DR. HORNADAY ASKS SENATE TO STOP BIRD SLAUGHTER

Wants a Clause Inserted in Underwood Tariff Bill Prohibiting the Importation Into This Country of Wild Birds for Millinery Purposes—International Action Needed

[By Latest Mail] WASHINGTON, D. C.—As a result of a speech made before a sub-committee of the senate by Dr. William T. Hornaday of the New York Zoological society, it is confidently asserted that a clause will be inserted in the Underwood tariff bill prohibiting the importation into this country of wild birds for millinery purposes. "The time has come," Dr. Hornaday told the committee, "when the Christian nations of Europe and America must resolutely stop the slaughter for commercial purposes or else see hundreds of species of most interesting and beautiful birds of the world absolutely exterminated."

trade to exterminate the most beautiful birds of the world," Dr. Hornaday asserted. Dr. Hornaday mentioned as an American case of bird destruction that reported a few weeks ago by T. Gilbert Pearson, secretary of the National Association of Audubon societies, who found in Florida an annihilated egret rookery and twenty-eight dead birds on the ground, stripped of their plumage and the young birds dead in the nest above. On Laysan island, in the Pacific, seven hundred miles northwest of Honolulu, a Max Schlemmer, in 1909, undertook to destroy five hundred thousand wild birds inhabiting the small island. After a band of Japanese laborers employed by him had killed three hundred thousand albatrosses, gulls, terns and shearwaters the United States government sent the revenue cutter Thetis to the island and arrested everybody concerned in the slaughter.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The Medical Society of Hawaii will hold its regular monthly meeting at 8 o'clock this evening at the office of Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, president of the health board. A meeting was held this morning of the members of the land board at which time the application for the renewal of the lease held by the Theo. Davies Company on agricultural land on Hawaii was considered, but not definitely acted on. The federal grand jury is still engaged today in its probe of conditions surrounding the Hawaiian Dance Hall and a large number of the same witnesses who were subpoenaed several days ago were held in waiting around the floors of the grand jury room. These include a number of automobile chauffeurs and eight or ten girls, former habitués of the dance hall. Among those who were called before the inquisitors was Deputy Sheriff Charles Rose. The closing exercises at the Kawaihae Seminary will be held on Monday afternoon, June 9, beginning at half-past two o'clock, at which time a gymnastic drill and a public exhibition of domestic science and domestic art will compose the program. A musicale will be held at the school Saturday, June 14, at half-past three o'clock in the afternoon, and class day will be observed Monday afternoon, June 16.

'BITTER LETTERS' WILL BE SOLD AT AUCTION

[By Latest Mail] NEW YORK—What are known as Mrs. Lincoln's "bitter letters" are to be sold at auction here. The collection consists of twelve letters written by the widow of the martyred president in the years just following his assassination. In some of them Mrs. Lincoln was almost hysterical in upbraiding congress for not providing for her and in her denunciation of General Grant.

One letter, written in August, 1865, asks a friend to try to sell the black lace gown which Mrs. Lincoln wore at the second inauguration "for two hours only," in order to raise money for the support of herself and her two boys. The gown was one presented to her by a friend of her husband and it cost $3500. In another letter, dated December 20, 1865, Mrs. Lincoln writes bitterly of the fortunes of the Grant family as compared with her own, and declares that "General Grant's services to his country were certainly not superior to my husband's."

William K. Macpherson was adjudged a voluntary bankrupt by the federal district court this morning, and his accounts were referred to George S. Curry, referee in bankruptcy. The hearing of the case against Pukuwela Mokini, who recently pleaded not guilty to the indictment charging a statutory crime, has been set for next Friday, June 13, in the U. S. district court.

STANFORD GAME MAY BREAK UP OAHU LEAGUE

go up against the Stanford collegians, but neither would play Sunday games, the Punahou because some of the players had scruples against Sunday ball, and the All-Service team because some of its members who play with the Coast Defense team of the Oahu League, and refused to break faith with the league and the general public by breaking up the schedule. A number of league players, however, fancied the idea of sharing what promises to be a big gate, and last night, after the matter had been simmering for some days, Chillingworth received the promise of ten men to play under the name of the St. Louis Alumni, for the Sunday dates.

The players, and the league teams to which they belong, are as follows: Raphael, Franco, Hampton, Hawaii; Joy, Kibbey, Stars; C. Moriyami, T. Moriyami, Asahis; Bushnell, Portuguese; Bruns, umpire; F. Fernandez, unattached. Irrespective of whether the action of the Oahu League management in refusing to disrupt its schedule, was in the best interests of local baseball, there can be no question as to the action of the players who would throw over their clubs to play outside games. If league games in which their clubs appear are scheduled, and these players absent themselves to play in an outside game, they will be violating their agreement with their clubs, and the league, through them, will be breaking faith with the public.

The first half of the league series ends July 6, and those interested in the Stanford game claim that it would be no inconvenience to the league, and that it would not lose any money by making a three-week interval between halves. On the other hand, there is a postponed game to be played off, and the howl of the fans last year was for quicker action, and less interference with the regular schedule. The Oahu League is certainly having its troubles trying to please the public this season. Players Responsible.

While no definite plan of action has been formulated to keep peace in the organization, and give the public some sort of organized ball, it is known that league officials and club managers are hard hit. "If these players quit cold to plan an exhibition game," said a man close to the inner workings of the Oahu League this morning, "I believe every one of them should be bludgeoned for good and all here. It would be an awful blow to the league to lose all these crack players, but you can't have baseball without organization, or organization without discipline, and it would be better, in my opinion, to go out into the back lots for men or boys to fill in, than to let the players get away with a stunt of this kind, which will destroy the public's confidence in the league." Five thousand copies of the Bible have been placed in the guest rooms of the hotels of Washington, D. C., through the efforts of the Gideons, or Christian Commercial Travelers of America.

their machines and form one of the sections of the parade. The parade will be held in the morning, according to present arrangements, and at noon exercises will be held in the palace grounds, at which time Judge W. J. Robinson, of the circuit court, will read the declaration of independence. The Red Men will also be asked by the committee to participate in the exercises, giving a number of drills and a Fourth of July ritual on the steps of the capitol. Several persons prominent in local musical circles, will also take an active part in the celebration. The speaker of the day has not yet been chosen, although members of the committee have submitted several names to Chairman Towse. During the afternoon a program of field and track sports will be held at Kapiolani Park, which will include a number of horse races for small purses. The park, however, has not yet been secured by the committee. The committee plans to make the program a purely athletic event, and a number of interesting contests have been presented. During the afternoon the band will be stationed at the public baths, and what floor space is available will be converted into a dancing pavilion. On account of the heavy cost, there will be no display of fireworks in the evening. Instead of the fireworks, some public entertainment in town will take place. Further plans for the celebration of the nation's birthday will be made at a meeting of the merchants' association called for Monday afternoon.

WIRELESS TALK OF INTEREST TO LAYMEN

that caught the fancy of the laymen. Then he passed on to the local situation, giving a short explanation of what the Marconi system will do here and the stations that will be established. At the end of his address he was bombarded with questions of all kinds, which he answered without hesitation. At one time a comparison was made between wireless and cable communication and Superintendent B. W. Colley of the Commercial Pacific Cable Company, an interesting listener to the talk, was appealed to and said that the cable could handle thirty words a minute both going and coming. Mr. Slaughter said that the wireless could handle fifty words a minute. Slaughter prophesied unbroken communication with the mainland, day and night, when the powerful Marconi stations here are completed. His address was greeted with applause. Before the address was given the club held a short business session, with President George F. Davies in the chair. Reports of committees were favorably received, good work being shown. The tuberculosis committee, the committee on boys' work and the Big Brother movement committee all reported an activity in their lines. Engineer Slaughter's address, which is of unusual interest to Honolulu, will be published in full in a later issue of the Star-Bulletin.

HULAHULA IS REMOVED FROM BOARDS

Hulahula Americana gave place last night at Ye Liberty theater for a flag dance. Art put on her stockings, so to speak, and the little chorus maidens who had wept because James Post, the veteran comedian, insisted upon them presenting the Hawaiian dance with nude limbs, smiled once more with something of their former glee. No more will they be asked to execute the hulahula. The pretty little strikers, who rose up to denounce the dance as too immodest for them and, indeed, have won, and hereafter, during the remaining few days of the Post engagement, they will be called upon to present only the quite proper dances. The strikers agreed to remain with the company, and Post has agreed to remain with the strikers, and the hula is not going to be hulaed any more at all.

Balk at Service in Army. [By Latest Mail] WASHINGTON.—The average American will not enlist in the army and mortgage his future for a long term. This is evidenced by the practical failure of the new recruiting laws passed by the last session. Four months' operation of the law has resulted in an average enlistment and re-enlistment of 2,100 men, which is a material loss of the old

HOW TO CUT COST OF LIVING:

In certain portions of Russia there are peasants who have solved the high cost of modern living, apparently to their own satisfaction and in quite an unique way, for during the long winter months when provisions are high they go into a state of actual hibernation, along with the animals, and do not emerge until spring.

This is the simple method they follow: They lie on the top of their big stoves, which are placed in the innermost room of their hut. The stove is high, reaching almost to the top of the room, and the small space between this warm piece of furniture and the roof is the usual sleeping place of the family. By their side they put a pail of water and some black bread. Then they make a point of lying as still as possible and of avoiding all talk, since they claim that they do not get as hungry when they remain silent. Their only exertion is that of getting up and seeing that the stove is kept burning.

Dark and silent are numberless huts in the winter time, especially seasons when the harvest has failed or the provisions are unusually short.
