cape Town, where he cabled the local board that the parasite had been found, he had five different species of insects to prey on the Mediterranean fly.

From that time on he has been moving slowly to Honolulu, stopping at times to better care for the parasites. The last lap of his trip was made from Australia. On this trip the passengers on the Sonoma watch him care for the tiny insects with keen interest, and many times, he would take them from the bottles, allowing them to creep out into the sunlight, breaking into ecstasies of delight when he saw them in good condition.

Thus he passed the last day of the trip here. The hours he spent caring for them, "exercising" them, and exclaiming in his broken English: "Ah, ze bugs!—they are delightful."
Which he repeated this morning, soon after landing, when a representative of the Star-Bulletin inquired of the good health of the insects: "Ah, ze bugs!" he exclaimed, "They are wonderful."

That Rear Admiral Charles B. T. Moore's sense of humor is fully developed is proved in the following remarks, in which he takes a fling at Andrew Carnegie, some time of Pittsburgh, some time of Skibo, Scotland, who formerly manufactured armor plate for battleships for the world, but who has more recently undertaken the raising of peace-doves for the same market.

Admiral Moore says: "I noticed in your paper as well as in other papers, a short account of an occurrence at a meeting of a Peace Society in Saint Louis while Laird Carnegie o' Skibo, late manufacturer of armor plates, was addressing the society. The joke of the thing seems to have escaped the sense of humor of the people reading the papers and of the reporters and editors.

"LEGITIMATE" EXPLAINED INDUSTRIAL, NOT LEGAL

Senator Ollie James Voices Views by Saying Industry Which Can't Stand Alone is Illegitimate Economically—Public Hearings Beaten.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—President Wilson's hand in the whole tariff situation was shown today.

Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, recognized as representing the Wilson administration in the upper house and voicing the Wilsonian views, today revealed the president's general tariff attitude by a statement which interprets Wilson's reiterated declaration that in the revision of the tariff "no legitimate industry will be harmed."

Senator James, referring to the sugar business of the southwest, declared that it is "legally legitimate but not economically legitimate." Interpreting the Democratic platform on the subject of tariff revision, he said:

"Legitimate industry means industry that is industrially and commercially legitimate. It does not refer to an industry which, after 125 years, is unable to care for itself."

SENATE MAJORITY DEFEATS PUBLIC TARIFF HEARINGS

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia, today indicated that a majority of the finance committee intends that the subcommittee shall approve the revised schedules, then submit them to the full finance committee for approval, after which they will be submitted to the Democratic caucus.

In spite of a stiff fight put up by the Republicans, the Penrose-Lafollette amendment proposing public hearings on the sugar tariff bill as it passed the house has been defeated by a vote of 36 to 41.

Arizona Passes Bill More Drastic Than California's

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 16.—An anti-alien land ownership law, more drastic than the California bill that is stirring up excitement, was signed today by Governor Hunt of Arizona. The new law bars all aliens ineligible to citizenship from holding land.

Would Deport Tong Warrior

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 16.—The federal government today instituted the first proceedings ever attempted to deport an undesirable alien the "gunmen" and "hatchet-men" of the warring Chinese tong. If this test case started on one of the tong warriors is successful, other deportations are likely.

A number of Honolulu people have become interested in a new co-operative poi manufacturing plant which is to be started at Hilo by John Baker. Among those who have taken shares are Mrs. Foster, Mark Robinson, Cecil Brown and Robert Shingle. A dance will be given in the K. of P. hall tomorrow evening by the members of the Island Baseball Club. Music will be furnished by the Honolulu Glee Club and dancing will commence at half-past seven o'clock. Rapid Transit car number 17, operated on the Emma street line was the scene of considerable excitement last evening when a spark from an electric wire caused a small blaze. A few buckets of water proved effectual in putting out the blaze.
From Hilo comes the report that two of the Filipinos now held here, charged with the murder of the Kahauki store proprietor and his wife, were for some time residents of the Island of Hawaii.

STANFORD TEAM HERE; EN ROUTE TO THE ORIENT

Enroute to the orient, where they will play a series of games with the leading Japanese universities, the members of the Stanford baseball team arrived in Honolulu this afternoon in the Nippon Maru, which docked at the Alakea slip at 1 o'clock. During the short stay of the team in this city, the members will be the guests of the Stanford Alumni of the University Club, which organization is giving a dinner for the visitors at the club this afternoon. Stanley Kennedy, who is a Stanford man and an active member of the local alumni, is in charge of the reception committee. Instead of taking a sightseeing trip about the city as was planned, the Stanford men will repair to Alexander Field, Punahou, following luncheon, where they will put in several hours of active practice.
"We had a mighty fine trip down," said Captain Terry of the nine, this afternoon, "and every man is in the pink of condition. Of course we had but little chance for practice during the trip, but the boys managed to put in an hour or two each day. Our stop-off here will do a world of good as it will enable us to keep from getting out of trim."

Captain Terry went on to say that the schedule of games to be played in the orient had not as yet been completed, but that there were several of the leading universities, including Kelo and Waseda, on the list. On the return trip the team will stop over for three weeks in Honolulu, playing in all six games while here. The local schedule will be arranged shortly. Following is the personnel of the team:
"Babe" Dent, c; Ray Maple, p; Tom Workman, 1b; Louis Cass, 2b; Pete McCloskey, 3b; Z. A. Terry (captain), ss; Arthur Hallin, lf; W. M. Argauer, of.

RAIN FALLS BUT DOESN'T DAUNT ACTORS IN OPEN

College Club Surprises Guests at Reception by Playlet in 'Arcadia'

In spite of the rain and stormy weather yesterday the committee in charge of the College Club entertainment went bravely ahead, and by the sheer force of energy and determination, pulled off, last night, a great success from what threatened to be sad disaster. Arcadia, the home of Governor and Mrs. Walter Frear, which is an ideal spot for open air fetes of any kind, was still equal to the occasion when Pluvius opened up the clouds. Canvas awnings and tarpaulins were stretched to protect the guests, while the members were enabled to enact their charming little skit on the broad lanai of Arcadia itself. The whole scene was brilliantly lighted with green incandescent globes. As the invitations read "Reception," the nature of last evening's entertainment came as a delightful surprise. After passing down the receiving line in which were Mrs. Wallace Farrington, Miss Margaret Peterson, Miss Vivian McKenzie, Mrs. Isaac Cox, Miss Arthur and Miss Brathem, the guests found themselves on the outskirts of an Irish country fair. Booths were placed about the grounds with everything from old quilts to apples for sale. Presently came dancing on to the strains of a country jig.

At the conclusion of their merry dance, which was most cleverly and gracefully executed, Miss Bertha Kemp sang two old Irish songs written by Samuel Lover. These were "The Four Leaved Shamrock" and "Rosy O'Moore," both of which have historical significance in the "Old Country."

HAMAGUCHI NOW IS THREATENED WITH ARREST

Japanese Attorneys Demand Return of Money Collected. 'Healer' Disappears

Has Uguka Hamaguchi, the Japanese alleged healer, caused himself to disappear through the medium of his supposed hypnotic powers? This is the question asked by a number of indignant Japanese residents, including several lawyers, who spent the greater part of this morning in the endeavor to locate the kahuna and serve on him a formal demand that he return the money paid him by those whom he has failed to cure. Hamaguchi, it is reported, scented the danger and has gone into hiding, possibly at the Mchitsauki Club, where it is said he spent last night and where he probably will remain until time for the Sonoma to depart for the coast at 5 o'clock this evening.

At a meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon, Dr. D. Ueyemura, under whose direction Hamaguchi has been practicing, was called in and notified that unless the kahuna ceased his meetings, Dr. Ueyemura's license would be withdrawn on the ground of improper proceedings. The board was informed by Ueyemura that Hamaguchi had already ceased to practise and that he would leave in the Sonoma this evening for the coast.

Immediately upon hearing that Hamaguchi had finished his work in this city those persons whom he had treated and failed to cure began to clamor for the return of their money, claiming that they had been defrauded. More than 200 persons, including Japanese, Portuguese and Hawaiians, called last night at the office of the Hawaii Hochi, the Japanese newspaper which has bitterly denounced the alleged fakir, asking that the paper take steps toward helping them secure the return of their money. S. Adachi, a Japanese interpreter and lawyer, was secured to represent a number of them, and he is among the many who are now searching for the kahuna.
Adachi said this morning that he is endeavoring to get into communication with Hamaguchi for the purpose of informing him that in case he does (Continued on page three)
