Evening Bridge Club. Lieut. and Mrs. Turner will be host and hostess for the evening bridge club tonight at their home at Kamehameha. Those present will be General and Mrs. Macomb, Admiral and Mrs. Moore, Major and Mrs. Cheatham, Major and Mrs. Wooten, Capt. and Mrs. Jamieson, Lieut. Gayler, Col. and Mrs. Raymond, Lieut. and Mrs. Preston, Capt. and Mrs. Lincoln and Lieut. and Mrs. Gordon.

Mrs. Barnes's Tea. Mrs. Matthew Graham, who leaves shortly for the states, was the guest of honor at a charming little tea on Wednesday afternoon given by Mrs. Kenneth Barnes at her home in Manoa valley. The afternoon was a most profitable one for the honored guest. The other ladies devoting their energy and talents toward the making of dainty, but practical traveling cases for her. Delicious refreshments were served at about four. The pretty little bungalow looked most attractive in its decorations of yellow corcepsis and ferns. Those present on this occasion were Mrs. Matthew Graham, Mrs. Frank Atherton, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Cousins, Mrs. George Guild, Mrs. Robinson, Miss Gwendolen Blair, Miss Louise Lucas, Miss Woodford, Miss Arthur, Miss Stone, Miss Florence Lee, Mrs. Michael Jamieson, Mrs. Louis Warren and Mrs. Frank Dillingham.

Chowder Supper. Mrs. Marston Campbell entertained at a small chowder supper last week at her beach home at Kahaia. The cool sea breezes and delightful air in contrast with enervating heat of town made the affair delightfully refreshing. Mrs. Campbell's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bush, Mrs. Marquis, Miss Alberta Marquis, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Tilden and the Misses Tilden.

Mrs. Thrum's Luncheon. Mrs. David B. Thrum entertained at a beautifully appointed luncheon for sixteen on Thursday at her home on Thurston avenue. Golden corcepsis and maidenhair fern made an effective decoration for the table, while the favors and other accessories were carried out in same color scheme. After luncheon, the afternoon was spent very pleasantly over bits of embroidery and fine sewing.

Recital on Monday. A very enjoyable recital was given on Monday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. F. M. Swanzy when Miss Spinner gave a number of Irish readings. Her interpretations are most clever, and the small but enthusiastic audience could not say enough to show their appreciation.

Mrs. Cutt's Dinner. One of the prettiest affairs of the week was a dinner on Thursday night given by Captain and Mrs. Richard Cutt in honor of Major and Mrs. Meyers of the Marine Corps. Pink duchess roses were used in great profusion by the hostess for the decorations, which were particularly beautiful under the rosy light of the pink candelabra. The guests at this charming affair were Major and Mrs. Meyers, General and Mrs. Macomb, Captain and Mrs. Carpenter, Paymaster Izard, Miss Nora Swanzy, Miss Farwell and Lieut. Rose.

Mrs. De Freest's Card Party. Yellow corcepsis were used in great profusion on Monday afternoon when Mrs. S. De Freest entertained at bridge at her home in Manoa Valley. These sunny blossoms with lace maid-on hair ferns made a most attractive decoration. Some very enjoyable games of Royal Auction were had, those who were lacking in science more than making up for it in enthusiasm. At the end of the afternoon it was found that Miss Jessie Smith held the highest score, while second honors went to Mrs. Giles Gere. They were awarded a pretty centerpiece and a picture frame respectively. Delicious refreshments were then served. Among those present were Mrs. Giles Gere, Miss Jessie Smith, Mrs. John Drew, Mrs. Lyser, Mrs. Morse, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Bierback, Miss Watson, Mrs. Goetz, Mrs. Hilder, Mrs. North, Miss Edwards, Miss Stegel, Mrs. Nelson Lansing, Mrs. Lindeman, Miss Simpson, Mrs. Benner and others.

Miss Soper's Party. Miss Ruth Soper is entertaining at an informal party this evening for Miss Margaret Restarick who leaves next week on the Siberia for the eastern states. Old fashioned guessing games will be played during the Service Bridge Club. On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Richard Cutt was hostess for the Service Bridge Club. As the members of this little coterie are players of long experience, some very good bridge was had, the prizes eventually going to Mrs. Harold Pratt and Mrs. Gordon. Toothsome refreshments were served later in the afternoon.

Mrs. Walter Jones' Afternoon. Mrs. Julius Unger, who leaves Tuesday for San Francisco by the Honolulu, was the guest of honor at a steamer shower given by Mrs. Walter Jones on Thursday afternoon at the Courtland. Many dainty as well as useful gifts for traveling were rained upon Mrs. Unger. The afternoon sped very pleasantly with auction bridge and sewing for those who were not enthusiastic about "the game." The prizes, charming little accessories of the boudoir, were won by Miss Florence Lee, Miss Helen Latham and Mrs. Norris Stayton. Those present were the guest of honor, Mrs. Julius Unger and Mrs. George Tackabury, Mrs. Louis Edmunds, Mrs. Fred Waldron, Mrs. Norris Stayton, Miss Florence Lee, Mrs. Kirk Porter, Mrs. Geo. Stoble, Mrs. Hanna E. Palmer, Mrs. George Bowler, Mrs. H. Berper, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Martha McChesney, Miss Katherine McCarthy, Miss Longe, Miss Lucile Levy, Miss Margaret McDonald, Mrs. Helen Latham and Miss Neustadt.

Mrs. Lange's Bridge Afternoon. In honor of Mrs. C. F. Eckart, who leaves shortly for Oahu plantation, Hawaii, Mrs. Robert Lange entertained at a very successful bridge afternoon on Thursday. The prizes, pretty little week-end cases in delicate shades of pink and blue and lavender, were won by Mrs. H. F. Wichman, Mrs. B. M. Colley and Mrs. Frank Halstead, the consolation going to Mrs. J. B. Rentiers, wife of the new British consul. Those present were Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Mrs. Rentiers, Mrs. Wichman, Mrs. James Kennedy, Mrs. Lackland, Mrs. Day, Mrs. Davidson, Miss Hardley, Mrs. Jordan, Miss Blair, Miss Lucas, Mrs. Halstead, Mrs. Soper, Mrs. Stanley, Miss Uhlberg, Mrs. Berg, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Eckart.

Bridge Club. Mrs. Lemuel Stevens, wife of Lieut. Stevens of the navy, was hostess of the Wednesday afternoon bridge club this week at her home in the navy yard. The prizes, which were smart little corsage pieces of French flowers, were won by Mrs. Cutt, Mrs. Kirby Smith, Miss Lydia McStocker, Mrs. Nelson Lansing and Mrs. Sheedy (consolation). Those present were Miss Julie McStocker, Mrs. Cutt, Miss Lydia McStocker, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Game, Mrs. Sheedy, Mrs. Kirby Smith, Mrs. Samuel Gordon, Mrs. Harold Pratt, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Louis Edmunds, Miss Callie Lucas, Miss Florence Hoffman, Mrs. Nelson Lansing, Miss Sara Lucas, Mrs. Honeyman and Mrs. Preston.

Mrs. C. B. Cooper's Supper. Mr. L. E. Pinkham was the guest of honor at a supper given by Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper on Monday evening at their home on Hackedfield St. As Mr. Pinkham left for San Francisco by the Shinyo Maru on the following day, the affair was in the nature of an aloha from his old friends. The table was attractively decorated with very beautiful and unusual blue lilies in tall vases with asparagus and maiden hair ferns. The evening was very pleasantly spent with music and conversation. Those present were Mr. L. E. Pinkham, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brown, Mrs. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Phillips, Mrs. Myers, Mr. George Denison, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Farrington, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Hedeman, and Mr. and Mrs. Klamp.

Dinner for Judge and Mrs. Hunt. Mr. and Mrs. John Guild of College street, entertained at a delightfully appointed dinner on Tuesday night in honor of Judge and Mrs. John G. Hunt of San Francisco. The table was beautifully decorated with velvety pansies, a large bowl of them making the centerpiece while loose pansies and feathery fronds of maiden-hair fern were scattered artistically about. The guests were Judge and Mrs. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Church, Mr. and Mrs. Bodde, Mrs. W. North and Miss Dorothy Guild. Mrs. Hunt is in one sense of the word a "kamaaina," having been born in Honolulu. She left at quite a tender age, however, and is now much interested in revisiting the scenes of her childhood. Judge Hunt is well known to many people in Hawaii. For thirty years he has been judge in a San Francisco court. Great regret is being expressed by Honolulu people that Judge and Mrs. Hunt were not able to extend their visit to the territory. Duty called, however, and the couple sailed on the Wabelfina on Wednesday.

Mrs. Bush's Tea. One of the largest affairs of the week was a tea on Monday given by Mrs. G. F. Bush at her home on Kewalo street. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Bush's sister, Mrs. Marquis, and Mrs. B. O. Tilden and Mrs. Easton Mills of San Francisco. The spacious bungalow was beautifully decorated for the occasion. In the drawing room were boxes of forget-me-nots, pansies and calla lilies, interspersed with palms and tropical ferns. The living room was a host of such old flowers as sun-drenched petunias and fox. The dining room was decorated with bright-eyed corcepsis and ferns.

During the afternoon several of the ladies played and sang in a very enjoyable manner. Mrs. George Tackabury sang several very pleasing selections. Mrs. Jones gave a number of musical monologues that were very clever. Mrs. Tenney Peck played a number of things in her usual finished manner.

The receiving line with Mrs. Bush were Mrs. P. O. Tilden, Mrs. J. Marquis and Mrs. Easton Mills. Mrs. Bush wore a charming gown of old gold over electric blue. Mrs. Tilden was daintily frocked in cream colored mill. Mrs. Marquis was in amethyst centered peau de sole with jet mass-centered. Mrs. Mills was in black.

Mrs. Bush was assisted on this occasion by Miss Alberta Marquis, Mrs. Marston Campbell, Mrs. L. C. Ables, Mrs. Frank Blake, Mrs. Charles Alterten, Mrs. J. A. Kennedy, Mrs. Charlotte Blake, Miss Evelyn Tilden and Miss Marjory Tilden. Those present were: Mrs. George J. Angus, Mrs. Emil Berndt, Mrs. C. G. Beckus, Mrs. C. H. Brown, Mrs. Geo. Brown, Mrs. Willard Brown, Mrs. A. E. Campbell, Mrs. T. M. Church, Mrs. William Clark, Mrs. Frank Cleoborn, Mrs. Percy Cleoborn, Mrs. B. N. Colley, Mrs. Conkling, Mrs. C. H. Cooke, Mrs. A. Hay Ride to Hale'wa. Miss Brett of Schofield barracks was hostess of a jolly, old-fashioned hay ride on Thursday night, ending up with a supper at Hale'wa. The night was perfect, a big yellow moon making it seem like day. As they bump ed over the road to Waialua, the jolly crowd frequently burst into snatches of raucous and old army tunes. Among those in the party were Miss Katherine Winan, Miss Betty Case, Miss Lucy Gilbert, Miss Hopkins, Miss E.H. Capt and Mrs. Parker, Lieut. Campanio, Lieut. Rind, Lieut. Richards, Lieut. Deehan, Lieut. Maxwell, Lieut. Fales and Lieut. Nalle.

Young Girl Becomes Bride. (Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) Hilo, May 23.—As a result of an acquaintance which began a few months ago in Hilo and rapidly grew into a tie of stronger affection, Miss Mildred Luscomb and W. B. Wood-sides were united in marriage last Saturday afternoon in the presence of a number of relatives of the bride and intimate friends of both contracting parties.

The marriage ceremony was performed at the Waianai residence of Mr. and Mrs. Sadler by Judge Wise, immediately after the wedding the happy couple left for Honolulu, where they will make their home, congratulations and goodbys being extended to them at the Matson landing by the wedding party.

Hugh Lattimer acted as best man at the wedding and a younger sister of the bride as bridesmaid. The groom is an employee of the von Hann-Young Company, formerly located in Hilo, but now with the firm in Honolulu. The bride is a Hilo girl.

Yama Yama Dinner. Several of the young people who attended the Country Club dance on Tuesday night met at the home of Mrs. Charles Lucas for an impromptu dinner before-hand. The party consisted of Mrs. George Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schaefer, Miss Violet McKee, Miss Alice Cornet, Miss Hattie Lucas, Miss Mary Lucas, Mrs. Thomas Gray, Mr. Stanley Kennedy, Mr. Bert Clark and Mr. Bradford Sumner. Dressed in yama yama costumes of red, they afterwards resorted to the Domino dance, where they made merry with the other maskers.

Fort Shafter Bridge Club. The ladies of the Fort Shafter Bridge Club met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Slanzer on Fencacoia street. Some very enjoyable rubbers of royal auction were played. Later cooling refreshments appropriate to the summer weather, were observed. Those present were Mrs. Marquis, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Roe, Mrs. Ray, Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Watkins, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Slanzer.

Informal Bridge Evening. Lieut. and Mrs. Turner entertained informally at bridge on Thursday night for Lieut. and Mrs. Preston, Lieut. and Mrs. Kirby Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sheedy.

The Women's Auxiliary convention which met on Tuesday to discuss plans for the Sunday schools, served a delicious repast at luncheon in the dining room of the Priory. The affair was under the capable management of Mrs. Arthur Wall, whose skill and experience in occasions of this sort, made it an undeniable success.

Miss Marguerite Creighton who will be married next month to Mr. Benjamin Conrad of California.

Country Club Dance. On Tuesday, the night of the full moon—which shone brightly, though sometimes veiled with showers—the members of the Country Club entertained at a domino dance. Although the crowd was a small one, the affair was very jolly, lasting to the wee sma's hours of the morning. Although there was little variety in the costumes, the invitations having called for plain dominoes, the bright colors and ludicrous masks made the dancing throng a sight worth seeing. Many groups came dressed alike, making it still more confusing and difficult to guess who was who. There were the pink Pierrots, the red domino gang, the Yama-Yama men, the pink dominoes—all equally mystifying behind their masks until 10:30, when the latter were removed and supper enjoyed.

Luncheon at College of Hawaii. Epicurean appetites were well satisfied yesterday when some of the members of the special cooking class of the College of Hawaii entertained at a luncheon. The hostess on this occasion was Miss Charlotte Hall, Mrs. Owens, Mrs. Louis Edmunds, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Eleanor Effinger and Miss Tung. The repast was entirely one of their own that they achieved were thoroughly relished by the guests. The table was prettily decorated in yellow, with appropriate place cards and accessories. The guests were Miss Shipman, Miss Yoder, Mrs. Bryan, Miss Johnson, Mrs. Lee and Miss Florence Lee.

Miss Soper's Party. Miss Ruth Soper is entertaining at an informal party this evening for Miss Margaret Restarick who leaves next week on the Siberia for the eastern states. Old fashioned guessing games will be played during the
